FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1856.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, Aug. 25, '56.

DEAR FRIEND:—Lies! Lies! Lies! Nothing but lies, are issued by the foul league of miscreants who conduct the pro-slavery journals (none others can exist) of this territory; and these malicious falsehoods are eagerly copied and improved upon by the administration papers throughout the country. You know that when I started for this territory, I was not biased in my political opinions, or, if at all, it was on the pro-slavery side; but no man with the least honesty, can remain long here, without becoming more and more partizan, in thought and feeling. I will defy any human being, who has a particle of manhood in his bosom, to remain neutral while the events with which Kansas is now pregnant, are rapidly developing themselves.

Since my last letter, rumors of all sorts have been flying about, though there is not much truth in any of them. We have been tearing an attack on this place for some days, and if some reports are to be relied upon, the city will be in ashes before to-morrow morning. A man arrived here last night from Westport, who stated that his house was burned, his horses stolen, and himself chased for miles by the Border Ruffians. He says they are now on the march for this place to the number of 400, and they threaten to "wipe out" the city, irrespective of party. They say that they will not budge until Leavenworth is in ashes. Well, "we shall see, what we shall see." There was a plentiful sprinkling of red, blue, and grey shirts among the horsemen, who dashed through our streets on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week; horses were "pressed,"—every decent animal disappeared in two days; and some were taken out of their owners' kitchens, where they had been placed for safety. Great was the cry. Heroes of an hour's growth were as plenty as mushrooms in a summer's morning. Saddlers were worked almost to death, and yet could not meet the demands on their labor. Parties were constantly dashing out to camp, about two miles from town; and they stayed until today, when they marched back, and were disbanded. So ended this important fizzle.

There is a force near Lawrence, which is constantly augmenting by parties who enter via Nebraska city, and concentrate at that point. They have a daily drill, and are fast coming up to the mark in that respect. Not much over a thousand Missourians are on the march here. A number more will be needed before the force near Lawrence is "rubbed out."

There is a small party of us who have got tired of the dull sort of life we are leading in this beautiful city, and so, on some dark night, we are going to vamose for Kaw river, and may turn up somewhere near Lawrence; we have a desire to learn the "Minnie" drill; so don't be surprised if the next letter you get from me, is dated somewhere else.

Thirty six South Carolinians landed here under command of the famous Major Wilkes. This is the great Southern party, about which there has been so much talk; judging from their arms, &c., they don't look as if they could drive quite all the abolitionists out of the territory.—There is another party of Virginians under command of Col. Thomas H. Roeser, just about to enter the territory.

It is to be hoped that our new Governor will prove more worthy of his office than the present incumbent; in fact, he cannot prove less so.

It has resulted as I predicted. The wretch who shot and scalped an unarmed traveller, only two and a half miles from this city, one day last week, and then flourished the scalp in the camp of his confederates, has not been arrested, and will not be. So much for justice in this land, when a pro-slavery man is in the case. A short time since, a man raised a disturbance at Delaware city, while the court was sitting. The judge sent the sheriff to arrest him,—the man "stood treat," and the official returned, and stated that he couldn't arrest him. So much for Kansas judicial authority. This same judge went on the bench armed with a revolver and bowie knife. So much for Kansas judges.

F. H. B.

☞ The State Convention of the Democratic party was held at Concord on Thursday, and very largely attended. Hon. Wm. C. Clark of Manchester presided.

Hon. John S. Wells of Exeter was nominated for Governor, Mark Noble for Railroad Commissioner, and the following gentlemen for Presidential Electors: Daniel Marcy, Portsmouth; Horace Chase, Hopkinton;—Jonathan T. Chase, Conway; David Buffum, Walpole; Eleazar Martin, Canaan.

LAW CASE.

The New Hampshire Patriot of Sept. 3 contains a very one-sided report of the case, Lancaster vs Jackson, which was lately tried and decided in the Supreme Court at Concord — But there are generally two sides to every question, and in law cases, especially, there are always two sides. In the present case the Patriot has stated its own side as strongly as it knows how: and we propose to give a few items on the other side,—some of them from the Patriot's own report, others from elsewhere.

The Patriot says:—

The suit was brought by Rev. Daniel Lancaster against Rev. E. W. Jackson, to recover pay for the subscription list of the N. H. Phenix, $100, and for services in editing and superintending the publication of two numbers of that paper, $25. Jackson denied that he had ever bought the list, or was liable for the services. The plaintiff, to sustain the suit, introduced three witnesses — John B. Palmer, B. F. Palmer, and Thomas N. Palmer, all of whom testified to substantially the same facts. We give the substance of John B. Palmer's testimony, which was corroborated in every important particular by that of the other two.

We have carefully read this testimony, in the Patriot—and if corroborated by the other two, it must have been quite conclusive as to the sale, if the jury had believed it—but unluckily, they agreed on a verdict which shows they did not.

They found a verdict against Mr. Lancaster, as to the $100 claimed for the subscription list of the Phenix,—and in his favor for $23 for the two weeks' services, with interest and costs.

This verdict shows that there was a leak in the evidence.

We quote again from the Patriot.

The case was argued for the plaintiff by Col. John H. George, and to the evident delight of a large audience, he commented with just severity upon the revolting developments presented by the testimony. * * * * * * * * * * * The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, for his services in editing the paper, but one of them refused to give him a verdict for the price of the list!

Ah! this one stubborn juror, who would not receive Col. George's long and abusive plea as law and evidence, not only refused to give a verdict for the $100, but actually converted the other eleven,—so that the plain talk of this one juror was more than a match for a three hours harangue by that distinguished lawyer and politician, Colonel George.

The Patriot closes with this paragraph:

In the testimony in this case, the true friends of temperance will see exposed the real character of the man who has had the chief management of the cause during the past two years; and seeing this, they will cease to wonder that the progress of the cause has been backward and downward with railroad speed.

In this remarkable paragraph, there are two points—1. the character of the agent; and 2. the decline of the temperance cause.

As to the first, Mr. Jackson is an ordained minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church. If the ministers of that connexion believe the Patriot's report, Colonel George's plea and the Palmers' testimony, they will of course expel him at once. When they do so, we will make a note of it. In the meantime, while Mr. Jackson enjoys the countenance of that Church, and is favored with the abuse of the Patriot, he may consider himself to be in good standing.

As to the second point:—What has been the peculiar relation of Mr. Jackson's agency in this State? It has been not merely to support temperance in general, but chiefly to procure and sustain a prohibitory law. Well:—how has it failed, and how far? Within those two years, a prohibition law has been enacted,—and after being assailed by a number of papers, including the Patriot, and by stump speakers, including the first lawyer who ever stumped the State to ask votes for himself as Governor—the law stood through the election, and through the legislature, untouched. If this, in a legal point of view, be a failure, or backward and downward progress, we don't understand the meaning of the word.

But perhaps the Patriot means to be understood only in a moral sense; and by "the true friends of temperance" refers chiefly to such distinguished temperance reformers as Col. George, Hon. John S. Wells, and the editor of the Patriot; such, in short, as advocate a license law. If that is the meaning,—no doubt their cause has gone down and backward since last spring—no doubt Mr. Jackson may have given it a push.

Here, we apprehend, is the true ground of the suit. Mr. Jackson did not manage the temperance movements and the temperance paper so as to suit the Patriot and its managers. They did not find him pliable enough to stultify himself and paralyze the paper, as did a former editor of the Crusader, by giving a certificate to the temperate character of a well known and distinguished drunkard.

Nor did they find him soft enough to write a trembling letter, as did a former editor of the Phenix, fearing that somebody would mix up temperance with politics.

No. They found him not easily bent to their purposes. Therefore they must break him down, crush him out; and this suit was the crushing machine.

Mr. Lancaster sold out the wreck of his paper to Mr. Cheney,—and was to have $100 for his list. He stated moreover, that a certain amount, about $40, was paid in advance, on certain papers. When he demanded the $100, Cheney plead that he had found a large sum, $200 and over, paid in advance—and therefore would not and could not pay.

Then Lancaster sues—not Cheney, who he knew could not pay—but Jackson, who he supposed might pay—which suit, as we see, puts no money in his purse,—all, and more than all of his $23 and interest, being required to pay squire George for his tremendous plea, with which he "delighted the audience" at the trial. But Colonel George and his associates, after all, seem to have been the real plaintiffs,—and in the trial and in the Patriot, the plea and report, really bear harder on Cheney than on Jackson. But a Concord gentleman who heard the case, informs us that Cheney, at the trial, appeared to be a timid man, whose self-possession and recollection were broken down by a crafty, brow-beating lawyer, so that his testimony was confused and contradictory. The verdict, however, showed that the jury made due allowance.

The Patriot makes none except against him,—one instance of which we will here show up. The Patriot quotes from Cheney's testimony as follows:

Jackson paid me over $200, as gratuities received by him towards the support of the Phenix, aside from the subscription list. I received about $1000 in 15 months, besides about $1000 from subscriptions, and sold the the accounts, when I left, for $200. I am now under arrest for my butcher's bill; am not worth a cent.

The Patriot then makes this comment:

Received $2200, for 15 months' labor, besides what he got for the paper when he sold it, and yet could not pay his butcher bill!—These immaculate saints who labor for the promotion of the public morals, are pretty fast livers!

This comment could never have been written by a printer—it must be the work of some pettifogger, scrivener or scoundrel.

Does the whole income of a paper go to pay the labor of an editor, or the profit of a proprietor? Our experience says Nay.—There is in the first place, that little bill, a V or so for every bundle of paper; next a little bill for setting type, an X or XX per week; and then a trifle for ink and press work, before the editor begins to hold up his head before the butcher.

With this specimen of the Patriot's fairness, we leave that paper for the present—but we say for Cheney, that we would not have given one cent for the list of over 1000 subscribers, had we been obliged to print it by itself, as he did. It could not pay—and he was rather to be pitied than blamed. He happens to be a member of the Baptist Church,—and if his brethren at the Capital, believe squire George's plea, and the Patriot's report against him, they will doubtless excommunicate him—but those two "immaculate saints!" who labor for the promotion of the public morals in this manner, are probably not very high authority in that church, any more than before the jury and the public.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE AND PHENIX, comes out this week somewhat enlarged, but with price unchanged—$1 per year, in advance. We shall thus be enabled to give considerable more reading matter than ever before; and offer a paper perhaps as cheap as it ought to be. There is no other dollar newspaper in this county, and but few in the State. We shall print our next issue on new and handsome type, and make other improvements. Will our friends who deem the paper worthy of encouragement, do what is in their power to increase our list, and thereby our ability to offer an acceptable paper.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3. — Fire. — John Corker's distillery, together with six dwelling houses adjoining, were burnt yesterday afternoon. Loss $50,000. Very little insured.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently grey hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BLOOMFIELD, Nov. 26, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN: Dear Sir,—I have used your Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and have no hesitation in saying that for the Diarrhea, and other diseases incident to the human system, I have never found any medicine that would compare with them. I cheerfully give my testimony in favor of your justly celebrated invention, hoping that it may induce some who are afflicted with disease to give them a trial.

I remain yours truly,

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThs&S 6m.

MUSIC OF WORDS.—Listen to the mother talking comfort to her young babe. The comfort is surely not in the words, for the child understands not one of them. It lies, of course, then, in the music of words. It is the mother's tone of voice—her music—which the child understands and receives into its little troubled heart.

DIED.

OBITUARY.—Departed this life, in the Naval Hospital, at this station, on the morning of the 4th September, Sergeant Edward C. Young, aged 49 years, after a painful illness of dropsy of some four months. He had been a Sergeant in the Marine Corps for twenty-eight years. He joined this post last Spring; and has served on all our Naval Stations afloat, and many on shore; was for some time Orderly Sergeant at the Marine Barracks, Boston, and of the U. S. ship Columbus, during her cruise to the East Indies and Japan. His last services at sea, was as Orderly Sergeant of the U. S. ship Constitution, on her late cruise on the coast of Africa. He has been a capable, faithful and obedient non-commissioned officer; and his death is a loss, not only to his numerous relations and friends, but to the service.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along!"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it: if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

HIGH SCHOOL DEDICATION.

The public services at the Dedication of the new High School, corner of Daniel and Chapel streets, took place on Thursday afternoon, in the upper hall, or School for Girls.

The services were commenced at half past two, by Alderman Wendell, who, as Chairman of the Building Committee, delivered the keys to Mayor Jenness, remarking, as he did so, that in the expenditure of so much money for such an object, in the selection of a location, and the erection of so good a building, it was not to be expected that all persons would be suited with every item in the proceedings—but the committee had acted deliberately, in the exercise of their judgment, and with an eye to the best interests of education in the city, in the erection of a High School for the next half century.

His remarks were brief and to the purpose.

Dr. Peabody offered prayer; and the following Ode, written by Mr. Albert Laighton, was sung by a select choir.

ODE.

WRITTEN FOR THE OCCASION BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

There is a Temple towering high,
Within the boundless realm of Time:
A thought-built Palace filled with truth
And mystery sublime.

In splendor through its shining dome,
The starry light of Genius falls;
And he who will, may enter in,
And, King-like, walk its halls;

But at its broad and ample base,
The eager throng must vainly wait,
Till Knowledge with her magic key
Unlocks the golden gate!

In these fair halls she sits enthroned,
The magic key within her hand,
Uplifted to the Temple, reared
In Thought's enchanted land.

O ye who love her radiant form,
And strive to gain that Palace gate,
Remember, 'tis a noble thing
"To labor and to wait!"

Let no fond dream of wealth or ease,
Your earnest zeal ignobly foil:
The laurel wreath of Fame would fade
Without the dew of Toil.

Next followed the Address by Rev. Dr. Burroughs, who never seemed to us more successful or more appropriate in a public address.

He expressed his grateful acknowledgements for the honor of being the orator on an occasion so important and so gratifying, as the inauguration of a new era in education.—Such an era he considered to be marked by the erection of this building.

He then gave a succinct statement, a brief history, in the form of annals, of the rise and progess of education in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and particularly in our own town and city. He regarded the landing of so much learning and piety, and of so many friends of education in the May Flower, as a providential foundation of our system of popular education, which he deem one of the chief glories of our land.

He sketched the progress of High Schools, and of Female High Schools especially, as modern improvements, and contrasted them most favorably with the old system ot education, and government in schools.

He paid a high and deserved compliment to last year's city government, and to the building committee, for their wisdom, liberality and zeal for education, evinced in the building now completed—and congratulated the present Mayor and city government, on the completion of the work under their auspices.

The Address was closed by a solemn dedition of the building to education, knowledge, virtue—to the best interests of man, to the Divine Redeemer, and to God.

Then followed Rev. Messrs. Lamson, Whiting, and Peabody, who each made appropriate remarks, responsive to the general strain of the Address.

Rev. Dr. Peabody's remarks were highly laudatory of the teacher of the Girls' High School, to whose long service, faithfulness and devotion, he ascribed the high character of the school,—and for whom he recommended increased pay, and added Assistants to lighten his labors.

Mayor Jenness then resigned the keys and delivered over the building into the hands of the High School Committee, with a neat and appropriate address; which was followed by remarks from Dr. Treadwell, Chairman of the Committee, who exhibited two elegantly bound Bibles, one for the Girls' school, the gift of Rev. Dr. Burroughs,—the other from Hon. Horton D. Walker, for the Boys—and acknowledged a Melodeon for the girls' school, given by a subscription which was gathered by Mrs. H. D. Walker.

The exercises were closed by singing the following Ode, written by Miss Louisa Simes, and the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Mr. Patterson.

ODE.

WRITTEN FOR THE OCCASION, BY MISS LOUISA SIMES.

We call it hallowed ground,
Where first the Pilgrims trod,
And swept the waves of grateful prayer
Across a virgin sod.
Not to a life of ease,
Not for the meed of fame,
But for a loftier range of mind,
Across the deep they came.

'Mid forests unsubdued,
The Sabbath dome rose fair,
And in their rude, unsheltered homes
Was heard the call, To prayer!
The wealth of thought they knew,
And with a toil blest hand,
The path of learning, broad and free,
Oped through our favored land.

True to that sacred past,
So brief, and yet so great,
To whomsover will, these walls
We henceforth consecrate.
Not fortune's favored child,
But on the immortal all,
The sunshine of this sphere of light
In constant blessings fall.

No forests frown before;
Behind, no dark seas roll;
Young pilgrims of a brighter day
Press to a higher goal!
Glean from the world's vast field
Of science and of art;
But truth and purity keep white,
For harvest of the heart.

Thou, Father, unto whom
The dew of youth is fair,
Deepen thine impress on the souls,
Of our great Teacher's care;
The wide arena, life,
Beam clear in duty's ray;
And hallowed footsteps make one path
Up to unshadowed day.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—As we are to have a new Custom House, which is also to accommodate the Post Office and the U. S. Court, it is desirable that it should be located in a situation that will best accommodate the three uses to which it will be devoted, and also to beautify the city. There seems to be many minds as to where it should be located. One thinks it should be put on the old Bell Tavern lot; another thinks that the lot opposite the present Custom House is the best—and other lots are spoken of, namely; the one on the corner of Market and Deer streets, opposite Joseph Harvey's store; the one where the Mariner's Hotel is, on Daniel street; the one on the corner of State and Pleasant streets, near the Stone Church; one on the corper of Bridge and Congress streets; one on the corner of Congress and Middle streets; one opposite the Baptist Church, on Middle street; and another thinks the lot where the City Hotel is, is the right one. This latter one, with the lot adjoining it, would make a very central, convenient, and conspicuous location, having a street on three sides, and all persons would see it immediately upon their arrival into town. let them come from whatever direction they may. It seems to me that this lot, or the one on the opposite side of Fleet street, would accommodate and please more persons than any other.

MORE FLAGS.—Both parties will get pretty well flagged by election time, we should judge; though it is perhaps not so easy to say which will get flogged at that time.

The Democrats have raised several since our list was made up—a large one at the meeting of Vaughan and Elm street; one on Water street, at the store of Messrs. Russell, near Liberty Bridge, bearing the Democratic candidates' names, and "We revere the Union as it is"—which may mean no more States; and one with twenty-one stars, at the residence of Hon. Daniel Marcy, with "Our whole Country," and the candidates' names thereon. A flag in High street, just above Hanover, having the thirty-two stars, and the names of Buchanan and Breckinridge, is composed of three colors, "the red, white, and blue,"—There is also a Buchanan flag on Islington street, near Ann street.

The Republicans are not idle, either.—They have hung out a banner at their headquarters of their Fremont Club, and one at the foot of Pleasant street.

And the end is not yet—for we hear of several others, of both parties, to be raised forthwith. One thing is pretty certain, that if either should be defeated, (which we are in effect assured by individuals of different political persuasions, will not be the case) they will have plenty of spare cloth with which to sail up Salt River.

☞ The Buchanan Guards, Capt. Marden, were out with full ranks on Thursday evening, for street drill, accompanied by the Portland Brass Band, which discoursed excellent music. The Guards go to the Democratic Mass Convention at Concord to-day.

☞ Mr. Lamprey the favorite teacher of Dancing, will commence his fall term, in Congress Hall, on Monday next, Sept. 10. See advertisement.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY IN DENTAL SURGERY.—TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN!—We take pleasure in calling public attention to the new process of extracting teeth, which has been practiced with the greatest success. It has, for years, been the great desideratum of the profession to alleviate the pain and suffering of its necessary and important operations. Many patients suffer far more from dread of pain than from actual experience; and any reliable method, fresing from pain, should be regarded as a public benefit. The process, which is the result of long study, is known as Congealation, and consists of the local application of a benumbing agent to the parts to be operated upon. The application arrests the circulation, and just in proportion as this is effected, is the pain diminished; and while it is amply efficient for all cases, it is open to none of the objections urged against other methods. We have seen letters from a large number of persons who have had from one to eighteen teeth extracted by this new process, and all speak of it in the highest terms of commendation. All interested in this important discovery in the dental art, we would recommend to call at the office of Drs. Cummings & Flagg, 25 Tremont street, who will take great pleasure in explaining the operation. These enterprising gentlemen are noted for the speedy adoption of every useful improvement calculated to lessen the pain and increase the comfort of their numerous patients, and we are glad to know that they are meeting with that success which they so richly merit.—(Boston Journal.

☞ William F. Johnston of Pennsylvania has written a letter withdrawing, as a candidate for vice-president, in favor of Mr. Dayton.

☞ Wm. H. Harrison Bailey, of Concord, was nominated at the Convention of the friends of Fremont and Dayton in the first Councillor District, at Exeter, on the 2d inst., for an Elector of President and Vice President of the United States, from that District.

HON. WALTER HARRIMAN.—This gentleman started on Monday for Detroit, where he is to meet his associates on the commission for the appraisal of the lands in Kansas, to complete their duties. He expects to be absent during the whole of this month.

So says the N. H. Patriot of Wednesday Sept. 3.

The same Hon. Walter Harriman is advertised to speak at Lebanon, Me. on Friday evening Sept, 5.—This is going from Concord to Detroit, via the State of Maine.

EXETER.—On Saturday, two flags bearing the names of Fremont & Dayton were "flung to the breeze." On Monday following, another was put up near the residence of Hon. Amos Tuck, on which is inscribed, "Free Speech, Free Kansas, and Fremont." The Democracy of the town, determined not to be outdone in the flag line at least, on Tuesday morning last, raised near the new Town Hall a splendid large banner, for Buchanan & Breckinridge. There are now ten of these political insignia floating in different parts of the town.

It is estimated that from 5,000 to 8,000 persons were present at the Mass Convention on Tuesday last. Besides the speechcs delivered during the day, Charles Francis Adams, of Mass., and Prof. Mark Bailey of Yale College, addressed a full meeting at the Town Hall in the evening. X.

THE PILL TRADE.—Who could dream of the magnitude such an undertaking as the manufacture of a Purgative Pill assumes when it comes into general use. And how painfully do the following numbers speak of the amount of human sickness and suffering, that little morsel of a remedy goes forth to combat and subdue. Dr. J. C. Ayer of Lowell, manufactures in his laboratory forty gross per diem of his CATHARTIC PILLS, through all the year. This is eight boxes a minute or one dose a second. We thus find over 43,000 persons swallow this pill every day, or 1,296,000 a month! Physicians, think of that! 43,000 patients a day who seek relief from the medical skill of one man. Surely that man should be, as he is in this case, one of the first intelligence and of the highest character. His occupation entails upon him a fearful responsibility for the weal or woe of his fellow men.—[Painsville Courier.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

LARGE SALE OF

Valuable Property at Auction.

Will be sold at Public Auction on SATURDAY, the 13th day of September next, at 12 o'clock, M.

ON THE PREMISES,

ALL that valuable Estate situated at Pleasant Point, near Newcastle Bridge, formerly belonging to Hon. James Sheafe, deceased, consisting of 2 DWELLING HOUSES, with the outbuildings and gardens attached to them, together with the LARGE BARN, Mowing Fields, Tillage Land and Pasture, there being about 17 acres.

This Sale offers a rare opportunity for a profitable investment. The fine view of the ocean, harbor and city from this Point makes it desirable for building purposes, whilst the easy access by water to inexhaustible supplies of sea dressing, renders it valuble as a Vegetable or Milk Farm.

Terms and conditions made known at time and place of sale. For further information apply to JOHN J. PICKERING or Valuable Real Estate at Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on Saturday, the 6th day of September next, on the premises, at 12 o'clock, M., the large DWELLING HOUSE and LAND appurtenant thereto, belonging to the heirs of the late N. T. S. PEIRCE, deceased, situate on Court Street, near the South Parish Sunday School Room.

The lot of land is very extensive, and the house large and is now rented to good advantage, to three tenants.

The contemplated improvement, to be made the coming spring, by the South Parish Sunday School Society, by building a handsome Chapel, and making attractive grounds, &c., around the same, will greatly enhance the value of Real Estate in that part of the city.

The situation is central, within a short distance of the business portion of the City, and about midway between the Ship-yards on this side of the River. A good title will be given.

Terms made known at the Sale.

For further particulars enquire of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, over the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, or of the Auctioneer, No. 70 State street, where a plan of the premises may be seen.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

OCCUPATIONS OF FRENCH WOMEN.—Did you ever see a lady play on the fiddle, reader? There is certainly no impropriety in the employment. St. Cecilia doubtless had a favorite Straduarins; yet there does seem to be something indefinable, bizarre, fantastic, out of place, in fair hands taking up the fiddle and the bow. But if a feminine violinist be a novelty, what would you say to a lady carpenter? Here are some hundreds of them, hammering, sawing, chopping away, with tremendous vigor and celerity. These eyes have seen the grandam of eighty polishing off a plank with a plane to a nicety. They have seen a trim little damsel of seventeen, with colored handkerchiefs tied coquettishly round her head, busily fixing beams and girders, while a great-bearded, bloused man, sat majestically by, smoking his pipe, or, if he condescended to interfere in business matters at all, unpacking dolls' houses, or dabbling with a glue-pot. What labor will not French women undertake? They follow the plough, they keep books, they open box-doors, they have tickets at railways, they drag your luggage to the Custom House, they cut you your chops and bifstecks at the butcher's, they dance on the tight-rope and on stilts, they buy old clothes, they keep shooting-galleries, they enter lions' dens, they measure you for boots, they shave you.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BERNARDSTON, MASS., 27th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. BEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTERET, IA., writes, 31 Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. JERIMIAH L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Scarce no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 4, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which we had we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for the loved one restored from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and respect,

ORLANDO SHELBY, of SPRINGFIELD.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us speak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they also unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil, Tumors, Tetter, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers who some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with U.S. Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most learned and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates,
Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne
Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream
Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

6 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
6 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in the public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared from roasted roots of our Mills, is retailed by Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

TOMATOES

FOR SALE by the Basket, by

an22 MATHES & VARRELL.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vast lands may be found near the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

BLASPHEMY.

Under this head, the Boston Courier publishes the following extract from Mrs. Swisshelm, and condemns it as blasphemous:—

"It must have required a very forcible blow to open the scalp through the masses of coarse, strong hair with which his head is crowned; 'That head so comely and so wise,' in every lineament of which the 'white soul' speaks so eloquently. One does not easily consent to see it so, that it should be beaten with a bludgeon; but it was one who had 'done no violence,' and in whose mouth there was no deceit, who was 'stricken, smitten for the iniquities of us all;' and if the Son of God was not too precious to be delivered up to the utmost indignities and violence from brutal men, that degenerate nations might be brought to see the beauty of holiness and hideousness of sin, Charles Sumner is not too costly a sacrifice to bring this nation to a sense of the value of her liberties, and the hideousness of the monster iniquity she has so long nurtured in her life blood."

The Courier adds:

"We ask some of our serious friends in New England to read it, and to think upon it. A political gladiator is compared with the Saviour, and his wrongs are made equal with the crucifixion, by his intensified friends.

We have read it, most carefully, and can see it in no semblance to blasphemy. Nor do we see the equality the Courier speaks of. The position of Mrs. Swisshelm is simply this:

If the Son of God was not too good for a sacrifice—then surely Charles Sumner is not too good.

This is the whole offence—this is the whole statement—what is there wicked about it? Really, we can't see. Why may we not say—

If Jesus did not deem himself too good to be a carpenter—if Paul did not deem himself too good to be a tent-maker—if Peter did not deem himself too good to be a fisherman,—then surely Uncle Toby should not deem himself too good to be a printer. Now does this blasphemе anybody? Does it make Uncle Toby equal to these illustrious men, or to the Saviour himself? Far from it. It claims for him nothing but inferiority, exactly as Mrs. Swisshelm claims for Chas. Sumner.

And if we look into the New Testament, at the words of Jesus himself, we shall find him saying, 'The disciple in not above his master, nor the servant above his lord—it is enough that the disciple be as his master, and the servant as his lord, &c." Is this blasphemy? Just as much as the other cases, and no more.

The Courier closes its article in this wise:

"May Heaven regard them,—for they have no God, nor no religion, who use such stimulants in political controversy as these are. * * * * In the language of Scripture, we say, 'Do yourselves no harm,' by listening to the wild appeals of imaginative and excited men and women. Let reason have its work. Let soberness grapple with fanaticism, and all will be well."

Just exactly this reason and soberness, on a second reading of the extract, will show the editor of the Courier that his excited imagination has seen blasphemy in a paragraph where there is nothing of the sort, and stimulated him to charge infidelity and atheism upon writers who are as devout christians as himself. In his own words, "let soberness grapple with fanaticism, and all will be well."

For the Chronicle.

THE NEW CUSTOM HOUSE, POST OFFICE AND COURT ROOM.—Messrs. Editors:—It is all important that the site selected for the erection of these public buildings should be in a central and convenient position, and in the vicinity of Market Square; where it will be an ornament to the city, and so easily found, as to prevent the oft-repeated inquiry by strangers, Where is the Post Office?

Many sites are mentioned, some of them decidedly objectionable; others, have their advantages; two of them, most available lots, for accommodation, locality and ornament, are those in Congress street; one, whereon are the City Hotel and adjacent buildings occupied by Freeman and others, possesses every requisite to give it a decided preference over all others. The great avenue to our city from the depots, is through Vaughan street; as the stranger arrives at the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets, should the building be erected here, it will be at once seen and pointed at as an elegant structure; and for convenience in every point of view, I think the citizens generally will acknowledge it is the best location in the city. The owners are willing to dispose of the same at a reasonable sum. The other, is the lot spoken of in the Journal last Saturday, between Congress Block and the Franklin House; but one objection presents itself here—this side of the road has the most promenading, and the gathering of the citizens awaiting the opening of the mail, would cause some inconvenience to those who might be passing at the time;—all this difficulty is obviated by the choice of the opposite lot; and it is hoped that those who have the selection of a site, will turn their attention to this spot.

W.

General Houston is "down" on disunion. He said in his closing speech in the Senate; "They tell me if Fremont is elected forty thousand bayonets will bristle about the Capitol—that the south, in fact, will secede. Mr. President, I scorn the suggestion. There will be neither bristling bayonets nor secession. If Col. Fremont shall be elected by a majority of the people, though I am not his supporter, I shall respect the majority of the people; and to Colonel Fremont, as the Chief Magistrate of their choice, I shall pay my respectful homage."

BELKNAP CHURCH, DOVER.—A new Congregational Church called the Belknap Church, was organized at Dover, Sept. 3d, and Rev. B. S. Parsons installed pastor. The public services being in the order following:

Organization of the Church.—Anthem "When the Lord doth build up Zion." Invocation, by Rev. Mr. Steele, of Stratham: Reading of the Scriptures, by the same: Introductory Prayer, by Rev. Mr. Fifield, of South Newmarket: Hymn: Reading Articles of Faith, by Rev. N. Bouton, D. D. of Concord: Prayer of organization by Rev. J. K. Young, of Laconia: Fellowship of the Churches by Rev. A. Tobey of Durham.

Installation.—Pslam: Sermon by Rev. L. Whiting of Portsmouth: Installing Prayer by Rev. Mr. Tappan of Farmington: Charge to the Pastor by Rev. N. Bouton, D. D. of Concord: Right Hand by Rev. Mr. Anthony of Great Falls: Hymn: Address to the Church by Rev. A. Mann of Exeter: Concluding Prayer by Rev. Mr. Hamlin D. D. of Constantinople: Benediction by the Pastor.

The Boston Journal says,—We have the name of a responsible gentleman for the following statement of facts: Ex President M. Van Buren asserted, within a few weeks, at the St. Lawrence Hotel in Ogdensburg, N. Y., that Fremont would carry the vote of New York in November. After leaving the hotel where Mr. Van Buren made this declaration, ten gentlemen (some of whom heard Mr. Van Buren make this assertion,) strangers to each other, took a formal ballot for President, with the following result: Buchanan 0; Fillmore 0; Fremont 10.

DISREGARD OF DEATH.—It is curious to watch the utter contempt of death with which the Turkish soldier marches to meet the foe; he knows that his destiny has been fixed since the day of his birth; he knows that he must die whenever his time comes, and that a whole park of artillery would miss him, if his destiny so decrees it; finally, he knows that if he falls in battle, he will go straightway to Paradise—and won't he be better off there than in this world of care? The same feeling indeed, predominates with the Turks whenever the approach of death is felt. The calmness of their demeanor would shame many a Christian: let them once be persuaded that they are booked for another world, and the surgeon may lock up his medicaments again—no persuasion will induce the Turk to attempt to frustrate the designs of Providence.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1856.

THE PAY OF MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.—The Bunker Hill Aurora lets a broadside into the members of Congress for raising their pay. It says:—"The New York Tribune has, with great propriety, called attention to the modesty of these gentlemen's estimate of their own services. Daniel Webster's time, with his eminence as a barrister, which would have commanded tolerable wages elsewhere, he gave to the nation without grumbling, at eight dollars per day. But Mark Trafton, whose life has been spent in preaching the gospel in a rough way, in the country, at a salary varying from $150 to $250 per year, with a 'donation visit' of doughnuts and cold ham thrown in, cannot sit in the national halls unless his pay is raised to $6000 for the Congress."

We don't know Mr. Trafton—but if he makes a good and prudent use of his increased pay, we shall think all the better of him. We hope he will do so, especially as he seems by the Aurora to have lived on short commons.

We did not know Daniel Webster, and whatever his means were, more or less, he never lived within them. A great man he was surely, but not a financier. He did give his time to the nation for eight dollars a day—but if we mistake not, he had several "donation visits," not of doughnuts and cold ham, but of dough faces and cool thousands.

N. H. GENERAL ASSOCIATION.—The General Association of Congregational and Presbyterian ministers of New Hampshire, at its late meeting in Exeter, included the following item in their report on the state of religion:

The cause of temperance wears an encouraging aspect. We are called upon to give thanks to God for the Prohibitory Law, which is attended with these happy results.

They passed the following resolutions on Temperance:

Resolved, That we are convinced of the propriety and necessity of a Prohibitory Liquor Law, and its thorough execution, as an important means of suppressing and preventing intemperance in this state.

That the revived attention recently given to the illustration anew of the established principles of the Temperance reform, and, also, to obtaining pledges, especially of the young, to total abstinence, meets our hearty approval.

That in order that our efforts in this cause be purely and permanently useful, we should never lose sight of the great truth that God must be our helper, and that we must act in such a manner and in the exercise of such a spirit as will secure God's acceptance and blessing.

A FATAL ACCIDENT occurred Thursday morning about 8 o'clock, at the Park St. station on the Boston and Maine Railroad, by which a lady named Loud, the wife of Dexter Loud, of Abington Centre, was fatally injured. On Wednesday she went to Boston, to avail herself of the professional services of a dentist, and then went out to Medford to visit some friends, and passed the night at the house of Isaac Ewell.—Thursday she went to the depot for the purpose of returning home by the train which left Medford al 10 minutes before 8, and which usually reaches Park street station at 10 minutes past 8. She descended the steps leading down to the platform from the embankment from the south side, and stepped down upon the track, it is supposed with the intention of crossing to the depot on the opposite side, evidently not seeing the train which was just coming to a stop. The engine cleared her, but the step of the tender catching her clothes, she was dragged a short distance, and much mangled by the wheels. She was immediately conveyed back to Mr. Ewell's house, and professional aid called in, but she died about noon. Mrs. Loud was between 35 and 40 years of age, and the mother of five children.

☞ A large party of young ladies and gentlemen from Amesbury and Salisbury Mills, took a drive to Hampton Beach on Wednesday. The ladies having invited the guests, called for them at their respective places of abode, and paid all the bills, including a dinner at the Beach and a supper in Hampton.

The society connected with the First Baptist Church had an excursion to Salisbury Beach. They numbered about 200.

BLUE FISH.—The Newburyport Herald reports that the blue fish, the enemy of all other fishes, have filled the waters thereabouts, driving away cod, mackerel, and all others, usually found in that vicinity. It is blue fishing or nothing now.

☞ The wheat crop of Wisconsin, of the present year, it is estimated will not fall short of fourteen million bushels. The average yield per acre will be about twenty bushels.

For the Chronicle.

PLAIN FACTS.

Hon. John Sherman, of Ohio, one of the Kansas commissioners, in his speech of July 30, states one fact to which we invite the public attention. He says that "very many men born and bred in the South, now residing in the territory of Kansas, are the most zealous free state men. This is the case with whole neighborhoods.—Thus in the 5th electoral district, the most populous in the territory, a very large majority of the settlers emigrated from Southern States; and in this district it is proved, and admitted by my colleague, that a majority of the actual settlers are for a free state, and so voted."

In the only representative district to which the invasion did not extend, and which elected a free state man, a majority are from the Southern States!"

4,000 armed men were marched into the territory, and so distributed into the other districts, as to outvote the actual settlers, a large portion of whom did not wish to hazard their lives by voting.

Is it surprising to Northerners, that emigrants from slave states, who are not slaveholders, who settle in Kansas, wish to make it a free State? Why should it be? They have seen that the institution is the real cause of the poverty, ignorance, and degradation of over five millions of the Southern white population, sunk to the level of slaves. These millions, through poverty and ignorance, are trampled under foot by the oligarchy, armed with bowie knives and pistols, the proprietors of all the lands, and do not, indeed cannot, under the circumstances, freely exercise any political rights. If they could, they would speedily abolish the whole system of slavery, which they hate, for the proprietors of the real estate will not pay the wages of labor, while they hold slaves enough for their plantations. The slaveholders must, therefore, settle in Kansas in order to make it a slave State. They excite in the minds of the "border ruffians" the most rancorous prejudices against the "Yankees," stigmatized as fanatics, incendiaries, and abolitionists; and furnish funds to induce these to invade the territory for the purpose of expelling the Yankee settlers. Without such invasion and violence, Kansas would be perfectly safe for freedom.

THE KANSAS WAR.—That Kansas is again invaded by armed hordes of Missourians, probably to the number of 3000, there is no longer any doubt. The Tribune's correspondent relates an interview which took place between a delegation of the people of Lawrence and acting Governor Woodson. The delegation asked whether he would interfere with the troops to prevent the slaughter threatened.—Woodson's reply was:

"That if the people of Lawrence would obey the laws (the bogus laws,) and if he (Woodson) could have assurance to that effect, the proposed invasion could be settled in five hours; that he would bring the troops, of which he is Commander-in-Chief, to bear upon these mobs and disperse them."

That is a very plain and intelligible statement, and doubtless reveals the purpose of the administration to allow the bloodhounds to worry the free State people till they consent to accept the bogus laws—or in other words consent to have Kansas a slave State.—Boston Chron.

The following is a corrected list of the wounded on the free State side at the battles of Franklin and Titus Camp:

G. W. Smith, Jr., formerly of Butler, Pa., wounded slightly in the head and leg; Arthur Gunter, formerly of Boston, Mass., wounded very dangerously in the breast and chin—case very doubtful; A. W. White, formerly of Missouri, dangerously; George Henry, formerly of Hartford, Ct., slightly in the breast; James N. Belson, formerly of New York city, shot through the arm; John Brooks, formerly of Mansfield, Ohio, dangerously; —— Wells, slightly; B. A. Clayton, formerly of New York, slightly in the ancle; Geo. Leonard, formerly of Massachusetts, slightly in the back; Charles Jordan, late of Maine, slightly; John Crocker, formerly of Massachusetts, slightly wounded in the head.

These patients are in a temporary hospital, well cared for under the care of a board of surgeons, Dr. Prentiss at their head. There is but one doubtful case in the hospital, and that is the case of Mr. Gunter.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—Kansas dates to 29th, state that 1500 men, under Atchison, had made preparations to attack Lawrence, Sept. 1st.

The free State forces in Lawrence are estimated at 1500 to 2000 men.

LATER FROM KANSAS—ANOTHER BATTLE.—St. Louis, 5th.—Advices from Kansas state that a battle was fought on the morning of the 30th, at Ossawattomie, between 300 pro-slavery troops under Capt. Reed, and about the same number of free soilers, under Capt. Brown. The battle lasted an hour, when the free soilers were routed, with the loss of 20 killed and several wounded.

Brown and his son are both reported killed. Five pro-slavery men were wounded.

All the provisions and amunition were carried from Ossawattomie, and the town burnt.

Gov. Geary arrived here to-cay, and proceeds immediately to Kansas.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The Guano Island.—The following is an extract from a private letter written on board the frigate Independence to a friend in the United States:—

"The guano island was represented to be more than 500 miles from the main, and more than 200 from any land, in a rainless region, and not laid down on any chart. When its position was descried, it proved to be New Nantucket Island, in lat. 15 min. North, and lon. 176 35 West, a long level island, about three miles in diameter, covered with vegetation, and surrounded by a surf of such a character that landing was out of the question. There was no anchorage, and a four knot current swept to westward. There is no guano within ten degrees north or south of the equator beyond the influences of the Cordileras, because that is a rainy region.

FIRE IN MANCHESTER, N. H.—The Manchester Mirror reports that four stables and several dwelling houses, near the Melodeon in that city, were destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. In the stable where the fire originated, three horses were burned. The total loss is estimated to be $15,000.

☞ In the Boston Police Court, Monday, Sarah Barlow, a girl of 17 years, of Newburyport, was sentenced to the House of Reformation during her minority, for larceny of clothes and money of the value of $162 from Jenny Brown, with which plunder she escaped to her home, but was returned through the vigilance of the Newburyport officers.

Mr. G. Wright, of the firm of Palmer, Cook & Co., denies, in a public card, that Col. Fremont is, or ever was, a partner in that firm.

This nails another falsehood, like a base coin, to the counter.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—The Boston Daily Advertiser says that the new freshman class numbers one hundred and twenty six members—the largest that ever entered this institution. The foundation walls for the new College Chapel have been laid, and the need of such a building is now more than ever apparent.

The Richmond Enquirer says that "every school and college in the South should teach that slave society is the common, natural, rightful and normal state of society. They should also teach that no other form of society is, in the general, right or expedient."

GREAT MORTALITY.—Her Majesty's ship Melacca lost nearly all her crew at Port Royal, in Jamaica, from yellow fever. It was necesary to press blacks to work her to Bermuda. The crews of the Hermes and Termagant, in the West Indies, have suffered severely from fever.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "scud under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThS 6m.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BLOOMFIELD, Nov. 26, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN: Dear Sir,—I have used your Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and have no hesitation in saying that for the Diarrhea, and other diseases incident to the human system, I have never found any medicine that would compare with them. I cheerfully give my testimony in favor of your justly celebrated invention, hoping that it may induce some who are afflicted with disease to give them a trial.

I remain yours truly,

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

PRETTY SMALL BROOKS.—"Hon. Preston S. Brooks" is now the great man of the South. He has been received with a perfect ovation from one end of South Carolina to the other. At Columbia, the capital of the State, he was presented by the Mayor of the city in behalf of the assembled citizens, with a silver goblet and pitcher, and a hickory cane headed with gold. He made a speech of an hour, in which he said if he had "stepped forward and smote one of their Abolition crew in the House, their enmity to him would have precipitated them against him, and then his friends would have covered the floor of the House of Representatives with human blood." He agreed with Mr. Fillmore that the South will not submit to the election of Fremont:

"For his part, if Fremont, the traitor to his section, should be successful, it was his deliberate opinion that on the fourth of March next the people of the South should rise in their might, march to Washington and seize the archives and the Treasury of the Government."

But we recommend to the timid among us not to be frightened out of their wits or votes by this, for if the South is as considerate as Brooks was about going into Canada, they will consider such a proceeding too unsafe to be hazarded.—Boston Chron.

SOUTHERN METHODIST CHURCH IN ENGLAND.—Rev. John E. Edwards, of Richmond, Virginia, now in London, writes:

It may not be out of place just here, to say, that the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the United States, is scarcely recognized by the Wesleyan Methodists of this country. Personally, I have received the most polite and courteous attentions from the ministers to whom I had letters of introduction; but I have not been invited to preach in any of their chapels.—Our church is regarded as a pro-slavery church, and the Methodists of this country will not tolerate any such body as a part of the Christian family. They are quite as decided in their opposition to us as are our good New England Methodist brethren at home.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "motto" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to every body and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

LIVIUS; BOYD; RAYNES; WALKER.

NO. TWO.

About the year 1773, as we stated in a former paper, Mr. Livius left the place, and was succeeded in the Mill and Mansion, by George Boyd.

Mr. Boyd was by trade a rope-maker, and having made some money in his business, and become a merchant, was able to avail himself of the chance to buy out Mr. Livius's place at a great bargain. He carried on the Mill; built one of the rope-walks at the North end, on the ground now occupied by the Eastern Railroad, and carried on rope-making; built several stores and warehouses; had vessels built, and traded by sea, largely and successfully.

Mr. Boyd's successful enterprise brought him into notice, and in 1773, Gov. Wentworth gave him a Colonel's commission, we here copy from the original, which has lately been discovered among other papers in one of the Boyd buildings. It is endorsed, (in a hand writing which we think is Col. Clapp's,) "Col. Boyd's Commission, 1773."

Province of New Hampshire.

John Wentworth, Esq., Captain-General and Governor in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of New Hampshire, in New England, &c., to George Boyd, Esquire, Greeting. By virtue of the Power and Authority, in and by His Majesy's Royal Commission to Me granted, to be Captain-General, &c., over His Majesty's Province of New Hampshire, aforesaid; I do (by these Presents) reposing especial Trust and Confidence in your Loyalty, Courage and good Conduct, constitute and appoint You, the said George Boyd, Esquire, to be Colonel of a Regiment of Light Horse Guards of Five Troops to be enlisted from the Militia in the Countys of Rockingham and Strafford. (Cadets excepted.)

You are therefore carefully and dilligently to discharge the Duty of a Colonel in leading, ordering and exercising said Regiment in Arms, both inferior Officers and Soldiers, and to keep them in good Order and Discipline; hereby commanding them to obey you as their Colonel and yourself to observe and follow such Orders and Instructions as you shall from Time to Time receive from Me, or the Commander in Chief for the Time being, or other your superior Officers in his Majesty's Service, according to Military Rules and Discipline, pursuant to the Trust reposed in You.

Given under my Hand and Seal at Arms, at Portsmouth, the Eighteenth Day of August in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of His Majesty King George the Third, Annoque Domini, 1773. By His Excellency's Command, J. WENTWORTH.

Theodore Atkinson, Secry.

We have before us a memorandum book, kept, as we suppose, by Col. Boyd, in a voyage either to or from England, (the book don't say which!) We give extracts.

ye 25 of April 1774.—12 Clock meridian I went on Bord the ship Filisaty Cpt Henerey Nutter. with mrs Heth & mr Sammull whittwill Pasangers with me soon after the Boat Left us wee was taken all a Back with a hed wind & fog which fog perwented our taken the sun for eight Days there was Nothing Remarkable the first Eight Days only the Disagreeable Ness of lying att sea with a fowl wind & fowl wether.

May ye 11—first part these 24 hours fair & Plesant wether midel Part thick fogy Latter Part clear im Bayd by 10 Large Ilands of Ice one of which wee ware witt in musket Shot & Judged itt to be out of water between two & three hundred foot & a bout 2 mils square.

may ye 13—first Part of these 14 hours fair smooth Sea midel Part spoke witl a Ship from Dublind Bound for Baltimore full of serwents Latter Part Raney wethe Hed wind & hed beat Sea.

Col. Boyd spent several years in England—his factor here being Col. Supply Clapp: and he amassed a large property He died on a return voyage, in 1787; and lies buried under the most elegant monument in the old North Burying Ground. It bears the following inscription:

Sacred to the Memory
of
GEORGE BOYD, Esq.,
Formerly Merchant of this town,
Who after an Absence of many years,
embarked at LONDON
For this his native Place,
In the Month of August, in the year of our Lord 1787.
But to the great grief
of his Widow, Children and Friends,
Who had long expected him, with the most painful anxiety,
He departed this Life on the 6th of Oct.,
in the same year—Aged 54,
Two days only before the vessel made her port.
CONFIDO.

After his death, the property remained in his family for many years. The sons were in business, and Col. Clapp remained in connexion with the estate, and kept an account-book for Mrs. Jane Boyd, and for Executors,—which book we have before us.

Col. George Boyd's son William was in business here as late as the close of the war, 1815, as an auctioneer.

We have before us a letter to him, from William Gray, of Salem, of which the following is a copy:

SALEM 24th Sept. 1794.

Dear Sir—I Reed your favor by yesterday's Post, the Anchors I cannot get made in this Town, but they write me from Newbury, they will make them there if they can get Palms, you can send there and see. if the smith will undertake if he will I will deliver him the iron there. or if you can get them made at Portmouth, I shall send a parcel of good Iron there to morrow, & will then send you the Ratlin

YRS WM GRAY JR

On the back of the letter, is this memorandum: "Timothy Pillsbury, Newbury, Blacksmith." We suppose he made the anchors.

IMPROVEMENTS. — We presume all our readers this morning will observe that the type from which we print, presents rather a better impression than that we have been using of late. It is new, and takes the place of that on which we have printed our paper from the start. That was from the foundry of Messrs. Phelps & Dalton, Boston, and we never saw better type. The new is from Messrs. Hobart & Robbins' foundry, also in Boston; and we shall be entirely satisfied if it does equal service with that we now lay aside.

While it is of course very agreeable to make any improvements of this sort—yet there is no little of sadness awakened by the changes we have made. When we printed the first paper from the new type which we now lay by as old, there were other hands as willing and more expert than ours, to aid, which have now finished their labors here below; and the arduous duties of printing a Daily paper were divided among three,—each while very different, being equally valuable to the others, whereas, now there is but one to assume the responsibility.

It may perhaps, also be observed, that the outside of the paper does not present so good an appearance as the inside. Well, the inside of the vessel is the most important; and it is always well to "look at 't other side" of a thing.

With the most grateful thanks to our friends, whose liberal patronage has sustained the paper, and now warrants us in making this improvement, we will close by promising to ever present as good a paper as we can afford.

☞ On our outside will be found an article from a correspondent, respecting the location of the new Custom House and Post Office. Besides the places already suggested, we have heard mention made of the square occupied by the Piscataqua House, Rockingham Bank and L. Cotton's store. This is about 80 feet by 150, we believe.

DEATHS IN AUGUST.—Mr. Bell's record of mortality in Portsmouth, for the last month, is as follows:—

Males three,—aged 6 months, 23 years, 76 years.

Females ten — 3 months, 6, 10, 2 years, 4, 20, 36, 56, 68, 82.

Total number of deaths for the month, thirteen.

☞ On Friday morning, the Buchanan Guards, of this city, numbering 50, and about 100 other citizens, with a band of music, took passage in the Concord train to attend the great Mass meeting of the Democratic party in this State.

The day was favorable, and the meeting was doubtless very numerous.

☞ The Free Will Baptist Society in this City, will worship to-morrow at the usual hours, in the new Vestry of the Temple. The services will be conducted by Rev. Messrs. P. Chesley and John Stevens.

Cardinal Wiseman of England, has taken ground publicly in a sermon, in favor of Sabbath recreation. He says it has always been the doctrine of the Catholic church, that when the public religious duties of the day were over, recreations and amusements are innocent and commendable, and he advocates the opening of the public buildings and gardens by government for the amusement of the laboring classes.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on Saturday, the 6th day of September next, on the premises, at 12 o'clock, M., the large DWELLING HOUSE and LAND appurtenant thereto, belonging to the heirs of the late N. P. S. PEIRCE, deceased, situate on Court Street, near the South Parish Sunday School Room.

The lot of land is very extensive, and the house large and is now rented to good advantage, to three tenants.

The contemplated improvement, to be made the coming spring, by the South Parish Sunday School Society, by building a handsome Chapel, and making attractive grounds, &c., around the same, will greatly enhance the value of Real Estate in that part of the city.

The situation is central, within a short distance of the business portion of the City, and about midway between the Ship-yards on this side of the River. A good title will be given.

Terms made known at the Sale.

For further particulars enquire of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, over the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, or of the Auctioneer, No. 70 State street, where a plan of the premises may be seen.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

WILLIAM CROWLEY & SON,
Oversly Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them

THE KANSAS HERALD OF FREEDOM.—The Free State men of Kansas practised on Titus's fort with the cannon they had re-captured at Franklin. A brother of Rev. Daniel Foster of Lowell, giving a description of the action in which he was himself engaged, says "it was loaded with balls run from the type-metal of the Herald of Freedom press, which Col. Titus had destroyed last May. When the first shot was fired the Lawrence boys shouted, 'the Herald of Freedom is issued again' The cannon was fired six times. At the sixth fire they surrendered. One of their men was killed, and Col. Titus badly wounded."

☞ The 45th annual meeting of the New Hampshire Bible Society was held at Exeter, Aug. 27th. The receipts of the year were $4,397 06; $691 87 less than they were last year. The whole number of Bibles and Testaments issued from the Depository during the year, is 6,940.—A resolution was passed;—that the Society make an effort to supply each child and youth of the state, who is destitute, with a copy of the New Testament, during the year.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

REMSFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of OTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chief diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 31 Jan., 1856. "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we entreat you, Doctor, and your brotherhood, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALNSO, MONROE Co., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 8, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which, we all we could procure gave her no relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have also for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and respect,

ORLANDO SHELDEY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bear out the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable testimonials are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win an unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood and expel diseases. They purgeout the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart to the tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not authenticated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of nutrath. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of the afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Costiveness, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Piles arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an external Medicine, Scrofula or Kings Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1,50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1,00
5 lb. Oolong "	1 75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2 25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ anh ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages bearing our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

TOMATOES

FOR SALE by the Basket, by

au23 MATHES & VARRELL.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although valuable lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to this extent precisely lessens the income from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

A CANINE NOBLEMAN. — We take the following from the Trinity (California) Times. It records one of the most remarkable instances we ever heard, of canine cagacity.

William Dredge lives about five miles from town, at the base of the mountain which towers north of us. A short time after midnight on Wednesday last, he was aroused from his slumbers by the howl of a dog. No menace on his part could rid him of the strange intruder. The dog continued to walk around the cabin, still repeating his moaning howling, occasionally making efforts to effect an entrance through the closed doorway. Surprised and somewhat alarmed at this singular demonstration, Mr. Dredge at last hastily dressed himself and unbolted the door, when a large mastiff rushed in. The dog at once caught hold of his trowsers, and employed every gentle means to induce the man to accompany him outside. Dredge's first impression was that the animal was mad;—and yet so peculiar and earnest were the dumb intreaties, that he finally yielded and proceeded without the cabin. A joyful yell was the result, and the delighted brute, now capering and wagging his tail before him, and now returning and gently seizing him by the hand and trousers, induced Dredge to follow him.

Their course was up the precipitous side of the mountain, and soon they were forcing their way through a snow drift that had settled in one of its numerous fissures. Here comes the wonder. Upon the snow lay the body of a woman, who had evidently perished from cold and exhaustion. Her limbs were already stiffened in death; but what was the surprise of Mr. Dredge to see the faithful dog ferret out from a bundle of clothing that lay by the side of the woman, a young child, about two years old, still warm and living. A little inspection, aided by starlight and the lightness of the snow, enabled him to discover that the person of the woman was nearly naked. With a mother's affection she had stripped her own person in order to furnish warmth to her exposed infant. The trusty dog had completed her work of self-sacrifice.

Mr. Dredge immediately conveyed the child to his cabin, and, arousing some of his neighbors, proceeded again to the mountain to secure from the attacks of wild beasts the person of the unfortunate woman. Her body was buried next day. The child and dog have been adopted by this good Samaritan; but as yet he has not been able to obtain any light as to the name of the woman, or how she happened to stay on the dismal mountain side at such an unfortunate hour. The child is doing well, and is truly a handsome boy.

A SLAVE MADE FREE BY A MEMBER OF CONGRESS.—We find in Zion's Herald a letter from the Hon. Mr. Trafton, a member of the House of Representatives from Massachusetts, in which he gives an interesting account of the purchase of a female slave, to whom he gave immediate freedom. We give a portion of Mr. Trafton's letter:—

I must throw myself upon the mercy of the people of Massachusetts, and say, as Burlingame said, "I hope they will forgive me!" The case was this: I learned from a neighbor that there was somewhere in the city a slave girl whose master was willing to sell low for cash: That his sons were unwilling he should sell her, as when he died she would bring $1000; I heard he had offered her for $400. I started off in the morning, and found the family in which she lived, hired out of course. She was apprehensive that she would be sold South. Said the good woman to me, "I would not suffer what Eliza has suffered for a little time past, for all the world. She came home from market the other morning," said she, "pale and trembling, and another girl had told her that she saw a slave dealer that morning talking with the old man." This was enough to alarm her. Learning his residence, I soon found him. He said he had offered her to herself for $400—that a man in the city had promised to buy her for himself, and was to have paid him the first day of this month, and that he had his trunk all packed to start for the Springs, but he had not brought the money. "And now," said he, "if she will pay me $350, she shall be free."—I asked him to give me the refusal of her until the next morning. To this he consented. I then went to the Capitol over which wave the stars and stripes; I am not sure that I did not sing, as I went up the steps,

'Hail Columbia!"

I drew up a paper, started it with a much larger sum than I could afford—but I had determined to advance the whole sum if necessary, and appeal to my friends at home. Before the House adjourned, I had $345 promised. I borrowed the balance not paid in, and yesterday morning, I had the woman's free papers made out and executed. If my constituents see my name missing on one vote that day, let them know I was just then pleading with a slaveholder to give five dollars to buy this woman—for I called on a large number of these patriarchs. Some laughed at me, and said, "she is better off." Two of them offered to buy her themselves—one of them said he would give $800 for her on my representation. Humphrey Marshall, of Kentucky, James H. Seaward, of Georgia, H. Winter Davis, of Maryland, and J. M. Harris, of the same state, each gave me five dollars, while many Northern men did nothing from concientious scruples.—This morning I went and read the free papers to the girl. M. TRAFTON.

SWISS EMIGRATION.—The emigration fever, which had subsided in the last two years in Switzerland as well as in Germany, has this year revived for the United States. A considerable number of Swiss emigrants, mainly from the western cantons, have started for Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin since spring. Quite a number of colonies from the French cantons have located themselves in Algiers, where they have enjoyed the especial protection of the government officials, and are said to be well pleased with their new home. Societies are also on the eve of departure to found colonies in the Central American States, especially in Honduras and Costa Rica, the latter scheme being, according to rumor, under the auspices of Mr. Squier.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1856.

A Step Towards Disunion.—The Richmond Enquirer, the ablest and most influential of the Southern journals that support Mr. Buchanan, discloses ulterior plans without concealment. It does not hesitate to say that it seeks disunion, and that it advocates Mr. Buchanan's election because it strengthens the Disunion Party.

The following are extracts from the Enquirer's article.

"The election of Mr. Buchanan may, and probably will originate a reaction in public opinion that will encourage the extension of the conservative institution of Slavery, and the extension of the British and Southern European races, for the very purpose of stemming and turning back the torrent of infidelity, materialism, sensuality, agrarianism and anarchy, that threatens to overwhelm us from the prolific hive of Northern Europe.

The election of Mr. Buchanan would be a reactionary movement in favor of Slavery and conservatism.

'Forewarned, forearmed!' We see the numbers, character, the designs of our enemies. Let us prepare to resist them and drive them back.

Let the South present a compact and undivided front. Let her show to the barbarians that her sparse population offers little hopes of plunder; her military and self-reliant habits, and her mountain retreats, little prospect of victory; and her firm union and devoted resolution, no chances of conquest. Let her, if possible, detach Pennsylvania and Southern Ohio, Southern Indiana and Southern Illinois, from the North, and make the Highlands between the Ohio and the Lakes the dividing line. Let the South treat with California, and, if necessary, ally herself with Russia, with Cuba and Brazil.

A common danger from without, and a common necessity (Slavery) withal, will be sure to make the South a great, a united, a vigilant and a warlike people."

A reader who did not know the premises, would suppose that some Northern barbarians purposed to use the bayonet this Fall—and that the Enquirer is afraid of an armed invasion.—It is not so, however—the Enquirer fears to be overwhelmed with the ballots of the free men, the learning of free schools, and the presidency of Fremont.

The Charleston (South Carolina) Mercury, another Buchanan paper, avows the same object thus boldly:

"There is not a single public man in her limits (South Carolina,) not one of her present Representatives or Senators in Congress, who is not pledged to the lips in favor of disunion. We have had enough of the 'Glorious Union.' The association on our part, has long been dishonorable; now, what with genteel scoundrelism, exhibited in fashionable bankruptcies, foreign and free negro riots, open and professed infidelity, &c., &c., the connection has become actually disreputable. A thoroughly organized disunion party is the desideratum; and until such be formed at the South, all time devoted to political discussion will be wasted."

From Kansas.—A gentleman who arrived from Kansas Sept. 1st, states that Rev. Mr. Nute of Lawrence, and several gentlemen and ladies, among them Mrs. Hopps, the widow of the man who was shot and scalped, were arrested near Leavenworth city on Thursday last, and prevented from taking passage down the river. They were arrested without a shadow of warrant. All the horses in the town had been pressed into service by the pro-slavery men, and the stores of the Free State men had been closed by order of the pro-slavery men. A collision between the Northern men and Missourians was daily expected.—Alton (Ill.) Courier, Sept. 2.

A letter to the N. Y. Evening Post says:

Just as Mr. Nute stepped on the plank of the steamer in order to follow Mrs. Hopps, he was forcibly prevented by a brutal pro-slavery ruffian named Murphy, and he did not get on board. The strong probabilities are, that unless Mr. Nute escapes he will meet with a violent end, as he was threatened with hanging the day I left.

Do the people of New England wish to to encourage such miscreants as these?

Resigned.—The Kansas correspondent of the Chicago Tribune states that all the Territorial officers have resigned, and Shannon has accepted their resignation. They assign as a reason that Shannon has sold out to the "Abolitionists." This has reference, doubtless, to the surrender of the cannon taken from Lawrence on the 21st of May.

Boston Common.—This is a new work of 556 pages, just published by James French & Co., Boston, and for sale by J. F. Shores jr., of this city. The authoress was the highly gifted and lately deceased Mrs. R. G. Vernhame—the work is worthy of her, and will be widely read and admired. We have a notice of Mrs. V.'s life, which we shall publish as soon as we can find room.

Clerical.— Mr. Edwin M. Wheelock has recently been invited to settle over the Unitarian Society in Dover. Mr George Bradford has received an invitation to become the pastor of the Unitarian Society in Watertown, Mass. Both these young men were members of the last class of the Cambridge Divinity School.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

FRIENDS, DON'T GET EXCITED!

Strawberry Bank, Sept. 4, '56.

My Dear Son Samuel:—The interest I feel in the temporal welfare (to say the least) of you and your children, prompts me to address a few lines to you, in regard to their behavior. I am convinced that their happiness and prosperity are closely allied to, and dependent on, the cultivation of peaceful and loving dispositions among themselves and towards others.

Now your cousin Jotham has informed me that among their other sports and plays, they have set up a game which they name politics—in which sides are taken—by two or more parties. In this particular game, there are two—one they name "Fremont" and the other "Buchanan." Now I wish that in their sports they would invent such games as would promote unanimity of feeling, and a kind consideration in regard to each other's failings, infirmities and errors, instead of those which open a breach, and excite contentious rivalry, &c.,—for it is very difficult to moderate these passions after they are excited, and the parties almost invariably fall into throwing foul speeches and words at each other,—and your cousin tells me that such is now the case—and worse still; for one party fearing that the other would not concede to them all that they wished, have taken up sticks, (not that I believe they seriously mean to bruise, kill and destroy, but if they took the counsel of our old sage Franklin, they would not make jest on such matters) upon which, the other party getting excited, show larger sticks; so that the game, which at first was a mere contest of opinion, now assumes a portentous appearance of a cat and dog fight.

Now I do not know which party originated such extreme action. Some say it was the "Fremont," and they called themselves "Guards," but not to talk about this, I will briefly express my opinion that the most honorable party is that which will the soonest throw down its weapons.

But suppose they should, under some excitement, wound or kill any one, would it not open a fountain of shame and of remorse, of which they would gladly avoid drinking, but shall not be able to?

Now I do not want to lengthen this letter out into a long discussion, but will say I hope you will enjoin upon them, severally, that if they find themselves likely to lose their tempers, to give up all participation in each games—and I hope you will also enjoin upon them the sentiments of the hymn which you have been taught, viz. "Let dogs delight, &c.," "Let bears and lions, &c.," "But children—your hands were never made to tear each other's eyes;" also warn them, that the Most High takes notice of those who originate violent purposes, and that He will bring their violent dealing down upon their own pates.

Whether therefore, they play or not, tell them not to lose sight of their grandfather's adage, but keep Good Temper.

For the Chronicle

Obituary.—Died in Huntsville, Alabama, on the night of Wednesday, the 6th of August, Frederick A., son of Mr. Hugh Tuttle, of Boston, in the 25th year of his age.

The circumstances of this mournful event are such as to call forth in a peculiar manner the sorrow of friends and the sympathies of a community in which the deceased was as yet almost a stranger.

Seven years ago, young Tuttle left Boston for Georgia, carrying with him the most flattering testimonials. He devoted himself to civil engineering and railroad management, and in that capacity he commended himself to the high approval of all with whom he became acquainted, as a generous and warm-hearted friend, a high-minded and honorable man; disinterested and sincere in his friendships, as he had always proved gentle and affectionate as a son.

With remarkable energy and persevering industry, Mr. Tuttle was carving out a fortune and an honorable distinction, when the destroyer took him. The summons was awful in its suddenness. He had been busily and cheerfully engaged in the duties of his office up to the very hour of his death. Having concluded his business for the night he started for his home, in company with a friend, when he was seized with coughing and spitting of blood. A profuse hemmorhage ensued. "It is pure blood," calmly remarked the sufferer, "and it will kill me." Before help could be summoned, he lay a corpse in the arms of his friend.

The funeral was attended by most of the people of Huntville.

The bereaved parents, and the large circle of friends that has been broken, have our heartfelt sympathies. B.

☞ State Election in Maine this day.

CONCORD MASS MEETING.

The two accounts of the Mass Convention at Concord, of the Democratic party in the State of New Hampshire, differ widely.

Friday was a fine day; the gathering was to be the grand convention of the party previous to the vote for President; it was well advertised; and even the smallest number named, 5000, seems to us a large assembly. The procession, 2800, is uncommonly large.

We give first the favorable account;

The Democratic Mass Convention in this city to-day was the largest political demonstration ever made at the capital of the Granite State. From early dawn until noon, hundreds and thousands poured into town by every mode of conveyance. So great was the rush that the various railroads were unable to accomnodate the people, and second trains were sent out to bring in those left behind. The procession was over two miles in length, and the enthusiasm very great.

At half past one o'clock, the procession filed into the extensive area in front of the capitol, and were addressed from three points by various speakers. At the main stand addresses were made by Hon. P. A. Rust of Louisiana, Hon. Wm. J. Hammersley of Connecticut, Fletcher Webster, Hon. B. F. Butler and B. F. Hallet of Massachusetts, and Hon. A. D. Smalley of Vermont; and at the other stands by gentlemen mostly of New Hampshire. The speeches were kept up until darkness intervened, when an adjournment was made to Depot Hall, where a large meeting was convened.

The streets for several hours, at the close of the meeting, and during the entire evening, were thronged by military companies, bands of music, and various delegations, departing for home. The Democrats are highly elated with the unprecedented success of the meeting.

The number present is estmated at from 20,000 to 30,000.

Secondly, we give the other view, over the left shoulder;

The great Buchanan Mass State Convention held here to-day, was really no great affair. Those who came in on the railroads from the North numbered less than half as many as came over the same to the Fremont Ratification meeting last July.—Their procession consisted, by actual count, of 2846, and there were not more than 5000 here in all. It is admitted on all sides that, in point of numbers, it was much smaller than was expected. The distinguished speakers announced were most of them missing.

This latter writer evidently makes the numbers as small as possible, while the 20 or 30,000 is a mere wild guess. 10,000 is a more probable number.

The "border ruffian" counties in Missouri gave a majority of 1300 against the Democrats in the late election there.—N. H. Patriot.

Very important if true—showing that the whole country is going with a rush for somebody.—Vermont and Missouri! What is the world a-coming to?

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "send under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThS 6m.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

Bloomfield, Nov. 26, 1848.

Dr. Hayden: Dear Sir,—I have used your Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and have no hesitation in saying that for the Diarrhea, and other diseases incident to the human system, I have never found any medicine that would compare with them. I cheerfully give my testimony in favor of your justly celebrated invention, hoping that it may induce some who are afflicted with disease to give them a trial.

I remain yours truly,

JUST published by GEORGE P. REED & CO., Boston, the American Collection of Instrumental MUSIC.

The contents of this book consist of a large variety of Marches, Quicksteps, Waltzes, Contra Dances, Quadrilles, Cotillons, Polkas, Hornpipes, Reels, Mazurkas, and every shade and style of Music which is calculated to please the fancy and meet the wants of the musical community, and all arranged for Wind and Stringed instruments, such as the Violin, Flute, Clarionet, Cornet, Bugle, Violincello, and other instruments, with Piano Accompaniments.

It is a valuable work for all who use the Piano Forte, Organ, Melodeon, Seraphine, or any similar instrument.

It is well adapted to the wants of those who practice and desire Duetts, Trios, or Quartetts; it will be found invaluable for small or large companies of amateur Musicians, who may occasionally meet together for practice; and it is peculiarly fitted for use in small or large Quadrille and Cotillon Bands, since, in addition to the great and pleasing variety of popular music, it contains nine full sets of Quadrilles and Cotillons for full Bands, and an excellent selection of Waltzes, Polkas, Schottisches, and other dance music. Price, bound in cloth, $1.50

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six pence to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "hoed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LIVIUS; BOYD; RAYNES; WALKER.

NO. THREE.

In process of years, the Boyd family sold the ropewalk to Mr. John Underwood — the mill went into the hands of the Walker family—and at a more recent period, the Mansion House, wharves, stores, and the large lot of land on which they stood, passed into the hands of Raynes & Neal, a commercial firm, who established their ship yard there, and enlarged the house to its present size, tastefully preserving its antique model.

The dissolution of that firm, the death of Capt. Neal, and the sinking and revival of ship building there, placed the Mansion House, ship yard and appurtenances in the hands of the late Mr. George Raynes, who sent out from that place a large number of A No. 1 ships, and whose heirs now possess the property and pursue the ship building.

The following is a list of vessels built by George Raynes, with their tonnage :

Of the above, those previous to 1835, were built in other yards—and after that year, in the yard above mentioned. Two ships are now building there ; one of them is be named the Annie Sise.

The building yard at the other end of the Creek, an hundred years before, with the old grist mill and saw mill there, gave rise to a little village, which was laid down on an old plan of the town, as Islington Village, and contained a dozen houses, some of which are yet standing. It was doubtless named Islington, from a well known suburb of London, which was then quite distinct from the city, but is now in its midst.

We have before us, a Deed from Josiah and George Moses to Robert Ham, of a Messuage or House and land, situate at Islington in Portsmouth—beginning about ten feet from the bridge commonly called the Middle Bridge, that is in the road that leads to Newington—and another piece beginning on the Bridge where a saw mill formerly stood. This deed was given Sept. 18, 1761, before Livius built his mill,—and it conveys the House wherein Mr. Asa Ham now lives, also the lot whereon his barn stands, between which lots there was then a water passage, spanned by a bridge.

In the Mill, the millers and owners, for a series of years, were the three Col. Walker's: Col. Seth, Col. Gideon, and Col. Gideon W. Walker.

In the hands of the latter, the mills were greatly improved and modernized.—They are now owned and run by Mr. Wm. Rand, who is thus, in the mill, the successor of Livius, and of the Boyds and Walkers.

A few timbers and other matters about the mill, only, remain of Livius's mill—though it has never been burnt, nor ever destroyed all at once. It is the same mill, exactly in the same manner the grand-father's knife that had had half a dozen of new handles and a whole dozen of new blades, was, after all, the same old knife.—But the frame work of the old mansion, and mainly the structure, may truly be said to be Livius's Mansion House improved by the Boyds, and finely preserved by their successors.

Thus the generations of men pass—but the places remain—and they know their former owners no more—but the face of the earth is renewed with the young, who pursue the business, occupy the places,—and we would hope emulate the virtues and avoid the errors of those who went before them.

THE NEW POST OFFICE AND CUSTOM HOUSE.—The Secretary of the U. S. Treasury has advertised that sealed proposals will be received in Portsmouth, by Zenas Clement, Esq., Collector, and G. H. Rundlett, Esq., Postmaster, until the 20th day of September, for a suitable Site for a building for the accommodation of the Custom House, Post Office, and United States Court. Corner lots will be preferred, and none are eligible that are less than one hundred feet square.

☞ The Portland Brass Band, which visited Portsmouth and Concord last week, under the auspices of the Buchanan Guards, favored our citizens with most excellent street music. On Friday night, or rather at two o'clock on Saturday morning, on the return of the Guards from Concord, the sweet strains of the band were peculiarly grateful, as they fell gently on the half awakened ear. They accompanied the Guards to Jefferson Hall.

MUNICIPAL.—In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, permission was granted to Thomas P. Dennett, Major Hooper and others, to locate a flag-staff at the South Mill Bridge.

A vote passed, asking for publication a copy of Rev. Dr. Burroughs's Address at the Dedication of the new High School House.

Vote passed to extend the common sewer in Cabot Street to the Railroad.

Application of Mr. Daniel Cate, to straiten the wall above the city farm, was referred.

☞ The Gazette corrects our statement that Capt. Marcy's flag has but twenty-one stars, and gives him the legitimate thirty-one. We copied the count from a cotemporary,—but perhaps the number may have been increased since. We can see no inducement for anybody to misstate here, and not much chance for a mistake. We may "all be right, and yet all be wrong" about this matter.

P. S.—We are informed that the first flag named, waves over the yard of the Hon. Captain.,—the new one being suspended over the street in front of his house. A small matter, but better be accurate.

☞ We notice another Fremont & Dayton flag, in Bridge street.

☞ E. N. Fuller, Esu., of the Gazette, advertises the second number of his "Portsmouth Almanac, and Rockingham County Hand Book," for the year 1857, to be published this Fall. It is a handy little book, and worth 10 cents to everybody in the county.

☞ On Friday evening, members of the Fremont Club and Guard of this city, with others, to the number of about one hundred, visited Navy Yard Village, and joined in a torch-light procession with the Republicans there. They also marched to Spruce Creek, where was a Fremont meeting.

AN ADVENTURE.—On Tuesday morning, as the cars were on the way to Exeter from Portsmouth, one of the passengers, a short, fleshy man of 200 pounds, dropped his hat. No sooner was it gone than he sprung from the side of a platform car on which he was riding, to secure it. As he struck the ground, the velocity of the train rolled him over like a pumpkin down the embankment, until he was resting, face up, in a pond by the way-side. By one of his own peculiar broad laughs he soon signified to the anxious passengers fast passing from him, that no damage was done. In an hour after, Mr. Willey with his hat reached Exeter, and added one to the procession.—Journal.

NEW YORK, 5th.—Yesterday Cornelius K. Garrison, Ex-Mayor of San Francisco, and recently agent of the Transit Co., was arrested and held to bail in $150,000, for alleged frauds on said Company.

It is alleged against him that he was employed by the Transit Company as agent of their line of steamships between San Francisco and San Juan del Sud, Nicaragua, in the year 1853, and continued in that office up to March, 1856, when Gen. Walker, at his instigation as it is alleged, commenced his crusade against the Company. During the period of Garrison's agency, he received for account of the Company upwards of $3,500,000. His compensation was liberal, being $60,000 per annum. This action is to recover the sum of $500,000 for alleged defalcations of varied and peculiar descriptions appearing in the complaint. The principal acts of alleged fraud, as far as they have been yet developed, consist of fabricated vouchers for large sums, and of false charges paid for coal, and other supplies. It is alleged that the defendant, by his fraudulent practices, has embezzled upwards of half a million dollars.

TOLLMAN ASSAULTED.—On Wednesday afternoon a man named James Campbell made his appearance at one of toll-houses on Warren Bridge, and as he was passing, the tollman demanded his toll. Instead of handing him a cent, he gave him a blow which nearly knocked him down. Campbell was arrested for this and taken before Justice Warren of Charlestown, and fined $7 and costs. In default he was committed to the House of Correction.

DIED FROM DRUNKENNESS.—On Wednesday evening a woman named Margaret Francis was brought to the 3d police station house, Boston, in an extremely drunken condition, and died at 7 1-2 o'clock.

EX-GOV BAKER.—It is reported here that our recent townsman, N. B. Baker, goes for Fremont. The generous impulses of Gov. Baker are such that it is highly probable the rumor will prove a fixed fact. "Like to Like."—Concord Statesman.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to excite from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Billous Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of billous disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They affected us all first rate, and every two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I am confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her head and neck, that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawles, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians my disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammations, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, not neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services more moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to prosecute a patent, or the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and faithful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Applications for Insurance received by JACOB WENDELL.

Cochecho Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for the above named Company, will receive applications for Insurance of Real or Personal Estate. The risks are divided into Three Classes, viz: 1st, or Farm Class; 2d, or Village Class; 3d, or Union Class. The average assessment in the Farm Class from April 1850 (the time of the Classification) to Jan. 1856, has been less than ¼ of 1 per cent. annually on the amount insured. In the Village Class for the same the average yearly assessment has been less than 1-10 of 1 per cent. on the amount insured. In the 3d, or Union Class, from Oct. 1846 to Jan 1856, the yearly average of assessments has been less than 1-5 of 1 per cent. on the amount insured.

Prepare for Winter.

THE cool mornings and evenings admonish us that winter is approaching, and every wise person should make ready for it beforhand. Examine your stock of stoves, tunpel, &c., and if anything is deficient have it put in order, at once; if new is needed, make your selections early in the season, while the stocks are fresh.

The subscriber has on hand a very large assortment of Cooking, Office and Parlor STOVES of every description, which we will sell at a very low price.

Stoves, Ranges and Furnaces repaired and cleaned. Coal Linings and Repairing Pieces for sale. Stoves cleaned at the owner's house, if desired.

Please give us a call.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee,)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb Java "	90
5 lb Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by family Grocers generally, in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

TOMATOES

FOR SALE by the Basket, by

au22 MATHES & VARRELL

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

ROYAL PERSONAGES.

The following description of the personal appearance of members of the ruling families of two of the principal nations of Europe, is extracted from a letter written by an American lady, a near connection of one of our eminent statesmen. Although a private letter, intended only for the eye of one of her personal friends, we seldom see, (says the Salem Register,) a more vivid and graphic portraiture, even when attempted by labored efforts of the most gifted minds :—

"My visit, while abroad, was a very pleasant one, and particularly in Paris.—The Exhibition and the expected visit of the Queen of England, made Paris the great point of attraction, most of the summer. I was told by a French gentleman, at the time of the Queen's visit in Paris, that there were seven hundred thousand strangers in the city. Curiosity induced me to attend the Balls and the Grand Opera, all given by the Emperor to the Queen. Aladdin's wonderful lamp could not have presented before his enchanted vision, scenes more gorgeous and beautiful than those fetes were. I was pleased with the appearance of the Queen, and heard her converse. She talks well. Prince Albert is very handsome and fine looking, though somewhat bald, and rather more passe in appearance than I had expected. The Princess Royal is rather pretty, with a Saxon complexion, and of a slight, delicate figure.

Perhaps a brief pen and ink sketch of the most wonderful man, Louis Napoleon, would not be uninteresting to you. The Emperor is by no means handsome. In his physique personnelle nature has been by no means lavish. In stature he is short, with body preponderating over legs; consequently he appears more to advantage in a sitting than an erect posture. Upon horseback he looks a king—on foot, dwarfish and insignificant. To such a body there is joined a most striking head—high forehead, and prominent cheek bones, a hooked nose and most remarkable eyes. They do not shine with that steady brilliance natural to the eye of genius, but with a varied brightness, like revolving lights, as if unwilling to waste their lustre upon common occasions. His eyes are the redeeming points in features otherwise harsh and repulsive. There are few men who can behold unmoved their intelligent and penetrating gaze; all feel that they are under the view of a superior, though perhaps not an amiable being.

The Empress Eugenie is a most lovely woman. Knowing her Spanish origin, I expected to see a brunette, a beauty in whose veins coursed the mingled blood of the Morisco and Castilian, with hair of jet, eyes lustrous and languishing, and that clear olive complexion, at once so indicative of ardor of passion and climate.—But, to my surprise, I beheld her a blonde, with unmistakable Saxon features, light hair, hazel eyes, and a complexion of Parian whiteness. She has a faultless nose and mouth, delicately chiselled lips and a good set of teeth. Her chin is finely rounded, and a more perfectly turned neck is seldom seen. A bust swelling, yet combining elegance and delicacy with fulness, completes le tout ensemble of her portrait. The expression of her countenance is full of intelligence and goodness. She is of medium hight, and the personification of grace—slight and sylph-like in her figure. As I gazed with delight upon this being—the cynosure of all eyes, at the Opera and the thronged Ball rooms of the Palace—I recollected the unhappy fate of the once courted and admired Marie Antoinette, and wondered if a like catastrophe awaited her gay and beautiful successor."

"LE GENERAL COURT DE BOSTON."—As an offset to the case of Professor Mahan, the Albany Evening Journal tells the following, which happened twenty-five years ago, at the Court of Louis Phillippe:

"A worthy citizen of Boston was desirous of being presented at a Royal Ball, but lacked the costume. Military uniform or a court dress were then, as now, indispensable: and it was too late to get either. His more fortunate friends, 'in full rig,' took leave of him at his lodging, with many expressions of regret that he could not accompany them. No sooner were they gone out of the house than he determined he would, at any rate, try the experiment. Within an hour he made his appearance at the door of the Throne Room at Versailles, arrayed in all the glory of his best blue coat, white vest, and nankeen trousers. Here the horrified Master of Ceremonies stopped him, and endeavored by word and sign to convince him that his dress was not comme il faut, and that he must retire. 'Dress—Dress,' said the traveler, 'not pass—not enter?' Why, it is the same dress I always wear in the General Court at Boston.' No sooner were the words uttered than the door flew open, and the obsequious valet, 'booing and booing,' preceded him, and announced in a loud voice, 'Monsieur le General Court de Boston,' to the infinite amazement and amusement of his American friends, and the great delight of the new made General."

THE UNCERTAINTY OF PLATFORMS.—At a flag raising in Philadelphia last week by the friends of Fillmore and Donelson, one of the speakers, in commenting warmly upon party platforms, and speaking of that adopted by the Fillmore National Council, said: "I stand upon this platform, sink or swim!" Just as he pronounced the last word the platform fell with a tremendous crash, "spilling" those who occupied seats upon it in every direction. One boy and two or three men were considerably injured—Democratic Standard.

A GOOD OLD AGE.—We learn from a reliable source that there resides in Johnsonville, Williamsburgh district, a lady by the name of Singleton, who is 136 years of age. She is a native of Georgetown district, was a grown lady at the time of Braddock's defeat, and can recount many of the incidents of the revolutionary war. She has been perfectly blind for thirty years, but can walk about the house and yard with no other assistance than a walking stick.—Marion, (S. C.) Star.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1856.

COL. FREMONT'S RELIGION.

Under this head, the Boston Pilot has an editorial article, which clearly shows Fremont to be an Episcopalian. The article begins with this paragraph:

The controversy between the Fillmore and Fremont know-nothings, about the latter's religion, is kept up with unabated activity, to the astonishment of those simple-minded strangers, who have been in the habit of believing that the American people were sincere in their traditional professions, that religion and politics should be separate and distinct.

There is no such American tradition.—There is an opinion and a practice, as to the United States in their Federal capacity, that Church and State shall not be united, that is, that we shall have no one form of religion established by law.

But that is quite a different thing from keeping religion and politics distinct,—a feat not easily accomplished anywhere, and not possible where the people can read and write.

These, however, are but digressions—the pith of the Pilot's article is as follows:

The record of Col. Fremont's confirmation, at the age of sixteen, in the Protestant Episcopal church, has been produced, and also the record of the baptism of his children in the same church, three or four in number. This makes a Protestant of him down to 1846. The next distinct piece of evidence comes down to August, 1856, the witness being Ex-Governor Anthony Colby, of New Hampshire, who thus replies to certain inquiries propounded to him by the Hon. John Cavode, member of Congress from Pennsylvania:

"I answer by saying, that I was acquainted with Col. Fremont before he was nominated for President; that I did what I could to bring about his nomination by a mass convention of the Americans and Republicans of New Hampshire; that I advocated his nomination and voted for him from the first in the American Convention in New York, and that I shall still support him in the full knowledge that he always has been and still is a Protestant, and that he is not nor never was a Roman Catholic. I have conversed with him fully and freely on this subject; and in concluding, I simply use his own words; that every assertion that he is, or ever was, or ever professed to be a Roman Catholic, is false."

All this reads very square. Governor Colby has undoubtedly reported Col. Fremont truly. Yet there is something behind, which the present Filmore party now build on. We have no doubt that Fremont has at times expressed respect for the Catholic church, and regret at the train of events which has separated him from the faith of his ancestors; and even said he was a Catholic at heart. And this is the fair interpretation of whatever he may have said on this subject, before the idea of being a candidate for the presidency was presented to his aspiring mind.

We italicise some words, calling attention to a peculiar priestly exposition of whatever Fremont may have said. The Pilot does not pretend to know nor quote what he has said, but coolly assumes to interpret his supposed sayings in its own way.

Mr. John Duberry, a native of Virginia, has been arrested in Columbus, Miss., for circulating "incendiary documents," namely, Seward's and Sumner's speeches in the U. S. Senate! He was examined before the Mayor and justices of the town, and held in the sum of $1000 for trial at a Circuit Court, in default, of which bonds he was imprisoned. It was proved that he had received Seward's and Sumner's speeches through the post office, for which crime he will be duly punished.

Perhaps somebody in New England would like to see such blessed freedom of speech established among us, in connexion with the patriarchal institution which gave rise to it.

☞ We see by the Concord Reporter, that the amount allowed for publishing the Laws passed by the General Court of New Hampshire, at the June session, is $25,60! Not enough, we should judge, to pay for setting the types. It is certainly desirable that all the people should have a chance to know the laws they are expected to obey; and we cannot see why newspaper publishers should not be paid for this service. The chaps who see that these same laws are executed, get bigger pay than this.

☞ Still another new church music book has appeared, making six this season. It is the production of Prof. V. C. Taylor, (author of the Sacred Minstrel, Golden Lyre, Chime, &c.) and is called "The Celestina." Prof. T. has a peculiar, beautiful style of his own; and no choir's library is complete without one of his books.

☞ A Big 'un—On Friday last, the Democracy raised a mammoth flag, 60 feet by 90, for Buchanan & Breckinridge, in front of the State House, Concord, between the Frank Pierce flag-staff and one on the opposite side of the street.

Free State Men Declared Rebels.—The Washington Union of Saturday morning, published a batch of official documents on Kansas affairs, developing very important measures of the executive, with a laboring attempt to conceal under a cloud of dust the aim and motives. The substance of these documents is transmitted by telegraph, and there is no room to doubt that the executive will use all its power to crush the free state men now in arms to defend their property and lives in Kansas. For this purpose, in addition to the regular force at the disposal of the government, a requisition is made on the Governors of Kentucky and Illinois for militia, to be furnished to Gen. Smith, whenever he deems it proper to call for them, to the extent of two regiments. Instructions are also issued to Gov. Geary to enrol and organize the militia of the territory, that is, the Missourians who have taken up the business of governing Kansas, and these are to be mustered into the service of the United States as far as Gen. Smith may need them.

In his instructions to Gen. Smith, dated Sept. 3, Jeff. Davis, Secretary of War, uses unmistakable language in regard to the men who have defended themselves against horse-theives and murderers, when the United States General commanding, on application, refused to do it.

The language of Secretary Marcy, addressed to Gov. Geary, Sept. 2, distinctly refers to the Free State men. He says:

"Reliable information having reached the President that armed and organized bodies of men, avowedly in rebellion against the Territorial Government, have concentrated in such numbers as to require additional military force for their dispersion, you will have the militia of the territory completely enrolled and organized, to the end that they may be brought into the service of the United States."

This cannot be applicable to the armed and organized bodies from Missouri, which have just invaded Kansas in favor of the "Territorial Government." Marcy and Davis mean by rebels and insurgents the men, who, refusing to recognize the validity of laws enacted by invaders, are determined to protect their property against invaders who rob their stables and hen roosts to support those laws.—Boston Chron.

Kansas.—The Glasgow, Mo., Times (pro-slavery) of Sept. 2, contains accounts which it says were brought in by Mr. Shepherd of Independence, a reliable man.

He reported a battle fought in the direction of Fort Scott, in which 13 Southern were killed.

Captain Reid writes: I moved with 250 men on the abolition town and fort of Oesawatomie, the headquarters of old Brown, night before last; marched 40 miles, and assaulted the town, dismounting the men, at sunrise on yesterday. We had a brisk fight for an hour or more, and Capt. Boyce, Wm. Gordon and three others wounded.—We killed about 30 of them, among the number, certain, a son of old Brown; and almost certain, old Brown himself; destroyed their amunition and provisions, and he boys would burn the town to the ground. I could not help it.

Mr. James Childs writes: The Abolitionists made the attack. We killed 20, and burned the town.

On the same evening a large number made their appearance near camp. We expect to have a fight at Prairie City. We then march to Lawrence where we will have the big fight. We need men and means. There are here now 1100 men, and about 800 opposite Lawrence, that will operate with us.

The two brothers Phillips, said to have been murdered in Leavenworth City, are from Berkshire, Mass.

St. Louis, Sept. 6.—From Kansas.—The Democrat publishes the statement of the free soilers who arrived in this city yesterday from Kansas. They confirm the burning of Ossawottamie, and say that but 50 free soilers were in town at the time, and the attacking party numbered 400. Several free soilers were killed, and 7 taken prisoners, of whom 2 were afterwards shot.—Mr. Brown and his son were killed.

They also confirm the killing of Wm. Phillips at Leavenworth, by a party of Southerners under Capt. Emery, and the driving out of the territory of all persons unwilling to take arms against the free soilers.

Milwaukie, Sept. 5.—An extra session of the Wisconsin Legislature was convened at Madison on Wednesday. Among other things, Gov. Bashford recommends the consideration of measures for the protection of citizens of Wisconsin in the territory of Kansas. He says that since the adjournment of the Legislature, intelligence had reached him from reliable sources that many citizens of Wisconsin, who had expatriated themselves, but had gone to Kansas for lawful objects, had been seized, robbed, and their lives jeopardized by the people of Missouri. Gov. Bashford adds:—"Outrages of this nature have become so frequent that I deem it my duty to call your attention to them, that you may devise legal measure to protect the citizens of Wisconsin, and redress their grievances, the general government being either impotent or willfully neglectful to do so."

National Convention of Universalists.—The General Convention of Universalists in the United States, will hold its next annual session in the city of Erie, Pa., on Tuesday, the 16th of September. Rev. A. A Miner of Boston, was appointed to preach the next Occasional Sermon, and Rev. R. Eddy of Philadelphia, substitute.

The Quebec Mercury states that there are fifty-three lunatic negroes in the provincial asslum, whom their Southern owners brought to Canada and left there, to avoid the expense of their support. The Mercury thinks they should be sent back to their masters.

☞ Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine, for October, 1856, comes to us per mail, via Concord, with other exchanges,—but they should come to Portsmouth direct.

Peterson's Frontispiece is a humorous picture, representing "The Onconvanience of Single Life." The reader will look and laugh—he can't help it.

Naval.—Gunner Burgess P. Allen is ordered to Portsmouth, N. H. Navy Yard, vice Benjamin Bunker, detached and waiting orders.

Carpenter Joseph Cox is detached from the Naval Academy, and waiting orders.

☞ On the 2d inst., as Mr. Charles E. Woodman, of Strafford, was taking a gun from his wagon, it was accidentally discharged, and the contents passed through his hand, inflicting a severe wound.

Partial amputation of the hand was skilfully performed by Dr. Palmer, and most heroically borne by Mr. Woodman.

☞ The Vermont State Agricultural Fair will be held at Burlington on the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th of the present month. Great preparations are in progress.

Fatal Calamity.—George Knight, a native of Portland, Me., jumped from the third story of the Tremont House in New York, on Sunday night, while in a fit of delirium tremens, and was killed.

☞ The Deaf and Dumb Convention at Concord last week, was attended by about 110 deaf mutes, one of whom delivered an oration in the sign language, in the State House, on Friday.

Afraid of their own Papers.—The Roman-catholic Archbishop of Ireland has recently excluded from the reading-room of a Young Men's Society in Dublin, three Roman-catholic papers, the only organs of that church in Ireland, because, though strictly Catholic, they have dared to advocate, and to insert letters from priests, advocating the right of ecclesiastics to intermeddle with politics, in opposition to the authority of the bishop.

An "unprotected female" who came in town to attend the mass meeting, naturally fell into the crowd and went with the others into the first Meeting House, where the Commencement exercises were going on. She staid through the whole, and never discovered her error, but declared that it was the "beautifulist meeting she ever did see."—Providence Journal.

Good.—An exchange says, the best kind of rum for social parties and gatherings of men, is Deco—rum.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "scud under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine." and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

Bloomfield, Nov. 26, 1848.

Dr. Hayden: Dear Sir,—I have used your Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and have no hesitation in saying that for the Diarrhea, and other diseases incident to the human system, I have never found any medicine that would compare with them. I cheerfully give my testimony in favor of your justly celebrated invention, hoping that it may induce some who are afflicted with disease to give them a trial.

I remain yours truly,

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ Dr. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

Robert C. Winthrop's Opinion of Fremont.—For Mr. Fremont I entertain nothing but respect and esteem. Our seats were next to each other during his brief term in the Senate of the United States, and I was a witness to his intelligent and faithful service. Our homes in Washington were within a biscuit's throw of each other for a much longer period, and I can bear the most cordial testimony to the attractions and accomplishment of more than one of those beneath his roof. His scientific attainments and explorations have reflected the highest credit on his country as well as on himself.

A New Music Book.

Adapted to the Wants of the Million.

JUST published by GEORGE P. REED & CO., Boston, the American Collection of Instrumental MUSIC.

The contents of this book consist of a large variety of Marches, Quicksteps, Waltzes, Contra Dances, Quadrilles, Cotillions, Polkas, Hornpipes, Reels, Mazurkas, and every shade and style of Music which is calculated to please the fancy and meet the wants of the musical community, and all arranged for Wind and Stringed instruments, such as the Violin, Flute, Clarionet, Cornet, Bugle, Violincello, and other instruments, with Piano Accompaniments.

It is a valuable work for all who use the Piano Forte, Organ, Melodeon, Seraphine, or any similar instrument.

It is well adapted to the wants of those who practice and desire Duetts, Trios, or Quartetts; it will be found invaluable for small or large companies of amateur Musicians, who may occasionally meet together for practice; and it is peculiarly fitted for use in small or large Quadrille and Cotillon Bands, since, in addition to the great and pleasing variety of popular music, it contains nine full sets of Quadrilles and Cotillons for full Bands, and an excellent selection of Waltzes, Polkas, Schottisches, and other dance music. Price, bound in cloth, $1.50

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to every body and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ The girls and boys who may attend the schools to be hereafter kept in the handsome and comfortable High School House just completed in our city, are under no small obligations to our city government of 1855, and especially to the Mayor for that year, Hon. H. D. Walker, for the fine accommodations they will now enjoy.

And, as we stated in our report of the Dedication services, a Melodeon has been placed in the Girls' (or "young ladies'") room,—procured by subscription, collected by a public-spirited lady, who is never slow to begin, nor quick to discontinue exertions to promote the welfare of those around her, in any such manner. The Melodeon is in the style of a piano, and of the best quality—from the celebrated manufactory of George A. Prince & Co., through Messrs. John S. Harvey & Son, their agents in this city.

We hope that another much-needed improvement will be made to both schools, ere long—that of regular musical instruction, by the visits of music teachers or otherwise.

For the Chronicle.

BAPTISM—SPECIAL PROVIDENCES.—Messrs. Editors:—On Sunday last, Rev. Dr. Lamson administered the rite of baptism by immersion, to five individuals, at Noble's Island.

The carriage containing the females, broke down on its way there; no one was injured, but perhaps if "W" had been present, he might have construed the accident into a special providence, designed to show the displeasure of God at the religious practice of baptism.—A small boy was rescued from drowning, much exhausted, having fallen from the bridge:—this circumstance might have evinced the disapproval of the Lord toward towards the lookers on. SPECTATOR.

For the Chronicle.

A TASTE OF RURAL FELICITY.—

"There was a frog lived in a spring"—Song.

A gentleman in this city, on going to tea a few evenings since, was astounded to hear that a frog had taken up his abode in the dairy, and had been caught in the act of taking an observation from the cover of a milk-pan, thus making more truth than poetry of the distich,

"Milk 'n the dairy, nine days old,
Sing song, &c.
Frogs and skeeters getting bold,
Sing song, &c.

After a great deal of labor, coaxing (with an iron shovel), and urging, and of caution for fear of hurting the varmint, the gent succeeded in ejecting him from the premises, and was about to utter an exultant ejaculation; but alas for human expectations! his hopes were destined to be nipped in the bud: the frog, provoking creature! had no sooner left the door-step, than he turned to the right-about-face and disappeared through the open window which led into the dairy, leaving the gentleman in a violent fit of cachination at seeing "love's labor's lost;" and thereafter he defied all attempts which were made to induce him to evacuate. RUSTICUS.

☞ Diman's Highland, Cottage, at Stratham, is yet an attractive resort, though the season of berries is passing away. The flowers in the garden are blooming splendidly, and the country air at this season is tempered to a most delightfully invigorating degree.

PEACHES AND PEARS.—Capt. Clark, at his old stand under the Chronicle office, has this morning opened a lot of the very best Peaches and Pears; which he is selling at fair prices, by the measure or at retail.—They "knock" everything we have tried before, as "high" as the Republicans did the opposition in Maine yesterday. "Three cheers for"——Capt. Clark's pears.

RATHER HARD.—A subscriber to our Weekly, at Newport, N. H., says:

I like your paper first rate, but this one is a leetle too short. What I can read, I find no fault with, (for it is just what I like;) it is what I cannot read, that I grumble about. Tell your printers to keep sober, and send me a paper that I can read.

Yours, very truly and respectfully,
N. W.

We presume our "respectful" friend must have received a defective copy, through the carelessness of our folders—though we endeavor to prevent the circulation of all such.

DISASTER AT CAPE MAY.—The papers received by mail this morning furnish the details of the destruction of the Mt. Vernon hotel, reported by telegraph on Saturday. Mr. Phillip Cain, the lessee and proprietor, three of his children, and the housekeeper, perished in the flames. Mr. P. Cain, jr., escaped by leaping from the second story window, but was badly burned. It was said to be the largest hotel in the world. It was of wood, five stories high, and contained 432 rooms. The dining hall was 425 feet long by 60 wide. There is no fire apparatus in the village. The bathing season was over. Loss $150,000. No insurance.

MAINE ELECTION.

A NATIONAL REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

We had intended to give our readers this morning, all the returns of votes received in Portland up to midnight. But this was found to be impossible, as the telegraph agents in Portland transmitted the returns to Boston on the upper [Boston & Maine] wire, and kept that line constantly in use till past midnight.

However, through the attention of our agent in Boston, Mr. Chase, of the Advertiser, and the courtesy of the telegraph operator in this city, Mr. Illsley, [who for our accommodation remained at his post till midnight,] we are enabled to present sufficient returns to show that the Republicans have swept the State, and apparently won another Vermont victory.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE PORTSMO. CHRONICLE.

Boston, Sept. 8th—Midnight.

In one hundred and fifty towns, Hamlin [Republican candidate for Governor] has 37,874; Wells [Democratic] 22,672; Patten [Straight Whig] 3,990. 11,000 majority for Hamlin.

The rest of the Republican ticket runs about the same.

There are not returns enough to make a basis of Representatives to Congress.—Hon. John M. Wood is re-elected in the First District, by a handsome majority.

We have reports which we presume are correct, that Kittery gives Wells 268, Hamlin 263, Patten 1. Gain for the Republibans over last year, of 107, we believe.

York gives Wells 327, Hamlin 267, Patten 1. Republican gain 87.

From Eliot we have only a report that the Democrats have a majority of 8,—which, if correct, is a Republican gain of 67 votes.

South Berwick, which is classed with Eliot for the election of Representative to the Legislature, is reported to have given 46 majority for Hamlim,—a Republican gain of 94. We think this cannot be correct.

North Berwick [which we believe is classed with Berwick,] is reported, 11 majority for Hamlin — a large Republican gain.

Saco gives a Republican majority of 225; Biddeford 175.

In Bath [the home of Patten] the Republicans gain 249.

In Portland the Republicans gain 986.—In Bangor upwards of 500.—In Calais 120.—In Rockland 300 or more.

The net gain in these few towns above reported, we have hurriedly estimated at about 4000 for the Republicans.

The total vote of the State in 1855 was upwards of 110,000; the Republicans being in a minority of about 8000. Our telegraphic report above gives returns of 64,536 votes, probably little more than half the State vote. In this the Republicans have overcome the majority against them, of 8,000, and have a majority of 11,000.—At this rate, Governor Hamlim would have a majority of 15,000 to 20,000; and the entire Republican gain in the State be nearly 25,000. We shall not be surprised if the complete returns lessen these majorities.

The four Members of Congress are probably chosen on the Republican ticket; and we should judge a Legislature which will elect a Republican U. S. Senator in place of Mr. Hamlin, who will resign.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Army News.—The Adjutant General is on the eve of issuing general orders, in accordance with the promotions and appointments in the Army of the United States, made by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, since November, 1855, the officers being arranged to the companies to which they succeed in the natural course of promotion or appointment. Among the promotions are Brevet Capt. Geo. Deas, to be Assistant Adjutant General; Brevet Capt. Drain M. Howell, to be Assistant Adjutant General; Lieut. Col. Thomas to be Assistant Quartermaster General; Major Thomas to be Assistant Quartermaster General; Capt. Michael to the Department; Wm. J. Sloane, Wm. A. King and David C. Dohon to be Surgeons.

In the Corps of Engineers, Capt. Henry Brewerton to be Major.

The following named gentlemen have been promoted to Captains:—John Newton, John D. Kutz, Raston S. Alexander, Geo. C. Meade, Martin L. Smith, John Pope, Jas. W. Albert, Theo. F. S. Laidsey, Jas. G. Benton, Jas. M. Howes, Geo. H. Stewart, Nathan G. Evans, Jas. Stewart, Geo. W. Rams, John H. Ireland, Chas. C. Gilcern, Adrew G. Miller, Edwin Underwood, Jos. H. Potter and Alfred Danning.

Capt. Sidney Sinhart has been promoted to be Major; Daniel Chase, of California, to be Military Storekeeper, vice Newman, dismissed.

The following named civillians have been named Second Lieutenants:—Edward Ingraham of Mississippi, Eli Long of Kentucky, Jas. E. Harrison of the District of Columbia, Jos. P. Jones of North Carolina, Lyman L. Kellogg of Ohio, Thos. M. Saunders of Virginia, Edward F. Bagley of Alabama, Frederick M. Follett of New York, Geo. S. James of South Carolina, Chas. D. Anderson of Texas, Wm. H. Snyder of Illinois, Alex. M. Haskell of Indiana, John P. Sherburne of New Hampshire, Henry Claywood of Maine, Edward C. Moore of Illinois, Chas. A. Lear of California, Mervin E. Cully of Ohio, Francis Mallory of Virginia, Jas. K. McColl of Pennsylvania, Lelands H. Moore of Michigan, Edwin H. Reed of Indiana, Jas. L. Thompson of Michigan.

The order comprises the names of many other promotions and appointments of lower grades.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—A dispatch of the 7th says:

Within 8 or 10 days importrnt communications have been received at the War Department, from Florida, of a fresh insurrection among the Indians, in the Everglades. The War Department has ordered General Harney, to proceed to Florida to take command of the troops concentrated there. There are a large number of runaway slaves with the Indians.

The instructions sent out to California, by the Illinois, are said to be very bitter against the Vigilance Committee; but the officials are urged to adopt moderate measures before proceeding to extremes.

The N. Y. Tribune is informed that orders were sent by the steamer of the 5th, to the Federal, Naval, and Military force in California, to obey the orders of the Governor in putting down the Vigilance Committee. Orders were also issued to three or four American men-of-war on the Pacific, to concentrate at San Fransisco as soon as possible.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on Saturday, the 6th day of September next, on the premises, at 12 o'clock, M., the large DWELLING HOUSE and LAND appurtenant thereto, belonging to the heirs of the late N. T. S. PEIRCE, deceased, situate on Court Street, near the South Parish Sunday School Room.

The lot of land is very extensive, and the house large and is now rented to good advantage, to three tenants.

The contemplated improvement, to be made the coming spring, by the South Parish Sunday School Society, by building a handsome Chapel, and making attractive grounds, &c., around the same, will greatly enhance the value of Real Estate in that part of the city.

The situation is central, within a short distance of the business portion of the City, and about midway between the Ship-yards on this side of the River. A good title will be given.

Terms made known at the Sale.

For further particulars enquire of WILLIAM H. HACKETT, over the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, or of the Auctioneer, No. 70 State street, where a plan of the premises may be seen.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

FALL OF THE BROADWAY THEATRE.—A large portion of the northerly wall of the Broadway Theatre in New York, fell, Thursday, into the twenty foot cellar which Bowen and McNamee are excavating in the adjoining lot, precipitating some of the scenery into the cellar. There has been already a legal controversy in the case.—The law in New York requires a party excavating a cellar more than ten feet deep to prop at his own expense any wall adjoining, or keep it good, provided he be afforded the necessary license to enter upon the adjoining land, and not otherwise.

Bowen and McNamee applied to Mr. Marshall, lessee of the Broadway Theatre, for leave to prop the wall, but it was refused unless they would either do it in a way not to interrupt the business of the theatre, which Bowen and McNamee thought too expensive, or pay $6,000 to indemnify the lessee for his loss from the interruption of his business by their doing it in their own way. The owners of the cellar construed this as a refusal to grant the license contemplated in the statute, and proceeded with their excavation by a machine which enabled them to do it without exposing the lives of their workmen, and the result is the smash. The law will now step in again. By the common law rule before the statute, Mr. Marshall or his landlord would have to take care of his own wall. Boston Chronicle.

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should scorn pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SWANZEY, NEW HAMPSHIRE, Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTREET, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me to doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your medicine, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: YOUR CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for lasting ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. None do human aid can reach; but even to these the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which she could procure gave her no relief. She came to Lockport, Lansingburgh, Albany, and Troy, without benefit, finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your medicine, as the poor man's friend.

HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

Consumption, do not despair till you have tried Ayer's CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all abroad tell to proclaim the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win precedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foulhumors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of outruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Piles arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Urinous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY.

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

A copy of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the duties of applicants and the office of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee,)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

TOMATOES

FOR SALE by the Basket, by
au22 MATHES & VARRELL.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or uninterrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with implements, materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

MRS. E. G. VARNHAME.

There is something sad, touching, much that is beautiful, in the life of Mrs. E. G. Varnhame, the gifted authoress of the new popular work, "Boston Common." There are moral lessons in it, of great value.—Now that her short, but varied life is closed, says the Portland Transcript & Eclectic, we cannot resist the impulse to notice it, though ever so briefly: and to pay a slight tribute to her worth, which, it may be, is too lately appreciated. There can be no fear now of wounding her sensitive delicacy. The cheek that could blush at such public notice is fast changing to dust; and the heart that could be pained by a mention of her sufferings, is at rest, and forever. Nothing earthly can cause it a single throb.

Few lives have opened more brightly than hers. An heiress, her father having died while she, his only child was yet an infant; beloved by a large circle of friends; with a heart that never doubted that everything was as bright as it appeared; her education superintended by a kind and competent guardian; everything seemed to promise a happy and prosperous future.—She possessed, too, a peculiarly joyous and confiding disposition, and even in early life, showed signs of that delicate and playful fancy which distinguished her in after years. While the other girls were enjoying their rude games, she, with a few select friends, played fairies, chose their queen, and the rough rocks of their elfin domain were converted into mossy thrones and flowery banqueting halls.

Soon after leaving the school, while yet a romantic girl, without experience or preparation, forgetting that a mere handsome face and pleasing address are not enough, and mistaking a girlish fancy for love, she married. Friends reminded her that the gentleman was not quite temperate, and hinted that her fortune might be an object with one who was himself penniless; but she would not admit the doubt, and did not fear but that his love for her would make him all he should be, if he were not that already. There was a great wedding, to which all the friends were bidden, and where the fair bride was the centre of all eyes, with her happy face and joyous anticipations; and after that a few months of unclouded happiness. It is a story often told. The gradual coming of clouds, which the trusting wife would not see, though every one else saw them; neglect and carelessness, which she tried, though with a bursting heart, to think were nothing but forgetfulness,—till at length she awoke to a full consciousness of the cruel reality, to find the beautiful palaces which her ardent imagination had built in the future, all scattered. A neglected, insulted wife, her property squandered in drink or at the gaming table, and her child worse than fatherless. Few knew then of her struggles to keep up appearances, or of her patient efforts to reclaim the man who had wrecked her happiness. Her efforts were all unavailing; and unable longer to endure her situation, she left her husband, taking her infant boy with her, and went from her native place, Ellsworth, to Boston, where she tried to obtain her livelihood by writing for periodicals and giving music lessons.

There was a little remnant of property, of which her shameless husband could not otherwise obtain possession, so he followed her, pretending penitence, and, very much against the advice of her friends, she again received him, finding, but too late, his true object.

It was the great defect in her character, if anything so beautiful could be called a defect, that she had a child-like trust in every one, even in those who had deceived her the most grossly; and it was this want of worldly wisdom and hardness, this same confidence, which was used to ruin her peace.

Who has not read a record of the trials of a drunkard's wife? The mortifications, the anxieties, the fears even of personal violence! The sinking of the heart when the dreaded step comes staggering up to the door, and the sickening faintness when it comes nearer, and the muttered oath, or loud imprecation, strikes upon her shrinking ear! And then if he does not come, the visions of possible crime committed, or of a heavy plunge in the water, which none might hear, or of a reeling step under the feet of trampling horses, and mangled remains, which none in the great city, not even his wife could recognize!

This connection was even more disastrous than the first, and when she obtained a divorce, she found herself without a home and penniless. There was only one thing that sustained her, and that was her child. For his sake she gathered her courage and energies to support them, and was successful, though it taxed all her strength, and though often she worked with a weary head and heart. After a while her prospects looked brighter. Love smiled on her again, and fortune looked promising. She completed her last and longest work, "Boston Common," and it was in the hands of her publishers, James French & Co. of Boston, when she died.

She died June 22, 1856, at the McLean Hospital, Boston, whither she was carried at her own request, and where, under the kind care of Dr. G——, whom to know is to love, and the efficient nurses in attendance, she had every attention and relief. It is pleasant to know that she was surrounded by kind and loving friends to the last. Her mother, who was sent for, was with her, and also the gentleman to whom she was shortly to be married; and the many friends to whom her gentle and amiable disposition had endeared her, crowded to take one last look and farewell. We would have had her live to enjoy the fruits of her labor; to be a mother to her poor boy, who is now motherless; to prove that though one love had been false, there was truth and love yet in the world for her—but "He doeth all things well."

Of the merits of her work, we leave our readers to judge, feeling assured that they will arise from its perusal with a tender and regretful thought for the young authoress, who was taken away just as the cross was being lifted from her weary shoulders.

Loving hands lay flowers upon her lowly grave, and tearful eyes turn from the mound upward to where her gentle soul has fled. But there are sweeter flowers than those that bloom and wither there.—Will not the reader of this give a kind thought or a tear of sympathy to bloom on the spot where she lies? May she not have a place in their hearts as well as in the village churchyard?

Rest in peace!
Loving heart so warm and true—
Suddenly grown chill.
Generous hand, to give or do—
Nerveless now, and still.
Rest in peace!
Rest in peace!
Gentle soul, so rudely tossed,
Anchored now in heaven;
Wanderer, praying for a home,
Now that home is given,
Rest in peace!

MAINE ELECTION.

The Portland Argus of Tuesday says:

We subjoin such returns of the State election as we have received. We wish they were better, but they are the best we have. Fanaticism and money have done their work. Our friends have made a good fight, if not a successful one. * *

* The Maine Law men among our opponents did not hesitate to vote for liberals; and the liberals, in many instances, did not hesitate to vote for Maine Law men.—The tide of revolution which swept over the State last year, seems to have been met, and partially rolled back again this year. * * * As we write this article, we have received returns from a comparatively small number of towns, but these are of no encouraging character.

In the city of Portland, as given in the Argus, 6 of the 7 wards give majorities for Hamlin; and the vote stands, Hamlin 2439, Wells 1757, Patten and scat. 337.

The Maine Democrat, published at Saco, York county, on Tuesday morning, says:

The black republicans have carried the county, electing their entire ticket. Democratic Representatives are elected in York, Wells and Waterborough.

The returns received by telegraph from other portions of the State are of about the same character. Hamlin is probably elected by a small majority. We have neither time nor inclination to go into details or remarks at present.

The vote for Governor in Berwick, was Hamlin 201, Wells 101. Eliot, Hamlin 188, Wells 197. North Berwick, Hamlin 183, Wells 74. South Berwick, Hamlin 280, Wells 256, Patten 2.

Portland, Sept. 9—We have returns from 15 towns in Oxford county, which give Hamlin a majority of about 200; a gain from last year of 800.

167 towns give Hamlin 39,258, Wells 24,151, Patten 4047.

We do not hear of the first Opposition Senator elected.

The House will be largely Republican.

Messrs. Wood and Gilman are elected to Congress by large majorities, and it seems probable that the other districts have gone the same way.

This election in Maine, as is well known, turned upon National Politics. The great question was, Do you agree to Slavery Extension, and will you signify it by voting for Governor Wells, and by electing Representatives to Congress, who will stand on the Nebraska platform, with Pierce, Douglas and Buchanan?

Mr. Hamlin said No. The Republicans conventions said No. They nominated Mr Hamlin for Governor, and other men opposed to slavery, for Representatives to Congress;—and they called Mr. Hamlin home to stump the State on this issue.—He has done it;—and the people have elected him, and probably all the Representatives, by very large majorities.

This decisive success of the Republicans in Maine, not only decides that she gives her electoral vote for Fremont—but it is also the probable decision of the Presidential question; for its moral effect must be to strengthen Fremont, Free Kansas, and free speech throughout the country.

Vermont Election.—Returns from 188 towns give a Republican majority of 19,130. The balance to come in will increase it to upwards of twenty one thousand. The Senate is unanimously Republican, and the House stands 183 to 13. "The three Republican members of Congress—Walton, Morrill and Royce—are elected by majorities ranging from five to ten thousand apiece."

☞ The Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association's eighth Great Exhibition of American manufactures and mechanic arts, is to be opened at Faneuil and Quincy Halls, Boston, to-day; and will continue open until the 27th inst. We are under obligations to the managers, for tickets—which we trust we may have opportunity to use.

☞ The Prisoner's Friend for Sept., being No. 1 of Vol. 9, has a finely engraved frontispiece of the "Prisoner's Friend," a female figure visiting a poor old prisoner, and lightening his chains. There are also some fine articles, one on Imprisonment for Life.—Charles Spear, editor and publisher, Boston.

Castle in the Wilderness,—by Madame Dudevant, (George Sand,)—first American edition—is just published, and for sale by A. Williams & Co. Boston, and J. F. Shores, jr., Portsmouth.

☞ The Freeman's Glee Book, published by Miller, Orton & Mulligan, New York and Buffalo, is a campaign songster, of 108 pages, with music, finely got up.

☞ McAlister, the celebrated Scotch wizard and necromancer, died at Keokuk, Ill., on the 1st instant.

Musical Practice Among Birds.—People imagine that birds sing by instinct and their songs come to them without any labor or practice. But ornithologists, who have made the habits of the feathered tribes a life-study, hold a different theory, and tell of long and laborious practice in species and individuals to acquire facility and compass of song. The following information from a practical observer writing to the N.E. Farmer, will be new to most readers:

The golden robin has a song of its own; but each one may have a song of his own, though those of the same locality are apt to sing the same tune. The hermit-thrush has a round of variation, perhaps the sweetest singer of the whole feathered choir. But the song sparrow has the most remarkable characteristics of song of any of the birds. Each male has seven independent songs of its own, no two having the same notes throughout, though sometimes, as if by accident, they may hit upon one or more of the same.

The Queen of Trotters.—We not long since read an article which endeavored to prove (and we thought succeeded,) that the ability to do, rests mainly in the belief that we have the power to do. As an instance, the gradual increase of speed and power in horses and men, in successive years, was adduced. Prior to Lady Suffolk's day, 2:40 was the best time for a mile trot; Lady Suffolk did her mile in 2:26; and the ability to come inside of that, as Tacony did in 2:25 1-2, was perhaps chiefly derived from the fact that his driver believed it could be done. So with pedestrian matches, and other matters.

Be this as it may—it is certain that even Tacony and his time have been beaten. On Tuesday the 2d inst., "Flora Temple," in a Sulky, on the Long Island course, trotted a mile for $1000, against Tacony under the saddle, and won the heat in 2:24 1-2, the shortest time by one second ever made,—and leaving Tacony nowhere. Flora went the second half-mile in 1:11 1-2, and her friends believe she can beat even her own 2:24 1-2!

☞ A Western editor thus describes his impressions of the song of Casta Diva in the opera of Norma, as executed by Parodi:

"A gradually modulating howl, a squeal, a squall, and a guttural google-google-google, a deafening bawl like the hoarse whistle of a locomotive engine when under full headway, a queaky wop, wop, wop, a half-angle stoop, a Machiavellian smile, and a vamose!"

Houston on Kansas.—In the Senate of the U. S. on Saturday Aug. 30,—Mr. Houston of Texas said:

He wished it were in his power to pour oil upon the troubled waters, and should be glad to see Senators co-operating in a different work than exasperating the irritable feelings of the North, and producing more alienation than now exists. It was evident to every body that the times were sadly out of joint, and there must be some occasion for it. There must be some latent disease that required a remedy, and thus the first step in seeking to produce a better state of things, and give peace and tranquility to the country, would be to go back to the first principles, and seek the root of the evil. In doing so he deemed he had found the Pandora's box, whence all the difficulties originated,— he repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Before that next step was taken, all was quiet, tranquility and harmony; but since, all had been discord and contention, bloodshed and strife.

This result was predicted by him. At that time he had made the remark that the aged might witness the commencement of the evil consequences that would flow from that repeal, but the youngest child then born would not live to behold their termination. He hoped, however, and believed that would terminate without any disaster to the Union, and that the wisdom of the American people would devise some remedy for those struggles which had sprung from the ambitious views of individuals: and that Providence whch had guided this nation through perils in past days, had rich blessings in store to lavish upon us.

If the Missouri Compromise could be repealed after having been regarded as a sacared compact for the third of a century, the organic act by which the Territories of Nebraska and Kansas were organized was also repealable, and consequently all acts of the Territorial Legislature, when they had been made in pursurance of that organic act.

He presumed that no one would deny that the people of Kansas did not of their own unbiassed free will and accord enact the laws now said to exist in that Territory. It was done by extraneous influences, and those laws were proscriptive and controry to the spirit of the constitution, a disgrace to the age, and ought not to be suffered to remain on the statute book.

Springfield Armory,—The Boston Chronicle says:—

Gen. Whitney, Superintendent of the Springfield Armory, has carried the proscription further than he threatened, Men of large families, who have worked at the armory for years, are turned away for no other reason than that they are decided Fremonters. Others are allowed to work if they please, with the warning that there will be another clearing out before November. There will be a clearing out of that Superintendent soon after the 4th of March next.

The Value of Not.—One little word, more or less, in a sentence, is sometimes like the inch, more or less, on a man's nose. For example, a day or two ago, speaking of Hon. Mr. Trafton and Daniel Webster,—we wrote, "we don't know Mr. Trafton—we did know Daniel Webster—he was no financier, &c." But the compositor made us say, we did not know Daniel Webster, &c.,—which was at once false and foolish—for we did know him, and had reason to know something about his finances.

☞ One Mr. John Mullett, of Charlestown, Mass., has absolutely stopped his paper, the New York Independent, because Henry Ward Beecher did something, either wrote politics, or something of that sort; and publishes a fiery letter about it in the Boston Post, which will damage Mr. Beecher about as much as a paper bullet would damage Bunker Hill Monument.

At the latest dates, the New York Independent still lived, and Mr. Beecher also.

Porter's Spirit of the Times, No. 1, is on hand. And a splendid paper it is—printed in the best style, and literally crammed with contributions from the best writers who have made the old Spirit so popular. It contains a portrait of Wm. F. Porter, Esq., that "tall son of York," "the Governor"—who looks, with his luxuriant black beard, and genial features unwrinkled by thirty years of editorial life, as though he might add spirit to the times for a generation yet. The only fault we find with his paper is—there is too much of it: sixteen pages weekly, for $3 per year.

☞ We have received No. 1. of the Quarterly Cosmopolitan Art Journal.—This elegant Pamphlet is the Organ of the Cosmopolitan Art Association, which last year, the second of its existence, raised and expended $70,000. — Membership $3, which gives a copy of this magazine, a fine engraving, and a share in the Annual Distribution of Works of Art. C. L. Derby of New York, is Actuary.

Liquor Cases.—Mrs. Harriet Hunt, has been sent to the house of Correction for sixty days from N. Bridgewater, Ms, for selling liquor.—Sarah Farrell and Cornelius McGallough, for the same offence, were sentenced to fifty days each in the House of Correction.—The Taunton Whig states that seventy-five liquor cases were tried in that town, without a single conviction.

☞ Putnam's Monthly for September, contains 12 Articles, besides the Editorial Notes. One of the articles is a good readable account of the Jesuits. The monthly is published by Dix, Edwards & Co., New York;—and for sale by A. Williams & Co. Boston; and by J. F. Shores, jr., Portsmouth.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "cud under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use. It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BLOOMFIELD, Nov. 26, 1848.

Dr. Hayden: Dear Sir,—I have used your Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and have no hesitation in saying that for the Diarrhea, and other diseases incident to the human system, I have never found any medicine that would compare with them. I cheerfully give my testimony in favor of your justly celebrated invention, hoping that it may induce some who are afflicted with disease to give them a trial.

I remain yours truly,

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ Dr. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au5*6m

Dearly Bought Matrimony.—Some three weeks since, a Mr. William H. Reed of Providence, R. I., married a Miss Abby Gary of this city, after a brief courtship of only three days. A few days after the nuptial knot was tied, the wife was induced to send to Providence, where she had some $600 invested, and get the money to enable her husband to start in trade, he being short of funds. After she had sent for the money, she discovered that her new lord had already one wife, and this discovery led her to revoke the order. The second order however, did not arived in season, for the money was sent, and fell into the hands of Reed, who, with his first wife, have made themselves scarce.—Boston Chronicle.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

☞ We misunderstood, and therefore reported, a portion of Rev. Dr. Peabo speech at the High School Dedication. reported him as recommending an in-se of Salary for Mr. Nichols, the prin-l of the Girls' High School. But Dr. body, addressing the city government, here represented, brought before them fact that the Committee had diminished salary this very year $100; while yet energy, devotion and success as his, in other cities of our size, been re-ded by increased pay and lightened la-—and he besought the city fathers to Mr. Nichols the simple justice of restor- to him the proper salary of which he thus been deprived.

☞ Uncle Toby was questioned, early on sday morning, in the highway, as to news from Maine, which came in the ht. He could not tell, because he had n abed and asleep, while the youngsters up the news—but he inferred from the arkable stillness of the night, that some-g had happened down east which had en a quietus to the drum, and also to e noisy patriots who kept themselves lking like the continual dropping in a y rainy day. He was shortly afterwards rmed that "something had turned up" Portland, Bath, and other villages; and en he got hold of the Morning Chroni-, at breakfast time, he saw plainly that re was a North, as Daniel Webster said re would be.

☞ On Tuesday evening, the office of American Ballot was dressed with flags, brilliantly illuminated, as was the ck of buildings occupied by Messrs. J. Morse, A. Akerman and H. M. Clark—honor of the Maine election. A transparency, inscribed "The East re-nds to the West—Dirigo—Maine all ht—20,000!—Fremont the coming an"—was displayed on the same block. reworks were also let off from the roof—ckets, blue lights, &c. There was also quite a large torch-light ocession parading the streets at the time; d the scene was quite lively for a while.

P. W. T. A. Society.—The Annual eeting of the Portsmouth Washington To-l Abstinence Society, was held in the emple on Monday evening, when the fol-wing officers were elected for the year en-ing:

T. H. Miller, President.
F. W. Rogers, Vice President.
John Durgin, Sec. & Treasurer.
John Christie, Oliver Hanscom, Jonathan Barker, John I. Lane, Wm. Tuckerman, } Executive Com.

☞ We have unintentionally neglected before mention, that Mr. John J. Mason, -editor of the American Ballot of this ty, has recently resigned his connection ith that paper—to seek a more profitable eld of labor, as Mr. Whittem says, in his nnouncement of the fact. Mr. Mason is n excellent printer, and a writer of abili-y and vigor; a young man of fine feel-ngs, and ever ready to serve a friend. We egret that he has severed his connection ith the craft here. By the way, the Bal-ot is one of the best organs of the Ameri-an Republican party in the State or nation —a high-toned family paper — and well orthy of the patronage, at least of its hole party.

☞ Those parents interested to have heir children under the tuition of a com-etent and faithful instructor in music, will otice Mr. Pearson's announcement of a ew term of his Juvenile Singing School, for Misses exclusively,) to commence this fternoon. This is the ninth term Mr. P. as held in this city; and his classes grow arger and larger. He has the best accom-nodations for an hundred pupils—and here are three or four times that number n the city, who should attend such a chool. If the musical twig is not bent hile tender, it will not be much "inclin-d" to harmony when older.

REV. MR. NUTE OF KANSAS.

The report of the arrest of the Rev. E. Nute, Jr., by the invaders of Kansas, has occasioned great excitement in this vicinity, says the Boston Transcript, in circles that have not before taken much interest in the troubles of the Territory. The report of his arrest at Leavenworth is confirmed by the New York Times, which furnishes the following details of the proceeding:

On the 27th a party of Emery's men came into Leavenworth, bringing in their custody, some twenty prisoners. Among the latter were Rev. Ephraim Nute, brother-in-law of Hopps, who, it will be remembered, was shot and scalped by the Border Ruffians. * * * * *

Mr. Nute was prevented from leaving on the ground that he was "obnoxious," and should be forced to take his trial. It is feared that he has suffered bodily harm at the hands of his enemies. There was also among the prisoners, Rev. Mr. Avery, a gentleman considerably advanced in years.

Mr. Nute is agent of the American Unitarian Association. The last intelligence its officers had from him was contained in a letter received on Friday last by the Rev. Dr. Miles, the Secretary, which was forwarded to St. Louis to be remailed, on account of the fact that the mails were plundered by the invaders of Kansas. No letters from the East had been received by Mr. Nute since his return to Lawrence, although at least a hundred have been sent him during the time. We are indebted to the courtesy of Dr. Miles for the following extracts from Mr. Nute's official communication. The letter is dated August 25th, two days before his arrest:

Lawrence, Kansas, Aug. 25, 1856.

Rev. Dr. Miles—Dear Sir:—I fear that we are again cut off from all communication with our friends, and left to the unassisted might of our own defence against the fiendishness of our enemies. I have written from one to six letters by every mail that has left for the East since we reached home, and not a word yet in reply—rather discouraging work this—writing for the information and entertainment of those bent on on our extermination.

I cannot repeat the whole of the tale of horrors which I have sent in previous letters—with the strong probability of its never reaching you—then besides you will have the report by telegraph up to a much later than this date, and I trust there will be some more important events by that time. Of private single butcheries I will say nothing; save that they are so common as to have almost ceased being subjects of remark, and their horrible particulars are too sickening too relate.

We are now waiting in readiness to start at a moment's notice for Leavenworth, to recover the body and the personal effects of our murdered brother. In fact I have made the proposition, offering myself and a team to go, if a small company will attend us with three other teams. It is thought, or was a few hours since, to be an expedition too dangerous. The widow of this victim, a sister of my wife's, is yet with us, and is so far recovered from her illness that we have communicated the tidings of her bereavement. I need not tell you that under all the horrible circumstances it is an overwhelming blow. She is left desolate and utterly destitute. Her husband had all his property in the shape of gold about his person at the time of the murder.

Three times we have asked for an escort over the road to Leavenworth, of the highest officer in command of the United States troops, now out of the fort, in the Territory; and three times been refused. It was plainly no part of Pierce's purpose that the troops should give any protection to the men whom he has denounced in his message as sectional fanatics. Have we not occasion to feel the deep villainy of slavery as an institution? The smoking ruins, these groans and tears of the widows and fatherless in the wilderness, are its legitimate fruits. Its friends exult over our sufferings, and the men in the highest places of the land are busy with the malice of demons virtually instigating such deeds as have desolated my cabin during the last week.

If I knew this would reach you and not get into the hands of the enemy, I would tell you some things that would make you to understand our position, and the better enter into the feelings with which I write.

Those goods are yet at Leavenworth.—We are sadly in want of some of them, but as they are directed to me at Lawrence, they will probably be plundered by the invaders, who are now gathering at that town.

The correspondents of the Boston Post and other papers in the service of this infamous administration, will report "all quiet in Kansas except some depredations by Free State men, fanatical, black-hearted abolitionists;" and all our reports will be pronounced in some quarters, publications got up for political effect. Alas! for us it is no mere political capital, but the saddest of realities. It is mourning, destitution and death.

Of course all church building has ceased. The walls of the church are up, ready for the roof, and make a fine appearance. The sawmills are all stopped. If it were not for this, the carpenter who has the contract for the roof would be able to go on at the next breathing place of peace.

I forward this to St. Louis to be remailed at that city for Boston.

Yours, as ever for Freedom.

More Rumors from Kansas,—A telegraphic despatch from St. Louis to the New York Tribune, dated Friday, says that "private advices" from Kansas are as follows:—

On Tuesday last every free state man was driven from Leavenworth at the point of the bayonet, and all their property destroyed or confiscated. Mr. Philips, the correspondent of the New York Tribune, and his brother, were killed. The house of the former and store of the latter were burned. It is said that Mr. Philips fired from his house and killed two pro-slavery men. Forty sufferers arrived here to-day entirely destitute.

And a dispatch dated at Chicago, Friday, says:

Private advices from Kansas, via Nebras-City, report the Iowa road entirely closed by armed bands of Missourians, under command of Gen. Richardson, who was stationed near the boundary line of Kansas and Nebraska.

One hundred and fifty emigrants near Nebraska City, who were prevented entering Kansas, would, it was expected, attempt to force a passage in a few days.

Arrival of Mrs. Hopps at New York.—We learn from the N. Y. Tribune, that Mrs. Hopps, widow of the murdered Mr. Hopps, and sister of Rev. Mr. Nute, has arrived in New York, in company with Dr. Root, of the New Haven Company. An account of her detention by the ruffians at Leavenworth has already been given. She finally succeeded in getting on board a boat bound down the Missouri, the captain of which, out of compassion, protected her, and gave her a free passage to St. Louis.—On the boat she related her story, and was tauntingly told by the heartless and ruffianly passengers, that she was uttering another "abolition lie."

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A Perfumed Breath.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A Beautiful Complexion may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting of chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crossley." A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

FREMONT'S DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.—George C. Bates, formerly attorney-general of Michigan, but lately of San Francisco, lately stated at Kalamazoo, in a public speech, that in September, 1855, Gov. Floyd of Virginia, after consulting with leading men North and South, made to Col. Fremont, at New York, the offer of the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. Col. Fremont, after listening patiently, and submitting to two interviews, replied that, though deeply sensible of the honor the proposition conferred, yet with his opinion of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise it would be impossible for him to entertain the proposition. He considered that repeal an infamous breach of plighted faith, and should never desist denouncing the act and its authors. These facts came to the ears of prominent Republicans, and they proposed to ratify the nomination. The people will do the same. —Springfield Rebublican.

A VETERAN LADY.—On Thursday Mrs. Rebecca Killam, wife of the late Daniel Killam, of Hillsborough, N. H., died at her residence, at the advanced age of 102 years 11 months and 21 days. She was a native of Billerica, Mass., where she was married 81 years ago. Her husband was drafted for the army soon after, and while encamped under Gen. Washington near Boston, Mrs. K. walked on foot from Billerica to the camp, carrying his supply of clothing. She retained her faculties and the use of her limbs till a few weeks since.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1852.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HAMILANA, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctor bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I hate used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my Friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1853.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also took your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Binkin, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

DR. LAROOKAH'S SYRUP.

DR. LAROOKAH'S Indian Vegetable Pulmonic Syrup, is warranted to cure Coughs, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Consumption, and Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

DR. LAROOKAH, a Celebrated Indian, has discovered in the combination of four kinds of Common Roots and Herbs, a remedy that is warranted to cure CONSUMPTION in all cases where the lungs are not mostly consumed, and sufficient left to sustain life; and every disease of whatever name, having seat in the lungs or bronchial tubes.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britain, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee,)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's position bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably increase their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,

LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PASSED JUNE SESSION, 1856.

AN ACT to change certain terms of the Courts.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c. That the trial terms of the supreme judicial court and the terms of the court of common pleas shall be holden at Gilford, in and for the county of Belknap, on the third Tuesday of February and the first Tuesday of September. At Ossipee, within and for the county of Carroll, on the second Tuesday of May and the third Tuesday of November. At Newport, within and for the county of Sullivan, on the fourth Tuesday of January and the first Tuesday of September. At Keene within and for the county of Cheshire, on the third Tuesday of March and the third Tuesday of September.—At Haverhill, within and for the western judicial district of the county of Grafton, the terms of the court of common pleas shall be holden on the second Tuesday of April and the first Tuesday of October, and within and for the eastern judicial district of said county, on the third Tuesday of May and the third Tuesday of November, and the terms of the supreme judicial court, within and for said county, shall be holden at Haverhill on the second Tuesday of April, and at Plymouth on the third Tuesday of November. At Lancaster, within and for the county of Coos, the trial terms of the supreme judicial court and the terms of the court of common pleas shall be holden on the first Tuesday of May and the first Tuesday of November. The trial terms of the supreme judicial court shall be holden at Manchester on the second Tuesday of January, and at Amherst on the second Tuesday of September, within and for the county of Hillsborough. At Concord, within and for the county of Merrimack, on the first Tuesday of February, and the third Tuesday of August. At Exeter, within and for the county of Rockingham, on the fourth Tuesday of February, and at Portsmouth on the first Tuesday of October. At Dover, within and for the county of Strafford, on the third Tuesday of March and the fourth Tuesday of October.

Section 2. All actions, indictments, informations, suits, precepts, proceedings, matters and things pending in, returnable to, or to be heard and determined at the trial terms of the supreme judicial court or the terms of the court of common pleas, heretofore appointed by law in said counties respectively, shall be heard, sustained, taken cognizance of, tried and determined at the said terms hereby appointed.

Section 3. Any justice of the supreme judicial court, or court of common pleas, may hold either of said terms of said courts hereby appointed, except the trial terms of the supreme judicial courts in the counties of Hillsborough, Merrimack, Rockingham and Strafford, and shall have all the power, jurisdiction and authority of a justice of both of said courts, in relation to all the business, civil and criminal, pending, returnable or triable in either of said courts except as aforesaid.

Section 4. The persons who shall be drawn to serve as petit jurors at the trial terms of the supreme judicial court, shall serve as jurors at the terms of the court of common pleas, holden on the same day.

Section 5. Any action in which judgment is to be entered, may be transferred by order of the presiding justice, if need be, to the court of which he is a justice, and judgment may be rendered in that court with the same effect and operation as if the same had been rendered in the courts where the same was originally pending.

Section 6. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Section 7. This act shall take effect from its passage. Approved, July 12, 1856.

AN ACT to approve the lease of the Atlantic and St Lawrence Railroad.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That the contract in the nature of lease now subsisting between the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad company, and the Grand Trunk Railway company of Canada, is hereby sanctioned and approved. Provided, that a copy of said contract shall, within one month from the passage of this act, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State;—and provided, that the said lessees shall be subject to all such rights, duties and liabilities connected with the management and operation of said railroad as are or may be prescribed by the laws of this State.

SEC 2. And provided further, that any person having any debt or claim against said Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad Company, shall have the same right to enforce the same against said company and to have satisfaction of the same out of any property of said company, as they would have if the act had not been passed, or such lease had not been made. And the service of any process for enforcing such debts or claims made in the manner provided by law, or any station agent, either of the lessees or lessors aforesaid, on the line of the Railroad of said company in this State, shall be a legal and sufficient service of the same on said company.

SEC. 3. The Legislature may, at any time alter, amend or repeal this act, whenever in their opinion, the public good shall require it.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved July 12, 1856.

AN ACT in relation to the Great Falls and Conway Railroad.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That it shall be lawful for the Directors of the Great Falls and Conway Railroad, being first authorized thereto by a vote of the Stockholders, to issue bonds not exceeding seventy-five thousand dollars, in addition to those already issued by said corporation, payable with interest, at any time or times, not exceeding twenty years from the issuing thereof, and such bonds may be disposed off at public or private sale, as may be deemed most expedient, and said corporation shall not be exonerated from the payment of the same, by reason of any discount it shall make to the purchaser thereof.

SEC. 2. It shall be lawful for the Directors to mortgage the whole or a part of the real and personal property, together with the franchise of said corporation, in such manner and form as may be deemed most advisable to secure the payment of said bonds, and the interest thereon, being first authorized thereto by a vote of the Stockholders.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Approved July 12, 1856.

Approved July 1, 1856.

RESOLUTIONS of the Legislature of New Hampshire in relation to the late acts of violence and bloodshed by the Slave Power in the Territory of Kansas and at the National Capital.

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened,

1. Resolved, That all subsequent events have demonstrated that the abrogation, in the act organizing the territories of Kansas and Nebraska, of the prohibition against slavery, which formed a part of the compact long known and respected as the Missouri Compromise, was not, as was alleged by the supporters of the measure, for the purpose of recognizing and enunciating a great political principle, but, as was charged by its opponents at the time, had for its object to strip that great territory of its defences, and to open it to invasion and conquest by that relentless power which in its onward movement no concession can appease and no acquisition can satisfy, and which, for the advancement of its unholy purposes, has long wielded, and virtually claims the right to wield, the whole power of the general government.

2. Resolved, That the successful incursions of the armed and organized bands of lawless marauders from a neighboring state into the Territory of Kansas—assuming and overpowering its peaceful inhabitants, preventing the lawful exercise of their political rights, seizing upon and appropriating all the powers vested in them for the formation of a government, and fortifying and perpetuating this usurpation by the most oppressive and atrocious laws—have proved that the doctrine of popular sovereignty, however true in the abstract, and in its application to more mature or to independent communities, is not fitted to the condition of an infant territory, under constitutional guardianship, and most especially where the powers vested in the guardian shall be used in violation of the great trust which it holds.

3. Resolved, That there never has been established in Kansas any government in accordance with the provisions of its territorial or organic law, and that the conduct of the National Executive, in sanctioning and sustaining a pretended government, forcibly imposed upon its inhabitants by slavery fanatics and propagandists from the state of Missouri, is unjust and inhuman, and ought to be rebuked by the friends of freedom throughout the Union, in the most emphatic manner in which they can express their condemnation of wrong.

4. Resolved, That the adoption of a Constitution, the organization of a government, and the application for admission into the Union as a State, by the people of Kansas are measures forced upon them by the necessities of their condition, are justified by precedent, and should be acceded to by Congress as the best and speediest, if not the only means of restoring peace and order to our territory and of calming the agitation of the country.

5. Resolved, That responsibility for the depredations, burnings, imprisonments, and murders which have been committed against the property and persons of the citizens of Kansas, tidings of which have come to us upon every western breeze, rests, we are constrained to say, as well upon the President of the United States, charged with the duty of enforcing the laws and preservation of the peace of the country, as upon the inflamed and misguided men who have been the actors in the perpetration of these crimes, and upon those who have stimulated and instigated their commission.

6. Resolved, That the recent unmanly and murderous assaults which have disgraced the National Capital, are but the single outbursts of that fierce spirit of determined domination which has revealed itself so fully on a large field, and which manifests itself at every point of contact between Freedom and Slavery, and which, if it shall not be promptly met and subdued, will render any free expression of opinion, any independence of personal action by prominent men of the free states, in relation to the great national issue now pending, imprudent and perilous, unless it shall be understood that it is to be backed up by the bowie knife and the revolver.

7. Resolved, That while offences, of whatever enormity, which affect only or mainly individual rights or individual security, may be referred for punishment to the local laws of the place where they are committed, for those offences which reach beyond the individual, and inflict a wound upon the great principle which concerns the whole people, it becomes a duty to arraign the offender at the great bar of the public opinion of the country, and to pronounce upon him such sentence of condemnation as his crime shall merit.

8. Resolved, That the assault upon an editor of a public journal, when in attendance upon Congress in his lawful business, for opinions supposed to have been expressed by him through the columns of that journal, upon the public official conduct of a member of the government, was a blow at the freedom of the press, and could only have been intended as an admonition that Slavery had grown so great that her champions must be spoken of only in careful language and with bated breath.

9. Resolved, That the later, more atrocious and more brutal attack, by one of the chivalrous Representatives of South Carolina, upon a Senator from Massachusetts, in the Senate Chamber, for words spoken in debate, in his place, and as the organ of the state which he in part represents in that body, made with the stealthy approach of the assassin, and with the cowardly accompaniments of an accessory and coadjutor, inflicting blows which by their force and frequency had in them hardly any thing short of the significance of murder, is receiving the indignant rebuke it deserves, from the concentrated voice of the people of the free states, expressed through the press, and in popular assemblies and legislative bodies—not merely as a crime against personal sanctity, but as a violation of Senatorial privilege, and an insult to the dignity and rights of a sovereign state, and as an outrage upon the great constitutional right of freedom of debate—a right in the vindication and preservation of which every state and every citizen has a deep interest—and that it is fitting that New Hampshire, through her Legislature, should add her voice, as she now does, to that of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, in swelling this volume of denunciation, and in demanding the punishment of the offender by his expulsion from that body which he has disgraced.

10. Resolved, That the people of the free states, strong in the irresistible force of the majority of numbers, have the power, if they will exercise it, through the lawful and peaceful agency of the ballot box, to compel respect for the rights of their representatives wherever they may be in the discharge of their official duties; the power to right the wrongs of Kansas, and to restore peace and security to that unhappy territory; the power to prevent the extension of slavery over any territory now free, and to re-establish freedom, as it should have ever been, as the controlling power in the government,—and that this state now pledges herself to cooperate with any and all of her sister states in all constitutional measures for the accomplishment of these great ends.

Resolved, &c., That the treasurer be authorized to pay the town of Sandwich the sum of eighteen dollars and twenty-four cents ($18,24) the same being due said town as her proportion of the railroad tax for the year 1855. Approved July 9, 1856.

Resolved, &c., That the abstracts of the inventories of the several counties in this State, together with an abstract of the inventories of the respective cities, towns and other places in the several counties of this State showing the total valuation of each place as corrected and adjusted by the committee on the apportionment of taxes be printed with the Laws of the present session. Approved July 12, 1856.

Resolved, &c., That His Excellency the Governor is hereby requested to appoint a committee to superintend the expenditure of all monies appropriated for the repairs of the State Prison.

Approved July 12, 1856.

AN ACT to establish the city of Somersworth.

SECTION 1.—Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That the inhabitants of the town of Somersworth in the county of Strafford, shall continue to be a body politic and corporate, under the name of the city of Somersworth; and as such shall have, exercise and enjoy all the rights, immunities, powers and privileges, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations now appertaining to and incumbent upon said town as a municipal corporation.

SEC. 2. The administration of all the fiscal, prudential and municipal affairs of said city and the government thereof, shall be vested in one principal officer to be styled the mayor, who shall be chosen by the inhabitants of said city at large, voting in their respective wards, one council to be denominated the board of aldermen, and one council to be denominated the common council, which board shall in their joint capacity be denominated the city council; a majority of each board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; no member shall receive any compensation for his services, and no member shall during his continuance in office, be eligible to any office to be elected by the city council, except that of superintending school committee.

SEC. 3. The city of Somersworth is hereby divided into four wards, which shall be constituted as follows:—Ward No. One shall contain all that part of the town of Somersworth situated westerly and northerly of a line commencing at the centre of the upper bridge in Great Falls village, and at the line of the State of Maine, and running thence southerly through the centre of Market street and of High street to the point where Franklin street unites with said High street, thence westerly in the same direction that Franklin street runs at its union with High street to the line of city of Dover.

Ward No. Two shall contain all that part of said Somersworth which lies within the following described limits:—commencing at the point where Franklin street unites with High street, and running thence northerly through the centre of High street to a point opposite the centre of Orange street, thence southeasterly through the centre of Orange street and of Green street to the centre of Franklin street, thence southeasterly through the centre of said Franklin street to said High street.

Ward No. Three shall contain all that part of said Somersworth which is easterly and northerly of wards one and two, extending Franklin street to the line of the State of Maine, at its southerly line.

Ward No. Four shall contain all that part of the town of Somersworth which is not included in the other wards. The city council may from time to time, whenever the public convenience requires, revise and change this division, and alter the boundaries of the wards and increase or diminish the number thereof; provided no such alteration shall be made except by a vote of two-thirds of the members of each board.

SEC. 4. At the first election of the city council under this act and until the city shall be entitled to five representatives to the State legislature, each ward shall choose one alderman and three members of the common council, and one alderman shall be chosen by the city at large, in the same manner as the mayor is chosen, who shall be residents of their respective wards at the time of their election and shall have resided in the city one year prior to the same. After the city shall become entitled to five or more representatives to the State legislature, then each ward shall choose one alderman and three members of the common council to each representative to which they may be entitled.

SEC. 5. Each of the city wards shall be a town for the purpose of electing Governor, councillor, senator, representatives to Congress and election of President and Vice President.

SEC. 6. Three selectmen, a moderator and town clerk shall be annually elected in each of said towns, who shall have all the powers, perform all the duties and be subject to the liabilities of those officers in other towns, so far as relates to warning meetings, regulating, correcting and posting up check lists, deciding upon the qualifications of voters, conducting elections, declaring the votes and recording the same, returning [the] votes to the Secretary of State or other officers to whom returns are by law to be made, making certificates of election and all other matters relating to elections, as fully as if the same were herein specifically enumerated.

SEC. 7. The annual meeting of the inhabitants for the choice of city and ward officers shall be holden on the second Tuesday of March, and all city, ward and town officers who are chosen by the people, shall be chosen by ballot, and shall hold their respective offices for one year from the fourth Tuesday of March, and until others are chosen and qualified in their stead, and the check-list shall be used at all ballotings; and in case the choice of aldermen, common councilmen, or town or ward officers cannot be made or completed on that day, the meeting shall be adjourned from day to day till the choice is completed; no balloting shall be commenced after sunset and before sunrise. The clerk shall, within twenty-four hours after such choice, deliver to each person chosen alderman or common councilman in his ward, or leave at his usual place of abode, a certificate of election, signed by himself, the moderator, and a majority of the selectmen present at the meeting.

SEC. 8. In addition to the other qualifications of a voter, a residence of three months shall be necessary in the ward where he proposes to vote.

SEC. 9. The ward clerk shall, within twenty-four hours after every meeting for the choice of mayor, deliver copies of the record of the votes for mayor, and for an alderman for the city at large, to the city clerk. The city clerk shall, immediately after receiving such copies, enter the same upon the city record, and then lay said copies before the mayor and aldermen, who shall, without delay, examine the same, and cause the person who has been chosen mayor and alderman at large, by a majority of the votes, to be notified in writing of their election; and in case the people shall fail to elect a mayor or an alderman at large, the city council shall, in convention, by ballot, elect from the two highest candidates voted for, a mayor or alderman at large, or both of said officers, as the case may require, for the ensuing year.

SEC. 10. Whenever the office of mayor shall become vacant by death, resignation or otherwise, the boards of aldermen and common council shall, respectively, by vote, declare the same and the cause thereof, and the city council shall, in convention, elect a mayor to fill said vacancy, so long as such cause shall continue, or until a new election.

SEC. 11. The mayor, aldermen and common councilmen shall meet in convention for the purpose of being qualified, on the fourth Tuesday of March, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and the oath of office may be administered to the mayor by any justice of a court of record, or any justice of the peace, and to the aldermen and common council, by any such officer, or by the mayor; a record of the said oaths of office shall be made upon the journal of the board of aldermen and of the common council, by their respective clerks.

SEC. 12. The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city, and for the preservation of the peace, shall have all the powers of sheriff, and conservator of the peace. He shall exercise a general supervision over the conduct of all subordinate officers, and cause their neglect or violation of duty to be punished. He may call special meetings of the city council, or of either board by causing a notification to be left at the usual dwelling place of each member of the board or boards to be convened. He shall, from time to time, communicate to the city council such information, and recommend such measures, as the interest of the city shall, in his judgment, require. He shall preside in the board of aldermen, and in convention of both branches, but shall have a casting vote only. He shall have for the first year, a salary of one hundred and fifty dollars, and after that time such sums as the city council shall determine, and shall not be diminished or increased during his term of office.

SEC. 13. In the absence of the mayor at any meeting of the board of aldermen, they may choose a chairman for the time being; they may make, alter, repeal, or amend rules and orders for the government of the board; whenever any vacancy shall occur in their board, they may order a new election, and shall be final judges of elections of their own members. All their meetings shall be public, when not engaged in executive business; the yeas and nays shall be taken on any question, and recorded on motion of any member.

SEC. 14. The executive powers of the city and administration of police, with all the power heretofore by law vested in the selectmen of the town of Somersworth, shall be vested in the board of aldermen, except where it is herein otherwise provided, as fully as if the same were herein specially enumerated, and they shall do and perform all the duties which the selectmen of towns are by law authorized and required to do and perform within their respective towns, unless otherwise provided in this act; they shall have exclusive power to appoint a city marshal and assistants, police officers, watchmen, superintending school committee and collector of taxes, and to remove the same for sufficient cause; and all other officers where election or appointment are not otherwise herein provided for, shall be elected by the city council in joint ballot, and all vacancies in such offices shall be filled in the same manner.

SEC. 15. The common council shall sit and act as a distinct body except when required to meet in convention with the board of aldermen; they shall choose one of their own members as president of the board, and in case of his absence, shall choose a president for the time being; they shall also choose a clerk, who shall be sworn, and hold his office during their pleasure; such clerk shall attend all meetings of the board, shall keep a journal of their acts, votes and proceedings, and perform such other services in said office as the board may require; all sittings of the common council shall be public; they shall be final judges of the election and qualifications of their own members; and may order new elections to fill vacancies which may happen in their board, and may make, alter, amend and repeal rules and regulations for their own government, in the transaction of business.

SEC. 16. All the powers now vested by law in the town of Somersworth, or the inhabitants thereof, as a municipal corporation, shall be vested in the city council, composed as provided in the second section of this act, and shall be exercised by concurrent vote, each board having a negative on the other, and they may in the same manner, make, amend and repeal joint rules and orders for the orderly management of business, and for the government of the two bodies in convention. The city marshal shall, under the mayor, have the control and direction of the police of the city, and shall attend upon the mayor and aldermen when required, and shall be by virtue of his office, constable and conservator of the peace, and shall give bond to the satisfaction of the board of aldermen, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

SEC. 17. There is hereby established within in the city of Somersworth, a police court, to consist of one learned, able and discreet person, to be appointed and commissioned by the governor, pursuant to the constitution, to take cognizance of all crimes and offences, and misdemeanors, committed within the city of Somersworth, wherof justices of the peace now have or may hereafter have, jurisdiction, and the court hereby established, shall hear and determine all suits, complaints and prosecutions, in like manner as is by law provided for the exercise of the powers and authority which are or may be vested in justices of the peace; and do all acts necessary to, and consistent with, such powers and authority, and the said police court shall have original jurisdiction and cognizance of all suits and actions which may now, or at any time hereafter, be heard, tried and determined before any justice of the peace in the county of Strafford; and no writ in any suit or action shall be made returnable before any justice within said city of Somersworth, but to said police court only; and an appeal shall be allowed from all judgments of said police court, in like manner, and to the same extent, that appeals are allowed by law, from judgments of justices of the peace; and the justice of said police court shall not be of counsel or attorney, to any party in any matter or thing whatsoever, which may be pending in said court. All warrants issued by said police court, or by any justice of the peace within said city, shall be made returnable and shall be returned before said court; and if any warrant shall be issued by any justice of the peace, returnable before said court, the lawful fees payable therefor, shall not be paid or allowed, unless, on examination in hearing before said court, it shall appear to said court that there was just and reasonable cause for issuing said warrant; in which case such fees, costs and charges shall be allowed and taxed in like manner as though said warrant had been issued by a justice of the peace, according to the law now in force.

All fines and forfeitures, and all costs in criminal prosecutions, which shall be received by, or paid into the hands of the justice of said court, shall be by him accounted for and paid over to the city of Somersworth, in the same manner and under the same penalties, for neglect, as are by law prescribed in the case of justices of the peace; and all costs in such prosecutions, not thus received, shall be made up, taxed, certified and allowed, and shall be paid and satisfied in like manner as provided by law in cases of justices of the peace.

A court shall be held by said justice, at some suitable and convenient place, to be provided at the expense of said city of Somersworth, on one day of each fortnight, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, and as much oftener as may be necessary, to take cognizance of crimes, offences and misdemeanors; and on the last Saturday of each month, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, and may be adjourned from day to day, by the justice thereof, and at such other time as may be necessary, for the trial of civil suits and actions, and the justice of said court shall, from time to time, establish all necessary rules for the orderly and uniform conducting of the business thereof.

The justice of said court shall account for and pay over to the city of Somersworth all the fees by him received or which now accrue to justices of the peace in civil actions, and criminal prosecutions; and the said city of Somersworth shall pay annually the sum of two hundred dollars in full compensation for all services assigned to him by the provisions of this act.

The justice of said court shall keep a fair record of all the proceedings in said court and shall make returns to the several courts of all legal process, and of his doings thereon, in the same manner as justices of the peace, are now by law required to do; and he shall also, annually, in the month of January exhibit to the mayor and aldermen of said city of Somersworth a true and correct account of monies by him received as fees.

All suits, actions and prosecutions which shall be instituted and pending before any justice of the peace within the town of Somersworth, when this act shall take effect, shall be heard and determined as though this act had not been passed.

There shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the council, a special justice of said court; and whenever it shall happen that the standing justice of said court shall be interested in any suit or prosecution, cognizable in said court, or shall, from any cause be unable to hear or determine any matter or things pending therein, the court shall be held and its jurisdiction exercised by said special justice; and the said special justice shall be paid for his services two dollars for each day.

SEC. 18. The city council shall have power to make all such salutary and needful by-laws as towns, the police officers of towns, the engineers or firewards, or board of health, have power to make by the laws of the State, and they may annex penalties not exceeding twenty dollars each for the breach thereof, and they may make, establish, publish, alter, modify, amend, or repeal ordinances for the following purposes among others:

1st. To restrain and prohibit all descriptions of gaming, and fraudulent devices, and to authorize the destruction and demolition of all instruments and devices used for the purpose of gaming.

2d. To regulate and prohibit the exhibitions of common show-men and shows of every kind.

3d. To prevent riots, noises, disturbances or disorderly assemblages, and to restrain and suppress disorderly houses, and shops, and houses of ill-fame.

4th. To compel the owner or occupant of any cellar, tallow chandler's shop, soap factory, tannery, stable, barn, privy, sewer or other unwholesome or nauseous house or place, to cleanse, remove or abate the same.

5th. To direct the location and management of all slaughter houses, markets, steam mills, steam engines, blacksmiths' shops, and buildings or places for storing powder.

6th. To regulate the keeping and conveying of gun powder, and other combustible and dangerous materials, and the use of candles and lights in barns and stables.

7th. To prevent encumbering the streets, or sidewalks with carriages, carts, lumber, fire-wood, stones or any other thing whatever, and to prevent the obstruction of side-walks and bridges, by persons collecting or gathering together, and to regulate the erection of buildings.

8th. To restrain and punish vagrants, mendicants, street beggars, and common prostitutes.

9th. To prevent the running at large of dogs, and to authorize the destruction of the same when at large contrary to the ordinance.

10th. To regulate and restrain the rolling of hoops, playing at ball, or playing kites, or any other amusement or practice having a tendency to annoy persons passing in the streets and on the sidewalks, or to frighten teams and horses within said city.

11th. To regulate the ringing of bells, and regulate or prevent the blowing of horns and bugles, and crying goods and other things, therein.

12th. To require all persons to keep the snow, ice and dirt from the sidewalks in front of the premises owned or occupied by them, and to abate and remove nuisances.

13th. To regulate the burial of the dead.

14th. To regulate guaging, the place and manner of selling and weighing hay, packing, inspecting and branding beef and pork, regulating and measuring wood, lime and coal; to appoint a suitable person or persons to superintend and conduct the same.

15th. To regulate porters, cartmen and cartage, and hackney coaches, cabs and other carriages and their drivers.

16th. To prescribe the powers, authorities and duties of marshal, assistant marshals, police and watchmen of said city.

17th. To establish, regulate and make public pumps, wells and reservoirs, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of water.

18th. To regulate the grade of streets, and the grade and width of sidewalks; relative to trees planted for shade, ornament, convenience or use, public or private, and to the fruit of such trees; relative to sweeping and burning of chimnies; relative to the bonds to be given by the several officers of said city; relative to public lamps and lights; relative to preserving said city from exposure to fire, and to prevent the use of any building, in the compact parts of the city for bakers' shops, blacksmiths' shops, hatters' shops, tallow chandlers' shops, or for any other purposes, which, in the opinion of the city council, shall improperly expose said city to injury or destruction by fire; or the erection or use of any building in the compact parts of said city, for any noisy, noisome or offensive occupation; for making and regulating public squares and walks; for preventing and punishing trespasses in, or injuries to public buildings, and in relation to cemeteries, public burial grounds, squares, commons, and other public grounds, and may make any other by-laws, regulations and ordinances which may seem to them for the well-being of said city; provided they are not repugnant to the constitution and laws of this State, which by-laws, regulations and ordinances shall take effect and be in force from the time therein limited, without the sanction of any other authority whatever. And all such by-laws, regulations and ordinances shall be duly published in such newspaper or newspapers in the city as the city council shall direct. The city council shall prescribe the salary and fees of all city officers not otherwise provided for by law, and the fines or penalties for the violation of any laws or ordinances adopted under the provisions of this section, not exceeding the sum of twenty dollars for each offence. All fines

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, Aug. 31, '56.

Dear Friend:—Since I last wrote to you, I have spent a few days in the country.—Returned to this city yesterday. In consequence of the very unsettled and alarmed state of the territory, we did not push our enquiries relative to "claims," vigorously. We visited a couple of young friends, who are beautifully located on a fine claim, situate on the road to Lawrence.

On our passage out, we encountered a strong party of "Law and Orderites," about 3 miles from this city, who had dismounted, and turned their horses into a large corn field, where they were feasting on the best of "roasting ears," while their captors (mind I did'nt say owners of the horses) were regaling themselves on huge water melons, gathered from the same ground. Our party, comprising half a dozen men, were all well armed, and as we came in sight of these marauders, we took the precaution to unstrap the holsters of our revolvers, and loosen our "Bowies" in their sheaths. Perhaps they saw the movement, for we rode by unchallenged.

That very night two men occupying very near claims to the one where we were stopping, were arrested and taken to camp, where were rendezvoused some five hundred men. There names were Patrick and Bird. Patrick (who formerly edited a paper in Indiana) was accused of writing abolition letters East. Query—wonder if every person who writes "Abolition" letters east (according to their definition of the term) should be arrested, what number number would be required to mount guard over the prisoners? Bird was troubled with a disease common to the "gentler sex"—too much tongue. Report says that they have both been hung. I am inclined to think it true as regards Patrick.

A German, who had been taken prisoner, attempted to escape from his captors in our streets the other day, and was shot dead. His body lay exposed for upwards of two hours, and was then carted off, and thrown into a hole just out of the city limits. You may remember I mentioned that a man was shot and scalped a short time ago, not far from this city. We rode by the place recently. His brother and his wife came here from Lawrence a few days ago, with the intention of disinterring the body of their brother and husband, and conveying it to his old home in Illinois; but the hounds denied the weeping wife a sight of her husband's grave, and brought them prisoners to a hotel in this place. They attempted to go down the river yesterday. The widow had reached the cabin, and her brother was about to follow her, when just as he stepped on the plank, a U. S. musket was levelled at his breast and he was ordered back to his hotel, where he still remains. They refuse to tell him why he is arrested. The lady, too, returned. Seventeen of Emery's men, a Leavenworth company, were arrested by a party of Free State men a few days ago.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, Sept. 9th.—Advices from Kansas of the 5th, say that Gen. Lane, with 150 men, attacked Tecumseh on the 4th inst. No particulars.

Judge Lecompte had issued orders to the United States Marshal to arrest Lane, and other agitators.

Gen. Smith had instructed Col. Cook, commanding 14 companies of troops at Ft. Riley, to give all necessary assistance in the execution of the writs.

Gov. Geary arrived at Glasgow on Tuesday, where he met Gov. Shannon on his way down.

FROM KANSAS.—[Tribune Cor.] Leavenworth, Aug. 29.—Ex-Gov. Shannon is in town to-day on his way eastward. He says "that Gen. Lane can command nearly 3,000 men, and he warns pro-slavery men from any attempt, with their present force, to subdue the free-state men of Kansas."—It is reported on every hand that Lane has a force sufficient for any emergency.

MR. NUTE PROBABLY MURDERED.—The Indianapolis Journal says: "Mr. Nute, the preacher, who was taken prisoner with Mr. Houghton, as we related the other day, and prevented from going down the river, has never been heard of since he left the boat, and it was the universal belief in Leavenworth that he had been murdered. His companions feared this fate for him, as the Ruffians threatened to hang him."

GOV. BAKER NOT A FREMONTER.—The N. H. Patriot says, "We have a private letter from Gov. Baker, dated Aug. 28, in which he refers to this report as a 'silly lie,' and requests us to contradict it."

Asa F. York, who was committed to jail for possessing false money, with the intent to pass the same, has been bailed out of Amherst jail, and has left for parts unknown.

MAINE ELECTION.

PORTLAND, Sept. 9.—10 P. M.—In 264 towns, Hamlin has 52,218; Wells 32,978; Patten 4693. Every member of Congress; and the whole State Senate, with, perhaps, the exception of one in Aroostook; and more than four-fifths of the House: are republican.

Hamlin's majority for Governor over Wells, will be 20,000, and 15,000 over all.

BANGOR, Sept. 9.—In this district, Washburn receives over 3000 majority.

Every return gives large republican gains.

In York County, 26 towns, being the whole county, the official returns give the Governor's vote as follows: Hamlin 6722; Wells 5528; Patten 258. The County has 16 Representatives, 12 of which are Republicans, and 4 Democrats. Among the former are:

From S. Berwick & Eliot—Asa Gowen.
Berwick & N. Berwick—Sam'l Guptil.

And among the latter:

From York—Charles Came.
Kittery—Mark Dennett.

The Portland Argus of Tuesday says:—"The returns of Monday's election are of such a character as to require no minute calculations about them. We have lost the State government in all its branches. Hamlin is Governor, and the Senate and House with him. The county officers, also, chosen this year, must be almost all the same way. The State will be in the hands of the opposition. * * * If the Presidential contest was to be the only one waged, one election would have been quite enough, and September and November ought to have come together. * * * Let the vote of last Monday only animate us (!) to new exertion in a cause which we know to be just, and let us never lay down our arms while we can employ them in maintaining the best government on the face of the earth!"

The New York Journal of Commerce informs its readers as a reason for the deficit in Maine, that "the Democrats had to contend with the united forces of the Republicans and Know Nothings!"

TEMPERANCE—SULLIVAN COUNTY.

CLAREMONT, Sept. 7, '56.

Messrs. Editors:—I have had occasion to write to most of our towns on another subject, and I added the inquiry—how extensively is strong drink sold unlawfully? and I was pleased to learn that the worst places in the County are almost wholly broken up, and that the Law has done far more than could have been expected, with so few actual prosecutions. The fact is, that the Law lies beside the door of every rum-shop, ready to pounce upon the vender the very hour he sends away a man drunk, to abuse his family. In any part of the State now, if a man gets drunk and goes home to make trouble there, any of the family can go to the proper officer and he is bound—the selectmen are bound, by the law, to take him into custody; and if he will disclose the vender, he will be discharged. Rumsellers are not unmindful of this danger in the case of every man who has been notorious for abusing his family in time past, and if he will not disclose, he must be en-closed; as was a man in our county, who was obstinate and would not testify where he obtained his liquor, and consequently, was sentenced to jail for 30 days. The law is a lion in the way of the rumseller—it makes its own police betimes.

The friend of this law must awake!—They must enforce it. They must demand that the friends of it shall be in office for selectmen, and for representatives to the State Legislature. This cause will be sustained. Temporary defeat there may be, but utter discomfiture of the friends of this reform, there cannot be. As well might the progress of freedom be utterly overthrown in our Country by enemies.—It may be hindered, but cannot be prevented. Friends of temperance, awake to your work, and especially see to it that you understand how much temperance efforts have already achieved. SULLIVAN.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Boston & Maine Railroad was held at Exeter on Wednesday. The time, till after 3 o'clock in the afternoon, was occupied in discussing the management of the Road the past year; and much excitement was manifested in regard to the matter. The state of the vote was probably announced late last evening. X.

A man took a load of wood to Elmira, N.Y., which he endeavored to sell for two dollars; but failing in this, he took it down to the river and threw it in, and complacently watched it, till it had floated out of sight. He had previously been offered $1,-50 for the load.

On Thursday last, a lad 10 years old, son of Samuel Patten, Esq., of Bedford, fell from a beam in the barn and broke his thigh bone.

BUTLER, BROOKS, AND FREMONT.—B. F. Butler, Esq., in a late speech at Concord, repeated the new and false version of the difficulty between Foote and Fremont.—Butler says:

Five years before, in the Senate of the United States, another hot-headed, rash, impetuous young man, struck another Senator for words used upon the floor of the Senate—Senator Foote, of Mississippi. That man was John Charles Fremont, the husband of Jessie, the pathfinder of the Rocky Mountains.

The boot happens to be on the other leg. The New Hampshire Patriot, published at that time, when there was no great motive to belie either of the two contending Democrats, stated that Foote struck Fremont—which makes quite a difference.

The true story is on this wise:

On the last night of the session, Senator Foote, of Mississippi, who came into the Senate somewhat in liquor, in the course of some remarks on the Naval Appropriation bill—it afterwards appeared as if he had not known precisely what bill he was speaking of—said in substance, or was understood to say, that the Republic would be dishonored if a portion of the legislation which had been urged upon the Senate for California were consummated. Upon hearing these words, Col. Fremont left the Senate Chamber, and sent a messenger to say to say to Senator Foote that he wished to speak with him. As soon as Mr. Foote had finished his speech, the message was delivered to him, and he stepped out to Col. Fremont, who then told him he had sent for him to say that he had just used language in the Senate in reference to himself, which a gentleman in his situation could not use, and which was unworthy of a Senator. Foote immediately struck at him with his fist, just grazing his face. On the instant, both parties were seized by the doorkeepers and Senators, who had noticed Foote's departure from the Senate and suspected its cause, and thus a serious issue to the affair was postponed and prevented.

BARLEY WITHOUT BEARD!—Mr. I. W. Briggs, of West Macedon, Wayne County, N. Y., three years ago obtained seven grains of a variety of barley discovered growing in the Himmalayah Mountains, and has multiplied them so that he is now enabled to furnish one head to every grower in the Union who will send his address with a stamped envelope. Should any person desire more than one head Mr. Briggs will send a package of 700 or 800 grains, post paid, for 25 cents, accompanied with a few heads to prove the fact of its being beardless. The quality of this grain for grinding or malting has not yet been tested.

The National Democratic Executive Committee is now extensively engaged in a work of sending off, it is said, 20,000 documents every day.

The American party, too, is not idle in that line of business.

The publishers of the pamphlet, entitled "The killing of Thos. Keating," Bueil & Blanchard, have been sued for libel by Mr. Hoover, the U. S. Marshal for the district.

Senator Sumner has left Cressen for Washington, not fully restored, but very much improved.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "cud under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Parleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Parleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 1uTh&S 6m.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

BLOOMFIELD, Nov. 28, 1848.

DR. HAYDEN: Dear Sir,—I have used your Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and have no hesitation in saying that for the Diarrhea, and other diseases incident to the human system, I have never found any medicine that would compare with them. I cheerfully give my testimony in favor of your justly celebrated invention, hoping that it may induce some who are afflicted with disease to give them a trial.

I remain yours truly,

The Mobile Register of the 2d inst says: "In the heavy gale of Saturday night the ship Robert Parker lost two anchors and drifted foul of the ship Screamer, carrying away her jibboom, fore topgallant mast, starboard bulwarks, &c, and both ships were seriously injured. So heavy proved the gale outside on the night of Thursday, that the sea was breaking in ten fathoms water, and it is the opinion of the pilots and others best experienced in such matters, that from Key West all along the Gulf Coast, we shall hear of most frightful disasters. The damage to the Robert Parker and Screamer is estimated at $12,000."

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

☞ The American Republicans of this city, on Wednesday evening fired a salute of one hundred guns,—on South Road, we believe. It seems to us that the reports just heard from Maine were already "too many guns" for some folks; and sufficient without copying the noise of war. We would have a peaceful contest; without bayonets, cannon, or canes. "He who taketh the sword," &c. However, every one to their taste; and we will just state that the subscription was collected and the salute fired, by Messrs. Wm. B. Randall (Commissary General of New Hampshire) and Reuben Rand; and they did their work in good style. But though these guns echoed well, we don't believe they were heard so far as the great "report" from the freemen of Maine will be.

☞ The Buchanan Guards, numbering 40 muskets, and making a military appearance, met at Jefferson Hall on Tuesday morning, and at 10 o'clock marched to Messrs. Fernald's livery stable, where the carriages were in readiness for them; and rode thence to Rye Beach, where a political gathering took place, which was addressed by several eloquent orators.

Speeches were made in a field near the Ocean House, by Hon. J. S. Wells, Messrs. Rixford, Montgomery of Gea., and others.

The Kingston Brass Band (of eleven pieces) furnished the music. The Guards dined at the Washington House.

PORTSMO. BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

This body held its 28th meeting on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 3 and 4, at Stratham. A correspondent of the Exeter News Letter gives the following account of the proceedings:

Rev. Wm. Lamson, D. D., of Portsmouth, was Moderator; Rev. L. C. Stevens of Deerfield, Scribe. Dr. Lamson preached an admirable sermon from Rev. 2: 10.

The Letters from the churches generally were interesting, showing the state of the most of them to be generally improving. Baptisms reported were not numerous. In Deerfield, Exeter, and Portsmouth, were the greater numbers. In the two first places the houses of worship have been refitted and repaired, at considerable expense. In Plaistow, their house has been enlarged by the addition of 20 pews, all of which met with a ready sale. Rev. S. E. Brown of Hampton Falls, read an excellent paper on systematic benevolence. Rev. Messrs. Stevens, Swain of Brentwood, and Brown, preached excellent sermons during the session. Rev. H. Tonkin of Concord, addressed the Association on Foreign Missions. Rev. D. H. Haynes of Boston, for the American Baptist Publication Society. The usual resolutions on benevolent objects were passed: one approving our Temperance Law; and the following on Slavery:

That we recommend, that earnest prayer be offered to our God daily, attended with suitable action, that the ensuing National election may subserve free speech, free labor, free territory, and the free circulation of the Word of God in all parts of our country.

An effort is to be made to sustain a Colporteur within the bounds of the Association. Great harmony prevailed in the counsels, and a good degree of religious interest in the devotion of the meetings.

Great was the cordiality, and abundant the provisions of the good people of Stratham.

Three pastors have settled within, and two removed from the Association during the year. The contributions to benevolent objects have been quite good.

The next session of the Association will be held in Brentwood.

☞ On our outside this morning, we finish the publication of the Laws passed by the Great and General Court of New-Hampshire, at their last June session. In this lot is included the Act changing the times of Courts, and others of general interest.—If laws are worth passing, they certainly should be read.

HAWKINS ON TEMPERANCE.—J. H. W. Hawkins addressed a very full audience at Huntington Hall, Lowell, on Sunday evening, on Temperance. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Woodbury, and Mr. Hawkins was introduced to the audience by Jonathan Kimball. Mr. Hawkins' remarks, were given in his best vein, very powerful and convincing.

A JUROR ON THE "PAVE."—We are very sorry to hear that an out of town juror, now holding the scales of justice in the Court of Common Pleas in this city, was guilty of insulting a respectable lady on the street last night, by dogging her footsteps, till she was forced to seek protection before reaching home. The man was recognized at once by a friend whose protection the lady sought; and if justice was done him he would be transferred from the jury to the prisoner's box.—Lowell Journal, 6th.

FROM EUROPE.

FOUR DAYS LATER.

QUEBEC, Sept. 9.—The steamer Canadian, from Liverpool 27th ult., arrived at this port this afternoon.

Great Britain.—The dinner to the Guards was given in the Surrey Garden, London, on the 25th, of which 2000 men partook. Sergeant-Major Edwards, the oldest soldier in the army, presided. The Lord Mayor proposed Edwards's health, and the whole affair passed off pleasantly.

France.—The Emperor and family continue at Biarritz, and letter-writers continue to assert that the Emperor is suffering much from disease of the liver.

Spain.—The government is appointing new officers to all the civil departments, and they are mostly appointed from the liberal section.

The Epocha announces that the decree to suppress the whole National Guard, will appear in a day or two. The National Guard, of the Province of Madrid, has already disbanded.

Cholera is on the decline in Lisbon.

Portugal.—The bread riots are over; and quiet is restored.

A great many arrests have been made, both among the troops and citizens, in the endeavor to detect a conspiracy.

The harvest in Portugal is now over, and is less than was expected.

The vines will prove a total failure, and disease has broken out among the cattle.

Prussia.—Prussian papers publish a minute account of the recent encounter between the Prussian corvette Danzie, and the Algerine pirates. The main facts do not differ from those already published.—The event had caused intense excitement in Berlin, but it is probably incorrect that Prussia has asked the aid of France and England, the feeling being that Prussia should herself undertake the chastisement of the pirates. Russia has volunteered to send two or three ships to any expedition Prussia may fit out.

In England, cotton and money remain unchanged. Breadstuffs advanced a shade.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 9.—Geo. M. Townsend plead guilty this morning in the United States District Court, to the charge of robbing the post office in this city, in August, 1855. He made a long appeal to the mercy of the Court. Judge Hall sentenced him to two years' hard labor, the lowest term for the offence.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Since the commencement of the Presidential campaign, the republicans of this city, it is reported, have issued 4,000,000 of documents, including 200,000 copies of Sumner's speech. About one half of the number have been distributed through the Washington Republican Association, and the remainder by members of Congress.

GREAT FALLS, Sept. 9.—An extra train has left here, carying a large delegation from the Fremont Clubs in Dover and this place, to South Berwick. They go to congratulate their friends there on the results in Maine. They are accompanied by bands of music, and will have a torch light procession at South Berwick.

NORTH BRIDGEWATER, Sept. 8.—The old Unitarian Church, owned by Major Nathan Hayward, was burned to the ground at 2 o'clock to-day. Loss, $6000. No insurance.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept, 9.—Dickson's Cotton Mill, in the 23d Ward, was burnt this evening. The fire commenced in the drying room. 80 persons in the upper story narrowly escaped with their lives, many of them having to leap from the windows. Loss $18, 000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The democratic torchlight procession in this city was an immense affair, thousands upon thousands being in the ranks. Delegations from Brooklyn, Jersey City, Staten Island, and elsewhere, were present.

FREMONT AND DAYTON.—New York, 9th.—A correspondent of the Tribune states that the American State Council of Iowa had met at Iowa City, and agreed to support Fremont and Dayton.

BANNERS.—This is a great year for banners. A very beautiful one, for Buchanan & Breckinridge, floats over High street, purporting to be the Flag of our Union; though really it is not the National flag, as it is striped with red, white, and blue. The Manchester American describing a banner painted in that city, says:

On one side of the banner s ia precipitous cliff, on the side of which Fremont was ascending, bearing the stars and stripes, while on the other side a buck fleeing from the height was leaping down headlong.—On the side from which Fremont ascended was spread out a New England village, with its school house and Church, surrounded by fields filled with lowing herds, and where the husbandman was following the plough. On the west side, that to which the buck (Buchanan) is running, is seen a slave plantation, with the negroes and the river, the huts and the mansion of the owner in the distance. Directly under the cliff is a circle surrounded by stars containing a portrait of Fremont, and above the cliff an eagle holding in its beak a scroll on which is inscrbed "Fremont and Dayton," while on the left of the cliff the goddess of justice appears thro' the clouds holding in her hands the scales, and bearing the cap of liberty. It is one of the most striking banners got up for the campaign.

The Baltimore papers say that "the Union is straining her fastenings," and thereupon the Post remarks, "that's sound talk." All sound, or rather unsound, we should think.—Charlestown Adv.

MORTALITY.—Capt. Reed, of the schooner Life Boat, at Newburyport, left Mayagues, Aug. 18, at which time the cholera was raging fearfully there, carrying off from 40 to 50 persons daily. The epidemic broke out about the 5th of August, and when Capt. R. left was rather on the decrease. It had stopped the business entirely, so that very few sales or purchases were made, and laborers could with difficulty be obtained. Capt. R. carried out spars on deck, and said that the men employed to float them ashore were all dead within four hours of the job being completed. The mortality was most among the blacks. The disease had spread, but more mildly, to other parts of the island. Sugar and molasses were scarce and high.

THE FUGITIVES FOUND.—The scandalous chroniclers of the city have been busy, the past two or three months, with the escapade of a one-armed officer of the army, who eloped with the young daughter of one of our prominent citizens, leaving his own wife and family behind him. The mother and brother of the erring lady went to Europe in pursuit of them, and, by the assistance of the London "detectives," found them, as we learn by the last steamer from England, in Rouen, France. It is said that they found also an addition to the party, of a "sinless child of sin," which gave a sufficient explanation of the sudden departure of the guilty parties.—N. Y. Times.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crowley" A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

WILLIAM CROWLEY & SON,
Oversly Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them and forfeitures for the violation of any by-laws or ordinances of the city shall be recovered by complaint before the police court of said city of Somersworth, and shall inure to such purposes as the city council shall direct. It shall be sufficient in such complaint to set out the offence plainly and substantially, but the by-law or ordinance on which the same is founded need not be recited or set out.

Wholesale at $1.60 per M.
Retail at 6¼ cts. per paper of 25.
Assorted or separate numbers, sharps and betweens.

SEC. 19. The city council shall secure a just and prompt accountability from all persons entrusted with the receipt, custody or disbursement of the money, funds or other property of the city, and no money shall be paid out of the city treasury unless previously granted and appropriated by the city council. The city council shall have the care and superintendance of the city buildings and other city property, and the power to let or sell what may be legally let or sold, and to purchase property, real or personal, in the name and for the use of the city, whenever the interests or conveniences of the city require it. The city council shall, once in every year, at least, publish for the use and information of the inhabitants, a particular account of the receipts and expenditures of the city, and a schedule of the property and means, and of the debts of the city.

SEC. 20. The city council shall have power to construct drains and common sewers through any highways, streets or private lands, paying the owner such damages as they shall ascain thereby, such damages to be assessed by the mayor and aldermen, in the same manner, with the same right of appeal, as is provided by law in regard to the laying out of highways by the selectmen of towns, and to require all persons to pay a reasonable sum for the right to open any drain into such public drain or sewer.

SEC. 21. All power and authority now by law vested in the board of health for the town of Somersworth, shall be vested in the city council, to be carried into execution by the appointment of health commissioners, or in such other manner as the city council shall determine. The city council shall have power to provide for the appointments of all necessary officers not otherwise provided for, and prescribe their duties.

SEC. 22. The city council shall, annually, on the fourth Tuesday of March, meet in convention, and elect by joint ballot a city clerk, who shall hold his office for one year, and until another shall be chosen and qualified—removable, however, at the pleasure of the city council; he shall be, ex-officio, clerk of the board of aldermen; he shall keep a journal of all votes and proceedings of the mayor and aldermen, and also of the city council when sitting in conventions, and shall perform such other duties as the mayor and aldermen or the city council shall prescribe; he shall also perform all the duties and exercise all the powers incumbent on and vested in town clerks of the towns in this State, except where it is herein otherwise provided.

SEC. 23. The legal voters in each ward shall, at the annual meetings, choose one person to be a member of the board of assessors, each of whom shall be a resident of the ward for which he is chosen; and the assessors so elected shall perform all the duties relative to taking the inventory and appraisal of property for taxation, and in regard to the assessment and abatement of taxes and issuing warrants for the collection of the same as are now, or may hereafter be required by law of selectmen and assessors in towns, and shall have all the powers in regard to those duties which selectmen and assessors now have or may hereafter have.

SEC. 24. Within three months after the passage of this act, the selectmen of the town of Somersworth, shall issue their warrant for a legal meeting of the voters of said town, at which meeting the sense of the legal voters present shall be taken by ballot upon the adoption of this act, and the votes shall be sorted, counted, declared and recorded, as in other cases; and the polls shall be open for receiving the ballots on said question for the space of five hours at least; and if a majority of the ballots cast at such meeting shall be in favor of the adoption of this act, the same shall be in force from and after the day of such meeting—provided, that in case of the adoption of this act the present town officers of the town of Somersworth shall hold their offices and perform the duties thereof until the fourth Tuesday of March, 1857, and until the organization of the city government, except such of their duties as are provided for in the following section.

SEC. 25. After the adoption of this act, and before the first day of December next, the selectmen of Somersworth shall call a meeting of the legal voters in each ward, at some convenient time and place, to be designated in their warrant; said meeting shall be called in the same manner as town meetings are now called by selectmen; the selectmen of Somersworth shall prepare, post up and correct for each ward, a check-list, in the same manner as selectmen are required to do at the meetings in towns for the choice of State officers. The meetings shall be called to order by one of the selectmen of Somersworth, or if none of the selectmen are present, by any justice of the peace for the county of Strafford, who shall preside until a moderator is chosen. At said meeting in each ward, a moderator, town clerk and three selectmen shall be chosen by ballot; the officers so chosen shall, from and after that time, and until others are chosen in their stead, perform all the duties assigned them by this act.

SEC. 26. The first election of mayor, aldermen and common council shall be holden on the second Tuesday of March, A. D. 1857, and the returns herein before provided to be made to the city clerk, shall at that time be made to the selectmen of the town of Somersworth, who shall perform all the duties in relation to said election herein assigned to the mayor & aldermen.

SEC. 27. The several ward clerks shall, immediately after the election aforesaid, deliver to the selectmen of said town, a certificate of the election of the aldermen and common councilmen in their respective wards; and the selectmen shall select and provide suitable places for the first meetings of the boards of aldermen and common councilmen, and shall seasonably, before the fourth Tuesday of March next, notify such members of the place so selected.

SEC. 28. This act shall take effect from its passage, but shall become null and void, unless the town of Somersworth shall, at a meeting called for that purpose, vote to adopt the same before the first day of November next.

Approved July 9, 1856.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. opps. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee,)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "FREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz.:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

TOMATOES

FOR SALE by the Basket, by
au22 MATHES & VARRELL.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OVER TWO MILLION ACRES
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that it lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is the same, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract,

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained on application to the Undersigned.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

THE GREAT DEMORALIZER

AT THE POLLS.

Before the first week in November is out, thirty-one sovereign States, five and twenty millions of freemen, will have declared who shall be the national, State, and local rulers. How fearful to contemplate the amount of liquor which will be drunk, and the vast influence for evil which it will be made to exert upon all those people at elections. The following article by the Frankfort (Kentucky) Temperance Advocate, applying in the main to every other State as well, is timely and important:

We assert the dangerous and demoralizing influence of intoxicating liquors as a means of controlling popular elections. In consequence of the subjection of man to the dominion of his appetite, we find that in all popular governments, appeals have in all ages been made to the appetites and passions of the people. In the degenerate days of the Roman Republic, the aspirants for the honors of the consulship appealed more frequently and more successfully to to the appetites, than to the judgments of the populace; and the candidates who could most abundantly supply with meat and drink the debased appetites of an ignoble people, were honored with the highest offices of a once Great Republic. And in the hitherto short career of the American Republic, how often have not high offices in the National and State Governments been attained by an appeal to the appetite for strong drink which so lamentably pervades great masses of our people?

* * * * * * *

We know that we are pursuing a train of thought and argument never seen in the political press of the day, but its pertinency to the present time cannot fail to be recognized.

Speaking of the State elections, the Advocate says:

If any good citizen, in happy ignorance of the abuses of the present elective system, supposes that these elections will be determined by the respective claims of the candidates for honesty, capacity and fidelity, and therefore rightly determined, we would most respectfully and most earnestly say to him that he is mistaken. The time was in Kentucky when these considerations influenced the great mass of voters; but to so great an extent have the corrupiions of the present elective system infected the body politic, and to so great an extent have the mass of voters lost sight of the true qualifications of candidates, that the election of the proper man is becoming an exception to the general rule. One of the chief agencies employed by bad men in thus corrupting the electoral franchise, is the instrumentality of strong drink. And to so great an extent has this pernicious and demoralizing agency been employed, that those who refuse to foster and encourage it are regarded as unfit for public employment and unworthy or public confidence or support.

It is of no avail longer to attempt to conceal the truth of this subject; and, in our judgement, longer silence upon it is treason to the best interests of the country. It has actually come to pass, in many parts of Kentucky, that total abstinence from the use of intoxicating liquors, is an absolute bar to office, and their most liberal use is regarded as the highest possible recommendation. How long it may be practicable to maintain any of the main benefits of our free institutions against an ignorance and a prejudice so deplorable, we will not undertake to say; but we would most earnestly at this time invoke public attention to the absolute necessity of a radical reform on this subject. It is time that an enlightened public sentiment in Kentucky had forever put down the present system of electioneering, with all its abominations.

There are some counties in the State where this has to a great extent already been accomplished; and in which no candidate for office dare so to outrage the public sentiment, as to put the bottle to his neighbor's mouth to steal away his vote. And we are happy to know that there are some candidates now before the people, in different portions of the State, who have too high a sense of the dignity of the positions to which they aspire, as well as too much respect for the people themselves, to sanction, either by their precept or example, a system of electioneering so much in conflict with the genius and spirit of the government, and so disastrous to every public and private interest. For such men, whether they succeed or fail, it should be the pride of every good man to vote, and for such men we know that every true temperance man will vote, no matter to what political party he may belong.

THE THREE PLATFORMS ON SLAVERY IN THE TERRITORIES.—DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.—The American Democracy recognize and adopt the principles contained in the organic laws establishing the Territories of Kansas and Nebraska, as embodying the only sound and safe solution of the "slavery question," upon which the great national idea of the people of this whole country can repose in its determined conservatism of the Union—non-interference by Congress with Slavery in the Territories or in the District of Columbia.

THE 'AMERICAN' PLATFORM.—The recognition of the right of the native-born and naturalized citizens of the United States permanently residing in any Territory thereof, to frame their constitution and laws, and to regulate their domestic and social affairs in their own mode.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.—Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for their government, and that in the exercise of this power, it is both the right and duty of Congress to prohibit in the Territories those twin relics of barbarism, polygamy and slavery.

[From the State of Maine.]

TO YOUR TENTS, O! ISRAEL.

BY JOHN NEAL.

Men of the North! look up!
There's a tumult in your sky;
A troubled glory surging out—
Great shadows hurrying by.
Your strength—where is it now?
Your quivers—are they spent?
Your arrows in the rust of death—
Your fathers' bows unbent?
Men of the North! awake!
Ye're called to from the Deep;
Trumpets in every breeze—
Yet there ye lie asleep.
A stir in every tree;
A shout from every wave;
A challenging on every side;
A moan from every grave;
A battle in the sky;
Ships thundering through the air;
Jehovah on the march:—
Men of the North! to prayer!
Now, now—in all your strength;
There's that before your way,
Above, about you, and below,
Like armies in array.
Lift up your eyes, and see
The changes overhead;
Now hold your breath! and hear
The mustering of the dead.
See how the midnight air
With bright commotion burns;
Thronging with giant shape
Banner and spear by turns.
The sea fog driving in
Solemnly and swift;
The moon afraid, stars dropping out,
The very skies adrift.

IMPORTANT LETTER.

The Boston Advertiser of the 10th says:

We have obtained permission to print the subjoined letter, with the names of the writer and the gentleman to whom it is addressed, with the design of showing by unimpeachable testimony, the truth of the present state of affairs in Kansas. Mr. Lawrence tells us that his corespondent is "as reliable a man as ever lived,"—one with whom he has had business transactions for several years.

This letter and many others of similar tenor show what is the present disposition of the federal government in ordering fresh troops to Kansas to put down "insurrection" and to save the capitol of the State, (Lecompton) from "destruction." As to the latter it could have been taken and burnt by the Free State men at any time during the past month, if they were really desirous of "destroying" it, and of emulating the laurels which General Pierce's administration won by the burning of Greytown. Lecompton contains less than twenty buildings, of an average value of about $200 each. But the Free State men entertain no such plans of aggressive operations. Their policy is defensive: the preservation of themselves, their wives, daughters and children, and the protection of their property.

We present this letter as testimony which must be satisfactory to those who are not already determined not to hear the truth and to treat slightingly the state of affairs in Kansas.

We beg attention, also, to the fact that the benefit derived from the relief contributed at the North, is acknowledged in this as it has been in numerous other letters:

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Aug. 27, 1856.

A. A. LAWRENCE, Esq., Boston:—

Dear Sir:—Knowing the interest you feel in the cause of Kansas, I have concluded to trouble you with another line.

Long before you receive this, you will learn of the new turn which events have taken in Kansas. I am anxious that our friends at the East should know that the attacks we have recently made upon the enemy were not unprovoked. We remained passive until the only alternatives were, active resistance or expulsion from the territory. The foe were surrounding us on all sides. At Hickory Point, Franklin, Washington Creek, Lecompton and other places, they had constructed formidable forts, assembled large bodies of men, and collected arms and provisions. It was evident that their plans contemplated nothing short of our extermination. Robberies became frequent, and several bloody murders were committed. Property was valueless and life became insecure. In this state of things, the free-state men resolved to fight, although the odds appeared to be against them. When news reached this place of the brutal murder of Hoyt, the people could be restrained no longer. Hence the attack upon Franklin. We endured the assaults of the foe until it was necessary to strike a blow in order to escape annihilation.

The recent events were not the result of the arrival of Lane, or his company. Only one of his company was in the party which attacked Franklin. That party was composed of the merchants, physicians, mechanics and laborers of Lawrence, together with the principal citizens of Franklin. I wish it to be understood at the North that we stand upon the defensive. We do not imitate our enemies in the outrages which they are committing. While one of our party was engaged about his business a short time since, he was murdered, and scalped while his pulse yet throbbed. A woman at Bloomington, who is an active free-state lady, was seized a few nights since by four Missourians, gagged, bound hand and foot dragged from her house, and then horribly violated. She will survive but a few days. Our men are sometimes terribly inflamed when they hear of such transactions, but thus far they have done themselves infinite credit by refusing to imitate the atrocities of the ruffians. I mention these things as an excuse for the boldness of the measures we have adopted, if any extenuation is needed. I could name twenty events which have recently happened, not a whit less atrocious than the above.

Do not imagine that our cause is hopeless. The slave State men, wearied with the excitement, are leaving in large numbers. I do not think there are six hundred pro-slavery settlers at present in this territory, and the number is becoming every day less. All our troubles are caused by invasion from Missouri.

My brother wishes me to inform you that he was at the camp yesterday and conversed with the prisoners. He left thirty-five dollars with them—enough for their present wants. He has a large quantity of drafts on hand, which he has not yet been able to obtain money upon. As soon as they are cashed he will attend further to your wishes.

The people here are greatly obliged to their Northern friends for the assistance which they are rendering. This relief is most opportune, and has put an entirely different face upon affairs.

I have penned this amidst the greatest excitement, but have no time to rewrite it.

Most truly your obedient servant,
H. M. SIMPSON.

We ask the serious consideration of the above letter, by every reader. We ask him whether he is willing to sanction such doings?

LAW CASE—AGAIN.

The N. H. Patriot of Sept. 10, contains an answer to our strictures on its report of the Law Case, Lancaster vs. Jackson.

We copy from the Patriot, all the parts of its article which purport to correct our statements, adding a few notes.

The case was submitted to the jury about 6 P. M. Upon retiring to their room, it is understood that the jury, composed equally of men from both political parties, stood 10 for the plaintiff for the whole amount claimed; while they were unanimous for the plaintiff so far as relates to the charge for their services. They remained together till the coming in of the Court at 8 o'clock the next morning, being at that time eleven for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed. They then informed the Court that they could not agree, and by the direction of the presiding Judge they were brought into the court room.—The foreman then stated, in reply to the usual question from the Court as to whether they had agreed, that they had agreed as to one item, but could not agree as to the other. The counsel for the plaintiff, having it at their option either to take a verdict for the amount for which the jury were unanimous, or to have the jury discharged without agreement, after consultation with the friends of the plantiff, concluded to take a verdict for the $23, and interest, and costs, rather than be at the labor and expense of a new trial.

The friends of the plaintiff were wise in their decision, but it did not show great confidence in the result of a new trial.

The Patriot gives the following reason for squire George's giving up the case at this point:

The amount in controversy, and the chance of collecting an execution for the amount. of Jackson, being entirely disproportioned to the cost of litigation.

Indeed! we thought the defeated party paid the cost—and Jackson could certainly pay his. No, no. They were afraid their case would break down next time, and wisely concluded to take what they could get. "And," says the Patriot, "this is the way the eleven jurors were 'converted' by the one who stood out."

This then, is our only error,—it is an error, which Mr. Jackson could not have fallen into, had he "prepared" the article, as the Patriot erroneously supposes. In showing up this error, the Patriot brings out the important facts above stated—that the plaintiff's friends and counsel, (not the plaintiff,) thought it best not to risk a new trial.

The Patriot continues:

The Chronicle further states that the suit "puts no money in his (Lancaster's) purse—all and more than all of his $23 and interest being required to pay Squire George for his tremendous plea." Now we know * * that the counsel for the plaintiff did not charge one cent for the 'tremendous argument' or for the time and labor required in preparing and trying the case. Mr. Lancaster's pecuniary disability, coupled with the infamous attempt to defraud him of his just dues, by driving him out of court 'because he was poor,' furnished sufficient inducement for the counsel not only to gratuitously furnish their time and services, but also to endorse the writ and assume the liability for the costs, and as soon as the execution for '$23 and interest' now in the sheriff's hands shall be collected, it will be paid to Mr. Lancaster, or his order.

If anybody can swallow all this, he must believe that Messrs. George & Co. are extra lovers of justice and benevolence, to take up doubtful suits, and run the risk of footing all the bills of cost,—and yet charge no fees!

But the Patriot, in writing the above, unwittingly shows that the prosecution was a political, partisan affair, in which, while Mr. Lancaster was the nominal plaintiff, Messrs. George & Co. were the real movers of the wires, by which they hoped to break down Mr. Jackson. The result, however, is a failure.

As is assumed by the Chronicle, the fact that Jackson and Cheney are the one a minister, and the other a member of the church, shall be used to screen them from the infamy resulting from the developments made public, &c.

The Chronicle has assumed no such thing. Its assumption was, that if the Methodist and Baptist Churches believed the Patriot's statements, George's plea, and the Palmers' testimony, they must excommunicate Messrs. Cheney and Jackson. But the infamy of being "blown up" by the Patriot, is not probably very black, in the sight of any church that can be named. For a man to be greatly paised therein, might render his standing doubtful.

PORTLAND, Sept. 10.—In 317 towns Hamlin leads Wells 22,844; and leads Wells and Patten together 17,644. The vote is as follows:

Hamlin,	59,755
Wells,	36,911
Patten,	5,200

The State is not yet exhausted, for sprinkled among the forests and mountains, are still to be heard from some 100 towns, plantations and gores, more or less peopled with men who can appreciate Fremont and Freedom. We may look out for not much less than 18,000 majority for Hamlin over all.

This vote consolidates New England, and the Free States generally, into one column.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The Democratic Convention, held at Springfield on Wednesday, was unusually large. Hon. Erastus D. Beach of Springfield, was nominated for Governor by acclamation. Hon. Caleb Stetson of Braintree, was nominated for lieutenant-governor, but declined, and Charles Thompson of Charlestown, was unsuccessfully proposed, and Albert Currier of Newburyport, substituted. The Electors at Large are Nathaniel J. Lord of Salem, and Whiting Griswold of Greenfield. The resolutions uphold the Pierce Administration and the party.

A resolution to invite Senator Douglas to address the Democrats of Massachusetts, was objected to, and was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

On a discussion as to the merits of Griswold and Bishop, as Electors, Isaac H. Wright of Boston objected to Griswold, that he had elected Charles Sumner to the United States Senate.

B. F. Butler of Lowell defended the "coalition," and said "by the living Jehovah" he would have voted for Sumner, had he had a vote to give in the Legislature at the time.

Wright was denounced on every hand for introducing this firebrand, and Griswold was accepted as second Senatorial Elector.

There was considerable enthusiasm and harmony at the end, rather than in the progress. The trouble was between the Buchanan men and those who stuck to Pierce at Cincinnati, each seeking to obtain the leadership. The victory was divided, though in the Presidential electors, the original Buchanan men were successful.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.—The annual meeting of the Boston and Maine Railroad Corporation was held on Wednesday, in Exter, N. H. An unusually large number of stockholders were present on account of the great interest felt in the proposed change of policy in the management of the road, by the election of a new board of directors. A ballot for directors was had, but the votes had not been counted, up to a late hour.

A FAVORITE REMEDY.—We believe no medicine has ever given stronger proof of its efficacy than the Oxygenated Bitters. In cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility, restoring health and cheerfulness, when all other remedies have failed.

DR. H. E. MORRILL, A SKILFUL PHYSICIAN OF NEW YORK CITY,

In his remarks on Dyspepsia, says—The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach, is that prepared by Dr. Geo. B. Green, and called the Oxygenated Bitters.

I would publish the recipe for preparing this valuable medicine, if I knew what it was, but as I do not, I can only recommend its use. It seems to me to be improperly called "Bitters," at least in the popular acceptation of that term, for it contains no alcohol or other spirit, and is rather sour than bitter. Though here, by the way, I cannot too earnestly caution the dyspeptic against using "Bitters," the basis of which is alcohol or other ardent spirit. They no more impart a real energy to the stomach, than a whip gives strength to a horse. The stimulation which they excite is only temporary, and sure to be followed by a reaction, which will inevitably wear out the stomach. The medicine of which I am speaking, obviates these objections.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

From the Hon. James P. Wells, of Cambridge.

Dec 22d, 1848

DR. W. R. HAYDEN: Dear Sir.—Having been afflicted for a number of months with a severe chronic Diarrhoea, and as my Physician had considered my case nearly a hopeless one, a friend of mine persuaded me to try your Pills, and to the surprise of every one, after having taken one box, the painful symptoms nearly all left me. I continued the use of them, and am happy to state that I am as well as ever I was in my life. If you think my testimony of any value, you may use it.

I remain, sir, y'rs with gratitude and respect,
JAMES P. WELLS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "scud under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

Young Men's Christian Association.—Officers elected: President, Charles W. Martin; Vice Presidents, J. B. Burliegh, Wm. Seavey; Recording Secretary, Moses H. Jtickney; Cor. Secry., John H. Lond; Treasurer, Daniel H. Spinney, jr.; Librarian, John C. Works; Ass't. Librarian, Charles E. Dixon.

Directors: F. W. Ham, L. W. Brewster, John H. Slater, David Webster, John H. Lowd, Henry Works and D. H. Spinney.

☞ The examination of candidates for admission to the Boy's High School, will commence this forenoon, about half past 10 o'clock—at the new School room.

Rare Chance.—Mr. F. W. Ham advertises a new lot of splendid Gold Hunting Watches, just received on commission. He is selling them off for a short time, at less than auction prices—and warrants them, too. We have never seen so good watches offered at so low figures.

T. B. Aldrich.—"Belle Brittan," the racy lady correspondent of the New York Mirror, at Newport, says;

I am literally getting to be "a lady of letters." And that isn't all. Bouquets, lockets, locks of hair, and derogatory types, are beginning to be sent in. I am flattered to day by the receipt of a notelet from the author of "Baby Belle," one of the most charming poets in America. I am told he is a "love of a youth"—a perfect Hyacinth, (I don't mean one of the "Ruth Hall" sort;) and I am inclined to think that if your "Belle" and his "Belle" should ever meet, two souls, like two dew drops, would rush into one!

I saw two clouds at morning,
Tinged with the rising sun;
And in the dawn they floated on,
And mingled into one!

Doesn't that tell a story and contain a prophecy besides? But hear how pleasantly he talks to me on paper:

"Let me look at the profile and contour of charming, impudent, bedeveling Belle Brittan, through the end of a muddy inkstand!" * * * Only yesterday I received, per Post, a solemn remonstrance against suicide. To-day I do not need it. There's a link of love left to keep me on the sunny side of Jordan a few days longer. I'll not go out quite yet.

The New York Mirror reports that "Mr. T. B. Aldrich, the fine fellow, fine critic, and superfine poet, has become associated with the Home Journal. Good for its readers."

We also notice in the trade list of Derby & Jackson, New York publishers, that they will publish in December, a new American novel, entitled "Daisy's Necklace, and What Came of it,"—by T. B. Aldrich, author of Babie Bell and other poems.

Daily Patriot.—The N. H. Patriot will commence the publication of a Daily paper on Thursday, Sept. 18; to be issued five times a week until the election, making about 35 numbers. 25 cents for the campaign.

☞ A baggage car on a passenger train, at Reading, on the Boston & Maine Railroad, was demolished on Thursday morning, by the breaking of an axle; two men, Morris Leonard, Inspector of Cars, and Richard Burns, were killed instantly, and eight or ten others were injured more or less. Two of them will probably die.—They were all workmen on the road.

The cost of delivering Pennsylvania coal in Boston, according to a Philadelphia correspondent of the Journal, is now $6 07 per ton for red ash, and $5 82 for white ash.

New Hampshire Crops. — The apple crop of the northern part of Rockingham county is likely to be about a nullity this year. Where two hundred barrels were expected upon some orchards, ten barrels are now only looked for, and the failure is a great one. Some especial orchardists, who have made great exertions to produce a crop of apples which should rise to five hundred barrels or more, are sadly disappointed. The loss in the yield of this favorite and necessary fruit is a misfortune to New England. The potato crop in New Hampshire is looked upon with despondency, and it will require much sun yet to ripen out the corn. The rain has been only partially good for fall feed.—Boston Courier, 10th.

The above is altogether too gloomy a view of New Hampshire Crops. The Courier must have been thinking of Votes; as in another item, speaking of the 15,000 majority for Hamlin, it "is glad it is no worse."

We assure the Courier, however, that fall feed has never been better in the last 40 years;—that we have rarely seen Indian Corn look better, and that potatoes, though not numerous, are yet far removed from any looks of despondency. The apple crop is really small, and prices high, for which we are sorry as any body. Indian corn needs the sun, and will probably get enough of it to be a good crop of good grain.

Man Shot in Candia.—The Manchester Mirror says, five young men, all belonging in Candia village, were out a gunning last Saturday, and when returning, got into a dispute about a dog fight. A squabble ensued, and Albin C. Bean pulled George Patten out of the wagon, and threatened to beat his brains out. Patten seized a gun from the wagon and told Bean to keep off or he would shoot him. Bean still made offensive demonstrations, and come up to Patten as if not afraid of him and his gun too, and Patten shot him, the charge squirrel shot, taking effect in the thigh, near the groin. Bean fell, the wounds were dressed. On Monhay the leg was amputated, as mortification had set in. Bean lingered along till last night, when he died. He was about 25 years old, unmarried. Patten remains in Candia, ready to deliver himself up. He bases the act on self-defence. Patten has a wife and child.—The affair creates intence excitement in Candia.

"Charter Oak, Jr."—Mr. George Francis, of Hartford, has a young oak tree (10 years old, 10 feet high, and 12 inches in circumference near the surface of the ground), raised from an acorn of the famous Charter Oak which was recently blown down. This young oak, which he calls" Charter Oak Jr.," he has presented to the Hon. I. W. Stuart, who has undertaken to transplant it, at the proper season, to the site of the old tree.

Four Points of a Case.—An Eastern editor says that a man got himself into trouble by marrying two wives.

A Western editor replies by assuring his cotemporary that a good many men in that section had undergone the same thing by marrying only one.

A Nothern editor retorts that quite a number of his acquaintances found trouble enough by barely promising to marry, without going any further.

A Southern editor retorts that a friend of his was bothered enough when simply found in company with another man's wife.

Mass Convention at Concord.—The Manchester Mirror says:—We hear the desire expressed everywhere by the Fremont men, that we hold a Grand Mass Convention at Concord, sometime in the month of October. The district conventions are not sufficiently central to accommodate all portions of the State, and the people desire another opportunity to consult together.

We learn to-day that the "Coggswell party," or those in favor of the majority report, triumphed and elected their ticket.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A Perfumed Breath.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A Beautiful Complexion may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE. — A Soldier's Compliment.—A soldier in one of the hospitals of the Crimea, was asked what he had to say of Miss Nightingale, the philanthropic nurse. His answer was: "I hope she will go to heaven without dying."

In a clever speech of Lord Ellesmere, lately made in the House of Lords, he refers to Florence Nightingale in these words:—

"The vegetation of two successive springs has obscured the vestiges of Balaklava and Inkermann. Strong voices now answer to the roll-call, and sturdy forms now cluster round the colors. The ranks are full, the hospitals are empty. The angel of mercy still lingers to the last on the scene of her labors (hear, hear,): but her mission is all but accomplished. Those long arcades of Scutari, in which dying men sat up to catch the sound of her footsteps or the flutter of her dress, and fell back on the pillow content to have seen her shadow as it passed, are now comparatively deserted.—She may probably be thinking how to escape, as best she may, on her return, the demonstrations of a nation's appreciation of the deeds and motives of Florence Nightingale."

Of course this allusion was hailed with repeated cheers.

Miss Nightingale has got quietly home, —and accomplished this feat with great skill and secresy.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED.)

PREPARED AND MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and Judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Citarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is decisive and herbal, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be patronized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hunter, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SIDDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the incurable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

DR. LAROOKAH'S SYRUP.

DR. LAROOKAH'S Indian Vegetable Pulmonic Syrup, is warranted to cure Coughs, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Consumption, and Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

DR. LAROOKAH, a Celebrated Indian, has discovered in the combination of four kinds of Common Roots and Herbs, a remedy that is warranted to cure CONSUMPTION in all cases where the lungs are not mostly consumed, and sufficient left to sustain life; and every disease of whatever name, having seat in the lungs or bronchial tubes.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 78 State st. Oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages to applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procurement of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington—Patents sold and introduced in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee,)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine Article. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

TOMATOES

FOR SALE by the Basket, by
au22 MATHES & VARRELL.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is black, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in clearing new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

"BELLE BRITTAN-"

The young lady who writes from Newport to the New York Mirror,—and the author of the definition of a "fast" woman: "one to whom you can say anything you please"—has a couple of columns of spicy correspondence in last week's Mirror, from which we extract the items below.—Perhaps Belle herself isn't fast. Speaking of a grand party given by the bachelors, she says:

"Such dressing and undressing of beautiful women was never before seen in Newport. As Mrs. Partington would say, the tout en scramble was perfectly munificent. One dress worn by a fine looking 'mother of ten children,' was perfectly stunning. It was a rich moire antique, (in red and white,) and about a pint of diamonds was poured over all. The oddest whim exhibited in the way of ornament was a head dress composed of gold pieces about the size of a half eagle—at least, an hundred dollars worth attached to the young lady's hair by fine gold chains, and dangling around her ears and neck. Surely the fashion has economy to recommend it, for unlike most other feminine trinkets, it will always be worth what it cost. Another fine looking New York lady wore in her hair imitation ears of Indian corn, as large and as natural as life."

Again, speaking of a Ball, she says:

"The ladies were exquisi'ely dressed;—and, like the stars of heaven, only 'differed from one another in glory.' As the Mirror don't approve of 'taking off' ladies' dresses publicly, I will not undertake to describe any individuality of costume.—As for the gentlemen, I am assured there were a great many pairs of pantaloons present; but I only saw one man; and you can construe the confession as you please."

Belle goes in for the "beard movement," or rather for not removing it. Hear her:

A great many of the fashionable fops here wear their hair parted in the middle, a la Fremont. "Is this one of the signs of the times?" I think it looks effeminate; and consequently unbecoming in the 'opposition sex.' I know the "CHRISTS" of the old painters have generally adopted that style of representing their sacred "subject;" but they also give him an unmutilated beard, which many an old fogy Christian of the present day objects to; and I have even known fashionable ladies to "set their faces against" whiskers! I for one rather like the feeling of them; and think a handsome mouth, fringed with a soft, silky moustache has a moss-rosy look that is rather inviting. If I were a man, I never would have my face scraped. It is a barberous business altogether."

Probably somebody has been talking about Belle. Here her now:

There is always an undercurrent of gossip here that keeps the tongues of the scandal-mongers as lively as mill-wheels. One lady has been almost ruined by the report that one of the "bugs" has entered her room when she was asleep. (Not a bed bug; one of Fanny Fern's "Red Rovers") but a big black beetle, an inch long!

It is a confounded shame that one or two fishy reputations should taint the atmosphere of a hotel-full of maids and matrons who are as 'pure as the icicles that hang on Dian's temple." I sometimes think it's no use to be so very particular to wear clean linen, if an uncharitable world is all the time suspecting it to be soiled. Were not 'virtue its own reward,' I shouldn't much care to be any better than 'one of the wicked.' I have always felt a little sympathy for "the man in the fable," who, on being wrongly accused of stealing a lamb, went right off and stole a big, fat sheep.

In a former letter, Belle complains of the scarcity of beaux at Newport. The editor of the Providence Journal recommends the young gentlemen to repair thither. She likes this, and thus comments on him:

He takes pity on us, like a man. And, by the way, a lady who recently came over in the same ship with him from Europe, says "he is every inch a man;" handsome, too, and single, with a beard like a Pacha, and "an eye to threaten or command."—Just the sort of eye that I should like to have "on me" all the time; and to look into when I wake up in the morning. But such a "blessing from Providence" one can hardly hope for; and although a very sweet voice has often whispered, "I wish he were here;" yet, like the stars above, he only pities at a distance; winks, but never warms us. I can only say, the remoter the object we worship, the safer we are in our idolatry. Let the angels of heaven keep their tears for her whose tantalized lips can almost touch the forbidden fruit she may never taste; and whose uncontrollable affections are forever doomed to fall back in Alpine torrents upon her own heart.

P. S.—I believe I am suffering a little from an "affection of the heart," a common complaint among the young girls here in Newport; and I am advised to go to New York and consult the eminent Surgeon, Dr. Carnochan, in regard to my "case." I heard a married lady say yesterday, that "he had the nicest little obstetric hand" she had ever seen. I don't know what that means; but I am told he he has not given it away yet; so it may have something to do with matrimony—prehaps.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1856.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE, EXTRA.—The Boston Pilot (Roman Church) contains the following item;

The Trumpet, a Universalist paper, asserts, not without reason, that the Episcopal Church is rapidly sliding down hill into Universalism. It cites some of her most distinguished divines as asserting and maintaining Universalist doctrines. If such be the case, it does not in the least surprise us. We are not very conversant with the works of Episcopalian divines, but by our knowledge of the sentiments held by the lay members of that communion, we are certain that the prevailing and almost unanimous opinion among them is in accordance with the one and only doctrine which distinguishes Universalists from the other sects. The same may be said of all the sects. In theory some of them maintain a contrary doctrine, but in practice all slide into the pernicious heresy that there is no hell.

This is rather a left handed compliment to all the sects, which the Pilot very cooly sets down as hypocrites, except the Universalists,—as they all practically carry out what the Pilot describes as Universalism,—but which is not accurately described. The Pilot makes it a mere negation. To this no Universalist writer would assent—but all would state it positively, the final holiness and happiness of all men. If the Pilot is equally accurate in all its statements, those who sail by it may get shipwrecked for lack of knowledge.

EXTRACTS.—First from the N. H. Gazette, Sept. 13:

We had not calculated with any confidence upon Maine, though we were by no means prepared for the overwhelmning defeat which the Democracy have met. * *

But the election in Maine, our readers should remember, does not settle any future question. Her vote has not to our knowledge, been claimed for Buchanan.

Second, from the Portland Argus, August 9.

The election in September will trouble you a great deal more. You have lost the State. Maine will not elect Hamlin. The Wells Administration will be sustained. Morrill-ism will not be restored to power. This will be the September result; and in November, Maine will go with the crowd for "Buck and Breck."

Third, from the Gazette, Sept. 13:

We shall concede the electoral vote of Maine to Fremont, although we contend that the present election has been carried more on local and personal than on national grounds.

Fourth, from the Argus, Sept. 9:

If the Presidential contest was to be the only one waged, one election would have been quite enough, and September and November ought to have come together. * * * Let the vote of last Monday only animate us (!) to new exertion, &c.

Fifth, from the Gazette Sept. 13:

The effect of this election upon New Hampshire we think will be in favor of the Democracy. It has and will arouse and stimulate them, &c.

PENNSYLVANIA. — We have seen, for some time past, hints thrown out in the Republican newspapers, that Fremont would get the electoral vote of Pennsylvania. We have not published many of them; we think not any, but are not quite positive as to this; but we have not placed any great reliance on them. Now, however, we see something more tangible, from the Pennsylvanian, Mr. Buchanan's right hand paper.

So far as the Electoral ticket is concerned, the fact cannot fail to strike the most casual observer that no avowed Fremont Electors have yet been nominated in Pennsylvania, and that no public notice has been given of the call of any Convention for such a purpose. There is evidently something mysterious in this strange delay. * * * While this policy is being pursued by the Black Republicans, the Filmore electoral ticket is composed of men unpledged to Fillmore, some half a dozen of whom are well known to be favorable to Fremont, while others are generally believed to be possessed of similar proclivities. * * * Is there to be no Fremont electoral ticket in the field in Pennsylvania? Or, is the present Fillmore ticket to be used by them? Or, is all the present mystery upon this subject a mere part of the game by which Stevens proposes to make good his boast of cheating the Fillmore men of Pennsylvania into voting for Fremont?"

This really looks as if something was going to turn up in Pennsylvania.

A letter in the New York Evening Post from Schuylkill Co., Pa., states that Fremonters, who at first were not so thick as mile stones, are now carrying everything before them. The English, German, and Welch miners are going for Fremont, and the leaders of the American party have given up Fillmore.

THE OCTOBER ELECTIONS. — The next State elections that occur are to be held October 6th in Georgia and Florida. The elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and South Carolina take place on the 14th of October.

A NEW ENGLAND MAN.

Died at Lock Haven, Penn., 18th August, Maj. GEORGE LITTLE, Sen., aged 65 years. He was born in Newbury, Mass., where his father, Dea. Moses Little, now lives, at the age of 90. Mr. George Little lived, for 25 or 30 years, at Littleton, N. H.; from whence he removed, about ten years ago, to Pennsylvania.

The editor of the Lock Haven Watchman says of him:

There are few men better known in Lock Haven, and the up river part of this county, than Major Little. He had resided in this county about ten years. He was, we believe the first to discover the coal fields of the Clinton County Coal Company, and ascertain their extent and value. Having done so, he went to New York and succeeded in drawing the attention of capitalists to them. A company was formed, mining operations were commenced and singularly enough, at the very moment of Major L.'s death, the first boat load of coals from these mines reached Lock Haven. Major Little possessed an iron constitution, an eminently practical and sagacious mind, and was a close observer of men and things, and quick to discover merits or advantage in either. He was generous to a fault, sociable, polite to all, and warm in his friendships. If Major Little had an enemy, we never saw nor heard of him. His health had been failing him for nearly a year, when his wonderful physical and mental energy gave way, and he went gently to sleep without a struggle with his last enemy.

A correspondent of the same paper says:

His unwearied kindness and attention to friends and strangers; his unbounded benevolence and charity, are seldom equalled. The poor and suffering were never passed by without aid and comfort. No one was allowed to censure the absent, even when an injury had been inflicted on himself, except some good qualities, or extenuating circumstances were mentioned by him.—The children whom he daily met, were always recognized by a kind word, and good advice. Many a little boy's cap, and little girl's stocking will be less bountifully filled in Santa Claus' annual visit hereafter; and the parents, too, very sad at the vacant seat in their special gatherings, a long time must elapse ere they will cease to be reminded of their loss, in delicate attentions almost hourly extended. Fathers, brothers and sisters have nought to remember from his boyhood but acts of love. In business operations he met with obstacles which all in advance of their age must encounter. Internal improvements, suggested by him in his New England home, which were at the time considered visionary and impracticable, were after a space of 15 years effected; when they seemed so plain and feasible, people wondered at their own blindness. So in his operations here. Six years ago, none but an insane man could see so distinctly the vast wealth buried in the region of the Tangascootack. It is somewhat singular that at the very hour he was leaving this world for a beter, the first boat load of coal from the mines he discovered, and got under operation, was floating down the waters of the West Branch, opposite the spot from which his spirit was taking its flight. The grand project wrought by his indomitable energy and untiring industry was consummated, and he has left others to reap the reward of his labors. Let only those who have less than one fault, consider this last tribute of affection and respect, as exaggerated and unnecessary.

☞ Speaking of the great Fremont Clam-Bake, at Manchester, Mass., on Thursday last, the Newburyport Herald says "from 6,000 to 10,000 persons were present. Delegations from nearly all the towns and cities in the county, accompanied by four bands of music. The car from North Danvers was filled with young ladies, representing the different States—those for the Free States being dressed in WHITE, those for the Slave States in BLACK, and one for Kansas in RED. One peculiar feature of the procession was the ladies, who seemed full of enthusiasm, and gave it a very interesting appearance." No doubt of it,—the ladies always add interest, to any occasion; and a sea captain recently landed in New Bedford, remarked that they all appeared to him peculiarly "interesting," in the present well-developed fashion of dress.

DEATH OF A RUNAWAY HORSE.—Mr. Isaac Hale, Jr., the Lynn Expressman at Newburyport, lost a valuable horse, on Thursday, which ran away from the Eastern Depot, and was thrown over by striking a post on a corner, and died at once.—Mr. Hale has been somewhat unfortunate, as it is but a few weeks since he lost his pocket-book containing nearly $100, in the Lynn Depot.

☞ The "Daily Bay State" is the title of a new paper just started in Worcester, Mass., to advocate the election of Buchanan. Wm. Pickering Hill, Esq., formerly editor of the Gazette in this city, is the editor of this the only "Democratic" paper in Worcester county.

INTERESTING TO LOVERS OF PORK.—At a distillery in Auburn, N. Y., 1000 hogs have lately died of distemper. One physician pronounced the disease cholera, and another erysipelas. Five hundred more, which were driven off at the commencement of the epidemic, were fed on buttermilk and are rapidly recovering.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—California Matters.—It has been ascertained from a reliable source that no instructions were recently sent to California substantially different from those previously transmitted. Those instructions advised Commodore Merwin, or the senior officer on the station, that the laws of the United States must be enforced, and public property protected from violence. He is required to have two or more national vessels at San Francisco until the insurrectionary movements are over. Instructions of similar purport were sent to Gen. Wool.

Ascertained—by whom? Reliable source—what source? We do not rely on much that comes in this way. When we learn from the California papers what the U. S. forces there have done, then we shall know whether the instructions that went out were good or bad—and not till then.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11.—Political.—An attempt was made to hold a meeting here tonight, to appoint a Fremont electoral ticket for Maryland, but soon after the organization of the meeting, a crowd of men and boys forced their way into the room and drove out the Republicans assembled there.

Messrs. Cochrane, Gunnison, and Meredith, the principal parties to the meeting, were chased several squares, and were forced to take refuge in a store, from their assailants. Several others had to make their escape out of a back window of the hall.

This is in strict accordance with the platform of the Brooks and bludgeon party of Washington, of the law and order ruffians in Missouri and Kansas, of the law and murder party in California, and the slavery-extension party in S. Carolina, Virginia and elsewhere. Is it not an admirable specimen of liberty and liberality?

PORTRAITS OF PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.—We have received from the Brother Jonathan office, New York, a Sheet of six finely engraved portraits, viz; Buchanan and Breckinridge—Fremont and Dayton—and Fillmore and Donelson. Send a 3-cent postage stamp to B. H. DAY, 48 Beekman street, New York, and you will get the whole six of these Portraits free of postage. Cheap enough!

The Strafford Conference of Congregation-churches (embracing those in Strafford, Belknap and Carroll counties) will meet at Barnstead Parade on the 2d Tuesday, the 14th October, at 10 o'clock, P. M., and continue three days. Rev. B. F. Parsons is appointed to preach the opening sermon, and Rev. D. D. Tappan before the Communion on Thursday afternoon.

ONE MORE ANSWER TO RUFUS CHOATE.

Maine, Sept. 8, 1856.

DEAR RUFUS:—Yours of the –th ult. has been received and contents noted. We regret to disappoint a long tried champion of pure Democracy, but we cannot accede to your proposal. It is said that you desire to be Attorney General under Buchanan. We hope you may get it. We shall give Maine by 20,000 majority to Fremont.

In haste, yours &c.,

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

From the Hon. James P. Wells, of Cambridge.

DEC 22d, 1848.

DR. W. R. HAYDEN: Dear Sir.—Having been afflicted for a number of months with a severe chronic Diarrhoea, and as my Physician had considered my case nearly a hopeless one, a friend of mine persuaded me to try your Pills, and to the surprise of every one, after having taken one box, the painful symptoms nearly all left me. I continued the use of them, and am happy to state that I am as well as ever I was in my life. If you think my testimony of any value, you may use it.

I remain, sir, y'rs with gratitude and respect,

JAMES P. WELLS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "wed under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Norleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

VERY IMPORTANT.

Every family should keep a supply of Dyer's Healing Embrocation on hand, to be used in any emergency. It is decidedly the best remedy for burns, bruises, scalds, wounds or pains, either external or internal, ever introduced to the public.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has rescued so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. aug26m

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The Smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along,"—Six paces to the front, is the word to every body and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

PRINTING CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

It will seen by the official announcement of the Committee of Arrangements, that it has been decided to have this interesting Celebration in this city on Monday, October 6; and that Rev. Dr. Peabody, editor of the North American Review, has accepted an invitation to deliver the Oration.—The festivities announced by the committee indicate an extensive and agreeable Celebration; in which we hope and presume the printers of New Hampshire and New England generally, with many of the absent Sons of Portsmouth, and the people generally, will take a part.

The outside attractions will doubtless draw a large number of strangers into the city. Arrangements will probably be made with all the railroads in New Hampshire, and others near Portsmouth, to carry visitors on that occasion for half-price.

It will be seen that Gilmore's Salem Brass Band, the second bugler in which, Mr. John Parsons, is a native of Portsmouth, has been engaged for the occasion.

☞ A valuable and desirable piece of real estate is offered for sale this day at Auction, by H. F. Wendell, auctioneer.—See Auction column.

A LAMENT

FOR MARY E. SWASEY.

Gone home, to loved ones there in Heaven;
Gone where the chain of love is never riven;
Gone, ere the flowers she loved drooped low and perished—
Slowly hath sunk to rest the form we cherished.

Gone, when the air was full of balmy sweetness;
When skies were blue, and life seem bright and gay
With many a hope of joy, and social pleasure,
And many a long and happy future day.

Sad are the hearts that knew and loved thee well;
That shared thy kindly smile, and generous heart;
Though happier far, where thou art gone to dwell,
Yet must the heart beat quick when called to part.

We've watched the eye grow dim, the form decay,
And felt most truly thou must pass away.
And we should grieve not, thou hast gone to rest,
For well we know thou'rt numbered with the blest.

How sweet the thought, e'en while the tear doth fall,
Thou wast resigned to the Death Angel's call,—
Gave up the fleeting breath, and passed away,
In the glad hope of an immortal day.

Father, another of thy children safe at Home;
No more a sufferer here on earth to roam,
Another soul to tune a golden lyre,
And raise with the Redeemed, the chorus higher.

Rest calmly—sleep one long unbroken sleep,
While dear to memory, thy loved name we keep;
Believing though no more we greet thee here,
We'll meet thee, heart to heart, in realms more dear.

Portsmouth, Sept. 10, 1856. S. L. B. D.

The Dayton (Ohio) Gazette details a very remarkable instance of monomania, which has just terminated in that city, in the case of Rev. Joshua Upson, a Universalist clergyman, who died at 12 o'clock on Sunday night week. He has lived in an almost skeleton condition, abstaining from nourishment for fifteen, twenty and even thirty days in succession. He has maintained and believed that he did this under the direction of "the spirits," who promised by this course of discipline to develop him into a more extraordinary 'medium' than has hitherto been known. He lived under the impression that hundreds of disembodied spirits were constantly talking with him.

The Green Bay (Wis.) Advocate of the 28th ult. says that black and grey squirrels are now visiting the corn and wheat fields in that vicinity by thousands. Farmers are complaining bitterly of the destruction they make among the crops. This is accounted for in a great measure by a scarcity of most all kinds of nuts in the woods this season.

☞ On Thursday morning, Mr. James Morse, fell from the house of Mr. John Orne, Newburyport, where he was at work, and was probably fatally injured.

Mr. Brooks, in his speech at Columbia, recommended that, in the event of Fremont's election, the South should, "on the 4th of March next, march to Washington, seize the archives and the treasury of the government, and leave the consequences to God."

This is better that the chivalry did in 1814: they then took the archives and the money, and left the consequences and the Capitol to the British.—Providence Jour.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Steamer Fulton, from Havre, arrived this morning. She brings London and Havre dates of the 27th.

Rumors were prevalent of an Insurrection at Sicily. It was stated that the government of Naples, in consequence of some alarming news, which was carefully concealed from the people, hastily despatched a couple of steam frigates towards Palermo. The news may be merely a second report of the previous outbreak. Malta papers contain no notice of any such revolt.

A letter from Turin, dated Aug. 22. says that Piedmont is arming, and making warlike preparations, as if she was on the eve of a new collision.

The fortifications of Alexandria and Capalo were rapidly advancing. The troops were employed in constructing the works.

The delivery of furloughs was suspended, in order that as many men as possible may be present under arms from the 1st of September to the 15th of November.

An attempt at insurrection was made in the Grand Duchy of Tuscany by 50 young men, who were speedily put to flight by the Gens de Armerie at Orbetello.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—From Havana.—The Empire City brings Havana dates of the 6th inst. The Havana papers give detailed reports of the ravages of the late hurricane, which, in certain parts of the Island, especially at Sagua le Grande, caused great destruction of property, afloat and ashore.

The gale commenced on the 27th, reached its height on the 28th, and moderated 29th.

At Sagua, 6 American and 1 English vessel went ashore. Crews saved. The vessels were a total loss.

The light house at Cardenas was swept away, and at Matanzas and Sagua much damage was done to the crops.

The yellow fever is reported to be on the decline, and no new cases have occurred since the hurricane.

FROM KANSAS.—Correspondence of the Tribune.—Leavenworth, Sept. 1.—On Saturaday morning, Aug. 30, Gen. Lane insisted on opening the road from Lawrence to Leavenworth, as anticipated he would do, and went to render assistance to the Free State Men of Prairie City, who had another battle with the pro-slavery party on the same morning at daybreak, and news has just reached us that he drove them back into Missouri.

There was no battle, as reported, but a general retreat. The pro-slavery party numbered 2000. The Stringfellow wing at Lecompton, 500 in number, is burning houses and perpetrating other outrages.

Leavenworth is very quiet. It is supposed the Free State prisoners are with Stringfellow's command.

This afternoon a company of dragoons encamped in sight of Lawrence. There are none at Lecompton now. Eight hundred are guarding the prisoners charged with treason.

WASHINGTON, 12th.—Governor Geary and General Smith have been informed by telegraph that they will be furnished with more force, if needed to maintain the peace of the community, and punish all violence, by whomsoever perpetrated. Only the persons enrolled by Gen. Smith will be allowed to carry on military operations in Kansas.

VAN WAGNER AT THE FORGE.—Mr. Van Wagner gave the citizens of Biddeford one of his able and eloquent speaches on Friday afternoon. Some of the (——) men present declared that a mechanic could not make such a speech, and that Van Wagner was a lawyer and not a blacksmith. On learning this, Mr. Van Wagner proposed to go to the nearest blacksmith's shop and forge a pair of horse shoes. He was followed to a shop by quite a crowd, and there stripping to it, like a workman as he is, he forged in a very short time, two first rate horse shoes.

He spoke a second time in the evening, to a crowded audience, and the chairman then related the story and passed the horse shoes round for inspection of the audience.

Our thanks are due to him and to our friends in New York, for the rich treat we have enjoyed in listening to this truly eloquent speaker. Although he is what he he professes to be, a blacksmith, he has given some of the most eloquent, logical and effective speeches during this ampaign.—Portland Adv.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and rosate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

A New Music Book.

Adapted to the Wants of the Million.

JUST published by GEORGE P. REED & CO., Boston, the American Collection of Instrumental MUSIC.

The contents of this book consist of a large variety of Marches, Quicksteps, Waltzes, Contra Dances, Quadrilles, Cotillons, Polkas, Hornpipes, Reels, Mazurkas, and every shade and style of Music which is calculated to please the fancy and meet the wants of the musical community, and all arranged for Wind and Stringed instruments, such as the Violin, Flute, Clarionet, Cornet, Bugle, Violincello, and other instruments, with Piano Accompaniments.

It is a valuable work for all who use the Piano Forte, Organ, Melodeon, Seraphine, or any similar instrument.

It is well adapted to the wants of those who practice and desire Duetts, Trios, or Quartetts; it will be found invaluable for small or large companies of amateur Musicians, who may occasionally meet together for practice; and it is peculiarly fitted for use in small or large Quadrille and Cotillon Bands, since, in addition to the great and pleasing variety of popular music, it contains nine full sets of Quadrilles and Cotillons for full Bands, and an excellent selection of Walizes, Polkas, Schottisches, and other dance music. Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crosley." A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

Established, 1842.
H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.
This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.
This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considerd, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.
H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.
H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL
is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.
How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is! Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Ms. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

DR. CONVERS'
INVIGORATING CORDIAL,
AND NERVOUS ANTIDOTE.
This Cordial is the only remedy for those sad derangements of body and mind, caused by early and improper habits of youth.
N. B. That involuntary nocturnal loss of physical energy, productive of much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the victim for business, society, or matrimony, is speedily restrained by this Cordial. It is the only remedy which has effected the desired result in this malady.
Dr. CONVERS may be consulted personally or by letter, without charge, at his office 321 Hanover st., Boston, where all orders for the cordial should be sent. Dr. Convers' Medical work, 175 pages—
The Beacon; or, Guide from Youth to Manhood
—is the most important work ever published on these complaints. To young men it is invaluable. It will be given to those who purchase 3 bottles of Cordial.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OVER TWO MILLION ACRES
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.
THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the produce of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.
The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.
Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.
Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.
Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.
Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.
Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles in land, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expence of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.
The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses and the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.
The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.
PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.
The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.
Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.
As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.
READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.
They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.
Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.
It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.
Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of barn harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to
JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co., Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

DYER'S HEALING
EMBROCATION
EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL REMEDY

ALMOST miraculous are some of the cures effected by the use of this remarkable preparation. As a healing, pain destroying remedy
IT IS UNSURPASSED.
It is uniform in quality, convenient for application, neat and delicate in its nature, leaves no stain upon the dress or skin, and is unfailing in its curative properties and effects. It cures
RHEUMATISM,
Cuts, Wounds, Scalds, Bruises, Burns, Lumbago, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Neuralgia, Tooth Ache, Headache, Pains in the Side, Back or Limbs, Sore Throat, Ague, Cramps, &c. &c.
Physicians prescribe and recommend it with the most perfect confidence; and by the use of it themselves thousands have been saved from an untimely death.
Beware of imitations, and purchase none but the genuine, with the name of "Dyer's Healing Embrocation, Providence, R. I." blown in the glass, and the fac simile of the proprietor's signature upon the outside wrapper.

NEBRASKA ROUTE TO KANSAS.

We are able to present to our readers (says the Boston Telegraph) the following fresh and interesting information concerning the Iowa route to Kansas, and the prospect of its being kept open;

To the Editor of the Telegraph:—It will no doubt interest your readers and the public to learn what is the present condition of this route and the prospect of keeping it open henceforth; and I have obtained from Col. Dickey, who was the actual leader of Lane's party of Emigrants, who recently entered Kansas by this way, some some new information on these points.—Col. D. left Lawrence on the 22d and Topeka on the 24th ult., and came by way of Nebraska City and Iowa City. He reckons the distance from Topeka to Nebraska City, 130 miles, between 80 and 90 of which is in Kansas. He traveled this on horseback, and was in the saddle 25 hours. He met with no obstruction, so that up to the 25th this route was open.

Since the Missouri men have come in at the North of Kansas, and on the 30th, or about that time, a party of emigrants were waiting near Nebraska City for a sufficient number to join them to force their way in. It is not improbable that they have now gone on and are now in the Territory—for Col. D. is confident that the route cannot be kept closed. To do so would require a large force from Missouri, and they must be kept up at great cost, at such a distance from their friends and from supplies. The North Western part of Missouri is unfriendly to the Border Ruffians, and Col. D., who has lately been in those counties, thinks the free State men are in a great majority there. They went strong for Benton in the late election, and many of the people declare their wish to be annexed to Iowa, or in some way to get rid of slavery.

The three new towns in Northern Kansas have been temporarily abandoned by the inhabitants, who have gone to the defense of Lawrence. They will however return and occupy their positions again. It seems that the southermost of these towns is not named Concord, but still wants a name, not having chosen between "Greenwich" and "Houlton." This town, too, is further South than has been supposed—being nearly thirty miles south of Lexington. All three lie west, or north-west of the Kickapoo reserve, and have other free state settlements near them, on the various creeks in that region. Col. D. thinks the State fighting men in Kansas number between 2000 and 2500. Their chief wants are arms and clothing,—provisions are dear, but they do not fear starvation at present.

Col. Dickey is a native of Francestown, N. H., a brave and prudent man, who has done good service already, and hopes to do more. He will soon return to Kansas, and it is to be hoped, neither alone nor empty handed. Such men deserve our best support. F.

Concord, Sept. 12.

BORDER RUFFIAN STATEMENT.

A letter from Independence (Mo.) dated the 3d, to the St. Louis Republican, says:

"Since the skirmish at Ossawatomie, of which you were apprised, the pro-slavery party, for greater effectiveness, determined not to make any other attack on Lane's or Brown's forces until the 13th. Many of the different companies, who expected to remain only a few days, and were unprepared for a regular campaign, returned to their homes to make such preprartions as were required, and design coming back to prosecute the war with greater determination and boldness."

The same letter accuses the "abolitionists" of having on the 1st attacked one of the Santa Fe trains (Wm. McKinney's) and captured 20 wagons, oxen, provisions, &c. Bent's and other trains are behind, and it is feared they have shared the same fate. "We learn (says the writer) that Richardson is in the field, with seven or eight hundred men, and near Lawrence. It is expected that he will make an attack upon Lawrence in a day or two."

On the other hand, the Western Dispatch of the same date, also published at Independence, professes to fear an attack from Lane, with 3000 men and ten peices of artillery.

All the truth which can be got of these Ruffian stories, is that the Ruffians themselves are disorganized and in a terrible panic.

THE RAID UPON THE FREE STATE MEN AT LEAVENWORTH.—The St. Louis Democrat prints the statements of Dr. S. Norton, N. McCracken, S. A. Davies, Erank Quintal and Milton E. Clark, men who were driven out of Leavenworth by Capt. Emory and his band of murderers. These statements are very shocking to read; the events at Leavenworth are among the most painful that have taken place during the war. The darkest ages and most barbarous countries never harbored a more desperate band of villains than the men whom ——— has set at work to preserve "law and order" in Kansas.

KANSAS NEWS.—On the 30th of August Gen. Lane, with 400 men, marched to Bull Creek, in hopes of finding the Richardson invasion camp. On Sunday he came in sight of it, drew his men up into a line of battle. The enemy retreated, and he followed them nearly to the Missouri line, beyond which it is hoped they will stay.

Woodson, the acting Governor of Kansas, legalizes by a proclamation this armed invasion. Five free State men's houses were burnt last night in the vicinity of Lecompton. Stringfellow's army there numbers about 800, as he was reinforced yesterday.

The St. Louis News of the 9th, says confidently, that there is a lull in the Kansas war, which is probably the forerunner of peace. The army of Missourians recently rendezvoued near Westport, for the invasion of Kansas, is disbanded. Much the larger portion composing it, have returned home, leaving a small force of about 300 under Gen. Reid to protect the Territory.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1856.

SAMUEL H. WALLEY AND R. A. CHAPMAN.—The Boston Advertiser of Saturday, prints a letter from Hon. Samuel H. Walley, in which, (says the Advertiser,) he takes an intelligent and statesman-like view of political affairs, and concludes by frankly announcing his intention to vote for Fremont and Dayton, if his life is spared until the day of election. Mr. Walley, we need scarcely say, is a distinguished member of the whig party; he was a member of the 33d Congress, where he served ably and faithfully, and at the State election last year was the whig candidate for governor.

The same paper, of a previous date, contains "a very interesting letter upon public affairs, from Hon. R. A. Chapman of Springfield, one of the ablest and soundest whigs in Massachusetts—a member of the Whig State Central Committee, and one of the Vice Presidents at the recent Whig State Convention. Mr. Chapman takes position decidedly against both Buchanan and Fillmore. He gives a faithful survey of the history of Kansas, and points out the causes and consequences of the policy of the present administration with regard to that Territory with clearness and judgment."

Mr. Chapman closes thus:

If Mr. Fremont shall be our next President, I have the satisfaction of believing that he is in all respects a gentleman, a man of education, honor and ability, who has done ably whatever he has undertaken to do; and I believe he would not suffer the rights of the South to be encroached upon a single hair's breadth, nor encourage the annoying anti-slavery agitation which has been the policy of so many of his prominent supporters. And though he lacks political experience, and therefore is not such a man as the people of this country ought to select for the Presidency, yet he would prove to be a safer president for the country, and especially for the South, than Mr. Buchanan standing on the anti-Jeffersonian platform of Cincinnati, and anxious to signalize his administration by a new agitation to enforce the policy of his Ostend letter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Gov. Floyd of Va., publishes a card in the Evening Star, denying that he had offered to Mr. Fremont the nomination of the Cincinnati Convention. He admits having an interview with Col. F. in New York, but says: "After a short acquaintance I broke off all communication with him on political subjects, because I saw that the influences which governed him were abolition."

This denial establishes the drift of the assertion—and shows why the plan was abandoned.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The Laconia Gazette gives the following reports of cases tried at the late term in Gilford:

Mary A. Dow was arraigned for the crime of adultery, and entered a plea of "nolo contendere." Some facts were offered the Court in mitigation of sentence, which was made (we think) as light as possible—30 days in county jail, fine one dollar, and costs of prosecution, some fifty dollars more.

David Hall was next tried for an assault, with intent to kill, one Benjamin Dow.—This, according to the testimony, was one of the most premeditated, aggravated and cold-blooded attempts of murder ever made in this part of the country; so, it seems, thought the Court, as his sentence is—"Three months solitary confinement, and eight years hard labor in State Prison."

[If we remember the case aright, Mary A. Dow is Benjamin Dow's wife—and Hall her paramour.—The murder was a part of the criminal plot, to which the woman seems not to have been privy.—Ed. Chron.]

A number of liquor indictments were found, but only one tried, which resulted in "nonsuit;" and the others were for the most part "laid over."

☞ Godey's October No. of the Lady's Book contains three full page colored engravings, the greatest number ever yet given in any one month of a magazine—besides the usual variety.

The No. contains 60 Engravings, 100 pages, and 74 articles. The Star of Dawn will attract attention, while the four figure colored fashions continue to eclipse any thing in the fashion way. There is a new feature in this No.—Caps, &c., printed in colors, showing the real effect of them when made up.

The publisher notices several travelling impostors calling themselves agents, who have received names and money, but sent no books. He says, "Once for all, we have no traveling agents." L. A. Godey, publisher, Philadelphia.

☞ Thomas Hale Pettingill, Esquire, one of the oldest members of the Merrimack County Bar, died at his residence, in Salisbury, N. H., on Friday, the 8th day of August ult., in the 70th year of his age.

☞ Rev. Dr. Dewey has come out against slavery extension, in a late address.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HORSE SHOW.

THE HORSE FAIR.—We have already announced that on the 30th of September, in connexion with the County Fair, in Manchester, will be held a Show of the splendid horses of New Hampshire.

A list of premiums and Judges has been announced, some of which we give:

R. D. Moers, Chief Marshal.

PREMIUMS.

Stallions for General Utility.—Speed, Bottom, Blood and Docility considered.

Five years old and upward, 1st prem. $100; 2d, 50,00; 3d, 25,00; 4th, 15,00; 5th, 10,00.

Three or four years old, 1st prem. $40; 2d, 20,00. Two years old and under, 1st prem. $10,00; 2d, 5,00.

Breeding Mares with foal at foot.—1st prem. $40; 2d, 15,00; 3d, 5,00.

Matched Carriage Horses.—1st prem. $40; 2d, 20,00.

Family Horses.—Regard had to speed, bottom, docility, and all the points that make the best family horse for the city and country. First premium $50; 2d, 20,00; 3d, 10,00; 4th, 5,00.

Colts.—Two years old, 1st prem. $10; 2d, 5,00. Year old and under, 1st $10; 2d, 5,00.

Saddle Horses.—First premium $10; 2d, 5,00.

Trick Horses.—For the best trick horse a purse of $10. JUDGES—Albin Beard of Nashua, and all the other Editors in the State.

Trotting.—Under this head, mile heats, best two in three, to harness, on the half-mile track within the enclosure. The well known rules of trotting parks will govern. JUDGES to be selected on the spot by the Committee of Arrangements. Trotting to come off forenoons and afternoons of each day of the Fair, at precisely the times appointed, as designated in bills hereafter to be issued.

Fastest Trotting Stallions.—1st premium $100; 2d, 50,00; 3d, 35,00; 4th, 20,00; 5th, 10,00.

Fastest Trotting Geldings and Mares.—1st premium, $75; 2d, 50,00; 3d, 25,00; 4th, 15,00; 5th, 10,00.

Running Horses.—1st premium $20; 2d 10,00.

Pacing Horses.—The fastest pacing horse, a purse of $25.

Grand Foot Race.—Free for all competitors. A single half-mile dash. To the fastest a purse of $7,00; second-best, $3,00.

The Show is open to all horses in the State, upon the applicants' paying an entrance fee of five per cent upon the premium for which the horse is entered.

A horse may be entered for one or more premiums; the entrance fee for each premium being paid, for instance, as the best and the fastest stallion;—but if successful in both, his owner can select which of the two to take, as he will be allowed to carry off but one.

DOW, PECK, AND CARTER.—In Maine, before election, it was quite common for the Argus to speak very freely of these three men, and to represent the replacing them in power as an issue in the State election. Now, says Mr. Peck, of the Journal and Enquirer, Sept. 11,—

The people have showed them it was not Dow, Peck, and Carter, but Pierce, Atchison, and Douglas, with their confederate Border Ruffians, both North and South, together with the outrages which they had committed, that were in issue.

"SCOTT LEADS THE COLUMN."—Gen. Scott has declared privately to his friends that he cannot support Fremont, and is not prepared to go for Fillmore. The old hero will probably go for Buchanan and the party that "carries the flag and keeps step to the music of the Union."—N. H. Patriot.

Privately! and the Patriot is one of Gen. Scott's private friends, is it? Very important, if true—but ten chances to one its all bogus.

☞ At the Essex County (Mass.) Cattle Show, to be held at Newburyport early in October, George Peabody, the great London American banker, whose fame and liberality are known in both hemispheres, is expected to be present. He was once a resident of that city—and served as a clerk, in a store kept in the Mechanics' Bank building.

☞ On Tuesday, the 2d inst., Mr. Webster Parker, while at work with a log on the dam in Whitefield Village, N. H., was carried over and down the apron of the dam with great velocity, some twenty feet; and then dropping partly through a hole in the apron, was there confined about thirty minutes, and the water constantly pouring over him. A large crowd collected; much interest was felt until he was rescued from his perilous condition. He was taken out in a helpless state, and seems to be much bruised and injured, externally and internally, but hopes are entertained of his recovery.

GREAT FALLS, 13th.—The Mills, Nos. 1 and 2, of the Norway Plains Company, Rochester, were burned this morning about 7 o'clock. A portion of the machinery and stock were saved. Loss about one hundred thousand dollars; insured.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Sept. 12.—The Royal Mail Steamship Cambria, from Liverpool about 10 A. M., Saturday, 30th ult., arrived at this port early this afternoon.

The Arabia was taken into dock for examination, and found to have slightly damaged her keel; consequently the Cambria takes her place, but the Arabia will be dispatched as an extra ship on Sept. 4, for Boston.

The Atlantic arrived at Liverpool 7 A.M. on the 28th.

Liverpool Cotton Market.—The market opened weak, with an improved demand. Quotations unchanged.

Breadstuffs—advanced a shade higher. Flour advanced 1s, Wheat 2d, and Corn 1s a 1s 6d.

Provisions.—Beef and Pork unchanged.

London Money Market.—Consols dull and unchanged. American securities firm and a large business doing.

The British Royal family have gone to Scotland for the season.

Shocks of an earthquake were felt throughout Algeria on the 21st; they were slight at Algiers, strong at Constantine and Bona, and violent at Phillipville, where 22 successive shocks occurred, and several villages were destroyed, but there was little loss of life.

At Barcelona, 187 persons, condemned by court martial, had been embarked for Cuba and other colonies.

A Madrid letter, from a ministerial source, says: "The Ministers continue to be perfectly united amongst themselves, and the Queen places every confidence in them.

The marriage contract between Infanta Amelia and Prince Adalbert of Bavaria, has been signed at the palace.

The Free Trade Congress Committee at Brussels continue to receive adhesion of influential politicians in England and other countries. Nearly every Chamber of Commerce has appointed one or more members to attend.

In the same city, on the 17th of September, will meet the International Philanthropic Congress, to discuss practical questions relating to the social and economic life of the industrial classes.

☞ The Arabia arrived at Halifax, on the 13th, from Liverpool, bringing dates to Sept. 4. The additional news is of no great importance.

A sailor was called upon as a witness:

"Well, sir," said the lawyer," do you know plaintiff and defendant?"

"I don't know the drift of them words," answered the sailor.

"What, not know the meaning of plaintiff and defendant!" continued the lawyer; "a pretty fellow, to come here as a witness. Can you tell me where on board the ship it was that this man struck the other one?"

"Abaft the binnacle," said the sailor.

"Abaft the binnacle!" said the lawyer, "what do you mean by that?"

"A pretty fellow, responded the sailor, "to come here as a lawyer, and don't know what abaft the binnacle means."

OLD HUNDRED.—A correspondent of Dwight's Musical Journal "fears that 'Old Hundred' will prove to have been picked from the kennel, washed, combed, and made decent for the church," from examination now going on respecting the origin of this majestic old tune.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

From the Hon. James P. Walls, of Cambridge.

Dec 22d, 1846

DR. W. R. HAYDEN: Dear Sir.—Having been afflicted for a number of months with a severe chronic Diarrhoea, and as my Physician had considered my case nearly a hopeless one, a friend of mine persuaded me to try your Pills, and to the surprise of every one, after having taken one box, the painful symptoms nearly all left me. I continued the use of them, and am happy to state that I am as well as ever I was in my life. If you think my testimony of any value, you may use it.

I remain, sir, yours with gratitude and respect,

JAMES P. WELLS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to send under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all hope, when aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThrS 6m.

VERY IMPORTANT.

Every family should keep a supply of Dyer's Healing Embrocation on hand, to be used in any emergency. It is decidedly the best remedy for burns, bruises, scalds, wounds or pains, either external or internal, ever introduced to the public.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au8*3m

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, scatters the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it: if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS,

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

Now that the time is fixed for the celebration of the anniversary of the planting of the first Printing Press in New Hampshire,—and the place decided upon, every individual who has the welfare of Portsmouth at heart, should aid the affair as much as in them lies.

The first printing-press was set up in New Hampshire, at Portsmouth, in September, 1756; and the first newspaper, (the New Hampshire Gazette) was issued on the 7th of October following. So the day now to be celebrated, is exactly the anniversary of one of the events we commemorate. (We don't wish to revive the discussion of the "century question.")

The event we celebrate is worthy of all notice and honor—in the which all parties and people may well join. The establishment of the printing-press, the mightiest instrument of improving, civilizing, enlightening and christianizing mankind!—Besides which, the maintaining of a newspaper, in the same place, and with the same title, for an hundred years successively, is without a precedent in America, we believe.

It was originally designed to have the celebration on the 26th of September; but as says Br. Beard of the Nashua Telegraph, (who has ever been very strongly in favor of the gathering,) it "was regarded as a little unfortunate that the day fixed on, was Friday, the eventful 'publication day' of most of the papers in the State."

The arrangements being made are on the most liberal scale; and no effort will be spared by the Committee to arrange a fitting order of exercises—which is all that can be desired. We presume the Oration will be delivered in the Temple,—with a Poem by a distinguished son of Portsmouth, new residing in another city; and Singing of an original Ode, and other pieces, by a male quartet selected for the occasion.—Gilmore's celebrated Salem Brass Band will also perform some of their concert pieces.

Those exercises will probably take place before the Dinner—which it is contemplated to have in a Tent—as we have no hall which would accommodate a quarter of those who will wish to attend. The Procession will probably be formed immediately after the arrival of the early trains of cars; and after marching through our principal streets, will enter the Temple.

It is also designed to have a Regatta, between Portsmouth Bridge and the Narrows—though we cannot announce definite arrangements as yet.

There will also be a Ball at Congress Hall in the evening—the music by the favorite Salem Quadrille Band.

Everything now indicates a grand celebration. The railroads throughout the State, and other roads near us, will, without doubt, bring visitors for half price.—Every editor and publisher of newspapers in New-Hampshire will be invited; with others of the craft who live near us, and others yet who claim nativity here. The N. H. Historical Society have voted to attend; and there is sufficient in the event we celebrate, and the manner we are to notice it, to draw in a city-full of people.

Especially appropriate is it, that the editor of the North American Review, which stands at the head of American literature, for which it is, in a great degree, indebted to the present editor,) should be selected as the Orator on the occasion.

☞ We have devoted considerable space this morning to the Printing Celebration—but no more than we think the subject demands. Besides the importance of the event to be celebrated, it is for the benefit of the city to draw in a crowd of visitors. We have had no such gathering here since the Sons' reception in 1853, except the Free Masons' celebration last year. And every citizen who can, should contribute something towards defraying the expenses.—They will have opportunity.

THE FRANKLIN CELEBRATION.—The Boston masons are making great preparations for the inauguration of a statue of Franklin there on Wednesday, the 17th inst. The procession will combine a great variety of departments, and all the proceedings are expected to be of uncommon interest.

Among the display, will be the old Printing Press of the late John Melcher, Esq., in his city, which has been removed from his office in Chesnut street the present week, and forwarded to Boston. This press has the initials of Draper, marked in 1742, when the press was used by him in Boston. Mr. Melcher has frequently stated that Franklin worked at that press. Fowle removed from Boston to Portsmouth, bringing the first press into New Hampshire, just one hundred years ago this month. Mr. Melcher was an apprentice to him, and his successor, and was likely to be well informed on the history of the press. In those days they were scarce articles, and looked upon as a greater curiosity than those immense presses now are which print ten thousand an hour.

The course of the procession will lead by the various places with which Franklin is associated, to the City Hall in School street where the statue is to be placed. Here accommodations are to be erected for the City government and invited guests to the number of several thousands, and the ceremonies are to take place. These will consist of an address by Hon. R. C. Winthrop, chairman of the original Monument Committee of subscribers; singing of an original Ode by James T. Fields; an address by F. W. Lincoln, Esq., President of Charitable Mechanic Association; and a closing address by Mayor Rice. There will be, besides, appropriate religious exercises.

CENTENNIAL PRINTING CELEBRATION.—The Committee of Arrangements are requested to meet at the Gazette office this evening, at 1-2 past 7 o'clock, on business of importance, connected with the Celebration.

☞ On Saturday last, the Democracy of Ward 3 raised a fine flag-staff, something over 90 feet in height, on Brown's Hill, near the South Mill Bridge, at which time a salute of 32 guns was fired.

To-day it will be dedicated by an oration, and a flag (the 17th in this city) run up.

ANOTHER YET.—A large and beautiful flag was spread to the breeze on Saturday, in Vaughan street, opposite Raitt's Court. It bears on one side the inscription "We go for the Union—no more slave States—Fremont & Dayton." On the reverse, "The People's Choice—Fremont, Dayton &—Free Kansas."

☞ The two-story house, with about two acres of land, at Pleasant Point, near Newcastle Bridge, was sold on Saturday by H. F. Wendell, Esq., for $1300, to Mr. Cook. The other house with most of the land, was not offered.

SIGHTS.—On Saturday morning, two men drunk before 10 o'clock,—in the public streets.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—One hundred free State refugees arrived at St. Louis yesterday, entirely destitute. They say that a large number of families had taken refuge at Fort Leavenworth.

It was reported that a large number of free State women and children were killed at Sturgis Creek, on Wednesday the 3d inst.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11.—A terrible riot occurred this P. M., between a Fillmore club and a party of men at the 17th ward Democratic Headquarters in this city. Two men were shot dead, and 20 others wounded; several, it is believed, fatally. The fight lasted only a few minutes, but the firing was heavy and severe. Neither of the men killed was engaged in the fight, and most of those wounded were residents in the vicinity, attracted to the spot by the disturbance.

ART INTELLIGENCE.—Delaroche's painting of "Marie Antoinette coming from Judgment," has been returned to Paris by Goupil & Co. It was brought out under bonds of $20,000 and the exhibitors were obliged to effect an insurance upon it for $10,000. The proposition to exhibit it in Boston was relinquished in consequence of troubles at the Custom House, Col. Peaslee, the Collector, being unwilling, according to an article in The Crayon, to follow the example of the Collector of New York, and exercise discretionary power, permitting the picture to be seen, satisfied that the government incurred no risk in so doing.

The Collector at the port of New York allowed Messrs. Goupil & Co. to enter and exhibit this painting of Marie Antoinette, in bond, that is to say, to have the picture in their keeping, they giving bonds to pay the duty it was subject to, as a foreign production, in case the picture should ever be sold in the country.

☞ At a firemen's supper at Burlington, Edward Bradley gave the following toast; "Ladies of '56—like the fireman's bucket, well hooped; and, like firemen; delighting in the exhibition of their hose.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

CHILSON'S NEW CONE FURNACE.

HAVING been appointed Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Furnace, for Portsmouth and vicinity, we beg to call the especial attention of those in want of Furnaces for warming buildings to a careful examination of an invention that must commend itself to every intelligent mind.—Especially do we invite those having first-class dwellings, who have hitherto been prejudiced against the use of the common Hot Air Furnaces, for their extravagant waste of fuel, insufficient heating power, and scorching, dry, unhealthy heat from the red-hot iron pots, and escape of poisonous gases through the joints of the trail heaters. Chilson's NEW CONE FURNACE overcomes all of these objections, and secures a saving of at least FIFTY PER CENT, in fuel over the common Furnaces. This is accomplished by retaining the smoke and gases in a cluster of cones over the fire, each cone serving as a retort in bringing the rays of heat and light to a focus at their tops, not unlike the action of the Sun on a sun-glass. By this the formerly wasted smoke and gases are made to warm the house. No one should fail of seeing this invention before deciding on their heating apparatus. There are sizes adapted to all classes of buildings. We give our especial attention to the putting up of these Furnaces on Mr. Chilson's new plan of setting them, and under his directions. We also sell Chilson's TRIO PORTABLE FURNACES and TRIO STOVES, embracing the same principle as the Cone Furnaces; also, Cooking Ranges, Stoves, Registers, Ventilators, &c.

E. A. STEVENS,
Sept. 15. 46 Market street.

WE would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth that we have appointed MR. E. A. STEVENS our Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Cone Furnace in Portsmouth and vicinity, to whom we would recommend all in want of a Furnace, FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER MODE OF WARMING IN THIS OR ANY OTHER COUNTRY.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crow & Co.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

WILLIAM CROWDER & SON,
Oversly Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them

Wholesale at $1.50 per M.
Retail at 6¼ cts. per paper of 25.

H. R. COBURN'S OIL WORKS.

Established, 1842.

H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with lce, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL

Is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.

How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is! Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, oats, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first year, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course our their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five equal instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds all be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

BROOKS AT HOME.—When this ruffian resigned his seat, he called on his constituents to express their opinion of his attempted assassination of Sumner, at the polls, upon the question of his re-election, and he expressly demanded a full and unanimous vote, if his deed was approved. In the present fanatical state of public opinion in South Carolina, it would hardly have been safe for persons to vote viva voce directly against this favorite ruffian; but nevertheless six citizens did announce their votes against his re-election, and, notwithstanding the high pressure in favor of a full vote, some 1,247 citizens took the safer course of staying away from the polls altogether! Brooks' district consists of five divisions, which, at his re-election voted as follows, compared with the vote they gave him two years ago, when he had no especial "claim" to their support:

	1856.	1854.	Loss.
Lexington,	983	1172	189
Edgefield,	2261	2789	629
Newberry,	1391	1489	96
Abbeville,	1616	1795	179
Laurens,	1771	1826	155
Total,	7922	9179	1247

From these figures it would rather seem that even in the Palmetto State there is a respectable minority against ruffianism in high places; though, from the risk of being themselves its subjects, they have at present no other way of expressing their sentiments than the silent one of withholding their votes entirely. The election of Fremont will "let up" this class of overawed freemen.—Lowell News.

Mrs. Eliza Pinkham of Lowell, committed suicide by hanging herself with a bed cord, on Sunday last. She was 61 years of age, and lived with her son-in-law, Mr. N. C. Kempton. Mr. and Mrs. K. were at meeting (says the Lowell Courier) and had left their little child with Mrs. Pinkham. It appears she fed the child, got it to sleep, and put it to bed—got her pen and paper, and wrote the disposal of her property. She appeared somehat melancholy for several weeks, but not sufficient to give the family the least suspicion of the fatal termination. A daughter of Mrs. Pinkham drowned herself about two years ago.

THE SALT TRADE OF GLOUCESTER.—More than 200,000 bushels, or about ten large ships' cargoes, are required for her extensive fisheries annually, an amount larger than that consumed by any other port in New England. The salt trade of New England is now largely in the hands of her merchants, and cargoes are purchased in Boston, and others imported on Gloucester account and shipped to that town, and to Portsmouth, Newburyport, Beverley, Marblehead, and elsewhere among the fishing ports.

CHILSON'S NEW CONE FURNACE.

HAVING been appointed Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Furnace, for Portsmouth and vicinity, we beg to call the especial attention of those in want of Furnaces for warming buildings to a careful examination of an Invention that must commend itself to every intelligent mind.—Especially do we invite those having first-class dwellings, who have hitherto been prejudiced against the use of the common Hot Air Furnaces, for their extravagant waste of fuel, insufficient heating power, and scorching, dry, unhealthy heat from the red hot iron pots, and escape of poisonous gases through the joints of the frail heaters. Chilson's NEW CONE FURNACE overcomes all of these objections, and secures a saving of at least FIFTY PER CENT, in fuel over the common Furnaces. This is accomplished by retaining the smoke and gases in a cluster of cones over the fire, each cone serving as a retort in bringing the rays of heat and light to a focus at their tops, not unlike the action of the Sun on a sun-glass. By this the formerly wasted smoke and gases are made to warm the house. No one should fail of seeing this invention before deciding on their heating apparatus. There are sizes adapted to all classes of buildings. We give our especial attention to the putting up of these Furnaces on Mr. Chilson's new plan of setting them, and under his directions. We also sell Chilson's TRIO PORTABLE FURNACES and TRIO STOVES, embracing the same principle as the Cone Furnaces; also, Cooking Ranges, Stoves, Registers, Ventilators, &c.

E. A. STEVENS,
Sept. 15. 48 Market street.

WE would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth that we have appointed MR. E. A. STEVENS our Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Cone Furnace in Portsmouth and vicinity, to whom we would recommend all in want of a Furnace, FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER MODE OF WARMING IN THIS OR ANY OTHER COUNTRY.

SOUTHERN MECHANICS.

The mechanics of the South are one of the classes that suffer from the slave institution. They suffer more than any other class, except the lower white laborers who, considering their social superiority over the blacks, are worse off than the slaves, and the slave owners whom the institution particularly corrupts. Yet even the Southern mechanics prove that whatever may be the forms under which they live, the people may retain much independence. We gave the other day, an account of a demonstration of white mechanics against the employment of black mechanics, at Columbia, South Carolina; and a like question has been raised in Louisiana. This, (says the Newburyport Herald, very truly,) is a bad issue to be made in a slaveholding community, for the safety of the institution depends not upon the power of the slave owners, who are few and therefore weak, but in the acquiescence of the non-slaveholding whites. There is no State in the Union where the slave owners are one-third of the free population, and in some they are not over one-tenth, and are relatively decreasing every day. But the free whites have been as true to slavery and as ready to punish abolitionism, as any body. This contest may make a breach, since it will appear that the two classes have distinct and antagonistic interests. The slave owners wish the blacks to become mechanics, since it not only enhances the market prices of particular slaves, by making them more valuable to their owners than they would be on the plantation, but by extending the field of colored labor, it adds value to all blacks, as Gov. Wise said it would have done to have secured California to the South. Therefore we were told some time since, that the demand for Northern mechanics was in part to educate slaves to the use of tools; and already so many have learned, that white mechanics are being dispensed with to give them place. This gave cause to the emeute at Columbia, where more than 2900 of the people out of 6000 are colored; and where the competition between the white and colored mechanics had become very great. They have now carried this question into their politics, and are interrogating the candidates for the Legislature, on the subject. The answers of two of them have been published, and both were in favor of the employment of negro mechanics. Mr. Allen J. Green says:

"I am 'in favor of the unrestrained right of the citizens to employ mechanics without regard to color or condition;' always bearing in mind, however, that by the laws of the State, no slave, whether mechanic or not, has a right to make a contract for himself, or to hire his own time."

Mr. William Wallace says:

"Drive out the negro on account of his coming in competition with the white man in mechanical pursuits, and the same principle will force you to drive him out from competition in all other kinds of labor. I need scarcely say that I am opposed to such a principle."

They have tempered their answers somewhat, but the real sentiment of the aristocracy of South Carolina is better conveyed by their newspapers, which are full of articles like this:

"Slavery is the natural and normal condition of the laboring man, whether white or black. The great evil of Northern free society is, that it is burdened with a servile class of mechanics and laborers, unfit for self-government, and yet clothed with the attributes and powers of citizens. Master and Slave is a relation in society as necessary as that of parent and child; and the Northern States will yet have to introduce it. Their theory of free government is a delusion."

The Herald subjoins the following reremarks:

They would be glad to rid themselves of all persons, who being laborers are "yet clothed with the attributes and powers of citizens;" for, as the Richmond Enquirer asserts, "the South now maintains that slavery is right, natural and necessary, and does not depend upon difference of complexion. The laws of the state justify the holding of white men in bondage."—Northern laborers or any others, are viewed as a degraded class, and are the more odious where they possess the right of suffage. The danger from them is to be removed if possible, by substituting for whites, blacks. Here is the real cause of the strike by the Columbia mechanics; and if the war is continued it may awaken a feeling of hostility to slavery in the South, which would be much more powerful for abolition than anything that could be done here, since they could legally and properly act for the overthrow of the institution itself.

We are accustomed to look upon the South as States of slaveholders, because the planters by their superior intelligence, political tact, and combination in one interest, have so managed, while in a minority, as to induce the belief that they were a majority in numbers; but the census of 1855 shows us, that the planters, who are the large slaveholders, numbered in South Carolina but 8,407, while the laborers were nearly as numerous, (7,753,) and the clerks, carpenters, smiths and shoemakers, were nearly 5000 more; and beyond these were thirty-three thousand farmers, growing wheat, Indian corn, potatoes, and other products of northern farming, and having the same interests and occupations as the farmers of the north and west. But all of these forty or fifty thousand farmers and mechanics, to whom slavery is an injury and curse, are governed and controlled by the gentleman planters, who attend to politics and religion, hold office and make the laws, while their negroes in droves are working their land like beasts of burden. Even should the present difficulty between the laboring and non-laboring whites of South Carolina be settled, yet some day the masses of the South will dispute the supremacy of the party that controls and governs them, and the denunciation of the oligarchy will be more loud and fierce in the South, than it is now in the Republican meetings of the North.

If the slaveholders would transmit their power to their children, we do not blame them that they declare slavery the divine state of labor—that they drive out white mechanics, banish booksellers, rob the mails, and set up barriers against the progress of the age, hedging themselves in the darkness of feudalism. They must suspend newspapers, stop building railroads, and cut the telegraph wires, or the time will come, even in their own day, when a social and political system, founded in wrong, will totter to its downfall. And when down it goes—as down it will go, as sure as the heavens stand—it will be by the action of the mechanics and laborers of the South, whom to-day it tramples upon, and to-morrow would enslave, if it had the courage and the power to do so.

MAINE ELECTION.

The Portland papers contain large returns from the State. In 450 towns, in the Advertiser, Hamlin for Governor, has 67,081; Wells 42,746; Pat. & scat. 6036.—But, as in twelve towns the majority only is given, the aggregate vote is two thousand larger than the tables make it. There are 43 towns and plantations to hear from which last year gave Morrill 997, Wells 1109, Reed 286, and which will increase the aggregate of votes thrown in the State to upwards of one hundred and twenty thousand.

Hamlin's vote will come well up to seventy thousand, his majority over Wells and Patten to about nineteen thousand, and his plurality over Wells to twenty-five thousand.

The House of Representatives consists of 151 members. 141 elected, of which 119 are Republicans and 22 Democrats. The full house will probably stand Republicans 125, Democrats 26.

The Senate will stand Republican 30, Democrat 1.

Members of Congress, six Republicans, by majorities from 1000 to 7000.

The Bangor Journal of Saturday, has full returns from Aroostook County, by which it appears that the democratic party had a majority of 505, and elected their Senator. The returns foot up:—Wells 1394, Hamlin 767, Patten 18. The entire County Union ticket was elected by a majority of over 500. G. W. Smith (dem.) was elected Senator. William Dickey (Dem.) P. P. Burleigh (dem.) and Peter Dunn (rep.,) were elected representatives.

NEW POLITICAL BOOKS.—Messrs Dix, Edwards & Co. of New York City, have just published the following new books for the times. They are for sale by A. Williams & Co. Boston, and by J. H. Foster, Portsmouth.

Political Essays, by Parke Godwin:—a neat volume, 350 pages. There are nine essays, on these subjects, viz.

Our Parties and Politics, The Vestiges of Despotism, Our Foreign Influence and Policy, Annexation, "America for the Americans," Should we fear the Pope? The Great Question, Northern or Southern, which? Kansas must be free.

A pamphlet of 164 large pages, entitled, A History, of the struggle for Slavery extension or restriction in the United States, from the Declaration of Independence to the present day. Mainly compiled and condensed from the journals of Congress and other official records, and showing the vote by yeas and nays on the most important divisions in either house. By Horace Greeley.

Another pamphlet of 46 pages, entitled, "The Duty of the American scholar to politics and the times. An Oration, delivered on Tuesday, August 5, 1856, before the Literary Societies of Wesleyan University. Middleton, Conn. By George William Curtis.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13.—Two Irishmen, named James Caldwell and John Malone, have been arrested at Cheraw, S. C., on a charge of being abolitionists. They were put into the hands of a committee, to be sent to the free States.

NAVAL.—The frigate Independence arrived off Panama the 31st ult., from Callao; all well. The sloop-of-war St. Mary's was still at Panama, and the Saratoga at Aspinwall; the officers and crews of both vessels in good health.

TEMPERANCE MEETINGS. — During the last two or three months, a large number of temperance meetings have been held in different parts of Massachusetts, says the Telegraph, with more than usual success. One week ago last Sabbath, four meetings were held in Fitchburg, by Mr. Thompson, of the State Temperance Committee. At one of the meetings it was decided to organize a new society. The pledge was circulated and two hundred and sixty signed it, among whom were a large number of young men. Forty more signed at another meeting. Short addresses were delivered by a number of clergymen. Notwithstanding the political excitement, the meetings are still well attended, and we have seldom known so large gatherings as at this season of the year.

New societies have been formed in Lynn, Danvers, North Danvers, Lowell, Dorchester, Holliston, West Medway, Hopkinton, Plymouth, Walpole, South Walpole, Dedham, Quincy, Warren, Weymouth, Middleboro' Newton Upper Falls, Reading, and several other places.

In some towns cold water armies have been formed among the children with great success.

TEMPERANCE.—The Keene Sentinel informs us that the State Temp. Com. have called a State Convention to be held at the Town Hall, in Keene, the ninth day of October next. Neal Dow and other distinguished speakers will address the Convention. The annual meeting of the Grand Division of S. of T. will be held at the Sons' Hall in Keene, on Wednesday, the eighth of October next. Hon. Neal Dow will give a public lecture at the Town Hall on the same evening.

POLICE COURT, CONCORD.—Jonathan Fellows was before the court on complaint of B. F. Gale City Marshal, for selling one pint of intoxicating liquor to John Davis. The court ordered the respondent to recognize in the sum of $200 to the Supreme Judicial Court.

Fellows was immediately arraigned on another complaint for selling one half pint of intoxicating liquor at another time to Mr. Davis. The court required the respondent to give bonds in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the S. J. Court, also to keep the peace and not violate the provisions of the liquor law again.

A French ship, name unknown, with a cargo of sugar, from Havana, went ashore on the Florida Reef, on the 28th ult., and several lives were lost with the ship and cargo.

PROFITABLE AMUSEMENT & GENERAL GOOD.—At the North it has been, and is customary to decorate churches, endow schools, and perform various other excellent works through the auxiliary of Ladies' Fairs; in the conduct of which a lottery, on a small scale, is generally an important item, and a device largely patronized, because it is conducted on the principle of mutual benefit. In the Southern States, where lotteries are protected by State laws and supervised by State officers, while they are resorted to for the same laudable purposes, they are conducted upon the most ample scale, and some of them present remarkable chances for winning a fortune, by indulging in a quiet and attractive recreation at a trifling expense, and at the same time contributing toward a public good, whose blessings will be felt as far as human knowledge and wisdom can extend their influence. Such, we believe, is the case with the Fort Gaines' Academy Lottery, the circular of which has been forwarded to us by S. Swain & Co. of Atlanta, Georgia. It is a remarkable fact in the features of this scheme, and one which adds to its interest and importance, that, while it has for its object a great public good, out of 30,000 tickets, more than half must draw something for the holder, as there are 15,185 prizes, ranging from $8 up to $40,000.—And let it be remembered that all have an equal chance, the person who never purchased a ticket as those who have done so for years. The drawing of the Fort Gaines' Academy Lottery, we see, is announced to take place on the 27th of September next, and we notice that whole tickets are $10, and halves and quarters in proportion. All orders addressed to S. Swain, Montgomery, Ala., or Swan & Co., Atlanta, Ga., will be promptly attended to.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all hope, and taken before consuming its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThS 6m.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au28m

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "wend under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE SEASON AT SARATOGA.—The Saratoga Press reports the arrivals at the hotels in that village from June 17th to September 5th, a period of seventy-five days, to amount to 20,171. It adds: "As there are a number of small hotels and private boarding-houses whose arrivals are not mentioned in the above, 30,000 would be a moderate estimate for the grand total arrivals here during the season of 1856. The hotels will all continue open till the 1st of October, and the prospect is that they will do a good business for some weeks yet."

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

At a meeting of the citizens' Committee of Arrangements, on Monday evening, (Hon. R. Jenness, Chairman,) it was voted to petition the City Council to appropriate $500 in aid of the Printing Centennial Celebration—provided a like sum shall be subscribed by the citizens—and to appoint from the Aldermen and Common Council committees to co-operate with this committee in suitably carrying through the celebration. [It will be remembered that $500 was thus conditionally appropriated for the 4th of July, which was never called for—and the idea is in a manner to transfer the appropriation.] The petition will be circulated to-day; and we have no doubt will receive the signatures of everybody; and that the like amount will be readily subscribed by citizens.

Messrs. E. N. Fuller and Samuel Gray were appointed a Committe to issue invitations, &c.

It was voted to have a Regatta, and the following gentlemen were appointed as committee of arrangements.

Leonard Cotton, Nathaniel Sherburne, Henry L. Richards, James B. Parrott, Freeman G. Beal, N. K. Raynes, Wm. C. Merrill, Thomas H. Odiorne, Samuel S. Green, Edwin Pierce, Frank W. Miller.

It was voted to invite (through the papers) the Mercantile Library Association, Mechanics' Association, Free Masons and Odd Fellows' Lodges, Young Men's Christian Association, and other Societies, and citizens generally, to join in the Procession.

☞ Rt. Rev. Bishop Chase is to visit this city on Wednesday, and will administer the rite of confirmation, at St. John's Church.

☞ A Conference of Congregational Churches, within the bounds of the Piscataqua Association, will be held in this city, on Wednesday, in connection with the North Church.

EREMONT PHALANX, ATTENTION!— Members of the Fremont Phalanx will meet at Rechab Hall, this (Tuesday) evening at half-past 7. Per order.

PRESIDENT PIERCE.— The Newburyport Herald of the 15th says: "It is reported that President Pierce will make his residence at Portsmouth, N. H., after the 4th of March next, instead of returning to Concord. He is now negotiating, we understand, for an estate. There is no question that he would have much more enjoyment of four years at Portsmouth, than he has had in the the last four years of Washington."

☞ On Monday, a fine large flag, bearing the names of Fremont & Dayton, was raised between two lofty poles, near the residence of Thomas Penhallow, Esq., in Greenland.

FROM KANSAS.—Chicago, Sept. 12.—Private advices from Kansas city, announce that Lane was about to attack Westport, Kansas City and Independence. Also, that the free State men had surrounded Richardson's forces, north of Lawrence, and cut off his retreat.

Gov. Geary had arrived at Leavenworth, had a consultation with Gen. Smith, and would proceed to Lawrence in a few days.

Sept. 13.—The St. Louis Democrat of yesterday announces that Gen. Richardson was taken prisoner by the free State men north of Lawrence, and carried before Lane, who restored his arms and sent him back under escort.

Great consternation is exhibited at Leavenworth, in consequence of the rumored attack by Lane. Gen. Smith had sent four companies to protect the town. Lane meanwhile was still in Lawrence, with no intention of leaving his position.

☞ The mails of Monday confirm the late telegraphic accounts of outrage and slaughter in Kansas, and give many distressing details, for which we have not room.

☞ Speaking of a Pic-nic at Manchester, last week, the Mirror says, "they had a pleasant time, but some of the ladies complained that there was a lack of beaux, and that some of those present were too much taken up with politics.— The ladies are not particularly pleased with this campaign, we think: they do not like the idea of a confirmed old bachelor to rule over them; nor of a man whose wife's name is always coupled with his own, giving the idea that she wears the breeches half the time. Mischievous persons say, that the fair sex don't like to hear gentlemen praise any particular lady besides themselves. We can't say how that is."

☞ Mr. Alexander, of Woodford, Ky., has purchased the celebrated race horse Lexington. He met Mr. Ten Broeck in England, and the purchase was made there. He paid $15,000—the highest price ever paid for any horse in the United States.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

On Sunday, the steamship George Law arrived at New York, bringing California dates to August 20th, and $1,600,000 in treasure.

The Vigilance Committee of San Francisco released Judge Terry on the 7th ult. On the 18th they held a grand review of their forces, amounting to over 4000 men, from which time their active functions ceased for the present. Measures were on foot to nominate a ticket of honest men for State officers. A fund of $32,000 had been raised for the family of King, whose murder gave rise to the organization of the Vigilance Committee. Murders, robberies, and assaults had become more frequent.

A brief abstract of the intelligence will be found below.

The Vigilance Committee at San Francisco have signalized themselves, since our previous advices, by the unconditional release of Judge Terry, on the 7th of August, and by a grand parade and review of their whole forces on the 18th.

Although no official notice of the fact was given, yet it appears to have been understood that the functions of the Committee ceased, at least for the present, with the parade of their forces, which numbered between 4000 and 5000 troops.

A People's Nominating Committee had been appointed at San Francisco, which promised to put forward the names of honest people to fill the various offices at the approaching election.

The first State Convention of either of the political parties was called by the republicans, to meet at Sacramento on the 27th ult.

The committee appointed to receive contributions to the King testimonial, report the receipt of about $32,000, which had been conveyed to trustees for the benefit of the widow and children of the late editor of the Bulletin.

The yield of peaches, pears, melons, etc. was very bountiful, and exceedingly fine throughout California. The grain crops were also coming in well.

There was a great fire at Diamond Springs on the 7th ult., which destroyed $500,000 worth of property.

Rather more than the average number of murders, robberies, and assaults of a less grave character have taken place within the past fortnight.

One of the most desperate cases occurred on the 12th ult., when a party of six highwaymen attacked in open day the Cantonville stage coach, on its way to Marysville. There was about 100,000 in treasure on the stage at the time, and the coach was full of passengers, who gallantly defended themselves and their property. Some 40 shots were interchanged, and the coach was riddled with balls. One passenger, a woman, was shot through the brain, and several others seriously wounded. The robbers were compelled to retreat without the coveted booty.

Judge Terry, after his release at San Francisco, went on board the U. S. sloop-of-war John Adams, for protection, and on the following Saturday, proceeded to Sacramento, where his friends, and the "law and order" party received him publicly, and congratulated him on his delivery from the hands of the Vigilance Committee at San Francisco.

The San Francisco Herald says the Vigilance Committee have not disbanded, and that they will assemble again at the tap of the bell.

The reported fact that the several companies are to retain their arms, and keep up their organizations, would seem to justify the belief that should any new occasion arise, the committee will again show their power.

The total export of the treasure from California ports, is rising $30,000,000 for the past 7 months.

It was known that the yield of wheat, barley, etc., has been much larger than ever before, but the breadstuff markets were very firm, and the quantity offering less than usual. Large shipments continue to be made to Australia.

GREELEY MOVEMENT IN NEW YORK.— New York, Sept. 13.—A meeting of working men was held at the Tabernacle last evening, for the purpose of advocating the nomination by the Republicans, of Horace Greeley for Governor. It was well attended. Speeches were made, and appropriate resolutions passed.

THE MISSING LETTERS.—The Newburyport Herald says that several letters, containing valuables, which were posted at that office, one containing $200, but never reached the persons to whom they were directed, have been traced by Mr. Holbrook, the Mail Agent, to a dishonest clerk in the post office at Providence.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

H. R. COBURN'S
OIL WORKS.
Established, 1842.

H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL

is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.

How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is? Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Ms. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OVER TWO MILLION ACRES
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc., afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc., will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

Morning Chronicle.

THE QUEEN OF OUDE.—Southampton, England, Aug. 20.—The Indus arrived this evening. Among her passengers are the Queen Dowager of Oude, and the brothers and sons of the ex-King, with one hundred and six followers.—The Queen Dowager is a good looking woman, of dark complexion, fifty-five years of age, and very intelligent. She is very sanguine as to the success of her mission to this country for the restoration of her son to the throne of Oude.

She has £80,000 for current expenses. The jewelry she lost on her voyage was worth £50,000. Some portion of this was intenned for presents to the Queen or England. The brother of the ex-King is a fine, tall man, and is a general in the Oude army.

The son of the ex-King is a very handsome youth. They dress in a most magnificent style, their head-dresses being covered with diamonds and emeralds. Many of the followers are small, poor-looking men, and exceedingly dark. They are shoemakers, tailors, cooks, and other trades. They were working all day long on board. The cooking, apparently, never ceased. The Queen of Oude and suite occupied the whole forepart of the ship, where a cooking galley was fitted up. The party lived upon rice, curry, sheep and lambs, between Alexandria and Southampton. The dishes were usually served up of carrys and pillaus. The Queen of Oude occasionally sent into the saloon for the English passengers a curry or pillau, and such dishes were found to be delicious.

An eunuch is with the party; he is a very extraordinary looking personage. He has long hair and a feminine bust and voice.

There are six maids of honor in attendance every day. A screen was erected on deck, the inclosed part was carpeted, and the Queen and ladies were escorted up behind the screen, and guarded by the eunuch, who behaved with remarkable severity in keeping all persons from gazing on the ladies. He is a general of infantry in the Oude army.

One of the party, a moonshee, or writer, died on the passage. He lived for a long time entirely upon opium.

The ex-King of Oude is expected to leave Calcutta shortly for England, with 150 followers.

The treasures which the Queen has on board consist chiefly of the most costly cashmere shawls and jewelry.

CHILSON'S NEW CONE FURNACE.
HAVING been appointed Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Furnace, for Portsmouth and vicinity, we beg to call the especial attention of those in want of Furnaces for warming buildings to a careful examination of an Invention that must commend itself to every intelligent mind.—Especially do we invite those having first-class dwellings, who have hitherto been prejudiced against the use of the common Hot Air Furnaces, for their extravagant waste of fuel, insufficient heating power, and scorching, dry, unhealthy heat from the red hot iron pots, and escape of poisonous gases through the joints of the frail heaters. Chilson's NEW CONE FURNACE overcomes all of these objections, and secures a saving of at least FIFTY PER CENT. in fuel over the common Furnaces. This is accomplished by retaining the smoke and gases in a cluster of cones over the fire, each cone serving as a retort in bringing the rays of heat and light to a focus at their tops, not unlike the action of the sun on a sun-glass. By this the formerly wasted smoke and gases are made to warm the house. No one should fail of seeing this invention before deciding on their heating apparatus. There are sizes adapted to all classes of buildings. We give our especial attention to the putting up of these Furnaces on Mr. Chilson's new plan of setting them, and under his directions. We also sell Chilson's TWO FOR TABLE FURNACES and TWO STOVES, embracing the same principle as the Cone Furnaces; also, Cooking Ranges, Stoves, Registers, Ventilators, &c.
E. A. STEVENS,
Sept. 15 46 Market street.
WE would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth that we have appointed E. R. E. A. STEVENS our Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Cone Furnace in Portsmouth and vicinity, to whom we would recommend all in want of a Furnace, FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER MODE OF WARMING IN THIS OR ANY OTHER COUNTRY.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1856.

EASTERN ARGUS.—This leading paper of the Democratic party in Portland, says:

Mr. Hamlin has received the largest vote ever given to any man in Maine. It exceeds by 16,075 that given to Morrill last year. A part of this increase is explained by the great excitement of the contest, and the great activity of the opposition canvassers. But much of it is owing, also, to the pressure into the ballot-box of doubtful or illegal votes. * * * *

Yet, of the fair and legal votes thrown, Mr. Hamlin undoubtedly received a majority. This majority was obtained by violent outcries against slavery, and especially about Kansas, by misrepresenting on these subjects the views of the democratic party, and by an unprecedented use of money. * * * The tide of fanaticism was strong enough at best, but when money came to its aid the contest was terribly unequal.

When in a single town, where our experienced men had counted on a majority for their ticket, after every voter upon whom they relied had been seen personally, we were beaten by more than a hundred majority, the extent of our deception in the State can easily be reckoned.

☞ The joker of the Charlestown, (Mass.) Advertiser, says, "the social portion of the Buchanan party say that the Maine election was not legal, and that the Wells men did not know there was to have been any election, or they would have come out and voted. They don't think, however, that there is any use in trying it over again, it is so late in the season."

NEW YORK, Sept. 13,—(Correspondence Courier & Enquirer.)—Washington, Sept. 11th.—I am informed upon the highest Democratic authority that several of the Democratic Governors of Southern States are engaged in active and grave correspondence with one another, and with leading Southern polititians, the object of which is to agree upon a call for a general convention of all the Southern States, dependent upon the event of Col. Fremonts election.

This looks as if they deemed the event possible—and even probable. The word Democratic is sadly misused in the above item, where it is made synonymous with the advocacy of chattel slavery.

PIERCE AND BUCHANAN. — The Democratic Standard, published in Concord, (and said and denied to be edited by Edmund Burke,) contains the following remarkable paragraphs:

One of the grounds upon which the leaders of the Fremont Party, invoke opposition to the election of Mr. Buchanan, is, that he is to be the successor of the present incumbent of the Presidency, and the inheritor of his measures and policy. They make this assumption as to what will be the course and policy of Mr. Buchanan, if he shall be elected, from the fact that the Cincinnati Convention adopted a resolution, apparently, but not really, unanimously approving of Gen. Pierce's Administration.

If there were no contemporaneous circumstances existing, which afford means for the true interpretation of such a resolution, a sufficient reply to the assumptions of the Fremont press would be found in the fact that such resolutions are often unmeaning—that, at the most, they are designed only as compliments to those in whose favor they are passed. Besides it is well known that, in these modern times, resolutions passed by political conventions, are too often got up by a few political managers, and are passed as a matter of course by the convention, the members caring but little about them.

Such, undoubtedly was the character of the resolution passed at Cincinnati. It was meant as a compliment merely to the present incumbent of the Presidency, to reconcile him to the result of the action of that body. And even regarded in that point of view, although, declared to be unanimous by the presiding officer of the convention, it could not have received the concurrence of all the Delegates present.

KANSAS, CUBA, AND OSTEND.—A writer in the Boston Times, calling himself "A Southern Old Line Whig," writes a bombastic letter, and a poetic and patriotic Ode, from which latter production we copy two of the richest verses:

For Kansas, Cuba and Ostend
The Demos fearlessly contend;
The Constitution they hold dear,
The Union cherish and revere.
The Demos go for equal laws—
They're right, and know no dastard pause.
Each State, co-equal, rules herself,
In owning slaves or other pelf.

INTERESTING FROM KANSAS.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12.—Mr. Irish arrived here to-day from Fort Leavenworth, which place he left Sept. 9. He states that a few days before his departure, Gen. Richardson, commander of the Northern division of the Kansas militia, had been captured by a squad of Lane's troops. The particulars of the capture he had not heard. Richardson was conveyed to Lawrence, and delivered over to Gen. Lane, who at once restored his arms, and calling on a small guard, escorted him outside of the town, and dismissed him with much courtesy and many expressions of regret at his misfortune.

Mr. Irish learned that Gen. Richardson was so pleased with the generosity of his captors, that he had declared his intention to wage no more war against them.

The Alabamians, who were under arms, are exceedingly sick of this country, and are determined to leave. They say they must have money to get away with, and will have it, if they have to steal it.

Atchison and Doniphan had become disgusted and returned to Missouri. The pro-slavery forces under Gen. Reid were small.

Gov. Geary reached Leavenworth City on Tuesday evening. Quite a number of the citizens and men under arms were on the banks, ready to receive some two or three companies of Missourians, which were expected. When they learned that Gov. Geary was on board, they called him out. He appeared on the guard, and made them a speech of about ten minutes length, saying, among other things, with qualifications attached, he would enforce all the territorial laws that were constitutional. The Governor then proceeded up the river, and landed at the fort, where he had immediate consultation with Gen. Smith. He stated his intention to proceed to Lawrence in a few days without any more troops than would suffice for a body guard.

Capt. Brown, who was reported killed at the battle of Ossawatomie, managed to escape and reach Lawrence. He writes from that place to his wife, in Utica, N. Y., as follows:

Lawrence, Sept. 2. My dear wife: Ossawatomie is all in ashes. The boys are safe, but our house is burned, and the safe broken and robbed.

Three free state men were killed, and there were three wagon loads of killed and wounded among the Pro-Slavery party.

It was a desperate fight. Between 30 and 40 Free State men against 300 Missourians. The whole country is now one desperate scene of fighting, plunder, robbery, murder, and scalping of Free State men.

Nearly 1000 Free State men are in the field, and giving the border ruffians fight where they can find them, but, like all cowards, they do the work of darkness, or only attack where they have from three to ten against one.

They, in force from 400 to 800, fled before Gen. Lane on Saturday and Sunday, refusing to fight, and leaving several loads of provisions on the field.

Last week Wednesday, at the battle of Middle Creek, 6 miles south of Ossawatomie, the Free State men were victorious. 150 men have left this evening to make a forced march to save Topeka.

They will probably have a fight on the way, as the Lecompton pro-slavery forces, 500 strong, are encamped near the road.

PREPARATIONS TO ATTACK LAWRENCE.—The Independence Dispatch of the 4th, has the following:

Lecompton, Monday, Sept. 1.

* * We have about a thousand men here, and we expect to move against Lawrence to-morrow. The Yankees have 2500 men in and about Lawrence, and we will have a beautiful fight. There has already been a fight at Hickory Point, and report says that 50 abolitionists were killed, and a great many on the other side; but the truth can't get far here. I think that in anothes day we will have 3000 men, and then we will clean them all out. They have already been begging for quater.—This country is going to be a scene of bloodshed in a short time. The whole country is alive with men. It is not safe to go half a mile from home. I cannot tell whether you get my letters or not; and I suppose it is a fact that at Lawrence they open all letters directed to pro-slavery men. The Yankees are starving out; all they get to eat being green corn and pumpkins. Excuse haste. JOHN R. DICKEY.

P. S.—Since writing the above, I learn that there are 200 Yankees and 150 pro-slavery men fighting on the California road, about two miles from here, and my company is going to help.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Dates from Kansas to the 10th, state that Free State prisoners have been released on bail. Gov. Geary had issued a proclamation, commanding all armed men to disperse. Col. Emery's band had been taken before Gen. Smith for arresting an officer of the Army.

Capt. Whipple's company had captured a party of thieves and recovered 80 horses.

A fort, capable of holding a thousand men, has just been finished at Lawrence.

A jubilee was held at Lawrence on the 10th, to celebrate the release of the State prisoners. It was a day of general rejoicing.

Mrs. Robinson passed here to-day, on her way to Boston.

☞ We have just received Dinsmore's Railroad and Steamboat Guide from A. Williams & Co., Boston, via J. F. Shores, jr., of this city. By this book, the intelligent traveller can thread his way all over this great country, including the Canadas.

☞ A friend to the Lyceum asks, whether we are to have Lectures, and when they are to begin.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Atlantic, from Liverpool 3d inst., arrived at New York on Monday. Her intelligence was anticipated by the Arabia.

The Liverpool firms of McCarty & Co., and Larmont, McCarty & Co., have suspended. Liabilities £100,000.

It is rumored that Sir Henry Holland, the Queen's physician, who came passenger in the Cambria, is deputed to see if our climate is such as the Queen can trust her person to, in the event of her paying a visit to Canada.

The coronation of the Czar took place Aug. 29th, according to the programme—Moscow was splendidly illuminated at night.

The London Chronicle says there is no intention of withdrawing the allied forces from Greece.

WHY CHOATE ATTACKED THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE!—Not only is the Declaration a really incendiary abolition document, which Choate is as likely to see as anybody, but it has begun to be recognized as such by the (———) who in numerous instances on the last 4th of July left the House on the reading of the Declaration, saying "they did not come to hear an abolition sermon." Choate took the abolition bull by the horns when he pitched into the declaration of Independence—and we rather think the bull will get the better of him.—Boston Telegraph.

☞ A correspondent who is rusticating at Cape Neddick, York, Me., tells us that the Republicans of that sturdy old town are rejoicing hugely over their late victory in the State, and have decided in advance (not always a reliable decision, by the way,) to bring old York in on the Republican side next November. He informs us that the Messrs. Freeman are to raise another Fremont & Dayton flag, in front of their House. Our correspondent is also loud and not short in his praises of the scenery in that region; and especially of a certain popular hotel there—but as we presume (from their never advertising) the proprietors are not desirous of being generally known abroad, we will not drag them before the public.

CARPETS AT REDUCED PRICES.—We learn that on account of an expected change in business, Mr. E. C. STEVENS, at No. 272 Washington street, Boston, is determined to sell out his immense stock of Carpetings immediately, and we therefore wish to inform our readers and the public of the fact, that they may avail themselves of this opportunity of purchasing goods in the above line at a very low price. We have bought many goods at the above named establishment, and can truly say that we were well satisfied with our numerous bargains; and we think he now offers greater inducement to purchasers than can be found in any other store in Boston, as he is determined to close off his entire stock this Fall, even at a great sacrifice;—besides he has now on hand the most extensive and best selected stock of goods that can be found in any city in the New England States, and we cheerfully invite our friends and the public generally to give him a call.

NEWELL'S PATENT SAFETY LAMP.— It is with great pleasure that we call the attention of our readers to the above named Lamp, it being the only lamp that has proved entirely successful. It is constructed on the principle of the celebrated Davy Lamp, and has the sanction of the most scientific skill of the country. We most heartily recommend it.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au8 6m

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "scud under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

From the Hon. James P. Wells, of Cambridge.

Dec 22d, 1848.

DR. W. R. HAYDEN: Dear Sir,—Having been afflicted for a number of months with a severe chronic Diarrhœa, and as my Physician had considered my case nearly a hopeless one, a friend of mine persuaded me to try your Pills, and to the surprise of every one, after having taken one box the painful symptoms nearly all left me. I continued the use of them, and am happy to state that I am as well as ever I was in my life. If you think my testimony of any value, you may use it. I remain, sir, y'rs with gratitude and respect,

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along!"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it, if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

THE CELEBRATION.

The following is a copy of the Petition to be presented to the City Council on Thursday evening next. It will be circulated to-day for signatures—as will also the subscription-paper, on which a considerable sum is yet to be put down.

On the success of this Petition depends, in a measure, the completeness of the whole affair. And from the lively interest in the celebration, manifested by our citizens generally—especially in their liberal subscriptions—we trust our City Council may favorably regard the petition. With the increase of means, the plan of operations may be enlarged and improved, so as to attract a large number of people into the city.

To the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, and the Common Council of the City of Portsmouth.

GENTLEMEN—

At a meeting of citizens, publicly called in the newspapers, and held at the City Rooms, Aug. 27th, 1856, a Committee was chosen to consider and decide upon the matter and manner of Celebrating the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Introduction of Printing into New Hamoshire. That Committee subsequently voted to hold the proposed Celebration, on the 6th of October; and to endeavor to raise $500 by subscription among citizens interested—a large portion of which has been guarrantied. This sum was at first deemed sufficient to meet all desired expenses; but from the general intecest manifested in the affair, at home and abroad, it is now considered inadequate by the Committee.

And whereas your honorable bodies did in June last, appropriate $500 in aid of a suitable Celebration of the 4th of July, on condition that a like sum sbould be subscribed by citizens—which sum was never expended in the manner proposed;

And whereas this Celebration is planned in the main, as a public benefit to our city:

We the undersigned legal voters in the City of Portsmouth, respectfully suggest and request that the sum of five hundred dollars may be appropriated in aid of the proposed Celebration, (on condition that a a like sum of $500 be raised by subscription for this object,) and that a Committee from each of your Honorable Boards be appointed to confer and co-operate with the Citizens' Committee in carrying out the arrangements for the same, and securing a judicious expenditure of the money.

☞ The Conference of Churches of the Piscataqua Association, meets this morning, at the North Church, in this city.—The meeting opens at 10:10 A. M. Rev. B. F. Parsons presiding. It will commence with devotional services. Opening Address—Rev. E. A. Atwater. Subject, Christian Conference. The Theme of the meeting—The Holy Spirit. 1. Biblical Representations of it; Rev. E. Robie. 2. Scriptural promises of the Spirit; Rev. A. Tobey.—3. The Works of the Spirit; Rev. J. H. Mellish. 4. Prayer to the Spirit; Rev. A. Mann. 5. Visitations of the Spirit; Rev. G. N. Anthony. 6. Fruits of such Visitations; Rev. S. M. Steele. 7. Necessity for them; Rev. N. Lasell. (Each Address, 10 minutes.)

P. M.—1 to 2, Laymen's Prayer Meeting. At 2, Sermon by Rev. W. Fifield.—Parting Addresses, (with devotional services) Rev. Messrs. Dame, Otis, Palmer and Dinsmore. Close at 4.

☞ Rt. Rev. Bishop Chase is to visit this city to-day, and will administer the rite of confirmation, at St. John's Church.

PARTY BANNERS IN THE STREETS.—In this electioneering canvass, these matters abound—and to Uncle Toby's vision they superabound. He has no objection to the banner itself; and can think of no more harmless instrument in the race of rival parties. But as the best things may be perverted so as to become injurious, so the most harmless and pleasant things may be so managed as to make them the means of annoyance and discomfort. In some cases he thinks this has been done by the banners. He would, if he saw fit, let his favorite banner float over his own house, barn, or gateway;—and if his neighbor beyond the highway agreed, he might be willing to spread out the bunting across. But he would not plant the foot of his flag-pole on his opponent's premises without his consent—nor would he, as a city father, consent to have it done by others—and as he understands the legal rights of cities, no city has a right to plant such a nuisance in front of his premises.

Neither would he suspend any such partizan banner from any school-house, church, market, custom-house, or other public building whatever. The men who occupy or control these buildings, have, as he thinks, the right to be partizans themselves, and to speak and act freely, openly, and publicly on political questions and acts. And they may hoist the American Union Flag on such of the buildings as commonly bear flag-poles, without any offence.—But when they add to it the names or words which make it a party banner—then the officers or servants, or whatever they are, have no right to make such a partizan use of the property, as needlessly to offend or wound the feelings of half or a quarter of the people.

Uncle Toby deems himself a democratic republican—and firmly believes minorities and opponents have rights which he ought always to respect,—and he would recommend to all his nephews to respect them, especially as one turn of the wheel may land some at the bottom who are now on the top.

☞ Sch. Battelle, Wiscasset, lumber loaded, was fallen with on Monday evening, 15th, abandoned, to the S. of York, drifting toward the breakers. She was taken in tow, by schooner Meddle Not, of Gloucester, and carried into York harbor, where she now lies at anchor, waiting the arrival or order of her owners to settle the salvage and recover their property.

The vessel appears to have been run into, and abandoned rather hastily.

DEATH OF A PORTSMOUTH MAN.

We copy the following account of the death and burial of Mr. John S. Walker, of this city, from the "Alta California" newspaper, published in San Francisco.—The deceased was a son of Mr. Wm. Walker; he was 41 years old, and leaves a wife and four children in this city.

FUNERAL OF CAPT. WALKER—LARGE TURNOUT OF THE COMMITTEE.—The funeral of Capt. John S. Walker, of the Vigilance Committee Marines, was attended on the 12th of August, by a large concourse of people, and was an occasion for a very general turnout of the force of the Committee. The deceased has been connected with the organization since its earliest existence, and as a commanding officer of one of the companies, he had by his conduct won many friends among those with whom he was associated. He died on the morning of the 11th instant, after a short illness at his room, on Sacramento street, opposite the Committee buildings, and soon after his death the body was laid out and exposed in the building near the Committee rooms, for the inspection of his friends and the public; from which place the funeral services were held. The companies were generally called out, and appeared with their badges, side-arms, and the emblems of mourning.

Before the body was moved from the building, the different companies were ordered upon the streets, preparatory to forming into line, without confusion. All of the surrounding grounds and buildings were covered with spectators, who had been drawn thither by the tolling of the Vigilance bell, which commenced at one o'clock, and was kept up until the ceremonies were over. The flags upon the building, and also upon the shipping in the harbor, were displayed at half mast, in respect to the memory of the deceased.

The procession comprised the Artillery Company, mounted, numbering about one hundred men; the Dragoons, numbering seventy-five men; the Company of Marines of which deceased was the Commander, numbering eighty men, being chief mourners; the Executive Committee, with official and mourning badges, numbering about 40 men; the Police Department of the Committee, numbering forty men; Band of Music; Members of the Infantry Companies, to the number of five hundred, in double file; the Officers of the Infantry Companies, also in double file.

Thousands of people were gathered all along the streets through which the procession moved, and the demonstration was the most extensive military parade ever seen on a funeral occasion in San Francisco.

The True Californian states that Capt. Walker was late master of the brig Lady Adams, but more recently Captain of the Marine (Artillery) Battery, of Vigilance,—and one of the most faithful, efficient and trustworthy officers belonging to the Vigilance Committee.

He was a Delegate from his company, and participated in all the discussion which led to the final release of Judge Terry. Throughout his connection with the Committee, he gave his time, his energy, and warmest commendation to that body, gladly and gratuitously: for though almost constantly on duty, he never complained of the hardships he endured, and never sought to benefit himself by burdening the exchequer of the Committee. He was patriotic as a citizen, public spirited as a man, kind-hearted, truthful and honest in all the relations of life. He has gone to his rest amid the regrets of an entire community, mourned for by his comrades as only the sharers of a common danger can mourn, and lamented by the public as a benefactor of his kind. Peace to his manes.

☞ In the California papers, reporting the recent great parade of the Vigilance Committee troops, we notice that Mr. Chas. E. Rand, formerly of this city, is First Lieutenant of the 7th Company,—"King's Guards,"—73 muskets.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee,)
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz.:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	.90
5 lb Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ anh ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

Sept. 15. No. 70, State Stree.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

WILLIAM CROWLEY & SON,
Oversly Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them

H. R. COBURN'S OIL WORKS.

Established, 1842.

H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL.

is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.

BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.

How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is! Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason! read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness, can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and testimonials furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. INVIGORATING CORDIAL,

AND NERVOUS ANTIDOTE.

This Cordial is the only remedy for those sad derangements of body and mind, caused by early and imprudent habits of youth.

N. B. That involuntary nocturnal loss of physical energy, productive of much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the victim for business, society, or matrimony, is speedily restrained by this Cordial. It is the only remedy which has effected the desired result in this malady.

Dr. CONVERS may be consulted personally or by letter, without charge, at his office 321 Hanover st., Boston, where all orders for the cordial should be sent. Dr. Convers' Medical work, 175 pages—

The Beacon; or, Guide from Youth to Manhood—is the most important work ever published on these complaints. To young men it is invaluable. It will be given to those who purchase 3 bottles of Cordial.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OVER TWO MILLION ACRES
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating the land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned soil is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Unimproved land, for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2 50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rate per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the product of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to a8 15 Daniel street.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Pape, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R Crowley" A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

BY A NEW HAMPSHIRE MAN.

The Manchester American publishes the following letter from a young man, a native of Auburn, and well known to many in Manchester, and in surrounding towns. The letter was addressed to John W. Ray, Esq., this year a member of the legislature from Derry, and a gentleman well known over the State. Mr. Ray knows the writer well, he having been a pupil of his for several years at two different Academies, and he is ready to vouch for his character for integrity and uprightness. He says that every word of the writer can be implicitly relied upon. Add to this that the writer of the letter is well known in Manchester and in the vicinity to hundreds, and we have something which is tangible and indisputable respecting the condition of things in Kansas.

The American remarks:—"This letter is a small part of the incontrovertible evidence respecting the infamous outrages upon the Free State men in Kansas; and the question in the Presidential election is, whether we will sustain those outrages."

The letter will well repay a careful perusal.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, KANSAS, Friday, Aug. 19, 1856.

Dear Sir:—Having just escaped from the hands of the border ruffians, I thought I would occupy a few leisure moments in writing you a few lines, just to let you know how the Free State men are used when they get into the hands of the pro-slavery party.

I arrived at this place a week ago last Wednesday, did my trading; but getting disappointed in a little business matter, had to take the boat and go to Kansas City, Mo. I returned Thursday night.—Friday morning I harnessed my team, with the intention of going home; but after getting part of my load on, accounts came in that it was not safe to travel, as the pro-slavery men were to assemble on the Lawrence and Topeka roads to cut off all communication between the river and the territory, and also to prevent news from getting to Lane that they were trying to raise an army for his capture; so orders were, not to let any one pass on any account whatever. With this information I resolved to wait a few days, thinking that perhaps the excitement might die away, or else these parties, by concentrating their forces, might leave one road clear.

I staid here until Monday, and then resolved to try and get home; as some of the citizens thought from accounts that the Lawrence road was clear. I loaded up and started about 11 o'clock. Got about eight miles on my way home, when three horsemen rode by me, cocked their guns, and commanded me to stop. I stopped, and asked them what they wanted. They then said they wanted to know what I had in my wagon, and asked me if I had not got a lot of ammunition aboard. I told them what I had, and showed them the bills.—This, however, did not satisfy them, and they commenced turning everything upside down. I had a barrel of sugar aboard.—This was knocked open and explored with their bowie knives. Some boards lying on the bottom of the wagon had to be looked under. What kind of arms could be packed between two plain boards, laying in contact with each other, I am unable to say.

After having satisfied themselves with regard to my load, they asked me how I should like to go back to camp and stop over night. I told them I had a little rather choose my own camping ground.—But the order was, "You have got to go with us; so come along." Knowing it was useless to resist, having not even so much as a jack-knife in the shape of arms, I turned round and was escorted back about two miles to camp. Here I was told, for my consolation, by the captain, that I had fallen into good hands, and should be treated like a gentleman; at the same time saying that supper would be ready in a few minutes. The captain's name was Emery. At night I was placed in the tent between two soldiers, where I was told to make my bed. This I did by spreading a blanket on the ground, taking a part of a sack of meal for my pillow, and using another blanket for a covering; and you may believe I had a good night's rest, as I felt perfectly safe, having a man on each side of me, well armed with revolvers and bowie knives, and another walking back and forth in front of the tent. I slept soundly, as much so, as I should have done at home, making allowance for the difference in bed; for I had come to the conclusion that if they hung me, the operation would be just as painful to undergo, if I suffered it a dozen times in anticipation.

Daytimes I was allowed the liberty of the camp. They fed me well for camp fare,—hard bread, ham, green corn and watermelons were plenty, besides as much whisky as I had a mind to drink. [This of course will not be misunderstood. The writer is a total abstinence man both in principle and practice.] In fact the courage of most of these men lies in the whisky barrel.

I was kept in Capt. Emery's camp until Wednesday noon, when Capt. Miller came in with about forty men, (a rougher looking set of men I never saw,) and took me with nine other prisoners and commenced a line of march I knew not whither. We marched till dark, and encamped in Salt Creek Valley. Next morning as soon as day break breakfast was cooking, so as to be ready for the march. We marched Thursday till about noon, when, having overtaken Capt. Clarkson, with about two hundred men and one field piece, a trial was held to see what should be done with us "D—d Abolitionists." They did not ask me many questions, as I told them where I came from, was a free State man, and was only engaged in hauling provisions out into the territory for men at work on their claims. They told me I might go, but they wanted my team and load. So without any more words they took a span of horses worth $300, a new wagon costing $110, a load of provisions consisting of one barrel of sugar, six sacks of flour, two of meal, all the furniture for two stoves, and various other things consisting of small packages of dry goods and groceries; amounting to about $125.

The team and some seventy dollars' worth belonged to one man, the rest was sent for by some half a dozen individuals. I had about twenty dollars' worth in the load; one of the stoves belonged to me.—They took the furniture and left the stove, but broke it up some in taking it out of the wagon.

Four men from Iowa who had come to look at the country, lost two span of horses and two wagons; also a boy belonging here had a span of mules and carriage taken, and they at the same time set at liberty. They even went so far as to take a spare pair of pants and shirt I had with me.

Five of the ten persons were not discharged, and I am afraid they will have a hard time, even if they get away with their lives. Capt. Miller hung a man Wednesday, and Capt. Emery had a man shot yesterday; so you see that these commanders of the Kansas militia can even have an abolitionist hung. They are acting by authority of our Governor, and are armed with U. S. guns and paid out of the U. S. Treasury. There are about 500 men in this vicinity, and it is reported 1500 are on the other side of the Kansas River from Missouri, marching to attack Lane. You will probably learn of some sharp fighting soon, if whisky does not grow scarce.

After we were discharged we were given a pass for Leavenworth City, but the Capt. said he would not give me a pass for Council City, for there were more of my stripe out there now than he wished there were.

So I am here; and how to get away I don't know, as all the roads are guarded day and night, and it is seventy-five miles from here to Council City.

Yours truly. * * *

IMPORTANT FROM KANSAS.—The telegraph brings us news of fresh outrages in Kansas, and the query is asked in all quarters at the East, why does not the President stop these terrible robberies and murders? The Boston Courier of Monday morning has this solution of the question:

The United States government affords no protection to the free soil men, and there is no doubt that from the time of the issue of of the nominations of the Cincinnati Convention, that President Pierce, in the exuberance of his wrath at the result, has determined to do all which lies in his power to effect the election of Col. Fremont.

THAT DEATH IN THE WATCH HOUSE—A CASE OF GROSS NEGLECT.—The coroner's jury in the case of the woman who died in the Watch House of Lowell, last Monday, returned their verdict last evening. The following is an extract, bearing most immediately on the case:

That her name is Eliza Grimes, otherwise called Eliza Wood; that she came to her death on Monday, Sept. 8, A. D., 1856, at the Watch House in said Lowell, in consequence of intemperance and subsequent exhaustion; and in the opinion of said jurors the deceased did not receive proper care and attention while in said Watch House.

The Lowell News says: "It was shown by the evidence that the woman was committed to the Watch House by one of the corporation watchmen, Sunday afternoon. She was then under the influence of delirium tremens. At eight o'clock, Monday morning, the opinion was expressed by one of the Police officers that if something was not done for her, she would not live two hours. Yet she was not removed from her cell till Monday afternoon; no physician was called till ten minutes before she died. No food was offered her from the time she was committed till two o'clock Monday afternoon! The person who committed her gave no notice that she had the delirium tremens; and when it was found that she was too far gone to be prosecuted as a common drunkard, and notice was given at the Mayor's office that she must be taken care of, no extra exertion was made to relieve her, or to convey her to a more comfortable place. Hence the verdict of the coroner's jury, which, we think, is quite lenient."

A sad case throughout—but the watchman who committed her might not understand the nature of delirium tremens, or know what ought to be done.

☞ James French & Co., Boston, have just published a political book, of 160 pages, of much ability, and some severity, written by a lady of Maryland. It is entitled, "A Review of Pierce's Administration; showing its only popular measures to have originated with the Executive of Millard Fillmore." By Anna Ella Carroll, of Maryland, authoress of the "Great American Battle," "Star of the West," &c. The pamphlet is for sale by James F. Shores, jr., Portsmouth.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.—The general election will take place throughout Pennsylvania on Tuesday, the 14th of October. A surveyor general, and auditor general, and a canal commissioner, will be chosen, in addition to the members of congress, members of the State Legislature, and various county officers. The Democrats have talked of having 40,000 majority. That will depend upon the Germans, who have usually gone with them, and the Quakers, who half the time don't vote at all. The Philadelphia North American says, "whatever may be the result in Nov., no one doubts the success of the union state ticket. At the election last fall, there were causes of dissension which rendered defeat unavoidable. Now there are none. The Union ticket represents all parties of the opposition, Whig, Republican and American. For Congress there will be a very animated struggle;" but it predicts a gain for the Republicans, and says of the interior districts, that but two are doubtful. There has not been a State election since the revolution, that attracted so much attention as the present contest in the Key Stone State.

MASSACHUSETTS POLITICS.—At Worcester, on Tuesday, there were two political conventions, much discussion, earnest struggles, strong contests,—and the following results:

The "Americans" agreed to the nomination of Mr. Dayton for the Vice Presidency. They also pledged the party to re-elect Hon. Charles Sumner to the Senate of the United States. They proposed a combination ticket of presidential electors for Fremont & Dayton, to consist of six "Americans," six of the "People's" organization, and J. S. C. Knowlton of Worcester, democrat.

The plan for an electoral ticket was agreed to by the "People's" convention, and a Fremont & Dayton ticket was nominated accordingly.

There was a strong effort to induce the "People's Convention" to nominate Henry J. Gardner for Governor, but the delegates insisted on adhering to the avowed policy of the new organization, viz. to make truly a new organization, and not an old party under an alias. In the difficulty of concentrating upon any candidate, the convention, after a protracted discussion, almost unanimously voted not to nominate any State ticket at all.

CARPETS AT REDUCED PRICES.—We learn that on account of an expected change in business, Mr. E. C. STEVENS, at No. 272 Washington street, Boston, is determined to sell out his immense stock of Carpetings immediately, and we therefore wish to inform our readers and the public of the fact, that they may avail themselves of this opportunity of purchasing goods in the above line at a very low price. We have bought many goods at the above named establishment, and can truly say that we were well satisfied with our numerous bargains; and we think he now offers greater inducement to purchasers than can be found in any other store in Boston, as he is determined to close off his entire stock this Fall, even at a great sacrifice;—besides he has now on hand the most extensive and best selected stock of goods that can be found in any city in the New England States, and we cheerfully invite our friends and the public generally to give him a call.

NEWELL'S PATENT SAFETY LAMP.—It is with great pleasure that we call the attention of our readers to the above named Lamp, it being the only lamp that has proved entirely successful. It is constructed on the principle of the celebrated Davy Lamp, and has the sanction of the most scientific skill of the country. We most heartily recommend it.

☞ We refer our readers to John P. Lovell's advertisement in our advertising columns. We advise all in want of guns either at wholesale or retail, to give him a call.

NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE.—Dr. Alfred G. Hall, author of the New Theory of Medical Practice on the Nutritive Principle, can be consulted by letter or in person, on every form of disease.—The benefit of this new method of treatment needs no comment; it is safe and satisfactory in the most hopeless cases. Vegetable Medicines are used, reviving to the organs of digestion, and Nutritive fluids commence the work of restoration. He can give the best references;—four years' residence has secured the confidence of many of the first classes. Invalids treated successfully in any section of the Union free of postage. Prescriptions, medicines and letters of advice forwarded. No person received for a less term than 3 months.

Health Office (up stairs) No. 365 Washington street, Boston.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

W. P. Fetridge & Co. Proprietors, 323 Pearl street, New York, and 100 Washington street, Boston. For sale in Portsmouth by William B. Preston. 6mja16

Gov. Johnston, candidate of the 'North Americans' for Vice President, published a letter declining in favor of Mr. Dayton. A despatch from New York, however, says that he has been induced to withdraw the letter.

The withdrawal comes too late. It is like ruling out evidence in a case, after the jury have heard it, and made up their minds on it.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "hoed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 17.

District of New Hampshire—Judge Harvey, presiding.

Two cases were on the civil docket, both of which were continued.

18 persons were naturalized.

☞ A correspondent hopes those having the authority of selecting a location for a new Post Office and Custom House, will decide upon the lot occupied by the City Hotel and other buildings, as far as the house of Mr. D. R. Rogers, and back to the street. He says this will give 112 by 150 feet, with a street on three sides;—and thinks the next best lots are the square in which is the express office of Jackson & Co, or the Belle Tavern lot. We hope no good buildings will be torn down; as there are good lots enough to be had, without doing this.

☞ It is estimated, we believe, that the Franklin Celebration in Boston, which passed off so grandly, yesterday, and drew an immense crowd into that city, must have cost the City $10,000, besides what was done by private enterprise. Does anybody doubt that this investment paid well, or that the money was not "returned" with great interest before "many days," to the pockets of citizens? Boston has often tried this experiment, and Manchester has pretty well learned how to do it. Why won't it pay for Portsmouth? The "Sons" reception in 1853, cost this city about $3000,—and there can be no doubt but the individual expenses of the crowd here, left vastly more money than that, in the hands of our citizens.

☞ The Rockingham County Agricultural Society will hold their fourth Annual Fair, at Exeter, next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 24th and 25th. There ought to be interest enough felt in this Society, to draw five hundred people from Portsmouth, and crowd old Exeter with attendants on the Show.

The interest in the coming presidential election is so absorbing that there is some danger of losing sight of the great and permanent interest of agriculture. This latter object has been well cared for, in years past; and these holidays for the whole population, in which party questions have no concern, are pleasant and practically beneficial. The new Town Hall will afford a larger and more convenient room for the Exhibition of vegetable productions and Fancy articles, than heretofore. Let the people go and see the fine things in the Hall, as well as the fine Cattle, &c. in the field.

We would have published the list of premiums to be awarded, had we received it. However, with Henry F. French, for President, we may be sure of a good exhibition; and we shall be disappointed if we are not able to use our complimentary tickets on the occasion.

For the Chronicle.

SPIRITUALISM.—As the subject of Spiritual Manifestations is making progress, and enlisting the minds of those who seek after the truths of immortality, it would be well for our citizens to improve the opportunity offered (see advertisement) and listen to a course of Lectures to be delivered next week at the Temple, by Mr. Ambler, who is highly distinguished as a Lecturer, and who will be ready to give any information on the subject. *

GRAND DIVISION

Sons of Temperance of N. Hampshire.

OFFICE OF THE GRAND SCRIBE,
Keene, Sept 16, 1856.

Editor sof the Chronicle and Phenix:—

DEAR SIRS:—I am directed by the Grand Worthy Patriarch, to request you to notice in your paper, that the Grand Division will hold its annual session in Keene, at the Hall of Cheshire Division, on the 8th of October next, at 10 o'clock, A. M. There will be a State Convention on the day following. Hon. Neal Dow and G. W. Brown, P. G. W. P. of the Grand Division of Maine, will be present at both meetings.

Urge all friends of the Law to come in strong numbers. Yours truly,

ASA GRIFFIN, G. S.

☞ The Boston papers of Wednesday morning are filled with the programme of exercises relative to the Statue of Franklin. There will be no Boston papers printed this morning.

☞ Rev. T. R. Lambert, of Charlestown, has resigned his commission in the service as Chaplain. and the resignation has been accepted by the Secretary of the Navy.

WHIG CONVENTION.—Baltimore, Sept. 6,—Our city is filling with delegates to the Whig National Convention, and strangers. Most of the hotels are overflowing, and large accessions are expected in the morning.

Accredited delegates are here from 25 States, leaving only Iowa, Arkansas, Texas, California, Wisconsin and Michigan unrepresented. Hundreds are here from Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, New York, and Pennsylvania.

The hall of the Mechanics' Institute has been magnificently fitted up, and Monument Square has been decorated for a mass meeting on Thursday night. A powerful address will be issued to the people of the Union.

There is great enthusiasm and confidence amongst the delegates. The Virginia, North Caiolina and Georgia delegates claim those States for Fillmore, beyond a doubt.

Those from Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Maryland, assert there is not a ghost of a chance for Buchanan there.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Naval Court Martial. — The Herald's private advices from Panama state that a Court Martial is shortly to convene on board the Steamship Independence, which was at that port on the 2d inst. for the trial of three of her lieutenants, and perhaps six or seven wardroom officers, for breach of discipline. There had been no less than 161 deserters from the vessel, which, together with deaths, discharges, and transfers, amount to 220. The ship is now 90 men short of her complement.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 16.—Great Fire in Frankfort.—One whole square of buildings in Frankfort, Ky., was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Loss $80,000, partially insured. There was another fire afterwards, during which several buildings were burned. Loss not yet ascertained. These fires are supposed to have been the work of incendiaries.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 16.—Convention of Odd Fellows.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows met here to-day, Deputy Grandsire Geo. W. Race, presiding. Considerable preliminary business was transacted, after which Geo. W. Race, of Louisiana, was elected Grandsire of the Odd Fellows of the United States, when the Convention adjourned till to-morrow.

Ship Isaac Allerton, from New York for New Orleans, was driven ashore, night of 28th, upon Washerwoman Shoal, bilged, driven over, and sank in four fathoms water. But a part of the cargo has been saved. The goods in the lower hold have not been touched, and the loss to the underwriters must be very great. The ship is supposed to have had a cargo valued at $350,000. The sales of cargo will probably reach $75,000. The Isaac Allerton was built at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1838; 594 tons, and valued at $15,000; fully insured in New York. Her cargo was also insured in New York.

MASS MEETING.—BALTIMORE, Sept. 16.—The mass meeting in favor of Fillmore, tonight is very large. The different ward clubs marched in procession with transparances, ect. Hon. W. H. Stevens of Tenn., George B. Pearce of Md., and other speakers were amongst them.

An arrival at New York from Rio Janeiro, brings the singular intelligence that a rumor of war between England and America, prevailed there. As a consequence, merchants refused to give their freight to United States vessels.

The Democrats of New York City met in convention Monday evening, for the purpose of nominating a mayor. There was a "split," however, and two conventions nominated distinct candidates, viz., Fernando Wood the present incumbent, and James S. Libby.

It is reported that Gov. Reeder has declared his intention to vote for Fremont, and wiil advocate his election in public during the campaign.

The London Screw Steamship Company is about to dissolve, on the ground that no such company can compete with enterprising individual capitalists. Its fleet of 18 fine steamships is to be sold at auction

FRANKLIN ON LEARNING LANGUAGES.—Being asked his opinion respecting the study of languages, Ben Franklin said:

I look on languages as arbitrary sounds or characters, whereby men communicate their ideas to each other. Now, if I already possess a language which is capable of conveying more ideas than I shall ever acquire, were it not wiser in me to improve my time in getting sense through that one language, than waste it in getting mere sounds through fifty languages, even if I could learn so many?

I object to learning dead lauguages principally on account of the shortness of human life. Taking them one with another, men do not live above forty years. Plutarch, indeed, puts it at thirty-three. But say forty. Well, of this, full ten years are lost in childhood, before any boy thinks of a Latin grammar. This brings forty years down to thirty. Now of such a moment as this, to spend five or six years in learning the dead languages, especially when all the best books in those languages are translated into ours, and besides, we already have more books on every subject than such short-lived creatures can ever acquire, seems very preposterous.

CHEAP AND SAFE LIGHT.
Newell's Patent Safety Lamp & Lamp Feeder,
Warranted to prevent all accidents from the use of Burning Fluid, Patent Oil, Resin Oil, Camphene, and other explosive compounds used for the production of light. This invention is applied to common Fluid, Solar and Camphene Lamps, Lamp Feeders, Fluid Holders, Lanterns.
We respectfully invite the attention of the public to Newell's improved Solar Fluid Lamp, in the argand form, which gives a steady, brilliant flame, the nearest to gas that has ever been produced, the cost of burning being less than one cent an hour.
These Lamps are particularly adapted to Factories, Churches, Hotels, Stores and Parlors. Oil Solars can be altered using the same shade. Common Fluid Lamps can be changed to Safety Fluid Lamps.
Professor Silliman says. "All the so-called burning fluids are explosive whether limpid or colored, and to pretend that they are not so is to deceive the public, but with the protection above named, I have no hesitation to use it, and I do with entire confidence recommend it to my friends and to others who consult me on the subject, always protesting against its unguarded use which has produced so many distressing and fatal results."
These Lamps have been extensively used in all parts of the United States for more than four years, and there has not the slightest accident occurred with them. They have the sanction of the greatest scientific skill in the country, such as Profs. B. Silliman and J. Robb, Drs. Charles T. Jackson and A. A. Hayes, etc.
We keep constantly on hand the best of Burning Fluids.

DR. CHEEVER'S
Galvano-Electric Regenerator.
(Patent issued Jan 15, 1856.)
A NEW AND SCIENTIFIC INVENTION,
For the cure of Impotency, Sterility, Prostatic Weakness, and all affections of the Reproductive System, highly recommended by the most scientific medical men.
A Circular relating to the use of the instrument, embracing a general treatise of atony of the spermatic organs, the result of which tends to soften the medullary substance of which the brain is composed, may be had gratis, and will be sent to any address by mail, by their indicating a desire to receive it. All letters should be directed to DR. J. CHEEVER, No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston.

CHARLES COPELAND,
CONFECTIONER,
Nos. 85 & 87 Court St., Boston.
Constantly on hand the best Ice Cream, Plum and Fancy Cakes, &c., &c. Table Ornaments of every description supplied at the shortest notice.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!!
GARDNER CHILSON has just completed and patented in America, England and France, his nis new invention the
and asks the special attention of those about erecting or remodelling buildings, as dealers in Hot Air, Steam, or Hot Water Furnaces, and all interested in Steam Power to carefully examine this invention, which entirely changes the principle and character of Hot Air Furnaces, developing another and a new principle, and obviating all former objections to their use.
The practical operation of a number of these Furnaces, erected during the past winter, points out a new discovery in science by which the most wonderful economy in fuel has been attained, and clearly demonstrates that the waste heat lost from chimneys is enough to warm every dwelling in the city. By this invention the heat formerly lost is made to warm the house
This discovery—simple in it elf—is the daily wonder of those who witness its results, and it becomes a matter of surprise, that a plan at once so simple and practical in its operation, should thus far have entirely escaped the notice of scientific men. We believe no one who investigates this principle will be likely to use a furnace constructed on any other principle, and we invite all who would witness its operation to call at the store of CHILSON, GOULD & CO,
Nos. 93 & 100 Blackstone St., Boston.

Diseases Successfully Treated.
REMARKABLE CURES PERFORMED—WORDS OF ADVICE AND OF CAUTION.—Encouraged by the very liberal patronage bestowed upon me by my friends and the public, during the past few years, and the extraordinary success which has attended my efforts for the cure of the sick, I am determined not to relax my exertions to further usefulness, but rather to prepare myself for renewed labors in my undertaking.
That diseases heretofore considered incurable can be conquered, I have abundant proof in my own experience. To name a few particular cases, I might mention Mrs P, cured of vomiting blood, after having been given up by her family physician to die. Mr. T. cured of a violent eruption over his head and parts of the body, and pronounced incurable by one of the best physicians in Norfolk county. Mr. S. cured of consumption.—Mr. B. of liver and kidney complaint. Mrs. T. of cancer in the breast as large as a quart bowl. Mr. B. of secondary symptoms, after having been brought near the grave by other respectable physicians. Miss M. of consumption. Mr. C. of very alarming consumptive symptoms; and I might go on with such cases ad libitum, and fill columns. I will give any one the full name of any of the above if they will apply to me at my office.
HOPE, THEN, IS FOR THE SICK.—I do not have a business of sending medicines to Agents, but rely for speedy and sure cures upon being able to prescribe the medicines myself. Persons can consult by letters and have their medicines sent by express.
ADVICE I am always glad to give freely, and persons calling upon me need not feel under any obligations to take medicines, unless they choose to do so.
WORDS OF CAUTION. This is an age of new things; among much good there is much humbug. Be careful how you allow to be experimented upon. For ten years I have found my medicines to be safe and efficacious, and the public may rely that they will do what is promised for them.
I WARRANT A CURE in all curable cases. If a person gives my remedies a fair trial without receiving the promised benefit, and is afterwards cured by some other physician, I will refund all the money paid me.
A full description of my medicines and many certificates of remarkable cures, together with much useful information, can be had by applying at my office. My book sent by mail on the receipt of a postage stamp
The following is my advertising card:—
E. P. SPEAR, INDIAN DOCTOR, so much celebrated for his remarkable cures, may be consulted at his office, No. 18 Kneeland street, from 8 A. M. to 2 P. M., upon all diseases and conditions of the human system, free of charge.
As usual, Dr. Spear gives special attention to chronic forms of disease, Humors in the Blood, Dyspepsia, Consumption, Skin diseases, Urinary difficulties, abnormal condition of the Kidneys, Liver and Heart; Rheumatism; all female diseases, especially Prolapsus Uteri, and unnatural suppressions, weaknesses, and debilities.
Dr. Spear is now being visited by one thousand patients every month, some of whom travel hundreds of miles to consult him and to obtain his medicines.
Dr. Spear will warrant a cure in every curable case. After giving his remedies a fair trial, if a cure is not effected, he will pay any other physician who will effect a cure, his bill, not exceeding $100. Persons at a distance can consult him by letter, enclosing a stamp to pay the postage.

No. 18 Kneeland street, Boston, Mass.

The Parlor Sewing Machine.
This new and beautiful machine, designed for every variety of Family Sewing and Tailor's Work, forms each stitch the same as sewing by hand. The superiority of this machine over every other is at once apparent from the fact that it actually sews, making, with matchless precision, the real "life-like" hand stitch in all its changes—running, hemming, over and over, back and quarter back, and side stitching, enabling a person to adapt the stitch to the work or fabric as desired. Every part is perfectly simple and easily understood; no underthread to spool and continually take care of, as on other machines; no peculiar mode of threading the needles; no rewinding spools, but using a single thread, and the needles threading themselves, it at once becomes the lady's ready seamstress at will, and the tailor's substitute for a dozen hands.—With the turn of a single screw, each different stitch is obtained, in which a person with the directions sent soon becomes expert. No drawing, knotting, looping, chaining, tambouring, skipping, slipping, or unravelling, but real ladies' sewing. Every machine is warranted perfect, and finished up in a variety of elegant styles, truly making an ornamental seamstress. Manufactured only by HOWARD & DAVIS, Exhibition and Salesroom, 302 Washington street; Boston.

CARD.—Boston, July 1, 1856.—The subscriber, having for several years past manufactured Varnishes for Messrs. Bigelow & Price, of Newark, N. J., takes this method to inform those interested in the sale and consumption of VARNISHES, that he is at present engaged and interested with Messrs. Stimson, Valentine & Co., of Boston, in their Varnish establishment, and with pleasure would solicit for the firm the patronage of his friends and the public.

H. R. COBURN'S
OIL WORKS.
Established, 1842.
H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.
This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.
This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considerd, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.
H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.
H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL
is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.
How beautiful is the idea of the wife, the sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is? Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness, can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Ms. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

DR. CONVERS'
INVIGORATING CORDIAL,
AND NERVOUS ANTIDOTE.
This Cordial is the only remedy for those sad derangements of body and mind, caused by early and improper habits of youth.
N. B. That involuntary nocturnal loss of physical energy, productive of much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the victim for business, society, or matrimony, is speedily restrained by this Cordial. It is the only remedy which has effected the desired result in this malady.
Dr CONVERS may be consulted personally or by letter, without charge, at his office 221 Hanover st., Boston, where all orders for the cordial should be sent. Dr. Convers' Medical work, 175 pages—
The Beacon; or, Guide from Youth to Manhood
—is the most important work ever published on these complaints. To young men it is invaluable. It will be given to those who purchase 3 bottles of Cordial.

CHILSON'S NEW CONE FURNACE.
HAVING been appointed Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Furnace, for Portsmouth and vicinity, we beg to call the especial attention of those in want of Furnaces for warming buildings to a careful examination of an Invention that must commend itself to every intelligent mind.—Especially do we invite those having first class dwellings, who have hitherto been prejudiced against the use of the common Hot Air Furnaces, for their extravagant waste of fuel, insufficient heating power, and scorching, dry, unhealthy heat from the red hot iron pots, and escape of poisonous gases through the joints of the frail heaters. Chilson's NEW CONE FURNACE overcomes all of these objections, and secures a saving of at least FIFTY PER CENT. in fuel over the common Furnaces. This is accomplished by retaining the smoke and gases in a cluster of cones over the fire, each cone serving as a retort in bringing the rays of heat and light to a focus at their tops, not unlike the action of the sun on a sun-glass. By this the formerly wasted smoke and gases are made to warm the house. No one should fail of seeing this invention before building on their heating apparatus. There are sizes adapted to all classes of buildings. We give our especial attention to the putting up of these Furnaces on Mr. Chilson's new plan of setting them, and under his directions. We also sell Chilson's TWO PORTABLE FURNACES and TWO STOVES, embracing the same principle as the Cone Furnaces; also, Cooking Ranges, Stoves, Registers, Ventilators, &c.
E. A. STEVENS,
Sept. 15. 46 Market street.

WE would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth that we have appointed MR. E. A. STEVENS our Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Cone Furnace in Portsmouth and vicinity, to whom we would recommend all in want of a Furnace, FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER MODE OF WARMING IN THIS OR ANY OTHER COUNTRY.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States!

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle" They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate or style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, "Warranted by R. Crow" A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities

FRANKLIN STATUE INAUGURATION.

As everybody joined in the great Celebration, in Boston, on Wednesday, 16th, of course newspapers were scarce on Thursday morning. But in the afternoon came along the Traveller, filled with details of the great show.

It was indeed a grand day for Boston.—For many years, if ever before, there has not been so large and imposing a display or more general rejoicing in the streets of that city, than on this occasion. The inauguration of the statue in honor of Boston's favorite son, was an event ever to be remembered, not more by those who were active participants in the affair, than by the assembled thousands of her own people and those from all sections of New England who witnessed the display.

Probably several hundred thousands of people were in the city. The procession was seven miles in length, and was about three hours in passing a given point.

The steet decorations were profuse and splendid. But of course our space will allow only mere mention of these things. We must content ourselves with noticing the portions of the procession most interesting to Portsmouth readers:

A car of unique construction, drawn by three horses, contained the old printing-press of Franklin. On either side of the car was inscribed: "The old Franklin printing office revived;" on the rear: "1723, this press was the property of Franklin; presented by him, 1742, to T. Draper; from whom it was procured by John Melcher, Portsmouth, N. H." — The employees in this travelling printing-office, were setting types, and printing (on the old press) a fac-similie of Franklin's first paper, "The New England Courant," as in 1723—with old-fashioned type, paper and all. These were distributed gratuitously as the procession moved.

The printers followed, numbering nearly four hundred—and did credit to themselves in honoring the memory of one of the noblest of their craft.

A car drawn by four horses, contained a Hoe press, from which was being printed, a Poem from the pen of B. P. Shillaber, Esq.: "being a very brief and very comprehensive life of Ben Franklin, printer, done into quaint verse." This was also distributed, and eagerly sought for.

The following beautiful and appropriate Ode, was written for the occasion by J. T. Fields, Esq.; adapted to music by Nathan Richardson; and was performed by a select choir of pupils of the public schools.

Give welcome to his sculptur'd form!
Art's splendid triumph here is won,
Thus let him stand, in light and storm,
Our sea-girt city's greatest son.

His lineage sprung from honest toil,
Swart Labor trained his youthful hand:
High with the brave who freed our soil—
Where first he breathed let FRANKLIN stand.

His genius stamped the Press with power;
His glance the glowing future saw;
His science curbed the fiery shower;
His wisdom stood with Peace and Law.

The world his story long has shrined,—
To Fame his spotless deeds belong,—
His homely Truth, his ample Mind,
His Saxon hate of human Wrong.

Room for the grey-haired, patriot sage!
For here his genial life began;—
Thus let him look from age to age,
And prompt new Thought, ennobling Man.

MAINE.—The Augusta Age of the 18th, gives the vote of Hamlin for Governor 69,429; Wells 44,889; Patten 6,659.—Hamlin's majority, over all 17,881; his plurality over Wells nearly 25,000. Only a few small places remain to be heard from, which, (says the Age) will not materially vary the figures. This decisive vote is probably a fair sample of the vote of all New England, in the presidential election, and of most of the free States.

The Carolina Times, a fire-eating journal of the regular South Carolina school, predicts the election of Fremont from Iowa and Vermont elections. It had not heard from Maine, which will not be likely to change its opinion. The Times adds:

"The profoundest apathy has seized upon people and politicians—upon all classes—and we contemplate the probable triumph of Black Republicanism, with a stolid indifference and stoicism which are amazing and alarming."

Professor Hare, who is lecturing on spiritualism at Saratoga, declares that the spirits are unanimously in favor of the election of Fillmore to the Presidency, and think that the institution of Slavery should be perpetuated! It is a cheering fact that Fillmore has a large party somewhere, for there is a regular stampede among his supporters in this sphere.—Boston Journal.

NEW TACTICS IN KANSAS.—Thanks to the bravery of the Free State men, and the generalship of the heroic Lane, says the Boston Chronicle, the Missouri invaders were driven back before it was possible for the administration to step in and crush the Free State party on pretence of separating the combatants. The war on the marauders has been conducted so judiciously, and only on such flagrant, intolerable provocation, that it was impossible for Smith to interfere while it raged, to put down the Free State forces, though the animus of his instructions is perfectly plain from his not having acted against the invaders. Robbed and murdered by the Southern banditti, and threatened with utter extermination by Atchison's army of Missouri Ruffians, the Free State men of Kansas, unable to obtain protection from the United States, attacked their lawless enemies, routed their advanced posts and frightened the main body back over the Missouri border. This is distinctly admitted by the Missouri pro-slavery papers, including the St. Louis Republican. The St. Louis News, a rather neutral print, of Sept. 8th, says:

That great expected battle between Gog (D. R. Atchison) and Magog (Jim Lane,) we rather think won't come off. We were told that the pro-slavery forces were to march on Lawrence, and attempt to annihilate Free Soilism in Kansas by a desperate attack on that strong hold, on the 2d inst. Now, we learn the grand affair has been postponed till the 13th inst. Which amounts to a virtual abandonment.

The fact is the Missourians are not prepared to attack Lawrence, as their captains well know. * * * * * Slavery men are wretchedly organized, or rather not organized at all, while the Free Soilers are under thorough discipline.

All these considerations are duly taken into account by the pro-slavery leaders, who endeavor to restrain their men, and reconcile them to a postponement of this attack. Even after their trial at Osawatomie, the pro-slavery force was obliged to retreat and fall back on the main camp, and the day after the battle a large body of Free Soilers from Lawrence hovered around the main pro-slavery camp, within rifle shot, threatening an attack.—Thus showing their confidence in their strength.

Since the postponement of the attack on Lawrence, numbers of the Missourians are leaving camp and returning to their homes. They were prepared only for a few days' campaign, and their provisions and ammunition are pretty well exhausted; they are not in the condition to meet the enemy on fair footing. Under these circumstances, Gov. Geary will find it an easy matter to induce the whole pro-slavery army to disband and go home without coming to a general fight, and we hope to hear in a few days that that event has occurred.

The Boston Chronicle remarks:

Gov. Geary it seems has done so, as indeed nothing else was left for him to do.—There will now be no serious war till after election, when, as we trust, it will be forever out of the question.

But let us remember that there has been a war on that infant Colony to the knife. The effects of destitution and desolation must be repaired instantly. We must see that a famine does not follow, worse than war. Food and clothing must be immediately furnished in generous supply to the impoverished settlers. New emigrants must be rallied to fill the decimated ranks of freedom. The slave oligarchy is very far from having relinquished its game or exhausted its resources.

It will now sing the syren song that Kansas will be free of course, and forge new fetters in the interval.

Though it was not in the despatch to evening papers, it was known in town by private despatches that Rev. Mr. Nute has returned safe to Lawrence. Of his personal experience in the hands of his captors, we have as yet learned nothing.

ITEMS FROM KANSAS.—Rev. Mr. Nute arrived at Lawrence on the 10th inst., and was present at the jubilee celebration in that city on the occasion of the release of Gov. Robinson.

Gov. Geary is in Leavenworth, and leaves for Lawrence soon. He will call to his aid 100,000 United States troops and 50,000 volunteers from the North, if necessary.

Gov. Geary had released all the prisoners that were in the hands of the mob at Leavenworth.

The Missourians generally had fled from Westport, fearing an attack from Lane.

Gen. Smith had ordered all the families seeking safety at fort Leavenworth to leave on Wednesday, the 10th inst.

The pro-slavery men report a battle on the 31st ult., at Planter's Bridge, between 500 Missourians under Atchison and a party of Free Soilers. The Missourians fled at the first charge.

The fact is not generally known that no appropriation was made by Congress to pay the legislature of Kansas which enacted the bloody code of laws. The House struck out the items in the appropriation bill, which made provision for that purpose, and the Senate yielded the point, thus virtually acknowledging that they considered it as an illegal body.

Mrs. Schehan, 65 years old, tried to climb up the bank to get out of the way of a freight train, at Springfield, Ms, Monday, but slipped back, and was cut in two by the locomotive.

☞ In Boston, on Tuesday night, about midnight, a drunken rowdy, T. Belcher Kay, shot one James Doyle, a liquor seller, a friend of Kay's, near 120 Court street.—All concerned were a set of dissipated men, dangerous to any community. Kay is a returned Californian of the worst kind.

On Wednesday night, a fight took place about 10 o'clock, at the liquor shop of J. Dempsey, No. 208 Congress Street, which resulted in the death of Patrick O'Rielly. The trouble originated in a drunken quarrel. Some time after the fight was over, officer Goodwin, of the 2d station, was called to take away O'Rielly, who was said to be lying before Dempsey's place in the street, drunk; but on finding him he was found to be quite dead. Officers arrested Geo. Ford and John O'Hara, the supposed murderers of O'Rielly, on Thursday morning, and they are detained to await the verdict of a jury.

ANOTHER NEW BOOK.—A volume of over 500 pages, with two beautifully engraved portraits, comes to us by mail, from Miller, Orton, & Mulligan, Auburn, N. Y. The portraits are those of Fremont and Dayton, and the book is entitled:—

The Republican Party and its Candidates; comprising the History, Principles, and Purposes of the Republican Party of the United States, from the days of Thomas Jefferson to the present time, with biographical sketches of Col. John C. Fremont and Wm. L. Dayton. By Benjamin F. Hall, Esq.

"It contains, in addition to a concise biography of the Republican Nominees, a connected history of the causes which led to the demoralization and disruption of the old parties; their abandonment of the original principles on which they were founded; their progressive and increasing subserviency to the slave interest, as shown in obsequious devotion to its claims, culminating in that crowning act of infamous treachery, the Missouri Compromise repeal, and in the series of crimes and outrages by which it has been followed.

This desertion of freedom and devotion to slavery, had, at length, become so bold and intolerable, as to compel right thinking men to forget all minor issues, and to combine their efforts to resist its farther baneful influence in the government; and the Republican Party was therefore a necessary result of the encroachments of slavery."

Single copies sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price, $1.

It was not Capt. Brown who captured McKinney's train, but Dr. Cutter. It was done without any violation of the right of property, to cut off communication between the Missourians and an advanced camp of marauders. The free state men, after getting a victory in Kansas, do not rob neutrals and murder prisoners.

A BLESSING TO ALL.

Dyer's Healing Embrocation is such and no mistake. We warrant it superior to any other medicine of the kind, and it has worked miraculously in the cure of disease, and thousands upon thousands will testify to these facts.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "cut under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need rejuvenation.—Rochester Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThs 6m.

☞ HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ Dr. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au8 6m

THE EFFECTS.—There has been an unusual quantity of police business before the the Court during the past few days, twenty-five cases having been tried on Saturday and Monday—all of them being the results of indulgence in liquor.—Salem Reg.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

Thomas Jones, late of ship Elizabeth Hamilton.

☞ The Petition to the City Council, for an appropriation of $500 to aid in the Printing Centennial Celebration, was numerously signed, and was presented in the Common Council, and laid on the table on account of other business. Both Boards hold a special meeting this evening—when we presume the matter will be decided—and if as their constituents would choose, the bill will pass.

☞ A Fremont and Dayton Flag has been raised at Newington the present week—one in School street in this city—and a Buchanan and Breckenridge Flag in Ladd street.

☞ Rt. Rev. Bishop Chase, of the Diocese of New Hampshire, preached in this city on Wednesday, at St. John's Church, and administered the right of confirmation to six persons.

☞ The Salute at the Navy Yard on Tuesday, was fired in honor of Capt. Ingraham, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance—and the salute on Thursday was in honor of the Chief of the Board of Medicine & Surgery, who visited the Yard, severally, on those days.

☞ On Wednesday evening a salute was fired at Kittery Point, when and where a Fremont Campaign Flag was raised, bearing these inscriptions: [on one side] Our Country is safe with Fremont & Dayton. [On the other side] No more Slave States—Fremont & Dayton.

FREMONT PHALANX.—All men between the ages of 21 and 40 years, who are in favor of Fremont & Dayton, are invited to meet at Rechab Hall, on Friday evening, at half past 7 o'clock, to organize the above Company.

☞ A friend who attended some exhibition at the Temple recently, (we think it was the Burning of Moscow,) complains of the noisy and unruly boys, who scampered over the seats, and rushed up and down the aisles before the performance;—and who yelled and hooted their applause, and pounded with their boot-heels when they were pleased, either with the picture or the darkness.

These complaints are too well founded, and parents, guardians, and boys, would do well to take notice.

THE CROPS.—A correspondent of the Journal at Walpole, N. H., writing Sept. 10, thus speaks of the crops in that vicinity;—

"The hay crop was of good yield and quality. The sown grains were of good growth, and most of them harvested in good order; yet oats were so much injured by the heavy rains as will advance the price.—Corn is generally good and ripening well; much of it is now being cut and set in the field for drying. There is yet in this vicinity much of the last year's corn crop in store. The potatoes are as good as they have been of late years. The fruits of the vines and trees are unusually scarce. Apples are more scarce and small in most orchards than is before remembered by their owners—not enough apples for home market."

☞ The Newburyport Herald learns that the potato rot is alarmingly extensive in that section, especially in the low lands and with the early crop—worse than it has been for years. Some of the fields that promised well a short time since are said to be not worth digging.

BREADSTUFFS.—The returns from the wheat harvest of the United States, says the New York Journal of Commerce, are now complete, and it is settled that the crop is of most excellent quality, and if not the largest ever gathered since the settlement of the country, is at least above the average, and will yield a large surplus beyond the supply of our domestic wants. The Journal estimates the yield at 150,000,000 bushels, and the probable export demand from all sources at 40,000,000 bushels.

A good story has come to our ears of the great Philanthropos, though its scene is laid on last winter. Passing down Temple place, the pavement a glare of ice, he saw a young girl standing at the head of the stone steps leading to Washinton street, as if fearful of proceeding, as the steps were very slippery. His soul was in legs and he rushed forward to help her, but just as he reached her his legs slipped from under him, and sliding along he pushed the girl down the steps, and then, Samaritan like, tumbled after her. The scene was worthy of Hogarth. As usual his intention was misunderstood.—Saturday Eve. Gazette.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.

Steamship Asia, from Liverpool 6th inst., arrived here at 7 o'clock this morning, bringing 150 passengers.

Liverpool, Saturday—1 P. M.—Weather still fine, and grain market dull. No transactions reported.

Provisions generally unchanged. For lard, 97 shillings is asked by holders.

Cotton steady, with moderate business, but somewhat irregular prices. Estimated sales to-day, from 7000 to 8000 bales.

Sept. 5—Breadstuffs.—Under the influence of continued fine weather, the prices of all kinds of breadstuffs have considerably declined as compared with the rates current at the sailing of the Cambria on the 30th ult. There is considerable variation in the quotations of leading American houses, but most agree in calling the decline on the lower grades of wheat at about sixpence per 70 lbs., and on the finer qualities about threepence below last week.

On flour the decline is variously estimated at from one to two shillings per bbl., with a fair business doing. The demand for Indian Corn has subsided, and there have been but slight sales to speculators at a decline on the week of about one shilling per quarter.

England.—The Royal British Joint Stock Bank, London, has failed. The Bank had done business, having branches in other places. It had three hundred stockholders, all individually liable to the extent of their means, and as the assets are very unsatisfactory, there will be a total ruin to all concerned.

The London Times says that though the harvest has been abundant, there was no prospect of prices receding to a point injurious to agriculturalists or agricultural interests. From the Continent the harvest accounts are still more favorable.

Westamacott, the sculptor, is dead.

The American ship Ocean Home and the Cherubim came in collision on Friday morning, off Lizard. The former sunk in twenty minutes, taking down 75 passengers.—She was from Rotterdam, bound to New York, with immigrants. The captain of the Ocean Home, with 21 of the passengers and crew, had landed at Plymouth.—The Cherubim was but slightly damaged, and proceeded to London. The second mate, steward and four seamen of the Ocean Home got into the long boat, but their fate is doubtful.

France.—The Cashier of the Northern Railroad of France has absconded. He is defaulter to the amount of 1,000,000f.

Turkey.—Diplomatic relations were resumed with Russia Aug. 25th.

Miscellaneous.—Sierra Leone dates are to June 30. The rains had been unprecedentedly heavy, and trade was dull.

Cholera is disappearing from Modena; 5000 persons had fallen victims in a population of 16,000. At Funchal the deaths are now no more than five or six daily.

The U. S. frigate Jamestown was reported lately at Teneriffe.

The New York News, organ of the Hard ——, has an editorial disquisition to prove that Slavery is better than Freedom, for those who labor. It maintains that it is on the whole better to be slaves at the South than white laborers at the North.—The only circumstance in favor of free labor is stated as follows:

"Let us, however, be magnanimous to the Northern system. Starvation quickens the genius of the white servant, and leads to many brilliant inventions, while plenty and absence of care, somewhat dulls the African race."

This fellow calls himself a "Democrat."

DAGGER FOUND.—Some workmen engaged in repairing the Long Pond Hotel, at Natick, last week, found a rusty dagger, supposed to be the one with which the former landlord, Hilliard, killed Warren; which our readers will remember occurred some two and a half years ago. Hilliard is in the State Prison suffering the penalty for his crime. The dagger is thirteen and a half inches long, including the handle, and has several blood stains upon the blade. It is supposed that Hilliard's wife hid the dagger where it was now found.

☞ In Charlestown, Mass., on Thursday night last week, a young man was returning from Boston, and running very swiftly; he came in contact with a lamp-post, and striking his face, inflicting severe wounds. He screamed with the pain, and went back to the toll-house on the bridge with his face dreadfully besmeared with blood. He was provided with a wet towel, which he bound about the bruises, and then went in search of a physician.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

YORK COUNTY
Mutual Fire Insurance Co.,
Office at South Berwick, Me.
Incorporated by the Legislature of Maine, A. D. 1852.
A Safe and Responsible Insurance Co.
Am't of Property Insured, $3,000,000.00
Amount of Premium Notes to meet Losses, $200,000.00

THIS Company continues to insure the most kinds of Real and Personal Property, on the Mutual principle, against Loss and damage by fire and lightning. The Charter of said Company expressly provides—

"That all Property, whether Real or Personal, shall be divided into four separate and distinct Classes; and each Class shall be liable for its own losses. Not each for the other, as in the old combination Companies."

THE FIRST CLASS, OR FARMERS' COMPANY, Insures Dwelling Houses, Barns, and Out Buildings, and their contents, when situated at a distance of not less than four rods from other buildings, for a term not less than six years. The Farmers can readily see the dvantages of insuring in a Class or Company by themselves, where they are not subject to the risk of property more hazardous than their own. The assessment on five hundred dollars of property insured in this Class, for a period of 3½ years, is only one dollar and thirty-eight cents. Farmers will do well to insure in this Company, as it is much the cheapest Company in Maine.

THE SECOND CLASS, OR VILLAGE COMPANY, Insures Dwelling Houses, Barns, and Out Buildings, and their Contents, in Towns and Villages in the country, when situated at a less distance than four rods from safe descriptions of Property:—for a term not exceeding six years. This Class, while in its infancy, met with heavy losses, and assessed its members severely, as is most ever the case with all New Companies. It has now recovered from that shock, is firmly and permanently established, constantly receiving large accessions to its members, and has added a large amount to its capital. Its aim is onward, and will hereafter be a very cheap Company

THE THIRD CLASS, OR MERCHANTS' COMPANY, Insures Stores, Merchandize, Public Houses, Churches, School Houses, Academies, Saddle, Harness and Trunk Makers' Shops, Bridges, and other descriptions of Property not insurable in other Classes, for a term not exceeding three years. The assessment in this Class for the past year has been less than stock rates by some 50 per cent.

This Company has done an active and highly successful business for the past four years. Its business is rapidly increasing and is extending to every town in Maine. It is emphatically a State Company.—Combining all the advantages of town and local companies, and free from their sectional and local disadvantages, in combining a sufficient capital to sustain a considerable loss. It is conducted with the most rigid economy, adjusts its loses liberally and promptly, and is confidently recommended to the favorable consideration of the Property holders of Maine. It promises indemnity to the insured, and ably and liberally sustains that assurance. FOR TERMS AND INFORMATION, APPLY AT THE COMPANY'S OFFICE.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington
R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, Oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.
Testimonials.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 7, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
Commissioner of Patents.

TREMONT MILLS.
Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.
WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.
E. E. DYER & CO.
(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of
Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.
Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."
To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.
SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.
DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.
TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.
The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.
☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."
☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.
☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

H. R. COBURN'S
OIL WORKS.
Established, 1842.
H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.
This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.
This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considerd, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.
H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.
H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL
is made with care, from the best selected Lard oil. Every additional year since its introduction has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Derbois' Female Compound & Restorative.
Strength, Beauty, Health, and Happiness!—Such was our First Mother's portion. Such should her daughters be. Yet who would look for these amid the universal prevalence of Leucorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Fluor Albus, Weakness, Sinking Debility, General Prostration, and the other complaints peculiar to the female, which sap the vital energies of her system, and send her to an untimely grave, the victim of lingering sufferings from neglected disease.—DERBOIS' FEMALE COMPOUND cures all these: to thousands it has restored health, brought back the fading bloom, given new life and vigor to the ailing.—In short, it has proved itself woman's best and unfailing friend in all her disasters. To be obtained at No. 1 Tremont Temple. Price $3 per package. Circulars with recommendations from many ladies cured by its means, furnished gratis. Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.
How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is? Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Ms. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

DR. CONVERS'
INVIGORATING CORDIAL,
AND NERVOUS ANTIDOTE.
This Cordial is the only remedy for those sad derangements of body and mind, caused by early and improper habits of youth.
N. B. That involuntary nocturnal loss of physical energy, productive of much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the victim for business, society, or matrimony, is speedily restrained by this Cordial. It is the only remedy which has effected the desired result in this malady.
Dr CONVERS may be consulted personally or by letter, without charge, at his office 321 Hanover st., Boston, where all orders for the cordial should be sent. Dr. Convers' Medical work, 175 pages—
The Beacon; or, Guide from Youth to Manhood
—is the most important work ever published on these complaints. To young men it is invaluable. It will be given to those who purchase 3 bottles of Cordial.

CHILSON'S NEW CONE FURNACE.
HAVING been appointed Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Furnace, for Portsmouth and vicinity, we beg to call the especial attention of those in want of Furnaces for warming buildings, to a careful examination of an Invention that must commend itself to every intelligent mind.—Especially do we invite those having first class dwellings, who have hitherto been prejudiced against the use of the common Hot Air Furnaces, for their extravagant waste of fuel, insufficient heating power, and scorching, dry, unbealthy heat from the red hot iron pots, and escape of poisonous gases through the joints of the trail heaters. Chilson's NEW CONE FURNACE overcomes all of these objections, and secures a saving of at least FIFTY PER CENT. in fuel over the common Furnaces. This is accomplished by retaining the smoke and gases in a cluster of cones over the fire, each cone serving as a retort in bringing the rays of heat and light to a focus at their tops, not unlike the action of the sun on a sun-glass. By this the formerly wasted smoke and gases are made to warm the house. No one should fail of seeing this invention before deciding on their heating apparatus. There are sizes adapted to all classes of buildings. We give our especial attention to the putting up of these Furnaces on Mr. Chilson's new plan of setting them, and under his directions. We also sell Chilson's TRIO PORTABLE FURNACES and TRIO STOVES, embracing the same principle as the Cone Furnaces; also, Cooking Ranges, Stoves, Registers, Ventilators, &c.
E. A. STEVENS,
Sept. 15. 46 Market street.

WE would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth that we have appointed MR. E. A. STEVENS our Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Cone Furnace in Portsmouth and vicinity, to whom we would recommend all in want of a Furnace, as SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER MODE OF WARMING IN THIS OR ANY OTHER COUNTRY.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Tape, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate or style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1856.

CHANGES IN KANSAS.

There has been reason to suppose, for some days past, says the Boston Advertiser, that the administration has changed its course of policy towards Kansas, and instead of the purpose of putting down the free-state party, by the power of the militia of Kentucky and Illinois, they have at least resolved to try the experiment of conciliation. This belief is founded not only on the reported tenor of the telegraphic instructions said to have been lately transmitted to Gov. Geary and Gen. Smith, but on recent events in Kansas itself, which are fully substantiated by letters received in this city from Lawrence and Kansas city. For confirmation of this, we refer to the facts stated in the letter from Lawrence, which we give below, that Gov. Robinson and all the prisoners at Lecompton had been set at liberty, and that the Missouri militia recently assembled there had been sent home.

It is apparent from this letter, as well as from the general tenor of information from other sources, that the policy of the free-state leaders was defensive. They did not leave Lawrence with their troops until they had received information that an army of Missourians which had been organized at Lecompton for its destruction, was about to set out on its march. Of the organization of this army under the auspices of Gov. Woodson, the substitute of Gov. Shannon, we have repeated accounts. It was the determination of the defenders of Lawrence not to give the enemy an opportunity to destroy the town, but meet them on the way. This purpose is shown by several letters, and it is confirmed by that which we now publish. It was on the 17th of August that Shannon wrote the letter asserting that he saw 800 men at Lawrence, who manifested a fixed determination to destroy Lecompton, and that there were 500 free-state troops at Osawattomie, besides several hundred at other places.—These statements have been repeatedly contradicted by the most conclusive testimony, and there is no reason to believe that Lecompton was in danger.

We have seen a letter of undoubted credibility, received in Boston from Kansas city, dated Sept. 4, which states that Woodson had called out the militia, and that they had already burned 8 or 10 residences and killed several citizens without cause, and made a brutal attack on a woman. They were about marching against Lawrence, but the writer remarks: "they will not take it, unless the United States troops interfere." A letter from the same source, dated the 5th, says that the Marshal who came to Lawrence the preceding day, failed to find Lane, and that no arrests were made. The militia had given up the purpose of destroying Lawrence, and having burned eight or ten houses, and committed some outrages on the free-state settlers, had concluded to go home.

The following letter is from an authentic source:

LAWRENCE, Sept. 5, 1856.

We have achieved a glorious victory today, the more glorious because bloodless. I have written you that the Missourians were encamped within a few miles west of us, and that they were committing the most cruel and disgraceful outrages. The free state men were determined to rout them. They could stand it no longer. They accordingly marched to-day to Lecompton, hoping to meet the enemy somewhere on the road. Our men were eager for fight—not because they desire to kill—but because they think it high time that this question is settled. They think that one pitched battle on a fair field, with equal numbers, will settle it. They have no apprehensions for the result of such a battle. They fight impelled by a deep sense of wrong. What have the Missourians to fight for?

On our march we passed Major Clark's house, but not a single depredation was committed, except to charge upon his melons. These were necessary for our soldiers—they had nothing else to eat. Considering what a hateful man Clark has been, that he murdered poor Barber, making his fond wife a maniac, and that he is known to have been the principal instigator of many of the outrages committed upon the free-state citizens, I think the forbearance of these soldiers is wonderful. I assure you, it did my heart good to witness their noble conduct. We soon reached the hill overlooking Lecompton, and there planted our two cannon within one quarter of a mile of the town. Just before reaching town, we saw scouts in the distance. They exchanged shots with our scouts a few times, but we invariably run them some, where their number was equal. When we halted on the hill, Gen. Lane did me the honor of selecting to go into town and make demand of the immediate release of all free-state men in Lecompton. I entered with a flag of truce, accompanied by Capt. Cline of Ossawatomie. The Missourians were in battle array near the capital. I should judge they had 200 men. I made my demand, which at first was refused; and afterwards I was told that all the prisoners demanded were set at liberty already. It had been done only a short time before. Their leader, calling himself "Gen. Marshall," then asked me to make a demand on Gen. Lane for all the prisoners he had taken. This ended the interview, and we rode back to General Lane.

Soon after this, Col. Cook, commanding the U. S. troops, rode up to us, attended only by his staff. He told us that that march upon Lecompton was all unnecessary—that on that very day the militia of Kansas were disbanded and sent home—and that they had been crossing the river at Lecompton all day. Mr. Parrot of Leavenworth, made here an excellent hit. "To be sure," said he "we ought to be informed of these facts, but how can we. If we send one, two or three men, or even more, to Lecompton, they are arrested, and that is the last we hear of them. Therefore we have come with an army to ascertain the facts in the case." Col. Cook made no reply.

But he said afterwards that we had everything in our own hands, and that if we were prudent, making no reprisals and acting moderately, there would be no trouble. He therefore urged us to go home. We were of course very much inclined so to do, on learning the facts in the case.—We marched home, feeling that we had got a victory of which we have a right to be proud. It almost made me weep for joy to see how thankful the women who live along the road of march, were. They told us, that the dreadful anxieties which they have lately passed through, are indescribible. God grant that we may now have peace. I think we had on the march to-day 600 men. These do not constitute our whole force, however. We left in Lawrence a sufficient number to defend it, though we had taken both cannon; and we had a large force on the north side of the Kansas. It is now nearly one o'clock,—midnight. I am very tired, and therefore will not at present enter into farther detail.

We hear to-night that another large force is assembling at Westport, and that they are coming up here soon. I doubt the report, as I do all reports, yet the rumor is enough to keep up the alarm and interrupt business.

The Boston Courier, in replying to the cry, "the aggression of the south," speaks of the Kansas territorial bill as a measure framed, introduced and supported by a senator from Illinois; passed by the aid of thirteen senators and forty-three members of the house from free states; adopted by a free state cabinet, and signed by a free state President," and says it "can hardly, with truth, be described as 'an act of southern aggression.'"

Exactly so—it is not an act of southern aggression—but it is an aggression of slavery upon freedom, made by northern doughfaces, not a few of whom thereby committed political suicide.—And the act has waked up all lovers of freedom, north and south and west.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—New York, Sept. 18.—Wm. T. Coleman, President of the San Francisco Vigilance Committee, was arrested here to-day on complaint of James Maloney, on a charge of being instrumental in expelling him from San Francisco. Coleman was held in $50,000 bail.

As the Committee expelled a great many men from that city, the result of the trial will be awaited with considerable interest. They expelled many scoundrels, who, under a severer regime, would have lost their heads.

Wiscasset did well on Monday, beating the varmints by fifty votes.

So says the Portland Argus of the 16th. By the varmints, the editor means the minority of voters in that town. If being in the minority makes them varmints, then the editor is one of the varmints of Portland. If being political opponents to that editor or his party, makes them so, then by working the rule the other way, he and his friends also become varmints.

If being lovers of freedom makes them vermin, then Maine is overrun with such "varmints," shrieking and voting against slavery extension, and its aids and abettors.

☞ The Manchester Mirror states that on Monday night last, the stable of Daniel Perkins, at New Market, was entirely consumed, with its contents. Two valuable horses, we regret to learn, were burnt to death; one, a St. Lawrence Stallion, four years old, very fast, and in training for the Horse Show at Manchester, week after next, owned by Perkins; the other a gelding St. Lawrence colt, three years old, threatened with speed, owned by Samuel and Manasseh Perkins, of Manchester.

☞ The Portland Argus states that Lieut. Geo. H. Preble, (U. S. N.) of that city, has been appointed Light House Inspector for this section of New England.—Lt. Franklin, who vacates that office, has for some time been desirous of being relieved from its duties, in order to devote his time exclusively to his office of Superintendent of Government Contracts, and Civil Engineer.

THE WHIGS.—The National Whig Convention held at Baltimore on Wednesday and Thursday, was attended by delegates from twenty-six States. The proceedings were harmonious so far as we can judge from the telegraphic report. The resolutions deprecate the evil results of sectional parties, in which term they comprise the supporters of Buchanan as well as those of Fremont, and declare that those results can only be averted by the election of Mr. Fillmore. The nomination of Fillmore and Donelson by the know-nothings, is cordially approved, and a National Committee is to be appointed, to promote an effective organization in the country.

A grand ratification meeting was held in Baltimore.

☞ In Portland, on Thursday, a man by the name of Michael Cammel, at work in the third story of the new Custom House, missed his footing and fell to the flooring below, which was composed of iron and bricks; and died in the course of half an hour.

A young man named Boodry, of New Ipswich, went out on Sunday to shoot ducks. He was climbing up a bank and drawing his gun after him, with his hand hold of the muzale, when it was discharged, and the contents of the piece entered his hand and went out of his arm, injuring it so severely that amputation was necessary.

☞ The Trenton (N. J.) Republican Gazette says that the Republicans are willing to form a State electoral ticket—half Fillmore and half Fremont men—and adds that many of the Fillmoreites are in favor of such a union, but that the leaders oppose it.

STEPHEN M. ALLEN of Massachusetts, one of the prime movers of the New England portion of the North American party, has refused to participate in the fusion with the republicans, now going on, and has gone over to Fillmore. He is about to publish some singular developments.

Let us see them. No doubt they are rich.

SUPPORTING THE UNION.—The Charleston Mercury says:

We hope that our sentinels in Washington will keep bright watch in the coming night, and with a spirit kindling to the contest. Let the Government perish, but let the South be preserved.

The Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Delta says:

It is already arranged in the event of Fremont's election, or a failure to elect by the people, to call the Legislatures of Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia to concert measures to withdraw from the Union before Fremont can get possession of the army and navy and the purse strings of government. Governor Wise is actively at work already in the matter. The South can rely on the President in the emergency contemplated. The question now is, whether the people of the South will sustain their leaders.

WHEELING, Sept. 18.—The Virginia Republican State Convention was held here to-day, and a Fremont Electoral ticket was nominated. There was no disturbance.

A BLESSING TO ALL.

Dyer's Healing Embrocation is such and no mistake. We warrant it superior to any other medicine of the kind, and it has worked miraculously in the cure of disease, and thousands upon thousands will testify to these facts.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all hope when aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTh&S 6m.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best medicine ever used for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. None are genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sal by Druggists everywhere, and at my office No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au8 6m

BATES & BUCHANAN.—An address has been issued in behalf of the whigs of St. Louis, Missouri, signed by Edward Bates and two other gentlemen, from which the following is an extract:

It is understood that Buchanan aims at the acquisition of Cuba, part if not the whole of San Domingo, and other countries stretching thence towards the equator, and that he will try to get them, peaceably if he can, forcibly if he must; and it is an undeniable fact, proved by our history, that he can begin the war of acquisition on his own authority, without the previous knowledge or consent of Congress He may begin the war for Cuba as confidently as Mr. Polk began his war for New Mexico and California, and leave Congress to assume the responsibility, and the nation to bear the burden.

THE CAUSE OF CRIME.—Life Illustrated reports "Scenes from Life," as shown up in the New York Court of Sessions. A woman who was brought up on charge of stealing a loaf of bread, was asked by the court:

"Have you not a husband?"

"Yes," she replied with great hesitation, and tears in her eyes. "He was a good man once, but he got to drinking, and going with bad women, and he leaves us alone to starve."

"The same old story of wretchedness," said the judge. "There are twenty thousand places in New York where rum is sold by night and by day. It is a frightful thing to contemplate the misery this traffic is bringing upon the people of New York; it is filling our streets with crime, vice and starvation."

STATE ELECTIONS.—The State election in California took place on the 3d inst., but it will be several weeks before we hear the result. Georgia and Florida have their State elections on the 6th of October; and Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and South Carolina, hold theirs on the 14th of October. No other State elections take place, after these, till November. Louisiana holds hers on the 3d; Massachusetts, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey, New York and Wisconsin on the 4th—the day of the Presidential election: Mississippi on the 3d and 4th, Maryland on the 5th, and Delaware on the 10th.

"If you are Coming, Why don' you Come along!"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every loco motive on every Railroad shrieks it. It i daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in th country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpen ters hourly echo emphatically it. The smith at his anv hammers it out. The clanking Press with breath less haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hun dred lands. It has sounded like a slogan throug the political world, and the "Old Fogies" ar creeping along among the baggage wagons an the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funera pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and al the old remedies for Liver Complaint have give way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybod and everything that wants to be listened to o looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: i you wish any person to see anything, show it; i you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in you house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season

It used to take six men to make a pin; now on boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's th way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseou drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cur yourself? Here we offer you the article that wil do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they hav been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they ar just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

PRINTING CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

Printers, Editors and Publishers throughout the United States, and particularly the Sons of Portsmouth or of New Hampshire, engaged in any of the various branches pertaining to the Printing Art; and all others interested; are cordially invited to attend the Centennial Celebration of the Introduction of the Art of Printing in New Hampshire, which will be held at Portsmouth, N. H. on Monday Oct. 6, 1856.

Societies or Companies wishing to join in the procession, should immediately address H. F. Wendell, Esq., Portsmouth, N. H., Chief Marshal of the Day.

Editors everywhere are requested to copy this notice, and call attention to the Celebration.

EDWARD N. FULLER,
SAMUEL GRAY,
Com. on Invitations.

Ports., Oct. 19, '56.

THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.—Arrangements are in active progress for this Celebration. Invitations have been issued to a large number of distinguished guests, and the occasion promises to be very successful and attractive. H. F. Wendell, Esq. has been appointed Chief Marshal of the day, (the best selection which could have been made) and all Societies and Companies wishing to join in the Procession should report to him at once, in order that appropriate positions may be assigned them.—The procession will be formed at half past 10, A. M.

We are unable this morning to make any definite announcement in regard to the Regatta, but the full programme will be shortly published.

It has been suggested that the scholars of the Public Schools form a part of the Procession, and we hope that such will be the case. Let us have a general holiday.

☞ The gentlemen appointed as Committee on the Regatta, are invited to meet at the Gazette office, this evening at half-past 7.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday, Sept. 18.—The Fremont Guards applied for use of Ward Room No. 1. Referred to Committee on City Lands and Buildings.

The Health Officers presented bill for extra services,—and had leave to withdraw.

☞ A fine white oak ship of 1200 tons, intended for general freighting business, will be launched from the yard of the Portsmouth Ship Building Co., on Noble's Island, on Wednesday morning next, at about 8 o'clock. She is built after a superior model, combining large carrying with good sailing qualities. She is not yet named, being for sale.

☞ The Fourth Annual County Fair will be holden at Exeter on Wednesday and Thursday, the 24th and 25th of this month. Besides the interesting programme already announced, the Rockingham Cattle Guard (famous as the Border Ruffians of the 4th of July,) have condescended to appear on Wednesday.

At the last exhibition, a fine display was made from Portsmouth; and we hope that this year's will be in no wise inferior, as it certainly need not be.

☞ A correspondent suggests, as an excellent location for our new Post Office and Custom House, the lot on State street, running from Warren street, on Fleet—occupied by Messrs. E. M. Brown, J. M. Mathes, and others. It is 150 by 130 feet, he thinks. It would certainly be a good location, being central, having three sides on streets, and is very beautiful.

TALL FISHING.— Captain Trefethen, of the ship Robert Parker, of this port, at Mobile, recently espied three or four "devil fish" at the mouth of the bay, and, armed with a harpoon, gave pursuit in a boat. Selecting the largest, the captain drove the harpoon through him; the wounded leviathan leaped high in the air, and then dashed off at an awful speed, with the captain and his gig. After a chase of some ten miles the harpoon drew out, but captain kept on the track of the fish; and having spliced his weapon, again drove it securely into his prey. The monster again darted off with accelerated speed, but after a long and exciting chase the captain secured his prize, which is reported to measure sixteen feet from fin to fin across, and nearly forty feet in length.

☞ The Gazette states that there was a great Democratic meeting at Raymond on the 13th inst., on the occasion of raising an American banner, bearing the names of the Democratic nominees, and that a procession numbered over 1800 by actual count.

GOV. REEDER.—The New York Post contains a letter from Gov. Reeder, in which he gives his reasons for quitting the democratic party and supporting Col. Fremont. After referring to his close personal and political intimacy with Mr. Buchanan, and his own labors of a quarter of a century in the ranks of the Democratic party, he says:

"These ties are exceedingly strong, and hard to sever, especially with one who is naturally of a conservative cast, and slow to change old habits of thought and action, and I have resisted for months the convictions that were urging me to my present declaration. I have diligently sought reasons and arguments to save myself the pain of breaking up old associations, and alienating myself from old friends, but all in vain; my love of country and hatred of oppression would not allow my feelings and inclinations either to delude my judgment or still my conscience, and I am compelled to forfeit my self-respect by committing what I believe to be palpably wrong, or else to enroll myself in opposition to the Democratic party."

He then reviews the Kansas troubles, and defines the policy which Mr. Buchanan must, if elected, hold toward that territory- and concludes as follows:

"Should Mr. Buchanan be elected, and his administration be different from what my judgment compels me to believe, I shall give it my cordial approbation, and my feeble, though willing support. As I believe now, I must regard the Democratic party as fully committed to Southern sectionalism, towards which for some time past it has been rapidly tending; and I quit it well assured that my duty to my country demands at my hands this sacrifice of personal feeling."

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 15.—Relief for Kansas.—A relief party left here to-day for Kansas. They go out under Prof. Daniels, of the National Committee. They will take out clothing and arms for the relief of the citizens of Kansas.

There are further developments with regard to the great swindle at Madison by the late administration. The committee say the total loss to the State cannot be less than $2,000,000.

NEW YORK, 19th.—Three hundred booksellers, in attendance upon Leavitt & Delisser's trade sales, paid their respects to Col. Fremont at his residence yesterday.

The great race between Lantern and Prince, for $10,000, two mile heats to wagons, came off yesterday afternoon, over the Union Course. Lantern won. Time—5:17 1-4, 5:22 1-4, 5:28.

The steamer Black Warrior, from New Orleans, arrived this morning. Her captain reports that all the way from the Southwest Pass to the Tortugas he passed large quantities of ship timber, knees, masts, broken spars, planks, door pannels, barrels, &c., evidently from vessels disabled or lost during the late hurricane in the Gulf. He also saw three vessels bottom up.

WHEAT AND MARRIAGES.—It is a singular fact that when bread is plenty, weddings are, and when the crops are poor weddings are few. There is nothing more definitely settled by the registers than this. The statistics of Great Britian show that from the cessation of the famine in 1847 up to 1854, the number of marriages was continually on the increase; and that in the latter year, for the first time in seven years, they began to decline. One might suppose that the Eastern war, which broke out in 1854, was the cause of this falling off. But the decrease in the number of marriages commenced in the first quarter of the year, before war was proclaimed, and months before the waste of life, caused by hostilities, could affect the result. The real cause must be found in the fact that in November, 1853, the price of wheat rose to seventy-two shillings and five pence per quarter, nearly double of what it had been in 1852, and considerably more than it had been since 1847. This enormous rise was attended by a great check to the foreign trade of England, especially with this country and Australia, produced by the scarcity of wheat here and in that colony; and to these causes, all resolving themselves really into one, the decline in marriages is really to be attributed.—N. P. Herald.

MEXICO.—Reports from Mexico state that a serious difficulty had arisen between the Government of that country and the British Minister. That gentleman is said to have demanded his passports, and to have ordered a naval squadron to proceed to Vera Cruz to enforce the demands of England.

CENTRAL AMERICA.—By a despatch from Washington, it seems probable that a treaty upon Central American affairs has been concluded between England and this Government, and that Mr. Dallas had plenipotentiary power.

The cost of the war with Russia, to England alone, is stated at £80,000,000. No permanent addition has been made to her national debt. The revenues of the two years of war and that following it have borne two-thirds of the additional expenditure; the remainder will be absorbed in the course of sixteen years.

EXTRACTS.

"The Democratic party is not a pro-slavery party; it is neither pro-slavery nor anti-slavery."—John C. Breckinridge.

"That party, [the Democratic] by a most extraordinary oversight, a blunder, a great deal more than it is a crime, but a stupendous crime, an enormous blunder, has lent itself to the extension of slavery in our South-Western Territories. — Rufus Choate.

"Disunion is a word which ought not to be breathed amongst us, even in a whisper. The word ought to be considered one of dreadful omen, and our children should be taught that it is sacrilege to pronounce it. —James Buchanan.

"If Fremont is elected, there is not the slightest hope that the Union will last an hour after Mr. Pierce's term expires.—Richmond Enquirer.

"If Fremont should be elected, the South will secede, and the Democratic party of the North will sustain the South. Shall the Democrats of the North be ruled by the Republicans? No, never."—Gov. Wells, of Maine.

Howell Cobb, of Georgia, who spoke to the Democrats of Maine not long ago, is the author of a resolution adopted by a Convention in Georgia, declaring that "should Kansas be refused admission into the Union because of Slavery being in her Constitution, or as a slave State, Georgia would resist such action of Congress even to the dissolution of the Union."

But these men, and such as these, are not the whole country, nor the whole South. There are conservative men all over the Country. Houston of Texas, Davis of Maryland, and Bates of Missouri, among them, have spoken. We have room here, only for the following extract from a speech of the Hon. Edward Bates of Missouri, one of the most influential politicians in the South West:

"We are told to vote for Buchanan to defeat Fremont, as the election of the latter would lead to the dissolution of the Union. It is false; to say that Southern men will dissolve the Union in the event of Fremont's election, is a slander and a calumny on them. The Union is stable and strong, and will remain so, let who will be elected. There is not one inch of soil from Minnesota to the Belize that is in the political North or the political South.—The Union is welded and bound together by ties of blood and kindred, and will come out unscathed from the fiery trial of the coming election."

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

YORK COUNTY

Mutual Fire Insurance Co.,

Office at South Berwick, Me.

Incorporated by the Legislature of Maine, A. D. 1852.

A Safe and Responsible Insurance Co.
Am't of Property Insured, $3,000,000.00
Amount of Premium Notes to meet Losses, $200,000.00

THIS Company continues to insure the most kinds of Real and Personal Property, on the Mutual principle, against Loss and damage by fire and lightning. The Charter of said Company expressly provides—

"That all Property, whether Real or Personal, shall be divided into four separate and distinct Classes; and each Class shall be liable for its own losses. Not each for the other, as in the old combination Companies."

THE FIRST CLASS, OR FARMERS' COMPANY, Insures Dwelling Houses, Barns, and Out Buildings, and their contents, when situated at a distance of not less than four rods from other buildings, for a term not less than six years. The Farmers can readily see the advantages of insuring in a Class or Company by themselves, where they are not subject to the risk of property more hazardous than their own. The assessment on five hundred dollars of property insured in this Class, for a period of 3½ years, is only one dollar and thirty-eight cents. Farmers will do well to insure in this Company, as it is much the cheapest Company in Maine.

THE SECOND CLASS, OR VILLAGE COMPANY, Insures Dwelling Houses, Barns, and Out Buildings, and their Contents, in Towns and Villages in the country, when situated at a less distance than four rods from safe descriptions of Property:—for a term not exceeding six years. This Class, while in its infancy, met with heavy losses, and assessed its members severely, as is most ever the case with all New Companies. It has now recovered from that shock, is firmly and permanently established, constantly receiving large accessions to its members, and has added a large amount to its capital. Its aim is onward, and will hereafter be a very cheap Company

THE THIRD CLASS, OR MERCHANTS' COMPANY, Insures Stores, Merchandise, Public Houses, Churches, School Houses, Academies, Saddle, Harness and Trunk Makers' Shops, Bridges, and other descriptions of Property not insurable in other Classes, for a term not exceeding three years. The assessment in this Class for the past year has been less than stock rates by some 50 per cent.

This Company has done an active and highly successful business for the past four years. Its business is rapidly increasing and is extending to every town in Maine. It is emphatically a State Company—Combining all the advantages of town and local companies, and free from their sectional and local disadvantages, in combining a sufficient capital to sustain a considerable loss. It is conducted with the most rigid economy, adjusts its losses liberally and promptly, and is confidently recommended to the favorable consideration of the Property holders of Maine. It promises indemnity to the insured, and ably and liberally sustains that assurance. H. R. COBURN'S
OIL WORKS.
Established, 1842.

H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.

This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.

This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.

H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.

H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL.

is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Derbois' Female Compound & Restorative.

Strength, Beauty, Health, and Happiness!—Such was our First Mother's portion. Such should her daughters be. Yet who would look for these amid the universal prevalence of Leucorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Fluor Albus, Weakness, Sinking Debility, General Prostration, and the other complaints peculiar to the female, which sap the vital energies of her system, and send her to an untimely grave, the victim of lingering sufferings from neglected disease.—DERBOIS' FEMALE COMPOUND cures all these: to thousands it has restored health, brought back the fading bloom, given new life and vigor to the ailing.—In short, it has proved itself women's best and unfailing friend in her distress. To be obtained at No. 1 Tremont Temple. Price $3 per package. Circulars with recommendations from many ladies cured by its means, furnished gratis. Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.

How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is? Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. So say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to pay the return postage, address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Ms. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

Is the most perfect and unchangeable white paint in use, forming, when properly applied, a rich enamel surface. It is particularly recommended when the nicest work is required, as in Parlors, Ship or Steamboat Cabins, &c, is readily mixed, and flows as easily as other paints. For sale by manufacturers, STIMSON, VALENTINE & CO., No. 65 Federal street, Boston. The above is put up securely in 10 and 20 lb. cans, with printed directions for mixing and use.

THE BODICES HAVE ARRIVED!
Per Enoch Train. 19 Cases.

Great Reduction in Price.

MRS. ADAMS is about to fulfil her promise to sell all the Corsets to be sold in Boston this season. By large arrivals, she is enabled to reduce the price very much. Among them are the promised an article constructed on the same principle as the Papita Bodice.

"BODICE CORSETS,"

Mrs. A. would take the opportunity to guard the public against parties who pretend to have her bodices, but who cut off the ordinary ill-fitting German stays, and in instances open the busk place, inserting her beautiful French Button Fastening.

DR. CONVERS' INVIGORATING CORDIAL,

AND NERVOUS ANTIDOTE.

This Cordial is the only remedy for those sad derangements of body and mind, caused by early and improper habits of youth.

N. B. That involuntary nocturnal loss of physical energy, productive of much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the victim for business, society, or matrimony, is speedily restrained by this Cordial. It is the only remedy which has effected the desired result in this malady.

Dr. CONVERS may be consulted personally or by letter, without charge, at his office 321 Hanover st., Boston, where all orders for the cordial should be sent. Price $1 per bottle, or half a dozen, $5.

The Beacon: or, Guide from Youth to Manhood—is the most important work ever published on these complaints. To young men it is invaluable. It will be given to those who purchase 3 bottles of Cordial.

CHILSON'S NEW CONE FURNACE.

HAVING been appointed Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Furnace, for Portsmouth and vicinity, we beg to call the especial attention of those in want of Furnaces for warming buildings to a careful examination of an Invention that must commend itself to every intelligent mind.—Especially do we invite those having first class dwellings, who have hitherto been prejudiced against the use of the common Hot Air Furnaces, for their extravagant waste of fuel, insufficient heating power, and scorching, dry, unhealthy heat from the red hot iron pots, and escape of poisonous gases through the joints of the frail heaters. Chilson's NEW CONE FURNACE overcomes all of these objections, and secures a saving of at least three fifths in fuel over the common Furnaces. This is accomplished by retaining the smoke and gases in a cluster of cones over the fire, each cone serving as a retort in bringing the rays of heat and light to a focus at their tops, not unlike the action of the Sun on a sun-glass. By this the formerly wasted smoke and gases are made to warm the house. No one should fail of seeing this invention before deciding on their heating apparatus. There are sizes adapted to all classes of buildings. We give our especial attention to the putting up of these Furnaces on Mr. Chilson's new plan of letting them, and under his directions. We also sell Chilson's TRIO FOX TABLE FURNACES and TRIO STOVES, embracing the same principle as the Cone Furnaces; also, Cooking Ranges, Stoves, Registers, Ventilators, &c.

E. A. STEVENS,
Sept. 15. 46 Market street.

WE would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth that we have appointed MR. E. A. STEVENS our Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Cone Furnace in Portsmouth and vicinity, to whom we would recommend all in want of a Furnace. WHAT FILLS JAIL AND ALMSHOUSE?

A gentleman engaged in endeavoring to ameliorate the condition of the poor, sent the following to the Newark (N. J.) Advertiser:

In my visiting tours, not long since, I spent some little time in the county jail and almshouse, and found in the jail a large number of boys under fourteen years of age. It was a sad sight, but the number will be greatly increased, unless different city arrangements can speedily be entered into. The entire mass of pauper children filling our streets, asking charity, are in a way of training that is fitting them for the the penitentiary. A house of industry should be opened, and street begging be broken up. The industrial school operation will afford some relief, but will by no means meet our present exigency.

The first one I spoke to in the jail was a colored man, who said rum brought him there. I asked him how, and he said a number of them clubbed together, got two quarts of liquor, drank and caroused till towards morning, when he was seized by an officer and put on the hill. I asked a young man of eighteen how he came there. He said a company of them got liquor at Military Aall, and became crazy, and stole a pair of pantaloons. A large number, I found, had just been brought in for drunkenness, and some, who had become sober, manifested great indignation at the rum-seller. I learned that there was a kind be perpetual motion going on, drunkards ofing released, and rumsellers sending them back again.

At the almshouse, the doings of rum appeared in the most disgusting light. A woman was brought in by the overseer on Saturday last in a state of delirium tremens, in its very worst form. She was besmeared with blood, was shockingly bruised and mangled, and required a number of persons to hold her. She had been in good circumstances, and had seen better days, but rum had brought her to a miserable end. There was a man with a miserable leg, which has since been amputated, but his life can scarcely be saved. There were other sad specimens, but there was one charming sight. It was a lovely school of orphan children, who, with clear bright countenances, indicated clearly that they were well cared for. It seemed happy they they were orphans.

It would be good if the rumsellers and their patrons could go out and get a full view of the fruit of their work. And it might not be amiss, if some of our refined ladies, who load their sideboards with choice liquors, could look fairly at the evil, encouraged and prolonged by their example.

STATUES.—The success of the Franklin statue movement has encouraged the people to other efforts. Roxbury is moving for a statue of Gen. Warren; and George S. Hiliard has consented to act as treasurer for the funds to be collected for the purpose of erecting an equestrian statue of Washington, of heroic size, on Boston Common. Crawford will commence the work just as soon as a sufficient sum is subscribed. As the country grows older, they will multiply, and thus the memory of a brave and virtuous ancestry will be transmitted to posterity.—Newburyport Herald.

EXCOMMUNICATION.—We understand that Rev. D. N. Shelden, formerly President of Waterville College, and now pastor of the Elm Street Church, Bath, has been formally excommunicated by a Baptist council, for heresy, in dissenting from the commonly received doctrine of total depravity, or original sin, which he has so ably refuted in his work on "Sin and Redemption."—Bangor Journal, Sept 12.

☞ Mr. E. Merriam, in the last Journal, closes a letter thus:

In warming and ventilating buildings, we have gone backward very far. In dwellings erected a century ago, the fire places and chimneys were the best ventilators, and meeting houses were still better, for no fires were used in those places of worship,—hence ministers, in speaking into a cold atmosphere, had but little labor of the voice, and were consequently healthy and long-lived. But now, since stoves are used in churches, ministers are sickly and short-lived. In dwelling houses stoves have been substituted for fire-places, and heated air or steam for imparting warmth. Such contrivances are a draw-back on good health, and will before many years be found to shorten the duration of life.

SUDDEN DEATH IN HENNIKER.—Dr. Jacob Straw was found dead upon the floor in his office, on Saturday, about noon.—He laid in an easy, natural position, having on his clothes, with the exception of his coat.—There was no appearance of any spasmodic convulsions, or any bruises indicating falling. Dr. Sanborn was of opinion that he had been dead some twelve hours when found, and tho't that he died of apoplexy. On Sunday morning, Drs. Peterson, of Weare, Burnham and Parsons, of Hillsborough, after a slight post mortem examination, gave it as their opinion, also, that it was a case of apoplexy.

Dr. Straw was seventy years old, and had lived in Henniker about thirty-five years. He had no family—never having been married. The only relatives he had in the State were two sisters. He was a member of the masonic fraternity, and enjoyed a good reputation as a careful family physician.—Manchester Mirror.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF FREMONT IS ELECTED PRESIDENT?—The probability is, we might almost say the certainty, that on the 4th of March following that event, he would walk into the White House, and Jessie with him; and the people would cheer him all along the way from the Capitol steps to the White House door, as they have every other President since the White House was built.—Newburyport Herald.

How can this editor talk so lightly about an event which has drawn such thundering menaces from Wise, Toombs and Brooks? Still the picture is so cheerful and agreeable, that we can't help thinking there is strong tinge of probability in it.—Portland Adv.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1856.

A PICTURE.—Yankees, in factory towns and elsewhere, will laugh at the following picture drawn by the Richmond Enquirer, Sep. 8th :

"We can bring the capital employed in manufactures, and most of it employed in commerce, South, when we please. We can transfer Manchester and Birmingham and Lowell to the South, and thus in a single year quadruple the wealth of the South.—But we would not have your rich, vulgar, licentious bosses, and your brutal, ignorant and insubordinate factory hands in our midst for all the wealth of "Ormus and of Ind." We are as rich as we care to be.—We are contented, virtuous, religious, and conservative. We would not exchange our situation for the vulgar sensuality and brutality of the 'nouveaux riches,' the coarse parvenues, the millionaire cotton factors and grocers of the North, or of England, much less for the countless millions of paupers and criminals, who lift up and sustain the cowardly, selfish, sensual, licentious, infidel, agrarian, and revolutionary edifice of free society."

The writer of the above must have some droll ideas of capital, as well as of morals and manners, if he supposes capital will come and go at his bidding, without the capitalists. His notions of comparative refinement and virtue are also remarkable. The grocer or cotton-factor in New England or Old, in his parlance, is sensual, brutal, and cowardly. But the slave-breeder, and as John Randolph called him, the "soul-driver" of Virginia, is virtuous, moral, and religious! is he? We have not so learned the distinctions:—and the "free-society," aye, and the boys of the free schools, will laugh at such trash.

MAINE.—We learn from the Kennebec Journal, that the combined majorities of the Republican Representatives, chosen to Congress in that State, amount to 19,861.

For Governor, in the towns reported, which include the whole State with the exception of about 400 votes, it appears that the total vote of 1856 is	120,977

the vote of 1855 was	110,542
increase over 1855	10,435
Hamlin has	69,429
Wells "	44,889
Patten and Scattering	6,659
Hamlin's vote exceeds Wells's	24,540
" " " " Patten's	62,770
" majority over all	17,881
Hamlin gains from Wells	3,433
" " " Patten	4,018
" " " new voters	10,435
Wells and Patten together lose	7,451
Hamlin's net gain	25,337
Excess of Hamlin's vote over Morrill in 1855	17,886

Thus, while Hamlin, as Governor, has about 18,000 majority,—the Congressmen have about 20,000. In the Governor's case, State issues might do something, for or against him. But the Congressmen were chosen on the simple issue of slavery or freedom,—and their great majority shows that slavery, either black or white, is not an "institution" in Maine.

The Kennebec Journal predicts that the 70,000 for Hamlin, will be swelled to 75,000 for Fremont in November.

TENNESSEE.—The Boston Courier has seen a private letter, on business, to a gentleman in Boston, from a gentleman in Tennessee, at the close of which the writer adds the following:

"I hope you go strong in the old Bay State for Fillmore. This State (Tennessee) and Kentucky are certain for him; and there is the wildest enthusiasm among the friends of Fillmore in Georgia, Alabama, and several other Southern States. The rank and file, at the South, want a peace-making and Union man."

☞ The Charleston Mercury bitterly denounces Douglas and the Democratic party for their willingness to repeal some laws of the Kansas pro-slavery legislature, and asks, "Is it expected of this State, that they will shout hosannas at the heels of a party which stands ready so to insult and trample on them?"

The Boston Daily Times has dropped the names of Buchanan and Breckinridge.

True: but the Weekly Campaign Times has not. The Times has been for sale for some time,—and is now published without any name of editor, printer, or proprietor.

ABOLISHING POST OFFICES.—We understand (says the Amesbury Villager,) that the post office which has been established at South Hampton, N. H., for over thirty years, has been wiped out of existence, and the residents of that town compelled to go to Amesbury for accommodations.—Some of the old residents are justly indignant at this, and have petitioned the department for a "redress of grievance," but as yet no reply has been made to their demands.

☞ The Essex County (Mass.) Agricultural Society are to hold their annual exhibition, at Newburyport, on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 1st and 2d. The citizens are taking hold of the matter with good will. They are to have dinner in a tent, at which they will provide for twelve hundred guests—among which, Gen. Cushing, Gov. Gardner, and George Peabody, are expected. A balloon ascension will also probably take place,—a committee being now engaged in raising the necessary funds. This will be the best time to visit Newburport.

☞ The York County (Maine) Agricultural Society will hold its Tenth Annual Exhibition in Saco, on the 1st and 2d days of October, 1856. Premiums for the best skill exhibited by a Lady in riding on Horseback, are $15, $10, $5.

A Premium of $100 is offered for the best Trotting Horse, wherever raised or owned.

☞ The Vermont State Fair, at Burlington, last week, proved more successful than any of its predecessors, in all departments. The horses were the chief point of attraction, and among them the old Green Mountain Morgan, now twenty-three years old, the now "father" of the Morgan race, was accorded the post of honor; the renowned horse Ethan Allen, now visiting in Vermont, was also present and much noticed. More than four hundred horses were present.

FRIENDS IN BUSINESS.—"Business before friends," says the old money-catching adage; but we think it may be improved by rendering it, Business and friends. Among the many pleasant business associations we have enjoyed in printing the Chronicle, we are desirous of acknowledging the extensive and well conducted pioneer Advertising Agency of V. B. Palmer, Esq.,—especially the Boston branch, of which Mr. S. R. Niles has charge. We have done business with him to the amount of several hundred dollars; and always find him prompt and attentive, accurate and honorable. An order from him for advertising is as good as the cash; and an order sent to him for printing material of any sort is sure to be attended to as well as you can do it yourself. We deem his agency a great institution; and recommend it to all the craft—if they are not all on his list now, and to advertisers generally.

There are four organized Societies of Swedenborgians in Maine—one in Portland containing 63 members; one in Bangor, with an average attendance of 55; one in Bath, with 52 members; and one in Gardiner, with 33 members. In Augusta there are 12 receivers of the doctrine, and a list of 57 other places is given, in which there are isolated believers.

Judge Rost of Louisiana, at a late meeting in New Hampshire, said, as reported in the Boston Post, in reference to the influence of Slavery on Southern men:

He was ready to admit, that many of them became perfect savages when they considered themselves insulted; and the only way to avoid scenes of violence was to treat them always with due respect.

FIVE HUNDRED GUNS will be fired on the Common to-day in honor of the nomination of Millard Fillmore by the Whig National Convention at Baltimore. We understand that the salute will be fired by Major Cobb's Flying Artillery, and that six field pieces and sixty men are to be engaged in the patriotic work.—Boston Courier, Saturday.

Great Whig thunder this, for Whig victories—in advance—and one of those victories the choice of A. J. Donelson for Vice President—an event not likely to occur in this century.

The Boston Post, which has expended much treacle and rose water on the straight Whigs, has the following pepper sauce for the Whig National Convention at Baltimore:

"On Thursday morning resolves were reported by Washington Hunt declaring the administration responsible for the present distracted condition of the country, and recommending Fillmore and Donelson as the only panacea! The resolves have the impudence to call the democrats a sectional party, and they were unanimously adopted."

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.—The Providence Journal announces the death in that city on Wednesday, of Mr. Seth Yates, who was one hundred years old on the third day of last March.

THE GREAT REPUBLIC.—This monster ship has returned to New York, after an absence of nearly two years, during which time she has been employed in the French government transport service, during the war in the Crimea.

☞ The Gazette states that in Candia, on Wednesday and Thursday last, George H. Patten was examined before Justices Moore and Sanborn, upon the charge of killing Albion C. Bean, by shooting him on the 6th inst. After a full hearing, it appearing that the act was done strictly in self-defence, the prisoner was discharged. Mr. Chas. Bell, solicitor, appeared for the State—Messrs. Frink and Hatch for the defendant.

SAD ACCIDENT.—The Boston Times has this paragraph:—"At the raising of a hickory pole by the Democrats of Buffalo, on Wednesday, while preparations were going on, a rope gave way, and two men were crushed beneath the pole. Mr. Thayer was instantly killed, and E. P. R. Thurlow dangerously injured.

We remember that some papers, with great gravity, maintained that several deaths, two years ago, were special dispensations of divine displeasure against some eminent Democrats, because they became K. N.s. We objected to a view so absurd, at the time, and have no less objection to it now. The dispensation, however, is just as real in the one case as in the other.

☞ Prof. Morse has been invited to the coronation of the new Emperor of Russia, and it is stated has contracted with the Government to establish lines of telegraph throughout the empire. Mr. Morse is to be furnished with splendid apartments, horses, servants, and all requisite entertainment.

☞ THE FRANKLIN STATUE, in Boston, in front of the City Hall, is of bronze, eight feet in height, weighs about a ton, cost $10,000, and is a magnificent work of art. The total height of the pedestal, die stone and statue, is 27 feet.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—A Light House will be erected during the present season on Fly's or Green Island, near the Eastern end of Edgemoggin Reach, Maine.

A 3d class Nun buoy has been placed on the bell rock, near the entrance to Portland harbor. It is painted with black and red horizontal stripes.

MOBILE, 19th.— Don Vincente Hernandez de Agala, Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary from the Republics of Venezuela and Grenada, etc., was yesterday arrested by Marshal Maury and Deputy Marshal Scollick, on charges of forgery and swindling. After his arrest he made an attempt to swallow forged drafts to the amount of $600.

A BLESSING TO ALL.

Dyer's Healing Embrocation is such and no mistake. We warrant it superior to any other medicine of the kind, and it has worked miraculously in the cure of disease, and thousands upon thousands will testify to these facts.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

OH! YE BALD HEADED.—We invite the attention of those who are bald headed, and those becoming so, to Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. We are not in the habit of puffing every quack nostrum that is advertised in our paper, but we feel it our duty, when we come across an article that is good, to let the people know it. We have no fears of having soon to "read under bare poles," and therefore have not used the Restorative, but think, if the certificates of honest men can be relied upon, that it must be a first rate article. Try it, ye whose natural wigs need refuvenation.—Rockville Republican.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuThsS 6m.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ Dr. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au8 6m

In Wilton, Mr Stephen C Coburn to Miss Anna J Putnam.

In Francestown, Mr James C Wing to Miss Adeline M Shattuck.

DIED.

In this city, 19th, of consumption, Mr Joseph B Plaisted, aged 24 years.

Funeral this (Monday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, from his father's residence, No. 5 Marlborough street. Relatives and friends are invited.

The deceased has suffered long and patiently from his dreadful disease. Until lately we have often met him in the business of life; and in the active as well as the more retired scenes, he endeared himself to all classes of society. He has left a numerous circle of relatives and friends to mourn his early death. But exercising, as they do most freely, the cheering faith in which he lived and died, they mourn not as without hope.

In this city, Sept. 20th, Mr William H. Foss, aged 49 years,—formerly of Chicago, Illinois, and for many years an invalid.

Funeral this (Monday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, from his late residence in Cass street. Friends and relatives are invited to attend, without other notice.

In this city, 19th, of dysentery, Mr Amos G Bachelder, aged 26 years, son of Dr. Nathaniel Bachelder of Epping—whither his body was taken for burial. Mr Bachelder has for several years been Conductor on the P & C Railroad.

In this city, Sunday, 21st, Miss Elizabeth Henderson, aged about 70 years.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

PRINTING CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

Printers, Editors and Publishers throughout the United States, and particularly the ons of Portsmouth or of New Hampshire, ngaged in any of the various branches pertaining to the Printing Art; and all others nterested; are cordially invited to attend he Centennial Celebration of the Introduction of the Art of Printing in New Hampshire, which will be held at Portsmouth, N. H. on Monday Oct. 6, 1856.

Societies or Companies wishing to join n the procession, should immediately address H. F. Wendell, Esq., Portsmouth, N. H., Chief Marshal of the Day.

Editors everywhere are requested to copy his notice, and call attention to the Celebration.

EDWARD N. FULLER,
SAMUEL GRAY,
Com. on Invitations.

Ports., Sept. 19, '56.

☞ At the Franklin Statue Celebration, Boston, in the Procession were barouches containing old printers of Boston, among whom was Mr. George W. Bazin, formerly of Portsmouth, the veteran printer of the Trumpet newspaper, who worked here on Franklin's press forty years ago. The beaming face of Mrs. Partington was also observable in one of these barouches, though she is not old yet, by any fair construction. Mr. Bazin is eager to take part in our Printing Celebration, next month, and other "ancient and honorable" types, now abroad from this their native city.

CITY COUNCIL.—On Friday evening, at a meeting of the Common Council, it was voted, by the requisite two-thirds, to appropriate $500 to the Centennial Celebration of Printing in this city.

In the Board of Aldermen, the vote on the question stood 3 to 3—so it did not pass.

THE REGATTA.—At a meeting of a portion of the members of the Committee, on Saturday evening, the project of a Regatta on the 6th October, was favorably considered; and it was recommended that purses be offered for Sailing and Rowing Boats. Another meeting will be held at the Gazette Counting-Room, this evening at half past 7; and it is hoped that all the members will be in attendance.

THE PRESIDENT. — The Concord Patriot announces that President Pierce will visit New Hampshire about the first of October. A call for a public meeting, signed by the Mayor and other prominent citizens of Concord, to take measures to receive the President, is published.

The City Council of Portsmouth, on Thursday evening last, voted to extend the hospitalities of this city to President Pierce, on his approaching visit to this State. It is suggested that the time of the Centennial Celebration affords a good opportunity to carry out this vote in an appropriate manner.

☞ We understand that several of our citizens have signified their intention to decorate their stores and dwellings on the occasion of the approaching Centennial Celebration. Market, Congress, Islington, Daniel and other streets will doubtless do the patriotic thing, and we heard a couple of young ladies suggest that they would like to aid in the decoration of the New High School House. That's right. The ladies are all on hand for a good time, and are always ready to do more than their share of the work.

☞ The funeral of Mr. Amos G. Batchelder took place at Epping on Sunday afternoon. A special train went up from this city on the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, at 4 P. M., carrying railroad and express men and other friends.

Rev. Dr. Peabody of this city officiated at the funeral, which was numerously attended at the Universalist Church.

The Choir from the Stone Church in this city, also attended, and sang a dirge and hymn.

☞ On Saturday afternoon a fine flag bearing the inscription, "A National Man to Buchanan & Breckinridge" was raised on the grounds of Albert Blaisdell, Esq., in Greenland. The Exeter Brass Band was in attendance, and Hon. John S. Wells delivered a spirited speech, after which the gentlemanly host served up a bounteous collation.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—On Wednesday 149 passenger cars, also 23 baggage cars, passed in and out of the Eastern Railroad Depot in Boston, carrying 10,430 passengers. In the forenoon 53 empty cars were sent over the track to Salem, and they all returned filled with passengers.

☞ Saturday, Sept. 20th, was the last day for receiving offers of lots on which to locate the new Custom House and Post Office. So the matter will soon be decided. We should rather see it pretty well up town, even as far as the Academy, than down below everything, as the new School-house is. We don't see any need of crowding everything up in a huddle. The lot on State, Fleet and Warren streets, as mentioned on Saturday, is by no means the least desirable—but as we have not many lots to "offer," we shall probably be satisfied with the selection made.

LIVERPOOL AND PORTLAND.—The steamer Khersonese, Capt. Powell, from Liverpool, via St. Johns, N. F., and Halifax, arrived at Portland on Thursday evening. She brings a quantity of freight for merchants there, and has a return freight already engaged. The Khersonese is a fine steamer, thoroughly built, and has excellent accommodations for passengers—of which she brought about one hundred and fifty. This arrival is doubtless the commencement of a regular steam connection between Liverpool and Portland.

There is just one reason why Portsmouth has not to-day, railroads to Canada and elsewhere as we need them,—steam communication with England, &c.,—and that is, the lack of enterprise in her citizens.—Portland is in no wise more favorably located or circumstanced, other than this.

THE FRANKLIN CELEBRATION.—Respecting the Inauguration of the Franklin statue, last week, Dwight's (Boston) Journal of Music says: "The festival of that day was in many respects the most successful of all the public celebrations which we can remember. It was in admirable contrast with our noisy, rowdy, senseless, semi-savage way of celebrating the Fourth of July. No firing of guns and crackers;—none of that insane joy which seems to know not why it is rejoicing. Then we act like prisoners or slaves set free, with no thought of the ends of freedom and a great destiny to be fulfilled. But the rejoicings of this day were significant, pervaded by a true, a high American idea. *

* * There was no sign of anything but joy and genuine entertainment, with renewed consciousness that after all we have a glorious mission in our hands, to work out the sublime moral of the struggle which has left us free"—and in which the press of course must wield an all important part.

In this light, especially, is the Centennial Celebration in this city worthy the attention and efforts of every one who feels an interest in the progress of mankind.

ODD FELLOWS.—In the National Convention of Odd Fellows, at Baltimore, on the 16th, Timothy G. Senter, of this city, was elected Deputy Grand Sire of the Order.

FRANKLIN'S VISIT TO PORTSMOUTH.

By the following extract, which appears in connection with the account of the Franklin Festival in Boston last week, it appears that Franklin visited Portsmouth in 1763. As the only Post Office in the State at that time was at Portsmouth, there is no doubt that he made his visit here at that time.

In 1753, the business of the post office of which he was Postmaster General, caused Franklin to take a journey to New England, where he received from Harvard College the degree of Master of Arts. He was again in Boston in the winter of 1734, when he broached his famous plan for a confederation of the colonies under one general government—a plan which foreshadowed the Union of the States.

In 1763, Franklin in his capacity of Postmaster General, undertook and accomplished what in that day was a great journey—in the course of which he again visited the town of his birth. He travelled in a light carriage driven by himself, through the states north of Philadelphia, on a tour of inspection among the post offices as far as New Hampshire. This trip, with delays and detentions, occupied five months, and the distance travelled was about sixteen hundred miles. Accompanying the wagon was a saddle horse, on which his daughter Sally, who was his fellow-traveler, occasionally rode. He was everywhere cordially and most hospitably received, so much so that on his return he quaintly remarks in a letter to his sister: "I am very happy in being at home, where I am allowed to know when I have ate enough and drank enough, and sit in a place that I like, and nobody pretends to know what I want better than myself."

COSTLY VALENTINE.—Samuel K. Willey sent to Miss H. D. Durham a vile valentine, and she has recovered $600 damages from him, before the Court in Chenango county, New York.

Lorenzo B. Sheppard, Esq., a distinguished New York Democrat and lawyer, died suddenly, in a bath, in that city, on Friday.

Dr. Kane of Arctic expedition fame, is sojourning at one of the water cures, Brattleboro', Vt.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—Gov. Geary's Inaugural Address, delivered at Lecompton on the 11th inst., was brief and pointed.—It deprecates a continuance of the strife and disorder in the territory, caused by the illegal and unjustifiable interference of other States; promises to do justice to all without party considerations, and expects obedience to the laws of the Territorial Legislature until they are repealed. A proclamation was issued on the same day, ordering that the volunteer militia be discharged, and commanding that all armed bodies of men disband or quit at once the Territory.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Evening Post of to-day publishes the affidavit of James Buchanan, made in 1852, in the case of Gibbs against Fremont, in which affidavit Mr. Buchanan bears the fullest testimony to the high character of Col. Fremont, both as a man and an officer, and to the value of his services in California, stating that in his opinion Col. Fremont is better entitled to be called the conqueror of California than any other man. With regard to the drawing of the bills on Haltham & Co., lately referred to in the papers, Mr. Buchanan says:—"I should have accepted and paid these bills, from my general knowledge of things in California, had Congress appropriated any money."

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

YORK COUNTY
Mutual Fire Insurance Co.,
Office at South Berwick, Me.
Incorporated by the Legislature of Maine, A. D. 1852.
A Safe and Responsible Insurance Co.
Am't of Property Insured, $3,000,000.00
Amount of Premium Notes to meet Losses, $200,000.00
THIS Company continues to insure the most kinds of Real and Personal Property, on the Mutual principle, against Loss and damage by fire and lightning. The Charter of said Company expressly provides—
"That all Property, whether Real or Personal, shall be divided into four separate and distinct Classes; and each Class shall be liable for its own losses. Not each for the other, as in the old combination Companies."
THE FIRST CLASS, OR FARMERS' COMPANY, Insures Dwelling Houses, Barns, and Out Buildings, and their contents, when situated at a distance of not less than four rods from other buildings, for a term not less than six years. The Farmers can readily see the advantages of insuring in a Class or Company by themselves, where they are not subject to the risk of property more hazardous than their own. The assessment on five hundred dollars of property insured in this Class, for a period of 3½ years, is only one dollar and thirty-eight cents. Farmers will do well to insure in this Company, as it is much the cheapest Company in Maine.
THE SECOND CLASS, OR VILLAGE COMPANY, Insures Dwelling Houses, Barns, and Out Buildings, and their Contents, in Towns and Villages in the country, when situated at a less distance than four rods from safe descriptions of Property;—for a term not exceeding six years. This Class, while in its infancy, met with heavy losses, and assessed its members severely, as is most ever the case with all New Companies. It has now recovered from that shock, is firmly and permanently established, constantly receiving large accessions to its members, and has added a large amount to its capital. Its aim is onward, and will hereafter be a very cheap Company
THE THIRD CLASS, OR MERCHANTS' COMPANY, Insures Stores, Merchandize, Public Houses, Churches, School Houses, Academies, Saddle, Harness and Trunk Makers' Shops, Bridges, and other descriptions of Property not insurable in other Classes, for a term not exceeding three years. The assessment in this Class for the past year has been less than stock rates by some 50 per cent.
This Company has done an active and highly successful business for the past four years. Its business is rapidly increasing and is extending to every town in Maine. It is emphatically a State Company.—Combining all the advantages of town and local companies, and free from their sectional and local disadvantages, in combining a sufficient capital to sustain a considerable loss. It is conducted with the most rigid economy, adjusts its losses liberally and promptly, and is confidently recommended to the favorable consideration of the Property holders of Maine. It promises indemnity to the insured, and ably and liberally sustains that assurance. FOR TERMS AND INFORMATION, APPLY AT THE COMPANY'S OFFICE.

H. R. COBURN'S OIL WORKS.
Established, 1842.
H. R. COBURN'S TALLOW OIL.
This Oil has qualities peculiar to itself alone; its great body and substance giving it a lasting and wearing power, that with a single exception, (sperm oil,) is unequalled. Its high lubricating power, being so rich in unctuous matter, that compared with most oils, it is like cream to the skim milk. Entire absence of gummy matter, keeping machinery cool under any rate of speed, and the different parts thoroughly and effectually oiled.
This Oil is a great favorite with engineers, who say it is the only oil that will answer in steam cylinders. For Lighthouses, Signal Lights, Locomotive Head Lights, and the like, it will give a reliable and brilliant light, and do all that sperm oil will. The Winter Tallow Oil will stand thirty degrees Fahrenheit. When quality and price are considered, this Oil will be found at the head of the list, by those who combine effective service with strict economy. This Oil has been in constant use from one to two years, in some of the first establishments in the country, to which reference will be given.
H. R. C. manufactures Winter Lard Oil, equal to any in the market. It is made with ice, and will stand cold weather.
H. R. COBURN'S EXTRA OIL
is made with care, from the best selected Lard only. Every additional year since its introduction, has added to its good reputation and standing, and for years it has been known as a uniform standard Oil for machinery and burning. It will stand the cold, and the attention of grocers is particularly invited to it.

Young Married Lady's Private Medical Guide.
BY PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D.
How beautiful is the idea of the wife, in sacred literature! Polished corner stones—walls of cedar—fruitful olive trees—all choicest emblems of combined strength and beauty. Such should woman ever be. Yet who that views so universally her pale cheek, sunken eye, and inability to endure fatigue, could say that such she is! Maiden, wife, mother, would you know the reason? read the "Private Medical Guide." Simple, plain, modest, yet full of instruction, no lady who prizes her health and happiness can afford to be without it. See say thousands who have availed themselves of its knowledge, and been benefitted by its remedies. Designed only for the virtuous to furnish information all-important to woman's health and happiness. It is not for sale at the book stores. Beautifully printed, bound and gilt; price $1. Circulars and recommendations furnished gratis. All letters of enquiry must contain a letter stamp to prepay the return. Address or apply to PROF. F. H. DOANE, M. D., No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston, Ms. The above work will be sent by mail or express to all parts of U. S., securely enclosed, on receipt of price.

DR. CONVERS'
INVIGORATING CORDIAL,
AND NERVOUS ANTIDOTE.
This Cordial is the only remedy for those sad derangements of body and mind, caused by early and improper habits of youth.
N. B. That involuntary nocturnal loss of physical energy, productive of much mischief to the nervous system, incapacitating the victim for business, society, or matrimony, is speedily restrained by this Cordial. It is the only remedy which has effected the desired result in this malady.
Dr CONVERS may be consulted personally or by letter, without charge, at his office 321 Hanover st., Boston, where all orders for the cordial should be sent. Dr. Convers' Medical work, 175 pages—
The Beacon; or, Guide from Youth to Manhood
—is the most important work ever published on these complaints. To young men it is invaluable. It will be given to those who purchase 3 bottles of Cordial.

CHILSON'S NEW CONE FURNACE.
HAVING been appointed Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Furnace, for Portsmouth and vicinity, we beg to call the especial attention of those in want of Furnaces for warming buildings to a careful examination of an Invention that must commend itself to every intelligent mind.—Especially do we invite those having first-class dwellings, who have hitherto been prejudiced against the use of the common Hot Air Furnaces, for their extravagant waste of fuel, insufficient heating power, and scorching, dry, unhealthy heat from the red hot iron pots, and escape of poisonous gases through the joints of the trail heaters. Chilson's NEW CONE FURNACE overcomes all of these objections, and secures a saving of at least FIFTY PER CENT, in fuel over the common Furnaces. This is accomplished by retaining the smoke and gases in a cluster of cones over the fire, each cone serving as a retort in bringing the rays of heat and light to a focus at their tops, not unlike the action of the Sun on a sun-glass. By this the formerly wasted smoke and gases are made to warm the house. No one should fail of seeing this invention before deciding on their heating apparatus. There are sizes adapted to all classes of buildings. We give our especial attention to the putting up of these Furnaces on Mr. Chilson's new plan of setting them, and under his directions. We also sell Chilson's TWO PORTABLE FURNACES and TWO STOVES, embracing the same principle as the Cone Furnaces; also, Cooking Ranges, Stoves, Registers, Ventilators, &c.
E. A. STEVENS,
Sept. 15. 46 Market street.

WE would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth that we have appointed MR. E. A. STEVENS our Agent for the sale of Chilson's New Cone Furnace in Portsmouth and vicinity, to whom we would recommend all in want of a Furnace, FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER MODE OF WARMING IN THIS OR ANY OTHER COUNTRY.

TO LOVERS, WHEN RARE LIPS SAY NO.

BY T. B. ALDRICH.

I wooed her in the linden's shade,
And Bess was shy and half afraid;
And when I asked—What? Lovers know!
Her heart said yes, her lips said no.
O lovers, when rare lips say No,
Let not your hope grow less, grow less;
For oft 'tis so that simply No
Is meant for Yes, is meant for Yes!

I told her all the world was Love's;
Her bosom fluttered like white doves!
But still she listened till, ah Bess!
Her heart, her soul, her lips said yes!
O Lovers when rare lips say No,
Let not your hope grow less, grow less;
For oft 'tis so that simply No
It meant for Yes, is meant for Yes!

CONGREGATIONALISTS.—Massachusetts.—From the last minutes of the General Association we learn that there are 28 district Associations. 475 churches, 356 pastors, 63 stated supplies, 64 vacant churches, 139 ministers without charge, and 67,003 church members. The additions to the churches by profession were 2,444, and by letter 1,790—total 4,234. The removals were 1,082 by death, by dismission 1,801, by excommunication 101—total, 2,984.—The additions exceeded the removals by 1,250. These statistics are for the year ending the 1st of January.

Connecticut.—The minutes of the General Association report 15 district Associations, 283 churches, 198 pastors, 38 stated supplies, 46 vacant churches, and 41,422 church members. Sixteen churches made no report. The additions were 2,128, and the removals 1,638—increase 490.

Maine.—According to the minutes of the last General Conference there are 14 county Conferences, 237 churches, 203 ministers, and 16,786 church members.—The additions were 829, and the removals 684—increase 145. The whole amount of contributions reported is $30,618.

There are, then, in the above three States 995 churches, with 125,211 members.—The additions to those churches were 7,180, namely 4,349 by profession and 2,831 by letter, which exceeded the removals by 1,885.

Old Roger and the Brahmin Poo Poo, on an evening last week, went up a long flight of steps in order to find a meeting they were desirous of attending, and found themselves in the ante-room of a female temperance lodge. "We must get out of this," said Roger, as the Brahmin made a demonstration of staying. "Why so?" said the Brahmin, "I am no ardent spirit, that they need exclude me." "No," said Roger, "but you are an outsider, and all sorts of cider is under ban here!" "Well," replied the Brahmin, "if that is the case we must be on our taps," and they went down stairs.—*Sat. Eve. DEATH OF SIR JOHN ROSS.—The English papers contain intelligence of the death of the celebrated Arctic navigator, Sir John Ross, Rear Admiral in the British Navy, at the advanced age of 80. Having entered the navy in 1786, he took an active part in the wars at the end of the last and beginning of the present century. In 1818 he accompanied Sir Edward Parry in his expedition to the Arctic Seas, and subsequently spent upwards of four years there, from 1829 to 1833, in command of another expedition to these inhospitable regions, and on his return, received the honor of knighthood from William IV., for his distinguished services.

MAINE LAW IN NICARAGUA.—Gen. Walker has given orders to close all the drinking houses in Granada. No more liquor can be obtained there for love or money.

HORRIBLE AFFAIT.—One of these fearful incidents occured near the villiage of Neshota on Saturday last, which go so far to create the thrilling interest in the written romance of a pioneer's life. Just before sunset, a child five years of age, was seized in the presence of his mother by a full grown bear; and in spite of its screams and the efforts of its mother, was borne off into the thicket. The alarm was given and men with guns and other weapons of destruction, commenced to search the woods, but up to Tuesday nothing has been found upon which to base a conjecture with reference to its fate. Bears are quite plenty in the neighborhood, but this is the first instance where humah life has been sacrificed by them, though they have ftequently carried off stock from the farmers, coming up as in this case to the door of the house.—Monitowac (Wis.) Tribune Aug. 28th.

SHRIEK FROM VIRGINIA.—Gov. Wise, of Virginia, is out with another disunion letter, dated Richmond, Sept. 6. Wise has all along been of opinion that good likely negroes would command $5000 if Buchanan should be elected. He is now of opinion that if Fremont is chosen the South will make a dreadful fuss about it, and probably dissolve, but says nothing in the matter of the negroes. Why don't Nothern Buchanan men contrive to silence this madman?—Concord Statesman.

One of the most complete instances on record of editorial hallucination, is found in the case of the Union newspaper,—at the Federal City. In an article on the Maine election, the belief is expressed that the State will go in November for Buchanan. President Pierce should put that editor in a strait jacket. He must be insane.—Concord Statesman.

In Pepperell, Mass., last year, a company of Democrats bought a fine flag, and kept it flying in aid of 'Beach and Stetson.' This year, the owners of the flag, on consultation, found that each of their number was for Fremont and Dayton. Accordingly the inscription has been changed.

A LEADING DEMOCRAT, whose means of information are ample, writes us from Philadelphia—"We shall carry Pennsylvania in October as well as November. This is as sure as any future event."—Springfield Argus.
